have led you to prosperity. It gives the history of your town and county, which is but an epitome of universal history. -"It leads the field," is the universal verdict of the ladies in regard to Peterson's Magazine. It always comes laden with an atmosphere of elegance,

> D. S. KNOX, P. M. Ho, for Niagara Falls.

A grand excursion to Niagara Falls, under the management of the W. N. Y. & P. Railroad, will take place next Tuesday, July 30. The train will leave Tionesta at 6:30 a. m., stopping at all intermediate points, and arriving at the Falls at 1:00 p. m., with no stops between Olean and Buffalo, thus insuring fast time and prompt arrival.

Returning, the train will leave Niagara at 8:00 p. m., giving seven hours in which to take in the wonders at the fortable and safe at all times by keeping Falls. Fare for the round trip, $2.50, and those who wish to stop over can return on any regular train leaving Buffalo the following day, Wednesday, July 31. This is the only excursion that will go to the Falls from here this season, and those who have never been there should avail themselves of the have already been there two and three coming, and will see that everybody is the 15-year-old son of W. W. Thomas, pleasantly and comfortably cared for.

eeal both .- Meadville Gazette. Seven thousand acres of bituminous coal land in the eastern part of Jefferson county, which were bought by capitalists onnected with the Lehigh Valley railroad few years ago, are now to be developed. The tract includes some of the best territory in the Punxsutawney coal basin that has not yet been improved. The custom obtains everywhere for destrians to take the right side of the walk. The rule should be observed as carefully by persons on foot as when driving on the road. Such being the case, ladies when walking with gentlemen should always be on their right. If they are the ladies will never be jostled when meeting other persons, the gentleman being on the side of contact with the persons coming from the opposite direction. This would of course modify the prevailing habit of giving a lady the inside of the walk or pavement when promenading with her.

It would be found that she is more comon the gentleman's right side. On the excursion from Oil City yester day to Saegertown, the conductor noticed three little boys, the oldest not over nine years old. They were asked where they were from, by the conductor, and they said they were from Oil City. There were four engaged in the robbery, but the other three, who were outside, ran, although shot at twice. One of them, it is thought, was hit, as he was being supported by his companions when seen passing through Little Cooley several hours later. Following her husband's father not yet a year in the better land, and her own dear father who had gone on before and whose memory she cherished with an abiding an increasing affection, desolation and sorrow sit upon the threshold of the homes they have left so lonely. She will not only be missed in her own home, but in the social circle where was ever ready for any good word and work; in the prayer meeting where her plaintive, pleading voice was often heard; in the Sabbath School, in which she was an active worker and gave freely of her money, her time and her talents for its promotion; the temperance and the missionary causes to which she was ardently attached, all will deeply feel her loss. With a quick, bright over $100,000 to beneficiaries through us intellect, and a clear calm judgment, Mrs. Clary blended an open-hearted friendship and warmth of affection that endeared he to all who knew her. Not a trace of frivolity in her character, thoughtful, cheerful, trustful, considerate, she was all in all a womanly woman. A child-like frankness and sweet content were marked traits of her brief and beautiful life. Patient in suffering, brave in sorrow, speaking no ill, "thinking no evil" and hopeful always, she lived a beautiful song and an eloquent sermon. If the world ever grows old in a minute it is when such a wife and daughter and friend is taken away. The Vina of the dead days will be named less and less by and by-it is nature's laws and it is wise -but not so the loveliness of her life that has passed in a measure into other lives. Bewildered in the darkness of to-day, we cannot see why one so rich in hope, so affluent in the promise of happy years to come has "honored her father and her mother," and with whom it was joy and gladness for all to live, should be cut down before the first frost had come-in the very mid-aummer of earthly being. But she has not lived briefly who has lived well. The world she knew has been the better for her presence, as now it mourns her gone. "Say not good night," she says, "but in another clime bld me good morning." Fading away and yet to bloom again,

This fragrant flower on some celestial plain, Transplanted to elysian bowers, To live among God's fairest flowers.
