LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.
—Oil market closed yesterday 1.05 1/2.
—The grip seems to be subsiding in this section.

—This is Ash Wednesday, and the beginning of Lent.
—Mr. Homer Hall, of Pittsburgh, is paying a visit to his sister, Mrs. Dr. Sigges.

—St. Valentine's day was not observed to any appreciable extent here this year.
—Franklin News: Mrs. Suis Sharpe of Tionesta, is at present the guest of Mrs. W. J. Bleakley.

—Mr. Wm. Richards and young son, of Mayburg, spent several days of the past week in town.
—Mrs. Trax and son, of Siverly, were up over last Sabbath, on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. F. W. Law.

—To promptly relieve and permanently cure rheumatism or neuralgia, use Salvation Oil. For sale by all druggists at 25 cents a bottle.
—Mr. L. Fulton goes to Williamsport, Pa., next Tuesday, as the Representative of Forest Lodge at the annual session of the Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W.

—While working in the woods a few miles from Oil City, on Tuesday of last week, Philip, a son of John Wolf, of Tionesta twp., cut his left foot quite badly with a broad-ax.
—The students in the Clarion State Normal School are maintaining several flourishing societies. They regard the literary exercises as among the most profitable in the school.

—Mr. L. J. Hopkins has been in Pleasantville during the past ten days, having charge of the mercantile establishment of H. J. Hopkins, who is suffering severely from an attack of the grip.
—Work on "Squire Brennan's" new cottage in the north ward is progressing as expeditiously as the weather will permit. It will not be large, but neat and tasty, and will add much to the appearance of things in that neighborhood.

—As will be seen by the proclamation elsewhere in this issue a special term of court has been set for the third Monday of March, next, for the trial of two important and long-winded suits. The list of Jurors for that term is also published.
—Many of our citizens who kindly remember the Rev. A. Virtue, who preached in the Presbyterian congregation in this place about 18 years ago, will regret to learn of the death of his wife, at the family home near Williamstown, W. Va., recently.

—Irwin Council, Royal Templars of Temperance, of this place, of which the late Mrs. W. J. Roberts was a charter member, has paid over to her three surviving children, the amount called for in her beneficiary certificate, $1,000, divided equally between them.
—Fred Morck, of Warren, is now negotiating with Curll, Campbell & Co. for drilling an oil well on their property at Gilfoyle, about one mile east of the one lately located on the same tract by Guffy & Co. The well is to be put down to a depth of 3,500 feet.—Clarion Rep. Gaz.

—Richards & Co., on the J. H. Zuendel farm, Kingsley township, were down over 900 feet Monday with their well, and are making good headway. At 800 feet a 40-foot sand was passed through, in which a nice streak of gas was found and some oil. The operators expect they will have to go 2400 feet in order to get the sand which they want, and they seem quite hopeful of a good well. May they get it.
—Court convenes next week for the trial of civil cases only, there being no criminal matters worth mentioning to come up, and the grand jurors have been notified not to appear. It is time we were getting a little rest from the lawless proceedings that have occupied the attention of the courts to a great extent during the past twelve months, and the lull will be properly appreciated by all.

—Colds, coughs, and incipient consumption cured by Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, a remedy of fifty years' standing, known and used all over the world. Do yourself the favor to give it a trial. You will be amply repaid.

—The Franklin Evening News finished its twelfth year in the journalistic race with Monday's issue. It came in under the wire fully abreast, if not a nose ahead of all its bright competitors. We took occasion once, "way back in '78, when the News was a little 7x9, to say that the "waif might astonish the world some day," and our prediction is "getting there" in good style. May it live to see a gross of years, and then some.

—Wm. McCaslin a life long resident of Neillsburg, died at his home in that village Friday Feb. 7th, aged 58 years. Mr. McCaslin was the son of James McCaslin, and was born near the spot where he passed from earth. He had been a sufferer from dropsy, for about two years, and endured untold suffering during the last two months of his life. He leaves a wife and three children, two sons and one daughter, and a large number of near relatives to mourn his demise. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at his late residence, and his remains were laid in Neillsburg cemetery.—Pleasantville Record.

—Mr. J. H. Hardison owned a very respectable top buggy Monday, but he is minus that very useful article now, unless he has made the purchase of one very recently. He had his horse hitched somewhere in the vicinity of Baum station, Monday evening, when along came a freight train and the horse took it into his head that he could just beat that train to Tionesta, and so entered the race at once. He arrived at the bridge in good time, having saved from the wreck the thills and two front wheels of the vehicle, the balance being promiscuously strewn along the line of travel 'twixt this and that. The animal was uninjured, and the good-natured Mr. H. takes his loss about as easily as though he had struck a dry hole.

—Will M. McKim, for about ten years past the efficient mail messenger on the route between Oil City and Salamanca, was last week appointed postmaster of Oil City, upon the recommendation of Congressman Watson, which the same has thrown about four-fifths of the citizens of that lively town into a state of ecstatic joy, and the Derrick, which had a candidate of its own, and three or four other disappointed aspirants, into a veritable convulsion fit. We hope the Derrick will recover from its whack below the belt, and if it don't it's no matter, the people of Oil City will have one of the best postmasters they have ever had just the same. Meanwhile "Billy" will rejoice at this deserved recognition of his fitness for the place.

—As the work of taking the census will soon begin, all the Supervisors for this State having been named by the Superintendent, a few facts in relation to the duties of Enumerators will not be uninteresting. Forest county will likely be divided into four or five districts, each one having an enumerator. Under the law the work must be commenced the first Monday in June, and must be completed during that month. The applicant for enumerator must be a resident of the district in which he applies, and his business qualifications, penmanship, ability to do the work, and recommendations will be carefully considered by the Supervisor, (in this tenth district, the Supervisor is James B. Mates, Butler, Pa.) and when his appointments are made they will have to be ratified by the Superintendent of Census at Washington; they will then be sworn to faithfully perform their duties and will receive their commission. Under the Act of Congress, preference will be given to honorably discharged soldiers, where otherwise properly qualified. The compensation is two cents for each living inhabitant, two cents for each death reported, fifteen cents for each farm, twenty cents for each productive industry, and for each surviving soldier, sailor or marine or widow of the same five cents. No mileage is allowed. A neglect to properly perform his duties by the enumerator, or the disclosure of any information to any person not authorized to receive the same in the performance of his duties, subjects the enumerator to a fine. Where the subdivision is sparsely settled or other considerations render the above fees inadequate, the Superintendent of the Census may, with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior allow a greater compensation of not exceeding six dollars a day of ten hours actual work. Applications for appointment as enumerators should be made at once, as the successful parties will soon be named.

Crushed to Death.

A most distressing accident occurred at the board yard of the Messrs. Lacy, in Green township, on Thursday evening last, by which James Rynd, a son of Patrick Rynd was instantly killed. In order to get all the advantage possible out of the slight fall of snow, the firm had an extra number of men and teams at work loading and hauling lumber to the creek landing. The loading of sleds was kept up until quite late in the evening, and the unfortunate young man was doing the piling on one of the sleds while two companions were shoving boards to him from the piles, when, without much warning, a quantity of heavy joists slid from the high pile which had just been opened, falling on the young man, crushing his head, and as above stated causing instant death. He was an industrious young man, aged about 19 years, and his horrible death was a most serious shock to his parents and the community in which he lived.

Election Results.

Monday evening the best attended citizens caucus ever held in this borough assembled at the court house for the purpose of placing in nomination suitable persons for the different offices to be filled. East Hickory.

To the editor of the REPUBLICAN, with his staff, and also to its many readers, we bid adieu. For several months we have been writing an occasional article for this paper. In all our writing we have told no family secrets; we have uncovered no family skeletons. No slurs have been thrown; no items with a double meaning have ever found their way from our table. Hundreds of things, as everybody knows, happened in this little village, that never were found in the columns of the REPUBLICAN, or in any other paper for which we wrote, and yet a few are afraid each week that something will or will not be said about them. We have tried to please everybody, and pleased no one. When we wrote something passable we got no credit. When some one else wrote something from the same town that hit some one, then we got the credit and generally got hit, too. We have come to the conclusion that writing for the county papers does not pay, (at least for some people) and I imagine I hear two-thirds of the town saying, "your head is level." The life of the county correspondent is a strange one. He does many noble deeds for which he never gets credit. He writes of many things that are not appreciated by an unthinking and unthankful public. He booms the town and the people and yet they do not appreciate it. He elects men to office and they turn around and kick him because they did not get every vote in the county. No wonder we are weary and sigh for rest. Again we say adieu. 'Tis a hard word to say. In thus severing our connections with this paper, we are aware that we are parting with friends, and do not expect to please our enemies. We have not acted hastily and hope our mantle shall fall upon one more worthy of the position.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

Valentine day has passed. Some of the folks were not forgotten. Boys, you should not send valentines to the ladies. Henderson & Collins are forcing the sleighing by hauling snow on the roads. Thomas Fleming has brought the brag stick of timber for this season. About four hundred and twelve feet in it. Jim, when you want to experiment on gas lighting you don't want to turn on the gas and then light it. It won't work as well as having a Sunday girl and a week-day girl. La grippe has got Hickory very well searched. The well on the Powell farm is a duster. Chas. Burns and wife will soon go to house-keeping in Mrs. Sutley's house. Miss Savilla Kiester and Mary have connected on the Sutley & Hoy telegraph line, and also M. E. Abbott. Mart Vockroth has finished his work for H. W. Ledeber and has gone to Missouri to work for William Foreman.

Lecture is all the rage in this city.

We have four men up for Constable. The best man is the one we want.

NEWSY NOTES.

Mr. Henry H. Evans has been appointed postmaster at Tidlotte. The question as to who will be postmaster in Titusville still remains unsolved, and the two candidates go on with their kilnkey fight. In the case of the Commissioners of Crawford county against R. B. Brown, editor of the Meadville Messenger, and M. M. Myler, for malicious libel, the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. It is said that bathing the eyes freely in cold water at the morning bath and rubbing them toward the nose with the fingers will prevent the flattening of the eyeball and diminish the need of artificial aid. Some tribes of Indians are said in this way to preserve their sight to old age. Peterson for March is a number of exceptional beauty and excellence. The principal engravings are fine works of art. The double fashion plate is very attractive, and there are numerous dainty and original needlework designs. The household department offers numerous recipes and suggestions which will be welcome to ladies. Terms, $2.00 per year. Address, Peterson's Magazine, No. 306 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.
