THE STATE CONVENTION.

The Republican State Convention which met in Harrisburg last Wednesday, did its work promptly and barto Speaker Boyer for State Treasurer, and his nomination was made by acclamation amid applause and good feeling.

Chairman Andrews of the State Committee was re elected unanimously. The platform is outspoken on all points now prominently before the people, and doesn't minco matters in any particular. It is as follows :

The Republicans of Pennsylvania in convention assembled submit the following platform :

The doctrines on unciated at Chicago in careful and Intolligent consideration from June, 1888, by the National Republican party received the endorsement of the people at the polls in the following November. Upon them the Keystone State set the seal of her approval by $0,000 ma-Jority.

With renewed emphasis we reaffirm these cardinal principles and again submit them to the electors of Pennsylvania for their approbation.

We greatly rejoice in the national victory of 1888 for a two-fold reason: First, because it was fought and won under Pennsylvania leadership and upon Penn- State, has touched the heart of all forms sylvania platform, and, second, because of civilization on the face of the earth, apthe executive and legislative power in the Union has thereby been restored to the Republican party, which within a period of less than thirty years has rescued the country from the perils of rebellion, of treacherous reconstruction, of financial dishonor and of reckless industrial legislation. All of which were distinctly involved in the policy or acts of the Democratic party as now governed.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania claim especial recognition for the reason that in functions, State and national, executive the hour of its extremity they furnished and legislative, is a great public loss to the National Republican organization a which properly demands of this Cenvenchairman who during all the anxious days tion an earnest expression of their deep of the recent National campaign, in cooperation with the honored representatives of other states, so controlled the and character. forces at hand as to compel victory. The thanks of the Republicans of this Commonwealth are due, and hereby tendered to, the Hon. Matthew S. Quay for the honorable and masterful way in which he MR EDITOR ;conducted that campaign.

But tears will not suffice for the tens of thousands of brave soldiers who still survive. We advocate such amendments to the pension laws as will make adequate provision for all honorably discharged veterans of the late war, whose advancing years, wounds or other infirmities disable them from total or partial self-support, Those who saved the nation from dissolution should be saved by the nation from penury; and we heartily commend the penury; and we heartily commend the wise and friendly liberality shown by Commissioner Tanner to his brother sol-diers in the conscientions discharge of the duties of his office. The Republican party, having in 1886 declared in favor of the submission of the declared in favor of the submission of the question of the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors to a vote of the people, and having, in two successive Legislatures, through the method ordained by the Constitution, and in spite of Democratic opposition, provided the machinery for reaching a fair expression of the public sentiment, and the vote, to secure which it was pledged, having been taken, declares that it has fully

The Cluster of Stars to Which our Sun Belongs.

"The Uranometria Nova of Argeland-er gave the positions of the lucid stars of the northern sky, and it has been supplemented by the Uranometria Arg-enting of Dr. Gould, which covers the southern sky. With the stellar statistics of the whole sky before him Dr. Gould was in a position to draw some extremely interesting conclusions with respect to the arrangement of brighter stars in space, and to the situation of our solar system in relation to them. The outline of his reasoning can be given here, but the numerical evidence upon which his conclusions are founded must be omitted. In the first place, it is fairly proved that in peals especially to the sympathies of the general the stars that are visible to the people of this Commonwealth who have naked eye (the lucid stars) are distriwitnessed with thankful hearts the generbuted at approximately equal distances one from another, and that on the osity of all nations. We urge that the average they are of approximately equal brilliancy. If we make a table of the number of stars of each separate next Legislature take such constitutional action as will best provide permanent relief for the stricken sections. magnitude in the whole sky we shall find that there are proportionately many more of the brighter ones (from The death of General Simon Cameron, for sixty years a conspicuous son of Pennsylvania, and for much of that time in the first to fourth magnitudes) than of the fainter (from fourth to seventh magnihonored discharge of important public tudes). That is, there is an 'unfailing and systematic excess of the observed number of the brighter stars.' We cannot suppose, taking one star with another, that the difference between sorrow, and that they should testify their their apparent brightness arises simply admiration and veneration for his career from real difference in size, but we must conclude that the stars from the first to fourth magnitudes (some 500) are really nearer to us than the fainter Gettysburg Transportation. stars. It therefore follows that these brighter stars form a system whose separation from that of those of the fainter stars is marked by the change of relative numerical frequency. "What, then, is the shape of this п
