

The election of Calvin S. Brice, (of New York) to succeed Senator Payne of Ohio, in the U. S. Senate, is another great victory for the millionaire statesmen of that body.

The suggestion is made that Ben. Butler be sent for to clean the streets of New York. If Ben. should go to New York he might clean up the way by which the blocks of five thousand votes cast for him in 1884 were counted for Cleveland.

BRICE made millions in railroad manipulations and is in the United States Senate, as the successor of Millionaire Payne. Young man the moral in all this is: Make millions and you may sit in the seats distinguished by these millionaires.

TURPIE, the new Indiana Senator, jealous of the attention which his colleague has received, is firing off a batch of surplus adjectives because the administration has not recognized the new Republic of Brazil. And this leads us to remark that the Indiana Senators will be in their glory during this session. The President comes from their State, and doesn't happen to be a Democrat, and therefore they think it incumbent upon them to play the part of gad-flies. As to Turpie's talk, there is less sense in it even than there is in that of Voorhees.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

WALKER BLAINE, the eldest son of Secretary Blaine, and Solicitor of the State Department, died at the family residence in Washington, last Wednesday evening of acute pneumonia, superinduced by an attack of the prevailing influenza. He was in the 35th year of his age. Around his bed were his father and mother, his brothers, Emmons and James Jr., and Miss Dodge. Walker Blaine graduated from Yale College in 1876, and studying law received his diploma from Columbia College, New York, in 1878. In 1881, while Garfield was on his death bed, he sent for Walker Blaine and appointed him Third Assistant Secretary of State, saying that he appreciated his ability and desired to show it. After serving in this capacity very acceptably for nearly a year he was appointed on the Alabama Claims Commission, where he served with great credit from 1882 to 1885. On the advent of the present Administration he was appointed Solicitor of the State Department, a position which he also filled with great credit and ability. Mr. Blaine was frank and of a genial disposition—a man of magnetism and ability—and was popular with all whom he came in contact, socially or in business matters. His death is a sad blow to his distinguished father, who had built largely on the future of this son.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 17, 1890. When a Senator fait son dos en haut, or as the Bostonians say, "gets his back up," away go dignity, courtesy and the thin refinement of centuries. No matter where this spinal elevation finds him; whether in a free and easy political or religious discussion at the X-roads store or surrounded by the mystical "Senatorial courtesy" which is supposed to permeate the atmosphere of the Senate Chamber, it is all the same. This was forcibly brought to mind when Senator Plumb arose and called Senator Call a "fraud" and a "liar" and Senator Call retorted by saying that Mr. Plumb was ignorant and ascher, etc. The cause of the trouble between the two gentlemen was a bill relating to certain Florida land grants. When the Record appeared the spicy debate was all smoothed out, both men having had time to think the matter over. Whether this privilege, which is freely exercised by members of both Houses, of using bad language while the House or Senate is in session and then changing the language in the Record, is not one that it would be advantageous to abolish, is a question. Of what use is a Record that does not present a truthful record?

Senator Sherman's anti-trust bill has been amended in committee so as to remove what some legal minds thought to be unconstitutional features, without impairing its effect, and has been favorably reported to the Senate. Its early passage may be regarded as a certainty.

The objective point of all the office-seekers in Washington is now the office of Superintendent Porter, of the Census bureau. There you may see during the two hours between 10 o'clock and noon say almost a quorum of the House, to say nothing of numerous more or less dignified Senators, all hustling to get something for their beloved constituents. Senator Turpie is the most radical advocate of the Monroe doctrine who has yet spoken in a speech in favor of Senator Morgan's resolution for the immediate recognition of the republic of Brazil by this Government. He expressed himself as being in favor of the United States formally notifying the European powers that the United States would not tolerate any action on their part looking towards the establishment of monarchical powers in any republic on the Western Hemisphere.

Impudence can go no farther. A delegation of Mormons have been here to oppose the admission of Idaho as a State, because the constitution adopted by the people of the Territory does not please the Mormons. The Mormons were given a hearing by the Senate committee on Territories, but their arguments will not prevent the bill for the admission of Idaho being favorably reported.

Representative Lodge, who has been requested by the House committee on elections to prepare a Federal Election bill, has, it is understood, decided to recommend a bill providing for the election of all members of the House of Representatives under what is popularly known as the Australian ball system.

The board appointed by Secretary Tracy last summer to consider and report a plan for building a navy in keeping with the wealth of the United States, was given a hearing by the Senate committee on Naval Affairs this week. It recommends the building of 102 vessels, different types and sizes, during the next fourteen years. It is generally believed that Senator Farwell will make a fight on the confirmation of Mr. Clark, this week nominated to be Collector of Customs at Chicago. If he does, the chances are that he will succeed in defeating him. Mr. Farwell has no personal objection to Mr. Clark, but he thinks it is a wrong principle to appoint a man to office who is opposed by both Senators and Representatives of his State. Mr. Pullman, of palace car fame, is said to be responsible for Clark's appointment.

The House committee on Ways and Means have ended the hearings on the new tariff bill, which is expected to be ready in two, or at the outside three weeks time.

Walker Blaine late Examiner of Claims on the State department, died suddenly of pneumonia Wednesday night. His father, Secretary Blaine, is completely prostrated by the loss.

Vick's Floral Guide.

We have received from James Vick Rochester, N. Y., his Floral Guide, which in beauty of appearance and convenience of arrangement surpasses anything in this line which we have ever had the privilege of seeing before. It is a pamphlet eight by ten inches in size, and with the covers, which are by no means the least important part of it, contains an even one hundred pages. Although called a "floral guide," it is devoted to vegetables as well, and includes as full a list and description of both flowers, vegetables and also small fruits as could be brought within the compass of a book of this size. In all that the Vicks have undertaken their aim seems to have been to attain as near to absolute perfection as possible, and probably no one ever did so much towards bringing the cultivation of flowers to the high standard which it has now attained as did the head of the firm. The firm takes the same pride in raising choice vegetables as in developing attractive varieties of flowers, and after using their seeds for a number of years we are able to recommend them in the highest terms. We advise all our readers to send 10 cents for the Guide (which can be deducted from first order) and if there are any of our lady friends who can succeed in growing a natural rose which will compare in beauty with the New Stripped Rose shown in illustration, we should like to receive an invitation to call and see it.
