WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, April 19, 1889. The President has honored the newspaper fraternity again by appointing Robert P. Porter, of New York, Sn. perintendent of the Census. Mr. Porter was one of the founders, and is at present the editor of that very sprightly Republican daily, the New York Press. He has an international reputation as a writer on industrial topics, and no man has done more in the last ten years to popularize a protection tariff than he, and few men better qualified than he to superintend the taking of the next census could be found.

Oklahoma is a long way from Washington, but its affairs are just now receiving a great deal of attention from officials of the Government. The Attorney General and the Controller of the currency are trying to decide whether they shall grant charters for several national banks there for which applications have been made. The law says such applications shall be on file one year before the charters shall be granted. But this being the opening of a new Territory, is claimed to be an exceptional case. A decision is expected in a few days. The Postoffice Department is making unusual efforts to provide mail facilities for the citizens (to be) of the new country. Several inspectors are now there to examine proposed mail routes, etc. First Assistant Postmaster General Clark. son, who has been over the ground, says Oklahoma is the garden spot of the West, and that in less than six months its population will be 100,000. and that in two years it will be admitted as a State.

Red Cloud, the Sioux Indian Chief, called on the President this week. He said that he "only called to pay his respects," when an inquisitive newsper man asked him what office he was trying to get.

The number of changes in fourthclass postmasters now runs from 100 to 150 per day. Owing to the unusually large number of letters received at the Pension office since the new Commissioner, Mr. Tanner has had charge, there is necessarily considerable delay in getting them all answered, and the Commissioner requests that his correspondents bear with him as patiently as possible.
