LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 1.07 1/2. The ice men are on the very anxious seat these days.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. David Barnett on the 15th inst.

The Normal School at Clarion is an excellent place to prepare for college, for business, or for teaching.

Rev. C. C. Rumberger and daughter Mary are paying a visit to friends in Armstrong county this week.

Warren Jones of Newtown Mills, and Merchant Osgood of Whig Hill, were in town Monday and gave the REPUBLICAN a friendly call.

Editor Muse of the Vindicator is representing Forest county at a meeting of the Democratic State Committee in Harrisburg this week.

Hopkins & Co. have some dandy bargains in Remnants. Don't buy Flannels or Dress Goods until you see the bargains they offer.

The REPUBLICAN acknowledges a pleasant visit from its esteemed friend and staunch supporter, Hon. N. P. Wheeler, yesterday afternoon.

Veni! Vidi! Vici! this is said of Salvation Oil, for it conquers the worst cases of rheumatism and neuralgia at once. Price 25 cents a bottle.

A. W. Stroup gave one of his feet a bad slash with an ax while taking out rig timbers, Monday evening. It will likely lay 'em up for some weeks.

Messrs. Dingman & Dale are setting up their saw mill in the stove-mill building below the depot at this place, having several hundred thousand feet of stock to saw up into bill-stuff.

Dr. Morrow reports a boy at John Wolf's, of Tionesta twp., this morning, and this is the birthday of Mr. W. as well as one of his older children. Quite a coincidence, by-the-way.

Charlie Morgan was up from Oil City a few hours yesterday evening. Charlie has grown so large and handsome his friends hardly knew him. James Dimond was also up visiting relatives.

Wm. McKee has a very sick horse, he having been ailing for several days. Billy has had his full share of hard luck with horses of late, having lost two good ones already. P. S.—The horse died yesterday.

Rev. McAninch lost an umbrella on the river road somewhere between Judge Hill's place and Wm. Huddleston's, below Little Hickory creek. The finder will confer a favor on the owner by kindly returning it to him.

Mr. Robinson and family have finally got cozy settled in their new house, having eaten their first meal there on Friday last. Charlie Bakk-head did a most excellent job of painting on this handsome residence.

When you want to buy an Overcoat or suit of clothes, don't forget that Hopkins & Co. have just opened some splinter new goods, and no matter how low the prices go, they won't be undersold.

The Pittsburgh Dispatch rather tartly remarks that "the effort to calculate the largest possible aggregate of mortality reports and credit them all to grip is calculated to create a fear of the grip without doing any good to anyone."

Geo. W. Osgood, Collector of Kingsley township, wishes delinquent taxables in his township to take notice that after February 1st, next, there will be an additional 5 per cent. to pay on all back taxes, and govern themselves accordingly.

That winter has set in in earnest in some parts of the country at last is proved by the reports of snow blockades in the Northwest. In Colorado the drifts along the lines of railroads were in some places twenty feet deep. Whew! Just think of it! Twenty feet of snow in one pile, and here we have had scarcely enough for good snow-balling purposes. A more even distribution of "the beautiful" would be acceptable, here as well as in the Northwest.

—We are here to stay; we dare not sell aside goods; please do not ask us to; but when you want a good, reliable article in Dry Goods, Underwear, Men's Pants, Shirts, and Gloves, Mittens, Hats and Caps, Groceries, &c., go to Smearnaugh & Co. 2t.

—Hauling is still almost wholly suspended on account of the fearful condition of the roads. Unless there comes at least a short run of sleighing many of our lumbermen will suffer losses from inability to get their stocking done, and there is considerable anxiety expressed on all hands.

—The Philadelphia Times Almanac for 1890 is at hand with its customary fund of information on everyday topics, which is not to be had from any other source. Send 25 cents to The Times, Phila., Pa., for a copy, and get many times the worth of your money.

—In order to even up nicely Editor R. B. Brown, of the Meadville Messenger, will have to have an exceptional good run of equine and other job work next spring if he should be defeated in the suit which has been brought against himself and M. M. Meyler by H. P. Marley and E. J. Bailey, two of the Commissioners of Crawford County. Messrs. Marley and Bailey have sued for damages in the sum of $10,000 for alleged slanderous and defamatory articles about them which have appeared in the Messenger during the past year. The articles had reference to their conduct as Commissioners.—Blizard.

—Col. Reisinger, of the Meadville Gazette, was ever the friend of the horse. Here is some good horse sense from his pen: "When the business man in search of a place to locate, gets off at the Meadville depot and sees some of the teams which go there for passengers and baggage, he will probably get on the cars again. At twenty-five cents a bushel for oats and seven to eight dollars a ton for hay, there is no excuse for keeping such crow-baits as are exhibited daily on our streets, and with a full fledged society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, backed by the almost universal sentiment of the community in favor of their doing something, this should not be tolerated." We're of the opinion that the Colonel's remarks fit more localities than Meadville, so we are.

—The Philadelphia Times says: "The local newspapers of Pennsylvania are the most creditable of any published in the country, and they are rapidly growing in prosperity and power. They have done their part to advance their respective sections, and it should ever be remembered that their usefulness is just commensurate with their patronage. The city journal, so far from attempting to retard the local journal, always profits by the prosperity of the local newspapers, for they steadily educate their readers to greater needs in newspapers, and thus multiply the demand for metropolitan journals as the local journals multiply their readers. The local newspaper is the backbone of the community, and generous as is the public appreciation of its offices, it merits much more sympathy and support than it generally receives."

—The Union City Times thus speaks of a former Forest county citizen, whose old friends and former comrades hereabouts would gladly see him advanced to the position for which he has been named: John D. McLatchey, Esq. of Rockdale township, has entered the race for the office of Prothonotary of Crawford county. Squire McLatchey was a member of Co. G., 83d Regt., Penn'a Vols., and was severely wounded at the battle of Laurel Hill, from the effects of which wound he still suffers. He made a good soldier, is an excellent citizen and is a fit, competent and worthy man for the office to which he expires. Mr. McLatchey is one of the directors of the Farmers' Co-Operative Bank of this city, and is well known to most of our people and his elevation to the office of Prothonotary of Crawford county will be hailed with much pleasure by his numerous Erie county friends.

—Early in the field, and among the very best of the month's magazines, comes "Peterson" for February. Every lady should see its beautiful steel and wood engravings and its colored fashion plate, which is really an artistic picture. "Rescued by Cnster's Men," by Anna Latham, is a thrilling incident of the dashing general and his brave band, told in a very dramatic fashion. The short stories, miscellaneous articles and poems are all worthy of the highest praise. No household should be without "Peterson" for it always offers a varied and attractive table of contents, and at a price which brings it within everybody's reach. Terms, $2.00 a year. Address, Peterson's Magazine, Philadelphia.

—'Tis A Fact, That Hopkins & Co. lead everything in Low Prices. Call and see.

East Hickory.

The DuBois Express gives us some valuable statistics regarding the Influenza or La Grippe. It says: All through the sixteenth century there was influenza in Europe. In 1510, 1567, 1562, 1574, 1580 and 1593, it spread over Europe. It began again in 1658, in 1669, in 1675 and in 1693. In the eighteenth century it reappeared in 1708, 1712, 1729, 1732, 1733, 1742, 1761 and 1775. The present century opened with it. There was an epidemic in 1800, which was continued in 1803, 1831, 1833, 1837, 1843 and 1847. Then it disappeared till 1889. A short time ago the Grand Duke Alexis of Russia began to sneeze. Then others of the royal blood began to sneeze, and the courtiers, and the army and the people all were sneezing and running at the eyes and the nose; now hot with fever, and now cold with chill; the epidemic spreading all the while till all Russia had the "Russian influenza." That was not all. The Germans took up the matter and sneezed too. All over Germany people were going about sneezing, sneezing without cessation. Then it struck America. New York, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and thousands of other cities and towns have been visited, and last, but not least, East Hickory succumbed to the terrible disease. Two thirds of the town is in its grip. Every paper one picks up is filled with news of the awful monster. On Saturday evening we read reports of the scourge having full sway in Yankton and Sioux Falls, of the deaths at Rochester, Plymouth, Andover, Bideford, Boston, and Minneapolis; of the situation at New York, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia, and throwing the paper down, went to bed. We slept, and as we slept we dreamed. I thought I was a Frenchman and my name was La Grippe. Out of head? Of course I was, and as I rolled and tossed I kept saying: "Influenza Europaea. "Catarrhus epidemicus. "Catarrhus contagio. "Febris catarrhalis epidemica. "Rheuma epidemicum. "Morbus vevicinus, sen catarrhalis, sen arietis."

Mrs. Ledebur and children, are spending the week at the farm.

Mr. Stright and Wm. Whitcomb will not, at least for some time to come, take a lighted lantern to look for a leak in the gas line. Mr. Stright will wear his beard trimmed close, and Mr. Whitcomb will wear a bandage on his face for a few days. 'Tis said, and truly, we think, that "troubles never come singly." Mr. Whitcomb, who assisted in looking for the gas leak, also left the gas burning in the stove while he was at work on the mill. About 2 o'clock he looked toward the house and saw smoke coming out of the roof. An investigation was made, when it was found that the stove was about to fall through a hole in the floor, that the fire had burned.

Mr. John Jones and wife, with Fred. Christ, wife and children, of New Washington, Pa., who have been visiting friends in this place returned home on Tuesday.

All of the parties mentioned in our last, with dozens of others, have been in town during the week.

Warren Bean, Eugene Holmes, Nellie Hunter, Mrs. Southworth, Howard Lusher, and Mrs. Connelly are among the sick this week.

The schools have closed and W. J. Bloomfield has hid himself away to Trunkville.

'Tis said that we are to have no school until September. Surely this is a mistake. We hope so at least. By all means let us have a summer term, at least in the Primary Department.

Say! That elegant photograph boat of Martin & Odbert is lying in the harbor at the mouth of the creek.

Star Chips.

Mud is still king hereabouts.

J. W. Stroup and John Hood have commenced work on the rig on the J. H. Zuendel farm.

Rob Lynch and Frank Zuendel of East Hickory were calling on friends here on Sunday.

The beaming face of G. W. Osgood of Whig Hill was seen among his friends here Sunday.

On Monday as Lon Stroup was making a road to get out a stick of rig timber he cut his foot badly.

Rev. A. D. Gaines will preach in the school house next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and Dr. Smith will preach in the church Sunday evening.

The school at this place is doing well under the care of Miss Jennie Hogue.

—It is reported that famine threatens northern Russia, but it is a certainty that millions of colds will be bothering American people this winter. Against famine there is no protection, but for every cold there is a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Stewarts Run.

Where is the man that said we were going to have sleighing?

Mr. A. N. DeFrance, of Lims, O., is visiting his sisters, Mrs. H. M. and U. S. Zahniser, and other relatives on Stewarts Run. Mr. DeFrance is just recovering from a severe attack of the grip.

Some of our Stewarts Run men were out on a fox-hunt last Saturday, but nara a fox did they get. Nevertheless there are hundreds, we might say, in this country.

Mr. John Lang, the pumper on the Joslyn farm, is at his home in Titusville in the hands of old grip.

We were mistaken in saying the drill started in No. 6 on the Joslyn last week. On account of some bad luck they did not start until Monday morning of this week.

Len. Range killed a hog last Saturday that dressed 580 lbs. Who can beat that? We dare say there is not its equal in the country.

Fogle Bros. finished a well Saturday on the Lee five acre lot. It will make a small second sand well.

Rev. Brennan will preach at the White Church next Sabbath.

We understand Stewarts Run will furnish a candidate for County Commissioner.

Miss Nettie Thomson is just recovering from a severe attack of the mumps and grip.

Mr. Ben. Haides made a trip to Clarion county last week.

Miss Lettie Vangieson has been staying at J. G. Bromley's for a week.

We noticed the face of our friend Chas. Thomson on the Run last Sabbath.

Miss Agnes Beers, who has been stopping at H. M. Zahniser's for some time, leaves this week for Titusville.

Miss Nellie Odell of Pithole Center, is staying at U. S. Zahniser's.

The recent wind storm blew down Frank Metcalf's wagon shed, besides scattering fences over the country in general, and blowing down a rig on the Joslyn farm.

We understand our friend Gib. Thomson intends starting for the west this week. Believe he intends going to Chicago, where his brother Johnnie is. We are very sorry to lose you Gib, but success go with you.

Eli Vanderlin called on friends in this vicinity Sabbath.

Jan. 21. JERSEY. Hepler Corners.

Moses Hepler, whose present residence is in Pittsburgh, was visiting friends of this proximity a few days ago.

E. E. and J. E. Stitzinger were seen wending their way towards Tionesta one day last week.

Wm. Hepler of this locality, is at present engaged in slashing down the trees and taking out timber for Mr. Alexander of Lickingville.

Mr. Wm. Lilly and wife, of Fryburg, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Stitzinger, not long since.

Jan. 20. CLAUD. Heaven's Accession.

A week ago to-day our citizens were called upon to mourn the loss of one of its oldest and most respected residents.

Joseph Grove was born in Lewisburg, Union Co., Pa., Sept. 23, A. D., 1815, and was one of a family of eleven boys and three girls, children of Samuel Grove, of whom but three now survive. The family moved to Muney Valley, Lycoming Co., where the subject of our notes received a good common school education, and soon after went to Lancaster Co.; married an estimable young lady, Miss Catharine Gibbs; moved to Youngstown, Ohio; remained but a short time when they returned to Penn'a and located in Venango county, where his first wife died. Here he was united in wedlock to Mary A. Cummins, whose society he enjoyed but three years, and by whom he had two children, one, W. A. Grove, surviving. Thence Mr. Grove moved to West Hickory, where he remained fourteen years, mostly engaged in the lumbering business. At West Hickory he married Helinda Wolcott, and as a result of this union six children were born, four of whom, Mrs. John A. Hart, Wilbur and Park Grove, and Mrs. A. M. Dunt, are still living. Again Mr. Grove was made a widower, and moved from the place of his bereavement to Salem City, Venango county, where, February 11, 1885, at the residence of his brother William, he married Mrs. Dr. Ague, whose husband had been killed during the civil war. With her he spent a happy life until his response to the "Toll call on high." Soon after this marriage he moved to Franklin, remained but a short time, going from there to the home he farmed for about two years; going from there to White Pigeon, Mich., whence, in 1879, he again returned to Penn'a and located in Tionesta, where the accumulations of an active life remain to reward the dear ones left behind.

Mr. Grove came of a hardy, robust family, and closely related to Michael and Peter Grove, historically remembered for their many successful exploits with wild Indians, hence he inherited great physical endurance, which has enabled him to personally conduct and take part in his business enterprises, and made him a congenial and lively person with which to be associated or converse. In the early developments of oil in Forest county he became interested and with his sons, and son-in-law, John A. Hart, drilled a great many wells both for others and themselves, sometimes obtaining oil, at other times getting dry holes; but those failures apparently adding vigor and renewed energy to future efforts. With him there was no such word as fail. He retained his youthful ambition until stricken down while on his way to church on Sunday morning, 5th inst., when a sudden and severe pain in the top of his head caused him to stagger against the fence. Medical attention was secured and from this attack in which his head, side and heart were somewhat affected, he rallied. Eleven days later his left side, including the leg, arm and side of head, were paralyzed, forcing him again to his bed, from which careful nursing by loving hands and medical attention, were insufficient to raise him. Patiently enduring intense suffering he passed peacefully away in the presence of his family Wednesday morning, 15th inst., at 5 o'clock.

His spiritual experience, enjoyment and life is an inestimable treasure, living after death, for the encouragement of every professing Christian. For over thirty-five years he had been loyally following the Master, during a considerable portion of which he held an exalted's license. Being gifted with a ready flow of language, and the Bible his daily text book, he was ever ready when called upon to do earnest work for the Lord. In our long acquaintance with his Christian life he always exhibited faith of the most absolute character; with him there was no question as to his "title to mansions in the skies," where those who are faithful may meet him arrayed in spotless robe and golden crown. On Tuesday, the day before his death, he called his family one by one to his bedside, and in tender, broken words obtained their promise to meet him where partings are unknown. A loved wife and respected family, with which his pleasant relations ever exemplified his religious profession, are left to mourn, and they, together with our little borough and the church of which he was an honored member, are heavy losers by his death. Touching funeral services were conducted at the M. E. Church the following day at 2 P. M., by the pastor, Rev. C. C. Rumberger assisted by Rev. F. M. Small, of Petrolia, and the remains deposited in Riverside Cemetery. The sympathy of a wide circle of friends goes out to the bereaved wife and family.

NEWSY NOTES.

Seven months have passed since the awful calamity in the Conemaugh Valley, but its victims are still being found almost daily.

More than 5,000 oil wells were put down in the Pennsylvania oil field during the year 1889, all of which have only succeeded in maintaining the average production.

Governor Beaver has appointed Brigadier General Snowden, Gobin and Wiley, and Adjutant General Hastings and Colonel Deedert, as delegates to the annual meeting of the National Guards' Association, which will be held in Washington, D. C., Wednesday, February 5.

An exchange says: Thirty years ago, the lumberman in this vicinity who cut a million feet of lumber in a year was doing a big business; and if he cut two million feet he was a lumber king, although the plow had not been coined then. To-day the average mill cuts six million a year; while the largest mills cut ten times as much. The supply is constantly growing smaller but there is enough timber in this vicinity to last for the next ten years or more.

Strayed

From my premises, Tionesta township, a white heifer, will be two years old in spring. Any person giving information that will lead to her return, will be suitably rewarded.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and after her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself cured and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at Herman & Siggins' Drugstore, large bottles 50c. and $1.00.
