Republican County Committee Meeting.

The Republican County Committee of Forest County met, pursuant to call, last evening at the office of Chairman Sawyer, who called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock and stated the main object to be the setting of a time for holding the Primary Election.

In order to test the sense of the committee on the subject, a motion was made to hold the primaries on the last Saturday in June, and after some discussion, which seemed to indicate that the general sentiment was that that date was too soon after the election on the 18th, and that it would be a difficult matter to get out a good vote at that time.

The matter of arranging for new election districts for the convenience of voters was also discussed to some extent, and a motion prevailed to the effect that where such new places are found to be necessary they shall be designated by the Chairman at the suggestion of the committee, and due notice given of such new place. The Committee having thus finished its work, a motion to adjourn prevailed.

DEMOCRATIC and Free trade organs are working themselves into a fine state of political frenzy and indignation over the appointment of John Jarrett to the Birmingham, England, consulate.

An act to punish bribery at certain elections, approved May 9th, 1889, provides that any person who shall give or promise or offer to give to an elector any money, reward, or other valuable consideration for his vote at any election held for the purpose of voting on an amendment to the constitution or any other public purpose, or for withholding the same, or who shall give or promise to give such consideration to any other person or party for such elector's vote, or for the withholding thereof, and any elector who shall receive or agree to receive for himself or for another any money, reward, or other valuable consideration for his vote at such election, or for withholding the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, and undergo imprisonment not exceeding one year.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular Correspondent. WASHINGTON, May 17, 1889. Public Printer Palmer's office has rivaled the White House this week in the number of visitors it has received. Mr. Palmer has been kept so busy receiving the crowd that he has not had time to make changes. He has made about half a dozen appointments so far, but says it is his purpose to re-organize the entire establishment just as fast as he can get time enough to decide upon good men for the principal places in the office.

The Post Office department has held up a lot of star route mail contracts in different sections of the country and it is thought they will be declared void and new bids advertised for. The following are the contractors interested: W. H. Smith, C. W. Underwood and J. W. Pigg of Missouri, and S. S. Chappell, of New York. The trouble arose from the fact that the names of the contractors, the sureties and the witnesses were all signed in one hand writing. An investigation soon proved that all the names were signed by one of the witnesses—a woman—who claimed that she had authority from the parties to sign for them. It is held by the Department to be irregular and illegal, if not fraudulent. Commissioner Tanner denies most emphatically the published report that he proposed using a lot of ex-commissioner Black's private letters of a political nature that had been placed in his hands by an employee of the Pension Office. He has none of Gen. Black's private letters and would not use them if he had, but he has a batch of official letters to various officials of the Pension office that will show the manner in which the office was made to serve the Democratic party during the last administration. That he proposes to make use of when the proper time comes.

The resignation of Solicitor General Jenks of the Department of Justice has been accepted by the President. This is the position that made the hard feelings between Senators Sherman and Quay. Alphonzo Hart of Ohio, is getting in ahead of the Pennsylvania man.

For the Amendment.

Whereas, we, members of Forest Grange, No. 853, P. of H., realize there is a great question before us, we claim it is the duty of all Patrons of Husbandry to support the Amendment, therefore be it

Resolved, That we as a Grange, do and will endorse such Constitutional Amendment, which we know to be just and right.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the FOREST REPUBLICAN, Democratic Vindicator, and Farmer's Friend, for publication.

FOR THE AMENDMENT.

DOES IT PROHIBIT?

Well, Rather—Just Read This and Judge for Yourself.

L. A. Maynard, one of the editors of the New York Observer, has been making a trip through Kansas to ascertain whether the claims of the Prohibitionists that the law is a success are justified. He has written glowing letters describing the great things that prohibition has done for Kansas. Here is an extract from one of his letters: "The saloons all stop at the line—stop so short and quick too that it almost tips some of them over. It is a curious and suggestive sight, the way the saloons stop at the line. It is a good place to stop and study the temperance question. On the Missouri $1,200 a year license side, the dram shops swarm all the way over from the Union depot, drawing closer and closer as they approach the point where the law says, 'Thus far shall thou go, but no farther.' And there they stand close up to the line, a solid row of them, in all their filth and hideousness, their screened windows and their beer mug signs looking out over the bottom lands on the Kansas side with hungry and baleful eyes, reminding one as much as anything of a pack of ravenous beasts held here in leash by some invisible hand. But that assurance may be made doubly sure to those who come and go over the border, the last saloon of all in the last row has up the sign, 'First and Last Chance'—first for those who come and last for those who go. Could anything be more grimly and malevolently suggestive than that sign?—an evil beckoning finger to the coming victim, a desperate clutch upon the one yet in the toils. It was not many years ago when the westward passage over this line meant freedom for the poor, hunted southern slave, and now it means for many freedom from a bondage a thousand times more galling than that of the earlier day."

Mr. Maynard failed to see the signs of the "many towns" that the Philadelphia Record says have been "practically ruined" by prohibition. He writes: "It is, indeed, truly wonderful when you come to see it how easy it is for a country to keep right along, pay its debts and be cheerful without even a cent of revenue from the liquor traffic. I have heard so much in the east about the way that prohibition kills the towns that I was quite prepared to find a lot of dead municipalities and other things of that kind lying around here on the Kansas prairies, but thus far I haven't sighted a single corpse. On the contrary, I have found an amazing amount of life and vigor in these villages and cities that ought to be dead, according to the whisky logic of the east, many of them growing so fast that it is as much as ever that the mother government of the state can do to keep them properly dressed up in municipal clothes.

"I have been surprised to find such a unanimity of sentiment among all classes and conditions of men on the point of the general efficiency and permanency of the law. Even those who grumble at prohibition and those who openly denounce it are free to admit that it has come to stay. I have met scores of persons, merchants, bankers and solid business men, who have told me that they were not in favor of prohibition when the question was first submitted; they fought and voted against it, but now, they say, they would not be willing to admit the saloons back on any terms. They have become so thoroughly convinced of the good results of the law upon the business interests of the state, as well as upon other interests, that they stand openly and firmly in favor of its continuance. Some who have said this to me have expressly disclaimed the idea of being temperance men in the ordinary acceptance of the term. They say: 'We do not want the saloons any more, that is all.'—The Voice.

A Catholic paper, called the Diocesan Index, is published in Scranton, by Catholics and for Catholics. It is one of the most earnest periodicals advocating the Amendment, and has a large circulation. That man casts an undeserved reflection on the Catholic church who says that its members are a unit against prohibition. We have seen the issue of the Index for March 27th, and it is for the Amendment all through.

ELECTION PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, in and by an act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, entitled 'An Act to regulate the Elections of the Commonwealth,' passed the 24th day of July, A. D. 1869, it is made the duty of the Sheriff of every county within this Commonwealth, to give public notice of the General Elections, and in such:

1st. To designate the purpose for which said election is held.

2d. Designate the place at which the election is to be held.

And whereas, JAMES A. BEAVER, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, has issued to me a writ of election in accordance with an Act of Assembly approved the 8th day of March, 1889, entitled 'An Act prescribing the time and manner of submitting to the people for their approval and ratification or rejection of the proposed amendments to the Constitution.'

Therefore, in pursuance thereof, I, GEO. W. SAWYER, High Sheriff of the County of Forest, do hereby make known and give this public notice to the electors of the County of Forest, that an Election will be held in said county, on Tuesday, June 18th, 1889, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. at the several Election Districts.

The Electors of Barnett township at Jacob Mares' Carpenter shop.

The Electors of Green township at the house of L. Arner.

The Electors of Harmony township as follows: Those residing in the election district of Upper Harmony, to-wit: those embraced in the following boundary, viz: Beginning on the Allegheny river at the Tionesta township line; thence northerly to the back line of the river tracts; thence along the back line of the river tracts to West Hickory Creek; thence up said West Hickory Creek to the Warren County line; thence east along said Warren County line to the Allegheny river; thence down said river to the place of beginning, at the old Duver & Turner store building, West Hickory.

The Electors of Kingsley township residing outside of the territory embraced in the above described Upper Harmony shall vote at Allender School House.

The Electors of Hickory township at Burnett School House, in East Hickory.

The Electors of Howe township as follows: Those residing in the Election District of Middle Howe, to-wit: those embraced in the following boundary, viz: Beginning at a point where the west line of Warrant No. 3198 intersects the line of Warren and Forest counties; thence south or west line of Warrant 3198, 3189, 3187, 3185 to a point where the west line of Warrant 3185 intersects the line of Warren and Forest counties; thence by the north line of Warrant 3199; thence by the north line of Warrant 3200; thence north by said east line of 3863 to a post the northeast corner of said Warrant; thence by the Hulings Warrant 4545 east to the southeast corner thereof; thence north by the east line of the Hulings lot and east line of Warrants 2878, 2880, 2883, the Fox Estate, 2901 and 2735 to where the east line of 2735 intersects the Warren and Forest County line; thence west to the northwest corner of Warrant 3198, the place of beginning, at Gusher City School House.

The Electors of Howe township residing in the Election District of East Howe, to-wit: Those residing east of the above described Middle Howe, at Brookston, in Brookston Library, and at Brookston.

The Electors of Tionesta township at the Court House in Tionesta borough.

The Electors of Tionesta borough at the Court House in said borough.

At which time and places the qualified electors will vote by ballot, after approval and ratification or rejection of the following

AMENDMENT: There shall be an additional article to be designated as Article XIX, as follows:

ARTICLE XIX. The manufacture, sale, or keeping for sale of intoxicating liquor, to be used as a beverage, is hereby prohibited, and any violation of this prohibition shall be a misdemeanor, punishable as shall be provided by law.

The manufacture, sale, or keeping for sale of intoxicating liquor for other purposes than as a beverage may be allowed in such manner only as may be prescribed by law. The General Assembly shall, at the first session succeeding the adoption of this article of the Constitution, enact laws with adequate penalties for its enforcement.

At the same time they will also vote by ballot for the approval and ratification or rejection of the following:

AMENDMENT. Strike out from section one, of article eight, the four qualifications for voters which reads as follows:

"If twenty-two years of age or upwards, he shall have paid, within two years, a state or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months, and paid at least one month before the election," so that the section which reads as follows:

"Every male citizen, twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections:

First. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

Second. He shall have resided in the state one year (or he, having previously been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the state, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election.

Third. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

Fourth. If twenty-two years of age or upwards, he shall have paid, within two years, a state or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months, and paid at least one month before the election," shall be amended, so as to read as follows:

Every male citizen twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at the polling place of the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident and not elsewhere:

First. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least thirty days.

Second. He shall have resided in the state one year (or he, having previously been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the state, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election.

Third. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least thirty days immediately preceding the election. The legislature, at the session thereof next after the adoption of this section, shall, and from time to time thereafter may, enact laws to properly enforce this provision.

Fourth. Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a citizen for thirty days and an inhabitant of this state one year next preceding an election, except in municipal elections, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time be a resident and not elsewhere for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elected by the people: Provided, That in municipal elections, the elector in the actual military service of the State or of the United States, in the army or navy thereof, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from such election district, and the legislature shall have power to provide the manner in which and the time and place at which such absent electors may vote, and for the return and canvass of their votes at the election district in which they respectively reside.

Fifth. For the purpose of voting, no person shall be deemed to have gained or lost residence by reason of his presence or absence while employed in the service of the United States, or the State, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State or of the high seas, nor while a student of any college or seminary of learning, nor while kept at any almshouse or public institution, except the inmates of such institution, who shall be deemed to have gained or lost residence by reason of their presence or absence while in the service of the State or of the high seas, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State or of the high seas, nor while a student of any college or seminary of learning, nor while kept at any almshouse or public institution, except the inmates of such institution, who shall be deemed to have gained or lost residence by reason of their presence or absence while in the service of the State or of the high seas, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State or of the high seas, nor while a student of any college or seminary of learning, nor while kept at any almshouse or public institution, except the inmates of such institution, who shall be deemed to have gained or lost residence by reason of their presence or absence while in the service of the State or of the high seas, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State or of the high seas, nor while a student of any college or seminary of learning, nor while kept at any almshouse or public institution, except the inmates of such institution, who shall be deemed to have gained or lost residence by reason of their presence or absence while in the service of the State or of the high seas, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State or of the high seas, nor while a student of any college or seminary of learning, nor while kept at any almshouse or public institution, except the inmates of such institution, who shall be deemed to have gained or lost residence by reason of their presence or absence while in the service of the State or of the high seas, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State or of the high seas, nor while a student of any college or seminary of learning, nor while kept at any almshouse or public institution, except the inmates of such institution, who shall be deemed to have gained or lost residence by reason of their presence or absence while in the service of the State or of the high seas, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State or of the high seas, nor while a student of any college or seminary of learning, nor while kept at any almshouse or public institution, except the inmates of such institution, who shall be deemed to have gained or lost residence by reason of their presence or absence while in the service of the State or of the high seas, nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State or of the high seas, nor while a
