LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 1.06 1/2.

Next Friday, the 14th, is St. Valentine's day.

Henry Groce, of Kellettsville, was granted an original pension on Feb. 3.

For fine work at moderate prices go to Sires' Photograph Gallery. See notice.

Ben W. May, of Chicago, is visiting his mother, Mrs. H. H. May, this week.

Mr. J. B. Pearson, of Clarion, was in town yesterday, and made us a short call.

Sires' Photograph Gallery in this place is again open for the transaction of business.

D. W. Morgan, a well known citizen of that place, was last week appointed postmaster at Franklin.

If you want bargains in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry and Silverware, call at A. C. Guth's Jewelry Store.

Wolcott & Co.'s well on the Powell tract, Hickory township, went through the sand yesterday and was dry.

John B. Nason, of Pit Hole City, was a guest of his brother, Dr. Nason, of this place, Saturday and Sunday last.

Spring election comes on next Tuesday, the 18th. Everybody turn out and get excited over "our candidate."

The spring term of the Clarion State Normal School will open on April 1st. Preparation has been made to do better work than ever before.

Although coming somewhat later than on previous occasions, and being administered in smaller quantities, the snow of the last few days was greatly appreciated by all.

J. B. Legnard, Esq., of Waukegan, Ill., accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Ed. Blakely, of Franklin, was a visitor at the home of Mrs. H. H. May, over last Sabbath.

Prof. Geo. P. Bible will give an entertainment for the benefit of Capt. Geo. Stow Post, at the Court House, on Tuesday, Feb. 25. He has a very high reputation as an elocutionist. Benefit the cause by being present.

At the last license term of court in Venango county Pleasantville was granted a hotel license. The new issue, thereafter, of the Commercial Record was a week late. P. S.—Bro. Mapes says that it was "all on account of the grippie."

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup—the working man's friend. You, who have to be out in all sorts of weather and can't afford to lay by, can not afford to be without Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Consumption follows in the wake of a neglected cold.

The Oil City Republicans held their primaries last Saturday, and nominated the following ticket: Mayor, W. G. Hunt; City Treasurer, J. M. Berry; Controller, H. C. Sweeney. The Democrats held their primaries on Monday, and nominated Dr. Ritchey for Mayor; Matt Derrick for Treasurer, and James G. Fox for Controller.

Mrs. Helsell, aged about 67 years, died after a short illness from la grippe, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. Lougee, of Stewart's Run, on Tuesday, February 4, 1890. The funeral services were conducted in the White Church, by Rev. Jas. T. Brennan, on Thursday, and the remains were laid to rest in the Stewart's Run cemetery.

The Lucinda oil district of Clarion is not so delusive as was supposed. Judgment was hastily pronounced against Lucinda. The new well of Cadwallader, Leeper & Co. is pronounced by its owners to be better than its neighbor, which is now flowing 75 bbls. per day. The oil is 49 1/2 gravity, being 6° lighter than oil heretofore found there.—Franklin News.

"He jests at scars, who never felt a wound" and he can afford to laugh at the horrors of rheumatism, who never had a touch of its quality. But it seems the time has come for a universal laugh—since it is known that Salvation Oil cures pains of all possible kinds.

We publish this week the first installment of the address of Hon. Leonard Rhone, Worthy Master of the Pennsylvania State Grange, to that organization, which was communicated to us by Mr. P. C. Blocher, Master of Grange No. 890, P. of H., and the remainder will follow in regular installments. This should be of special interest to farmers in general and none should fail to read it.

Matilda, wife of Adam Sibble, died at the family home on German Hill, Thursday, Feb. 6, 1890. She was aged about 38 years, 5 months and 5 days. The deceased was a daughter of Thomas Powell, of Hickory township. She was a faithful wife and mother and a consistent christian, having been for many years a member of the F. M. church, in which faith she died. She leaves a husband and four children, one brother, one sister, and a large circle of friends to mourn their loss. Funeral services were held in the Zuendel church, of that place, Saturday, at 12 o'clock, by Rev. S. Sager, and the remains were interred in the Zuendel Cemetery.

At exactly 9:31 o'clock, last Monday night the report of a terrific explosion was heard in this place, and was thought at the time to be the herald of some awful catastrophe. Whole buildings were shaken and windows rattled as if they would break, in all portions of this town. Nothing very serious, however, was to be realized. It proved to be the explosion of 3,000 pounds of glycerine in the magazine of G. W. Van Vliet, located about a mile from Pleasantville, on the road from that place to Shamburg. It is not thought that human life has been lost. What caused the explosion no one knows, as the magazine has not been visited since last Friday. This is the second time within the past year that Pleasantville has received a severe shaking up by the explosion of nitro glycerine.

R. H. Wallace, of the Erie Railroad, remarked to a Derrick reporter last evening: "The Nypano train which is just now pulling out has amongst its passengers T. D. Collins and son, of Forest county, each holding a yard and three-quarters of ticket, the combined distance of which covers more miles of American travel than any other tickets ever sold from Oil City. Before the conductors will have finished their target practice on these pasteboards the gentlemen will have traveled a distance of 16,004 miles, every mile of which is on the American continent, except 100 miles by steamer along Puget Sound, and they do not travel over the same ground twice, except from Colton, Cal., to San Diego, Cal., and return, a distance of 75 miles. These tickets cost at the rate of $100 per yard, or at the rate 11c. per mile, and are routed via some of the fastest lines in the world, and I have no doubt but that the Messrs. Collins will knock the famous little 'world girder's' record for speed higher than Gilroy's kite. You may say, too, that no guesses will be recognized after the party reaches New Orleans."—Derrick, Feb. 11.

East Hickory.

Elmer H. Foreman, who, with his father, left East Hickory several weeks ago, for Grandin, Mo., writes to a friend at East Hickory, that "Grandin is a town of about 700 inhabitants, all of whom are employed by the Missouri Mining and Milling Company. The company has two saw mills, one averaging ninety and the other thirty thousand feet per day. They also have a large planing mill and dry-house. A huge store in which a half dozen clerks are kept busy, is also owned by this company, and they are about to erect another building to be used for mercantile purposes. About twenty-five carpenters are employed, and have worked laid out a year in advance. The office of the company is finished in yellow pine. The lumber interest here will last about twenty-five years. Two log trains are constantly running and kept bustling to keep the mills in logs. Oxen and mules are used in the woods. Our town boasts of water works and strong talk is heard now of introducing electric light soon. (Better send to the Forest Gas Company for rates on gas.) We have one physician who is paid by the month, and there will be another soon. Each person pays so much a month, according to what he earns, which I think a good plan. We have made rapid advancement. A few years ago this town, as the negro says, 'was no whar,' but to day is growing right along."

We have all had the La Grippe. I am not entirely over it, myself.

The snow has come, and everyone is hustling.

Rev. J. H. Shimp, of Tionesta, and C. R. Thompson, of East Hickory, exchanged pulpits Sunday.

How often we hear middle-aged people say regarding that reliable old cough remedy, N. H. Down's Elixir: "Why my mother gave it to me when I was a child, and I use it in my family; it always cures." It is always guaranteed to cure or money refunded. For sale at Boyard's.

OBITUARY.

Giles G Butterfield was born July 23, 1845, and died in Tionesta, Pa., February 5, 1890.

Mr. Butterfield was born near Livermore, Westmoreland county, Pa., where he spent the early part of his life. About twenty years ago he removed to this county, where he was engaged as book-keeper with the Fort Pitt Lumber Company. While here he contracted a severe cold which developed into pneumonia, and for a time his life was despaired of. However, he finally recovered but never fully regained his former health. The disease had so affected his lungs that for many years before his death he had to use the utmost care to guard against any disease that might affect that organ. After a few years when he spent in Livermore, Pa., he returned to Tionesta, where he spent the remainder of his life, being a member of the firm of Smearbaugh & Co, merchants.

Except a gradual decline that might have been noticed, Mr. Butterfield seemed to have been in his usual health until less than two weeks before his death.

On the 25th ult. he was attacked with influenza and although the disease did not assume a violent form, yet in his weakened physical condition he was not able to endure it. For one week he sank rapidly, not being able to take any nourishment at all. A change in the treatment of his disease was then adopted with apparently very beneficial results. The fever abated and he was able to take food with relish, and seemed to be on a fair way to recovery. But the hopes that had been raised by this improved condition were soon to be destroyed. On the afternoon of the 5th inst. unfavorable symptoms developed and in less than an hour his soul had passed out from the feeble house of clay to dwell, as we humbly trust, with the Blessed Redeemer, whom he loved and served here upon earth.

On account of ill health Mr. Butterfield was not permitted to take an active part in much that was going on in the world about him, but he always showed his interest in every worthy object and his advice was often sought on account of his keen insight and his calm, equitable judgment.

Upright and honorable in all his dealings, he won many friends among those who came in contact with him in business, and in his business he was successful.

When about fifteen years of age Mr. Butterfield united himself with the Presbyterian church, of which he remained a consistent member until his death. In 1875 he was elected ruling elder in the Presbyterian church at Tionesta. The following year he removed to Livermore, transferring his membership to the church in that place. On his return to Tionesta in 1878 he was reinstalled as elder, which office he continued to fill with great acceptance.

Throughout his whole life Mr. Butterfield showed a consistent, christian character. He was conscientious in the discharge of all his christian duties and sought to perform them in the fear of the Lord. He was an active christian, awake to the interest of the Master's Kingdom. He was strict in giving of his means for the support of the Gospel, for the extension of Christ's Kingdom, and for the benevolent objects, according as the Lord had prospered him. His place in the sanctuary was never vacant except when providentially hindered. He loved God's house and delighted in his service. Possessing an excellent memory and a strong mind which was well stored with Biblical truths, he was truly a power for good.

He was married in 1872 to Miss Lizzie Wenk, who, with an aged mother, two brothers, two sisters, and a large circle of friends are left to mourn their loss.

The funeral services were conducted Friday morning at his late residence by Rev. J. V. McAninch, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The remarks were based upon the passage of scripture chosen by Mr. Butterfield for the occasion: "I am the resurrection and the life."—John, XI chapter, 25. His body was laid to rest in the Riverside Cemetery to await the glorious resurrection of the just.

Death of Mrs. J. F. Hill.

The many friends of Mrs. Hill, wife of Rev. J. F. Hill, formerly pastor of the M. E. Church at this place, but now of McPherson, Kansas, will be pained to learn of her death, which occurred as mentioned below. All our people will sympathize with the afflicted family in their sad bereavement. The following account of her death we copy from the McPherson Daily Republican:

Nancy P. Hill was born in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, January 18, 1830, and died in McPherson, Kansas, Thursday, January 30, 1890, aged sixty years and five days. The subject of this sketch was the daughter of R. E. and Eleanor Caruthers, and the youngest of twelve children, all of whom have preceded her to the Better Land. At the age of nineteen years she was converted and united with the Methodist Episcopal church in which communion she ever lived a constant member. She was married to Rev. J. F. Hill, March 19, 1856. To them were born six children, five sons and one daughter, four of whom survive her. After twenty-five years spent in the Methodist itinerancy Mrs. Hill with her family came to Kansas and for the greater part of the time has resided in McPherson.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church, conducted by Rev. Ebricht, her pastor. Dr. Fulton, pastor of the Baptist church, made the opening prayer. Father Shaw read a selection from the Old Testament Scriptures, and Rev. Thomas J. Stevenson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, read a selection from the New Testament Scriptures, after which Rev. Ebricht delivered a memorial address. The Methodist church never held a larger congregation than the one assembled to pay the last respects to this truly noble christian woman. It is estimated that as many were turned from the doors, unable to gain admission, as were the number inside. A good woman has gone from our midst.

R. B. Teitrick, teacher of Clarion, Barnett township, school, makes the following report for month ending Feb. 4, 1890: Whole number enrolled, males 21, females 22; average attendance, males 19, females 21; per cent. of attendance, males 87, females 96. Those present every day during the month, Jennie Elder, Debbie and Mary Pearson, Verly Davis, Annie and Jennie May, Myrtle and Lillie Grey, Ida Pearson, Clara Staughenpau, Jennie and Nannie Isham, Edith Painter, Ward Boyd, Willie Staughenpau, Forest Hoff, Willie Buckets, Wallace Davis, Robert Williams, William Pearson, Alvin Boyd, Joe Elder, and William Henry. Visitors seven. Progress and conduct good.

Sadie Carson is quite sick. Len Range bought a very fine 4-year-old mare at Mr. Fitzgerald's last Saturday. She weighs 1624 pounds. This is by far the best horse on Stewart's Run. Len Carson also bought a horse at the same sale.

Mrs. Jacob Heisell died of pneumonia, Tuesday, Feb. 4, at the home of her husband, Mrs. Hill Lougee. Mrs. Heisell was a devout christian woman and her relatives have the sympathy of the community.

Ben Thompson is lying very sick with the mumps, at the home of his father. The Pleasantville Record in its last issue says correspondents are notified that there will be no more mud-slinging allowed through its columns. It says news is what it wants. So say the readers; there has been a great deal of mud-slinging between correspondents, and it is of no interest to the public.

There was a quiet wedding at the residence of James Vanderlin, Thursday, Feb. 6. Miss Edie Vanderlin and Mr. W. H. Rankin, of Tionesta, were united in marriage at 10 o'clock a. m. The ceremony was performed by Elder Smith assisted by Rev. Rankin, of Pleasantville. An elegant repast was served, after which the happy couple departed for Jamestown, N. Y., on their wedding tour. Their many friends in this vicinity unite in wishing them a long life and much happiness.

Robert Graham is quite sick. Mrs. Dora Carson is just recovering from the mumps. Oil was struck in No. 6 on the Joslyn, in the first sand, at the depth of 641 feet. A very nice white sand was found. The well filled up 200 feet. This is something new for the lease. They expect to complete the well to-morrow.

Newton Zahniser has the mumps. Frank Metcalf is able to be out, although he is very weak. We are very sorry to say this day's sun will spoil the sleighing on Stewart's Run. We learn just now that the rig on Wood & Brunston's drilling well had a narrow escape from being burned. The oil on the floor and under the derrick caught fire from one of the derrick lamps and at one time it seemed impossible to save it, but by the free use of water and snow they succeeded in washing it out from under the rig and saving it.

Last night about 10 o'clock, the people in this vicinity received a shock from an explosion that seemed as though it would shake the houses to pieces. We have not learned where it was. JESSEY.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT. Those engaged in lumber drying, are delighted with the sleighing. Climbing up the Stewart's Run hills, and some of the good non say "This is a drop on influenza, and suggest coated pills.

A slight blaze occurred at the Handy homestead, on Friday last, and might have done considerable damage but for the timely appearance of two men who discovered the fire. One of them—Hutchinson by name, was at the time moving his family into an adjoining house owned by Mr. Lomb, Range has lately "made the grade" and been formerly occupied by Chas. Connelly.

The mumps has been so thorough in Warren Winkles. We begin to awake and shake off the effects of the "grip." Two days poor sleighing is better than none, and our merchants look a little more pleased. The sickness in this town has been something terrible this winter, but we can't claim a monopoly on that.

The oil business has been having a little boom in this vicinity in spite of the almost impassable roads, and several little pools have been found. Our gas company has passed into the control of Stewart & Co., and the poor consumers have uneasy visions of "out of the frying-pan into the fire."

The three refineries have all had the gas shut off from them and are now wrestling with coal, but they are as independent as the proverbial animal on ice, and propose laying a line and drilling gas wells of their own. Feb. 10.

Photograph Gallery. I wish to announce to the people of Tionesta and vicinity that my Photograph Gallery in this place will be permanently opened for business on and after this date. All work guaranteed to be strictly first class. Feb. 10. J. W. SIZES.
