LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 90 1/2. Ex-Commissioner Ledebur was down from East Hickory last Monday. Ex-Sheriff L. Agnew, of Warren, is circulating among friends here today.

Mr. Wm. Hieenthal of Pittsburgh, was up on business during the week. Miss Artie Robinson is home from Wilson College for the summer vacation.

Mrs. J. B. Legard and young son of Waukegan, Ill., are guests of Mrs. H. H. May. Mrs. L. Agnew of Warren, was the guest of Tionesta friends a few days of the past week.

Mrs. Nellie Colegrove of Corry, Pa., is paying a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Brownell. Dr. and Mrs. Longwell of East Brady, Pa., are the guests of Mrs. S. C. and Miss Emma Sloan this week.

An exchange warns people to look out for tramps who are already roaming the country in the role of Johnstown victims. Teachers' examinations at Brookston will be held Thursday, July 25, instead of Tuesday, July 23, as was published last week.

Will H. May Esq., of Louisville, Ky., was with his mother a day or two of last week, and took occasion to shake hands with many of his old Tionesta friends. The Free Methodist camp meeting for the Oil City district of the Free Methodist Church will be held at Titoville this year, beginning Thursday, August 12, to continue twelve days.

Joe Landers will give a ball on the Fourth of July at the Rink, to which all are cordially invited. McGraw's full orchestra will furnish music, and a grand time may be expected. One week from to-morrow the fourth of July will be here. Tionesta will not celebrate this year, and a number of her citizens will take in the sights of other towns that have taken on a little extra patriotism.

Amos Ledebur came home from Allegheny College last Saturday, and will remain during the summer vacation. Meadville air seems to agree with Amos as he has taken on several additional pounds of flesh since his absence. Tionesta went to West Hickory last Saturday and got laid out again in a game of base ball, but not so badly as 'tother time, the score on Saturday standing 13 to 12. Next time the boys hope to wipe out this small majority altogether.

Rev. Graetz left for Wheeling, W. Va., on the 24th to attend the meeting of the Eastern District of the Evang. Lutheran Joint Synod of Ohio, which convenes in that city from the 25th to July 3. From thence he will leave for Western Ohio, where he will remain about two months. Franklin District Camp Meeting at Whig Hill will commence Tuesday evening, July 23d and continue one week. All parties wishing to rent tents will apply to Rev. C. R. Thompson, East Hickory, Pa., before the 10th of July. Contracts made with any one else will be null and void. By order of Committee.

The following officers and teachers were elected last Sunday for Mt. Zion's Evang. Luth. Sunday School, on German Hill: Supt., Henry Weingard; Asst. Supt., Edward Winker; Treasurer, William Diekrager; Secretary, Miss Anna Lohmeyer; Teacher Catechism Class, Miss Eva Kiser; Bible History Class, Miss Emmitte Winker; Little Workers, Susanne Blum.

The oil market cut up a very funny caper on Monday of this week. Starting at 83 1/2 cents it rapidly slid up to $1.00, then sagged back to 95c, then to 88 1/2c, and finally closed at 90c. Someone must have had a box of tobies bet that oil would be a dollar before the Fourth, and run it up to that figure just to win. No one was seriously injured in the fracas.

"The torrents came upon them, or the Johnstown disaster," is the title of a beautiful new song and chorus, which will touch a sympathetic chord in every heart. The words are very touching and are wedded to a sweet and plaintive melody. The chorus is well arranged and very effective. Send 50 cents to The S. Brainard's Sons Company, Chicago, Ill., and you will receive a copy by return mail.

The young folks, the old folks, the middle-aged and all others who are interested in the laudable project, have arranged to give a strawberry and ice cream festival at the Rink next Saturday evening for the benefit of the school library, and they hope to see a good attendance present. Don't forget the date and come out and bring all the folks. You will not only get more than your money's worth, but will help establish an institution that will be a permanent benefit to your children and children's children.

Messrs. Wood & Co., on the Joslyo farm, Stewarts Run, commenced pumping their well on Wednesday of last week, which shows up for a five barrel producer. They will commence another on the same farm shortly. Proper & Hardison finished a good fifteen barrel pumper on the Maddison lot, near the Fogle farm, last week. The well of Wolcott & Co., on Little Hickory, is reported as dry. A string of tools from Walnut Bend passed through here yesterday for Hickory township, where it will do duty on a new well located on Little Hickory creek. Emmerison, of Titoville, is the operator.

A summer morning could not be more pleasantly spent than in reading the July number of "Peterson." No lady can have this magazine for a year without finding it indispensable in regard to the making of bonnets, dresses and every other sort of garment in the newest style and most economical manner. The literary contents are made up of choice novelettes, stories and poems by popular authors, and the steel engraving and wood illustrations are always admirable. Terms, two dollars a year, or one dollar for six months. Send for a sample copy. Address Peterson's Magazine, 306 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

Mr. Albert Trent and family, of whom we have previously spoken as having been in the Johnstown disaster, arrived in this place yesterday morning and are stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Fulton. Mr. T. returned on the noon train to his business, he having a position with an extensive iron firm of that place. During the flood they occupied the attic of their house, which, luckily was not carried away. They spent an awful night of suspense in that position, and saw the buildings of their neighbors floated off like corks, while large brick blocks were crumbled and melted away like heaps of sand. They were thus confined in their narrow limits until ten o'clock the next day, and while about all their household effects were destroyed, they were still most thankful to escape as luckily as they did. Mrs. Trent and children will remain the guests of her sister during the hot weather.

In behalf of the Corps I write to thank you, and the people of Tionesta, Pa., for the goods sent. They were of a useful and needed kind; they certainly did good for more than one suffering family. Yours in F. C. & L., M. J. GREGG, Treasurer, for W. R. C. of G. A. R.

Notice—Daughters of Rebekah. Ella Lodge, No. 36, D. of R., of South Oil City, invite Lenora Lodge, D. of R., No. 198, of Tionesta, to participate in a basket picnic at Witter Park on July 4, at noon of said day. Lenora Lodge resolved to accept the invitation. Ella Lodge also invites the brothers of Tionesta Subordinate Lodge, I. O. O. F., No. 369, to be present. Ordered to be published. MARY T. IRWIN, Sec'y.

OBITUARY.

DIED.—Mrs. Mary Emma Clark, of Tionesta, Pa., on June 22, 1889, aged 85 years, 11 months, and 15 days.

Mrs. Clark's maiden name was Baker. She was born near West Freedom, Clarion Co., Pa., where her parents still reside. Four sisters and two brothers survive her. In the Spring of 1883 she came first to Tionesta, and has since been a resident here. April 26, 1888, she was wedded to P. M. Clark, Esq., of this place. On Saturday last, as recorded above, she died, and the angel of death led away to the glories of the unseen world one of God's own, dearly loved and respected while living by all those who now mourn her death. On Sunday afternoon following her death, at 5 o'clock, Rev. C. C. Rumberger, assisted by Rev. J. V. McAninch, held services at her residence where her body lay, and the corpse was carried to the Odd Fellow's Cemetery, where it was laid away to await the summons to a new life,—one in which the ties of earth so rudely sundered shall be knit together again never more to be broken. In the evening at the M. E. Church, Rev. Rumberger preached the funeral sermon. The many who followed the body to the cemetery, the large congregation that filled all the available space in the church to listen to the sermon, is only one of the many testimonials of the high esteem in which the deceased was held by all.

Mrs. Clark was remarkable for those qualities that make a woman womanly. In her life one saw, free from ostentation, the Christian graces exemplified. When between 12 and 13 years of age she was converted under, and united with the M. E. Church, and up to the time of her death was a consistent member of the same. She made a good profession and proved her right to it. She built her life on the principles of Christianity, and reduced its precepts to practice, exhibiting as a result a life beautiful in its consistency, sweet in its purity, strong in its steadiness, and powerful in its goodness. She loved God and her fellow creatures. She served Him and was helpful to them. She had faith in God, and faith in His creatures. She had faith in Him for them, and her idea and ideal of human life was that it is an opportunity for doing good that ought not to be neglected. She never compromised with wrong, but such was the spirit in which she presented the claims of right that she did not repel through the antagonism of right to wrong, but won through the superior claims of right. She was modest and unassuming, but always faithful to the call of duty.

Such people don't die. They live to show what life is and ought to be. They go away leaving a memory that is beautiful, an example that is blessed, and an influence that lifts others up to a higher plane of living. "They rest from their labor and their works do follow them, saith the Lord." When they are taken away they are not merely absent; they are missed. No body else comes to fill the place they leave vacant. It remains sacred to them alone and forever; and always, "We sigh for the touch of a vanished hand, For the sound of a voice that is still."

She filled the world she lived in, not leaving her work for another to do; and her world was better because she lived in it. All unite in extending their sympathy to her friends and to the bereaved husband, whose home is thus made desolate after a short year of wedded life, made happy by a wife who fulfilled all her household and social duties as only a good woman can.

Relief is asked for the locked-out Braiddock, Ill., miners, who are suffering from hunger. Warren is making an effort to get the Sixteenth Regiment to encamp here this Summer. A yellow fever case was landed in Brooklyn last week. A strict quarantine has been established. Farmers throughout the State are becoming very anxious about their corn as it is so filthy and too wet to work.

The graves of American soldiers and sailors in the general cemetery at Yokohama, Japan, were decorated May 30. Mormon elders came over in first cabin of the Wyoming, but 300 Mormon proselytes came in the steerage. They go to Utah by way of Norfolk, Va. Ex-Gov. Hartranft, of Pennsylvania, has been appointed a member of the Cherokee Commission, and has signified his intention to the Secretary of the Interior of accepting the office.

Michael Rizzolo, alias "Red Nose Mike," was hanged yesterday in the yard of the county prison, at Wilkesbarre, for the murder of Paymaster McClure and Hugh Flannagan, in October last.

The West Fork and Elk rivers in West Virginia, are both out of their banks for miles, and heavy damage is being done to property. The track of the Clarksburg and Weston Railroad is under water and traffic is stopped.

Sarah Jane Whittling, who poisoned her husband and two children in order to obtain the patry sum of $300 insurance on their lives, was hanged for her crimes in Philadelphia yesterday morning at ten o'clock. She is the first woman ever hanged in that county.

Present indications are that the hay crop this season will be one of the largest ever gathered in the country. The outlook for all the grain crops except corn was never more promising. Farmers will commence cutting clover next week if the weather should be favorable for hay making.

In the lower end of Johnstown stood the United Presbyterian parsonage. The waters carried it up Stony creek two miles and a half and landed it in Sandy Valley Cemetery, while the sexton's house in the cemetery, being caught by another eddy, was landed squarely on the vacant foundations of the parsonage.

Mr. Joseph Kelly, of Clay twp., Butler county, left home some four weeks ago and has not been heard of since. He is about fifty years of age, is the proprietor of a coal mine and travels considerably selling coal, left home with about $1500 in his pocket, and it is feared that he has met with foul play, or was lost at Johnstown.—Butler Citizen.

The June work of the sheep dogs of Mercer county shows up very modestly when compared with the Cotnamough disaster, but still it amounts to something. Up to Thursday the claims filed for dog-deadly mutton amounted to $235.50. The dogs are several laps ahead of the tax and the cream of the season is still before them.—Franklin News.

The accident at the switchback on the P. & W. railroad, at Foxburg, about one year ago, in which a traveling man named Jones was caught between the cars and killed, will be remembered by our readers. The widow brought suit against the company in the Beaver county court, and last week was awarded $7,000 and all the costs in compensation for her husband's death.—Emulsion News.

Mrs. Alexander McDowell, aged 66 years, and an old and well-known resident of Franklin, was burned to death last Saturday evening. She was at the residence of her son, and in descending the stairs from the second story to the first story, made a misstep and fell to the bottom. A small lamp she was carrying was broken and the oil exploded, enveloping her in flames. She was burned so badly that she lived only a few hours. The Phillipsburg Journal says that several young ladies of a town in the eastern part of this State sent their photographs to a New York firm in answer to an advertisement, and shortly after that a young gentleman of the same town bought a package of cigarettes and was astounded to find inside the wrapper the picture of his best girl arrayed only in scantiest of attire. This should serve as a warning to girls that it is just as well not to be too free about giving out their photographs.

"If you are going to camp out in the woods this summer and want to enjoy yourself," said a veteran in the business, "be sure of the make-up of your party. A camp should never contain any but the most congenial spirits. A person may be a tiptop fellow, as things go every day, and yet be a disturbing element in a camp. There should never be a 'kicker' in the party. A man who will shirk any duty about a camp will set the whole party by the ears in a short time. You don't want with you the fellow who is always watching his chance to get the best place by the fire, the preferable corner for a bunk, or the brownest trout for breakfast, or who is in unseemly haste to be the first on the brook or lake with his rod. And never go to camp with three in a party. There will be trouble, sure if you do. It is a singular trait of camp human nature for men to divide in couples. Two of your three campers will thus favor one another, and the third will naturally become dissatisfied. Two is company, and three is none in camp. Have your party an even number, whatever you do."

A MATTER OF IMPORTANCE To the People of Forest, Elk and McKeen Counties.

In case of sufficient encouragement, it is proposed by the undersigned to publish a comprehensive historical and biographical work of the counties of McKean, Elk and Forest. The work will contain a history of each county, compiled by competent historians, who will get the facts from the best and most authentic sources, which will embrace the early settlement, the adventures of pioneers, the service of leading citizens, the developed enterprises and improvements, etc., making a volume of standard reference for all time to come. A description of the various Historic and interesting localities, sketches of the cities, towns and townships, their settlement and progress. The churches, schools, and public institutions; the legal and medical professions, the military and political history, agricultural, manufacturing and other interests will find their appropriate places in the volume. A Plate of each county, colored by townships, and locating all important points. Finely executed Portraits of some of the early settlers and prominent men. The Biographical Department will constitute an important feature of the work. In it will appear sketches of many of the pioneers and their descendants, including a large number of the business and representative men. These will be an interesting part of the volume; will be submitted for the correction of possible errors, and care, fully revised and edited before publications. Miscellaneous Matter of value, also a condensed History of Pennsylvania. The book will be royal octavo in form, containing over 600 pages, handsome and substantially bound in half leather, and will be completed and ready for delivery as soon as practicable. It will be sold only by subscription. In order to make a success of a work of such magnitude, and requiring so great an expense, it is necessary that we have the almost unanimous support of the citizens of the Counties. With this support we hope to furnish you with a work of inestimable worth, which your posterity will consider a most valuable heirloom.
