LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS. —Oil market closed yesterday 901. —Jas. G. Carson is enclosing his property with a neat picket fence.

—Just one month more of school in the borough, and the young tads are happy. —Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Craig of Fern City, are paying Tionesta friends a brief visit.

—Don't forget the sale of personal property next Saturday, by L. Agnew at the Lawrence House. —A patent has been granted to J. E. Bickell of Oil City, for a system of purifying paraffine wax.

—T. J. Van Giesen Esq., of Leechburg, Pa., was shaking hands with Tionesta friends the fore part of the week. —Miss Anna, daughter of Mayor Bleakly of Franklin, spent a few days of the past week with her aunt, Mrs. Col. Thomas.

—Charlie Griffin of Balltown, braved the mud and bad weather to make a trip to Tionesta Monday, and smiled on the REPUBLICAN a moment or two yesterday morning. —Thomas Hassey is moving to Oil City, where he will take charge of a lively stable. Tom thoroughly understands the care of horses, and will be a good man for the place.

—The first real spring shower, accompanied by thunder and lightning, came last night, some time between midnight and morning. It was a regular bud burster and grass-starter. —J. M. Kepler's new building, between the Kepler & Foreman building and Blum's blacksmith shop, is nearing completion. The rooms will be occupied by Mr. Fulton as a harness shop, and Mr. Butler as a butcher shop.

—We are indebted to Mr. Cephas Moon for a fine mess of the boss parsnips of the season, one of which measured precisely 3 feet and 3 inches, and Mr. Moon didn't consider the past season a very good one for parsnips, either. —Mr. Kelly's fourth well on the Baird tract, Dawson field, was finished Saturday and showed up very fairly. It is doing first rate now at about a 10-barrel rate. This is about the only item of any importance from that section this week.

—David Barnett invites the public to call at his store and inspect the new stock of men's, women's and children's shoes of all grades just received. Prices marked down low. Before purchasing elsewhere, please call and examine these goods. 1t. —John Heath is around once more on a "mission of love," which he has bottled up in the shape of a liniment which is claimed to have no equals for the cure of all aches and pains to which human flesh is heir. Try a bottle of Heath's Excelsior Liniment, when he comes around.

—The March report of oil operations as given in the Derrick shows a large increase in the number of new wells as well as in new production, over the February report. Number of new wells completed 337, an increase of 54; new production 6,666 barrels, an increase of 3,679 bbls. Drilling wells and rigs building 777, an increase of 188. This is a decidedly "bearish" showing.

—Our old friend of Kalletville, W. C. Wilson, the famous "Buckeye Blacksmith," has again placed us under obligations to him for one of his superior make of spears, purpose for catching Buffalo suckers with. It is a real daisy, and if you don't believe it come up and see.

—Mr. I. L. Shimp has shaken the dust of Tionesta off his feet, and will make Conneaut, Ohio, his future home, having departed for there with his family yesterday morning. Isaac has a nice, paying job at that thriving place, and we wish him abundant prosperity in his new home.

—A number of our shootists were out one day last week trying their skill at clay pigeon smashing, but with rather indifferent results. It is the intention to re-organize the defunct club of two years ago and having regular weekly shoots, and after a little practice—a good deal wouldn't hurt—may try conclusions with some of the neighboring teams.

—The last of the Russell boys, Thomas, has left our county and taken up his abode in Washington State, and we're sorry for it, too. We haven't any too many of the class of enterprising citizens to which they belonged now, and it is discouraging to see them leave us, but we cannot help wishing them success and good health all round, anyway.

—Mr. F. F. Whittekin has taken up his residence in Austin, Potter county, Pa., the last of his goods having been shipped from here on Monday. Frank has accepted the post of Chief Engineer of the Sineamoning Valley Railroad Co., which road, 50 miles in length, is owned by the Goodyear Lumber Co. We wish him success in his new field.

—The borough council held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening, transacting some important business. The annual tax levy for borough purposes was made, divided as follows: Cash tax, 3 mills; work, 4 mills; bond, 2 mills; light, 1 mill. Total, 10 mills. O. C. Brownell was elected Street Commissioner, and his wages fixed at $1.75 per day; wages for team and driver $4.00 per day, and $3.00 for one horse and driver; laborers not to exceed 15 cents per hour.

—Mr. and Mrs. Herman Beaver, notice of whose wedding at Boston, the bride's home, appeared in these columns recently, gave Tionesta friends a visit, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Craig, during the past week. On Monday evening of this week a goodly number of friends called to pay their compliments and extend congratulations to the happy young couple, and a most pleasant hour was passed. They depart on the 12:30 train to-day for their future home, bearing with them the best wishes of a large circle of old and new friends; in which we heartily join.

—Warren is soon to put on city airs in the shape of a street railway with electric motor, and then it will no longer be necessary for visitors to wear buckskin in order to keep the backmen from tearing their clothes off when they alight from incoming trains. The road will run from the depot to Glade, a distance of about two miles, and it is thought will net its projectors a good revenue from their investing. Among those interested in the enterprise are Hon. Henry Brace, Boon Magee, C. P. Northrup, David Siggins, and others whose names are not given.

—The "soft" weather of a few days back has had the much desired effect, and the consequence is that those who have lumber or timber along the creek in shape for running are not allowing the grass to vegetate under their feet to any appreciable extent. The creek is not in high stage, but is passable, and if it remains so for a few days the lumber will be pretty well cleared out. There is no more to come from Nebraska, the last having been brought out yesterday, but there is a great deal—principally square timber—to come out from above; some of it as far up as Fox's. Several fleets expect to pull out to-day for Pittsburgh, the river being in good rafting stage.

—A correspondent writes us as follows: Mr. Cowden of East Hickory, is engaged on a piece of work which, while it can not be classed among the fine arts, is at least among the useful ones. He is building a sidewalk from the end of the old sidewalk, which ends at George Worden's house, down towards East Hickory proper. The walk has been laid out, strung, ballasted, and partly fastened as far down as Stephen Taft's, a short distance below the school house. The walk will probably be extended on down as far as Bowman's store. The history of this sidewalk is as follows: Some time ago 40 pupils, or thereabouts, belonging to the Hickory schools called on Hon. N. P. Wheeler and asked him if he would not give lumber to build a sidewalk to the school house. Mr. Wheeler granted the prayer of the petitioners, and now, after many days, the walk is being laid. It isn't a thing of beauty, nor does it bear the earmarks of any fine engineering, but for a' that it's just as handy as it can be, and as useful as it is full of crooks.

WASHINGTON CAMP, NO. 420

Patriotic Order Sons of America.

State Organizer Huth instituted Washington Camp, No. 420, P. O. S. of A., at Odd Fellows hall on Thursday evening of last week. Twenty-seven charter members answered to their names, and the Camp was started under very favorable auspices. Regular weekly meetings will be held hereafter, but just what night in the week has not yet been decided upon. The next meeting will be held next Saturday evening in the second story room of the Partridge building, which the Camp has leased. The following officers were elected and installed: Past President, J. R. Chadwick. President, E. L. Davis. Vice President, J. C. Scowden. M. F. & C. H. H. Shoemaker. Conductor, S. S. Canfield. Rec. Sec'y, T. B. Cobb. Fin. Sec'y, A. M. Douth. Ass't Rec. Sec'y, A. H. Dale. Treasurer, J. F. Proper. O. G. J. J. Landers. I. G., Pritner Agnew. R. L., John Hunter. L. L., Frank Thomson.

Star Chips.

The farmers who were just squaring themselves for spring work, were checked by the cool breeze of the last few days. Rev. Gaines delivered an able sermon in the school house last Sabbath. Future services will be held in the Church of this place. School closed Monday and the small boys and girls were set at liberty once more to their great joy, while the older heads are correspondingly sorry.

The boys have about all returned from the timber and board landings along the creek, and as per present prospects will be floating down the river in a day or two. Here is a problem which has given me some little trouble, and perhaps some one can solve it: Why some people are more gifted in bearing, seeing and talking than some others who live in the same day and age of the world? Strange ain't it?

The smiling countenances of Doc. and Col. were seen in our midst on Sunday last, but have departed again for Stowtown where they are engaged on the lath mill for J. G. Root. Wonder why some of the boys have given up the idea of attending church at Mt. Pleasant of late? Can it be possible that some got a "no" for an answer to some weighty question? A. F. Ledebur departed for Mendville Monday, where he will attend Allegheny College the coming summer. May he prosper well in his undertaking and be much benefited thereby. April 2. O. M. N.

Barnett Notes.

Warren Mays, who has been on the sick list for some time, is now convalescent. J. J. Kellogg had the misfortune to cut his left knee last Monday. There was a surprise party at the residence of W. H. Carter last Saturday evening. All present report a good time. James Richards is going into the blacksmithing business this summer. Frank Frick was visiting in this section last week. Miss Ella Pierce of Brookville is visiting friends here for a few weeks. J. B. Flick of Bradford was around shaking hands with friends here this week. John Barton is on the sick list with pneumonia. James Flick is going to build a new house on his farm the coming summer. April 1. SCRIBBLER.

For Sale.

The Lawrence House property is offered for sale with or without the furniture. The property will be sold cheap and on easy terms. One-fourth cash and balance in yearly payments to suit purchaser. Mr. Lawrence will, for the purpose of making repairs, assume possession of the property for a short time, but will not remove from or leave his home across the creek, so that the House will be kept open to the public. Terms, &c., may be learned at the REPUBLICAN office, or by calling on Wm. Lawrence, Tionesta, Pa.

FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

ED. REPUBLICAN:—

The arrival of steamer "Burrus" from Elizabeth City, N. C., to this island, brings to hand your issue of March 13th, and I assure you its arrival here is welcomed by the writer, and each fine is eagerly read for the news from home. My journey here was long and tedious, particularly after reaching the terminus of the Northern Central Railroad at Cape Charles, Va., where we take steamer across Chesapeake Bay for Norfolk, Va. The Bay was not on its good behavior the morning I introduced myself to it, and since the "Cobb Flood" on the Clarion River, years ago, I have never had much confidence in my ability as a sailor, and I have less now than ever. I tried my best to be brave and look bold, but 'twas no use; I was knocked out on round 1st. The only pleasant feature of the trip across the Bay for me was, that I recovered from my sickness almost instantly after going on shore. We again took the train at Norfolk for Elizabeth City, going due south 60 miles, passing numerous large and extensive lumbering establishments along the route, where the out put of these mills reaches far into the millions, mostly of pine lumber. On arrival at Elizabeth City I found the Company's steamer in waiting for me, but from the roar of the Sound, I concluded to not place myself at the mercy of old Neptune while she is in such bad humor. On Sunday, 17th, we steamed across the Sound Albemarle, a distance of 50 miles, and I enjoyed the trip greatly; the water was very quiet and calm, and the sun bright and warm. We are in view of the Atlantic Ocean, from several places along the Sound, on our trip over; the sight was a grand one, and not soon forgotten. The Captain was anxious for me to pick out the entrance to our creek into which we go with our steamer up 6 miles to the mills. The mouth of this stream is so narrow that the evergreens from each side of the stream almost completely obscure it from view; it is only 40 feet wide, but fully that depth. On ascending the stream it gradually widens out until we are in a lake from one-quarter to one-half mile wide, and as handsome body of water as I have ever seen. The land is very low and level and sandy; this purchase includes the whole of this Co., so that every human being on the island is more or less a subject of the company and governed by company rules and regulations. The employment of from 300 to 400 men for woods work will give you an idea of the magnitude of this business, with an extra force of fully 100 more at the mills, which consist of 3 circulars, with a capacity of a log each minute, to the mill. These mills are constructed with all modern improvements and facilities for handling the output rapidly. The lumber is piled in the yards for a short time and then forwarded by steamer to markets throughout the world; large cargoes constantly in transit for Europe.

A very interesting feature of this county is the ancient ditches which were dug throughout this island a hundred years ago. These canals are 4 feet wide and from 2 to 4 feet deep, running in every direction, but all leading to the creek, in which cypress timber was floated out in the block and loaded on board of vessels, in olden times, the excavations thrown out now making good roads over the land. The wonderful peculiarity of this juniper timber, is the manner in which it grows. It is very dense, and not very tall, and the other timbers with it, all of a rank growth, make it extremely difficult to see any distance ahead, and you are compelled to travel entirely by compass, lest the distance be ever so short. It will cause many a laugh, and remark from our old Tionesta woodsmen, when I tell them that they can not go out of hearing in this country without getting lost, without the use of compass; look in any direction and the appearance of land and timber is the same. In order to survey a line of contemplated R. R. or rope tram-way, we are compelled to send a man to the top of the tallest tree, for observation, and from his position there, strike a line to the objective point. The manner of transporting these logs to the railroad is also a very interesting study. When you reflect on the amount of logs sawed by these mills daily, a northern lumberman would fairly shudder at the idea or expense of so many teams to do the required stacking, but here on all this vast work we only find an occasional ancient mule tugging a car along on some worn-out by road, with a few stray logs, which are gathered in this manner. No teams anywhere; no crack of the whip is heard—just simply a "zip," "zip," as the logs are hurried by you, swung up on a wire tram-road on their way to the creek; it fairly keeps you busy to dodge the logs coming towards you from every direction. This system of locomotion is patented by a German named Bleichert, and is one of the grandest inventions of the age for the transfer of freight of almost any description.

I find the inhabitants such as I have met, a friendly and sociable people, and they are apparently pleased with any enterprise that insures them plenty of rations and a little money. The shad fishing is now in its best, and the coast is lined with sloops, all engaged in seining. The product produces quick cash, and any amount of fun. I will endeavor to write you again soon. I will be pleased to hear from you at any time, and hope to receive your paper regularly. Come down and we will have such a hunt as will make your hair stand. I miss your comfortable office chair, and the soothing influence of your stock of "Honey Dew," and have only now as a companion a beautiful silver spaniel dog, a clay pipe, and North Carolina cut plug. Good bye. My regards to "the boys." Very Respt., ROLAND COBB.

March 25, 1889. Strobleton.

Wm. Hepler is erecting a wagon shed for Geo. Mealy Jr.

Mr. Messer of Shippenville, was seen in this locality delivering some spring tooth harrows that some of the farmers have purchased. E. E. Stitzinger, who for several weeks was stopping in Pittsburg, returned to his home near here last week. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hepler of this section gave friends near Oil City a pleasant visit not long since. Rev. J. Barnhart of Newmansville, was in Fryburg one day last week. Mr. A. Fay, pedagogue of the Newmansville school, closed his term last Monday. Rev. Carl Zinsmeister, who for some time was holding a series of protracted meetings in the Amity church, closed the same last week with a number of new members added. Literary society at Red Brush is still in progress. The meetings were changed from Friday to Saturday evening, at the last meeting two new officers were elected, namely chairman and critic. Master R. A. Stitzinger of this community was visiting friends of Red Brush, not long since. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Daum of Strobleton were guests at Mr. F. Stitzinger one day last week. April 1. ZIGZAG.

HERE AND THERE.

David Kauffman, aged forty and slightly demented, has disappeared from his home near West Middlesex. While John Brown, of West Wheatfield, Indiana county, lay in a drunken sleep a few days ago, he was robbed of about $100. He found about an inch of a ten dollar note in his pocket and this led to the detection of the thief, who tried to pass the mutilated bill. April brings us quite a bunch of big days. To start with, there's All-Fool's day, on the 1st. The 24th anniversary of Lee's surrender falls on the 9th. Easter Sunday on the 21st; Shakespeare's birthday on the 23rd; the 70th anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship in America on the 29th; and the 100th anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington as President of the United States on the 30th.

I want to return to a subject that is old yet new—the persistent cheek of people who ask the newspapers to do something for nothing. I was witness yesterday of an incident that made me wrathful. An individual, with sublime impudence and unparalleled cheek, approached a newspaper man and said to him in an insolent way: "Say, we're going to have a fair in a couple of weeks and we want you to give us a big notice. We won't begin for a few days but give us a big notice to-day and keep it up every day. We want to get a crowd." The newspaper man surveyed the man of cheek and said: "You want a big notice, do you?" "Yes." "Don't want to pay anything for it?" "No, of course not—goes free for the benefit of our organization." "Does your organization get paid when it makes its appearance in public?" "Why, cert." The newspaper man smiled a sarcastic smile at the effrontery of the fellow, but it was wasted. The fellow fished from his pocket a bunch of tickets evidently printed at a cheap job office, and holding out several to the newspaper man he said: "Here's our tickets. Buy a couple." "I don't want any." "What, you ain't going to buy a couple?" "No." "Well, take a couple when I come around again." "No, I don't want any now and I don't want one at any other time." The cheeky chap turned away in disgust. The organization to which he belongs will get a notice—a big notice—at regular advertising rates. There is not a day passes in a newspaper office, but one or more similar instances come under the notice of the business office.—T. M. J., in Harrisburg Telegraph.

RENEW YOUR YOUTH.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, only 50c, at Bovard's Drug Store.

A GENEROUS OFFER.

The celebrated Dr. Gleason, after a practice of forty years, having during all that time made the cure of Catarrh of the Bladder, Asthma and Consumption his special study, has in this time so perfected his treatment as to be able to cure all these diseases, and has been lost to the world. Desiring that his Home Treatment should be known to all who are afflicted with these diseases, he has placed the prescriptions with the Home Chemical Company, knowing the wonderful success of his treatment, and has had the full treatment of Catarrh of the Bladder, Asthma and Consumption, and all other diseases, treated on a new plan, and has been successful in curing all these diseases, which is profusely illustrated in his recently published book, showing the true nature of these diseases, and the mode of cure, and is discussed in an able manner the cause and super-calculated paper, and is printed on heavy stock, together with full instructions how to use it, and will be sent free to all who will write and ask it. Address THE HALL CHEMICAL COMPANY, 3860 Fairmount Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa.

How To Build A House.

If you are thinking of building a house you ought to buy the new book, "How to Build a House," by J. H. Moore, published by the American Building Co., New York. It is a complete treatise on the subject, and is the only book of the kind ever published. It is a complete treatise on the subject, and is the only book of the kind ever published.
