THE loss of life at Johnstown and vicinity by the flood can now be put with reasonable certainty at 5,000. By comparing these figures with the loss of life in some of the principal battles of the late civil war the immensity of the Johnstown calamity will be more fully appreciated. At the first battle of Bull Run the loss on the Union side was 481 killed, on the FOR THE AMENDMENT. Confederate was 378 killed. At the second battle of Bull Run the loss of the Union forces was about 1,400 killed, that of the Confederate was 1,340. At the battle of Antietam the Union forces lost 2,010 killed and the Confederate about 1,800. At Fredericksburg the Union loss in killed was 1,500 and the Confederate 600. At Gettysburg the Union loss was 2,834 and the Confederate 5,000. Thus it will be seen that more lives were lost at Johnstown than there were killed outright at any one battle of the civil war with the exception of Gettysburg, and almost twice as many as was the Union loss killed there, and about as F. Feitt, and others. many as the Confederate loss .- Com .- June 15, Zion Church, Tionesta Tr., Gazette.

THE GREAT CALAMITY.

Johnstows, Pa., June 7 .- Eight thousand men have been at work here to-day clearing out the debris, but truth compels the statement that the undertaking has not yet been fairly started. Fires are burning up and down the valley of the Conemaugh as far as the eye can reach. The air is thick with smoke, and yet to people familiar with the situation the efforts of this army of earnest toilers is hardly appreclable. Something like system is being established, but the most careful estimates are to the effect that it will take 10,000 men down the course of the river.

MORE DESTITUTION.

Father Smith, paster of the Catholic Church at Ebensburg, reached here to-day after a two days' journey from South Fork. He says the residents of Mineral Point, Coopersville, Dutchtown, East Conemaugh, and other small settlements along that valley are in destitute circumstances and are in need of immediate supplies of groceries and clothing. Reports from each of these villages show that between 70 and 80 lives were lost between Woodvale and the hamlet of South Fork. PNEUMONIA PREVALENT.

Pneumonia grows alarmingly, notwithstanding the statements of Dr. Groff, of the State health board. Dr. Sweet, of Philadelphia, a prominent member of Dr. Groff's staff, came down from the Cambria hospital to-night with a startling report. He said: "Prospect Hill is full of pneumonia, with some diphtheria and measles, The hospital is full to overflowing, and today I attended 42 cases on the outside, There is every condition needed for the spread of the disease, and I fear an epidemic.

Nine horses and four cows were cremated to-day making 150 animals in this district. A row of human feet was noticed sticking out of the sand on the river bank near Kernville. A gang of men soon unearthed bodies of two men and one girl all in good state of preservation. The men were identified as Young and Bantley. The girl was buried among the great army of unknowns.

DEAD IN HIS ARMS. The body of Rev. Alonzo P. Diller, rector of the Johnstown Episcopal Church, and those of his wife and child, were recovered to-day under circumstances both sad and strange. Four Episcopal clergymen, who had been ordered here by Bishop Whitehead, were working about the ruins the body of their late brother, chasped in one rigid arm was the body of his babe, and in the other his wife, whose arms were about his neck. They were removed in this position and will be buried to-morrow, the Episcopal elergymen officiating. Rev. Diller was last seen at an upper frontwindow of his house. He had his wife and child in his arms and he seemed about decided to jump into the angry vices. It is the dictionary for vice flood when the house melted from sight for it includes every vice. and the water closed over them. The bodies were found half a mile away from where the house stood.

ADOPTING CHIEDREN. ment, The Children's Aid Society of Pennsylonly with young plants can best results be poultrymen was always obtained.

Ross Mateer, of Altoona, telegraphs for girl for adoption; Mrs. Annie B. Finch, of Johnstown, wants an infant; Mayor Grant, of New York, can dispose of twenty-five children. Elizabeth, N. J., brough its Mayor, takes twelve children, Carl Bohn, of Philadelphia, takes a child, and the three children of George Robb, the remainder of his family of seven, were adopted by Conrad Schlagel. The headquarters of the society have been made at the place of registration.

2,500 BODIES FOUND,

Jourstown, June 9,-Dr. Sibbett, the State Inspector, has been engaged since oon in collecting the figures of the number of bodies handled in the various morgues in Johnstown and the immediate vicinity. He reported this evening that the number was 1,000, distributed in the morgues as follows: Two hundred and nineteen at the Fourth Ward School, 28 at the Presbyterlan Church, 182 at the depet, 128 at Morrellville, 825 at the St, Columbia Church in Cambria City, 13 at Haws, 52 at Millvale, five at the First Ward, Millvale, 118 at Kernville. The doctor estimated to-night that 2,500 bodies had been recovered so far, at all points. About 58 bodies were recovered to-day. The corpses are so badly decomposed that nothing can be done with them. The feet, face and hands of bodies that have been exposed to the water cannot be touched without removing the skin. Mr. Jessop says the entire overing of the bodies, for that mafter, is in a very decayed state and the embalmers are about ready to give up their work. A DOO'S HEROISM.

Captain Maguire has a handsome and eroic shepherd dog at Morrellville, which he will take back to Pittsburgh with him. The dog had been taken the day before the flood six miles above Morrellville. The next thing the people of Morreliville knew the dog was struggling ashore there, dragging a young girl named Maggie Fitzpatrick up the bank after him. The girl has completely recovered. The original owner of the dog, 'Squire Leisenring. gave him to Captain Maguire, and it would take a handsome sum to buy him.

AMENDMENT:

There shall be an additional article to said Constitution to be designated as Ar-ticle XIX, as follows: ARTICLE XIX.

The manufacture, sale, or keeping for sale of intoxiciting liquor, to be used as a beverage, is hereby prohibited, and my violation of this prohibition shall be a misdemeanor, punishable as shall be provided by law.

The manufacture, sale, or keeping for sale of intoxicating liquor for other purposes than as a beverage may be allowed in such manner only as may be prescribed by law. The General Assembly shall, at the first session succeeding the adoption of this article of the Constitution, enact laws with adequate penalties for its enforcement.

At the same time they will also vote by ballot for the approval and radification or rejection of the following:

AMENDMENT. Strike out from section one, of article eight, the four qualifications for voters which reads as follows:
