NEWSY NOTES.

Last Friday an accident occurred on the Pittsburgh and Western Railway just as the train had got fairly out of Edenburg that might have ended fatally. The breaking of a lever rendered the air brakes useless at a critical moment while roundengine, was thrown from the track and turned bottom upward. Most of the passengers were bruised more or less, none seriously. R. P. Scott, of Butler, was cut 11th, 23d, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, on the head and 1 1 two ribs broken. 46th, 49th, 53d, 56th, 57th, 61st, 62d, Mrs. Jacob Fisher, of Butler, was badly injured, and Mrs. James Conley, of Shippenville, was cut on the eye and injured internally.

The astonishment and incredulity that the announcement of the discovery by Dr. Brown-Sequard of a fluid which would renew life first occasioned among European medical authorities are giving away to a spirit of interest. They have come to the belief that the ancient scientist has really discovered something that may be of importance, and are investigating for themselves or awaiting the result of the investigations of others. Brown-Sequard is in his 73d year, and for several years past has been in a state of great feebleness. He tried the elixir on himself, and says that for a month after each injection he feels the freshness of youth pulsating through with the clixir with the result of improving their digestion and increasing their trength. The clixir is a dark-reddish organizations (1) not honorably dis- fluid obtained from the glands of dogs and may soon advertise years of life corked up in a bottle to be taken by hypodermic injection. The whole idea is ludicrous in Pennsylvania, are not entitled to the extreme, but science has accomplished so much in the past that few things seem impossible to it.
