J. E. WERN, Editor and Proprietor.

PRESIDENT JUDGE.

We are authorized to announce the name of SAMUEL D. IRWIN, of Tionesta, Pa., as a candidate for the office of President Judge, subject to the decision of the Republican County Primaries, and the 37th Judicial District Convention.

ASSEMBLY.

We are authorized to announce the name of ANDREW COOK, of Coalingburg, Pa., as a candidate for Assembly, subject to Republican usages.

We are authorized to announce the name of S. S. TOWLER, of Jenks township, as a candidate for Assembly, subject to Republican usages.

The Committee Meeting.

The Republican County Committee met at Sheriff Sawyer's office last evening, pursuant to call of the Chairman. Owing to Mr. Sigworth's absence, on account of sickness in his family, Mr. Sawyer acted as Chairman pro tem. After a general interchange of opinions, Saturday, June 7th, 1890, was fixed as the day for holding the Republican Primary election. A short discussion of other preliminary work then followed, after which the Committee adjourned subject to call of the Chairman.

THERE is going to be a lively time among the Democrats of the Thirty-eighth Senatorial district—Clarion, Cameron, Forest and Elk counties—at present represented by Senator Wilson, of Clarion.—TIONESTA REPUBLICAN.

We can assure our esteemed contemporary that its district won't be alone in having a "lively time." The air is filled with red hot prognostications right on the borders of little Forest.—Tionesta News.

Not always the loudest thunder brings the biggest rain, and it may be that your storm will spend its force in "making ready." Let us hope so.

THE contest for the World's Fair is now in full blast in the House. It was originally intended to have taken a vote last Friday, but the New York men succeeded in having the vote postponed until this week. The present status of the matter is very much mixed. There are at least sixty members of the House known to be opposed to holding the fair at all, and when the site is decided upon they will probably get some recruits from the disappointed members. There are quite a number of members in both parties who while favoring some particular city, fear the political effect upon the Presidential campaign of locating the fair anywhere but at Washington.

P. S.—The fair goes to Chicago, the vote in the House Monday, having so decided, after a determined fight.

ANNUAL ADDRESS

OF WORTHY MASTER, HON. LEONARD RHONE. SESSION OF 1889.

This is a faint picture of the Ideal Model Grange, to which all may aspire. The officer who will not labor to bring about this high standard, has mistaken his calling and calling to the right man in the right place. We must bear in mind that new honors bring new responsibilities and duties.

THE COUNTY GRANGE

is still higher, and higher duties are assigned it. Patrons are admitted to the Court of Pomona on account of merit in the previous degree they have taken. Every member in good standing in the Subordinate Grange is entitled to admission to Pomona's Court, provided their conduct is such as to merit her approval. County Granges in their discipline should be models for Subordinate Granges. It should be the ambition of its officers to see that the Court of Pomona is presided over in such manner as to secure the admission of all who may come within the radius of her influence.

THE STATE GRANGE

presided over by Flora, is a still higher circle and greater responsibilities and duties devolve upon it. Flora delights in welcoming you to this legislative body of our organization, and she trusts her representatives of the Subordinate Granges, is an evidence of your ability and devotion to the principles of our Order, and worthy to be admitted to the Court of Flora. It is here that laws are enacted and instructions given governing the Order within the State. Sixteen years of existence and labor has been crowned with a large measure of success and presents to-day a grand and useful organization of farmers intent upon the accomplishment of good and the upbuilding of their class.

FOR OF MEETING.

The city of Harrisburg has been selected as the place for annual meeting on account of its being the Capital of our great State and general railroad centre, enabling representatives to reach the meeting with less travel and saving of several hundred dollars in care fare. The only objection that can be urged in holding the annual meeting here, is that members in distant parts of the State who are not invested with the Degree of Flora. This could be provided for by empowering the Master to hold Degree meetings in other localities when a sufficient number are seeking admission to warrant the expenditure.

ENJOY AND BURDENOME TAXATION.

No State in the Union is cursed with such vicious legislation upon the subject of taxation as Pennsylvania. The gross injustice of the principles upon which it is based and the consequent injustice in its operations has frequently been presented to the State a year ago, a bill was unanimously endorsed, which proposed, as far as possible, to remove the existing inequality. The Committee on Legislation took measures to have it introduced into the Legislature early in the last session. The provisions of the bill were so fair and equitable and the necessity for reform in our revenue laws so generally conceded, that the Lower House passed it almost unanimously. When it reached the Senate, it at once encountered a bitter and relentless opposition. All the adroitness and means that aggregated capital could devise were brought to bear against it and defeat it. The ordinary channels of legislation were obstructed and its consideration baffled and delayed. The friends of the bill relying upon the justice of the measure and the necessity for its enactment under a law, were active and vigilant. Our people petitioned, urged and demanded its passage. All was done that possibly could to secure it a fair consideration and final success. So closely were the lines drawn and so persistent were its advocates, that it only failed on account of sickness and unavoidable absence of several of its friends and the perfidy of others who professed friendship for the measure by a single vote. We were baffled but not defeated! Like Pompey's army, it will rise. The principles involved and our people are anxious to renew the struggle and "fight it out on that line."

As the prudent military leader, when approached by a strong and well-organized force, divides his forces for the purpose of distracting the beleaguered, so we have been advancing our ideas upon this subject on separate lines. While the general bill was not successful, we have been securing increased appropriations to Common Schools, and thus lessening local burdens. Three years ago a half million of dollars in excess of former years was appropriated, and last Winter an additional half million was set apart for the same purpose, making a total of two millions of dollars annually, for which we are mainly indebted to Bro. Taggart and other Patrons who stood bravely in the front and secured his measure of relief. As an acknowledgment for their faith in defeating our Tax Bill and smitten with remorse for turning their backs upon it, the opponents agreed to create a commission to revise the revenue laws and organization is invited to be represented upon said commission.

EQUALIZATION OF TAXATION is one of the greatest living issues of the day. Equality before the law—equal burdens, privileges and advantages—are fundamental principles in a free government and cannot be to earnestly maintained. Justice is represented with closed eyes holding the scales. No favored class—no combination however powerful under their stern rule can sway her decision or warp her judgment. Upon this subject our organization has no opinions which it wishes to conceal. In our Declaration of Purpose we have declared our faith in our willingness to bear our full proportion and impose no burdens on others we would not bear ourselves. Under this broad seal we have labored for the relief of our class. Our Tax Bill was drafted in this light. It proposes to place all species of property, real, personal and corporate, upon the same basis, and impose upon each the same rate of taxation. On this platform we propose to stand, and appealing to that august tribunal—Public Opinion—wait the result. Compare, if you will, the intelligent and economical, and equality which pervades and underlies this system of taxation with the miserable hypothesis of

THE SINGLE TAX idea, advocated by Henry George, Dr. McGivern, and others, which proposes to impose all taxes upon land. Hence the term single tax. Absolutely remitting all other taxes, with all duties, leaving the Government to derive its whole income from this tax or rental of lands. The result of such a measure would be to render our high and noble pursuit a serfdom, and crush out every vestige of independence. And yet we are to have these revenues under their stern rule can sway her decision or warp her judgment. Upon this subject our organization has no opinions which it wishes to conceal. In our Declaration of Purpose we have declared our faith in our willingness to bear our full proportion and impose no burdens on others we would not bear ourselves. Under this broad seal we have labored for the relief of our class. Our Tax Bill was drafted in this light. It proposes to place all species of property, real, personal and corporate, upon the same basis, and impose upon each the same rate of taxation. On this platform we propose to stand, and appealing to that august tribunal—Public Opinion—wait the result. Compare, if you will, the intelligent and economical, and equality which pervades and underlies this system of taxation with the miserable hypothesis of

When money is abundant all kinds of business prosper. The hum of machinery is heard in all manufacturing districts. Labor is in demand and receives a just reward. Strikes and lock-outs are unknown. The products of our farms command remunerative prices, and general prosperity is the result. In 1792 Congress encouraged the unrestricted coinage of silver and gold. During the decade that followed, agriculture and commerce prospered. A prudent, careful farmer was enabled under the impetus given to trade to purchase a home and pay for it largely from the proceeds of the soil. How would it have succeeded now? During 1863-64-65 and 66, there was in circulation $40 or $50 per capita, an average currency of over a thousand millions of dollars. Although just emerging from a sanguinary conflict which had paralyzed our productive energies, business immediately began to revive. The farmer realized enhanced prices for his productions, and the great arteries of commerce swelled to their utmost. In 1872 the coinage of silver, by fraud or accident was restricted to export demand, and in 1873 the circulation of medium reduced to less than $75,000,000. In 1877 the amount per capita contracted until we had only about $16 or $17, and now much less. Against the protests and supplications of every class of business and industry—further reduction was dictated to the extent of a million of dollars more! In 1875 our volume of currency was then $100,000,000, and in 1889 it was $1,000,000,000 far below European nations, where labor commands barely subsistence wages; nearly one half less per capita than Germany, England or France. The blind Silver bill empowered the Government to coin from two to four millions of dollars in silver per month. The object of the bill was to increase the volume of circulation and relieve the general gloom and depression which was setting down upon the country. So jealously have the money powers guarded and controlled the execution of this law that the coinage has exceeded the minimum amount per month, keeping the circulation medium at the lowest possible point compatible with law. During these years of our existence the agricultural values have decreased from 50 to 30 per cent, and the average condition of the great wealth producing class is little better than slaves. It is the moral of our young men, who, in regarding the dark outlook in the future, have forsaken the farms and crowded other avocations, and finally into gambling halls for more remunerative business. A significant and noteworthy fact in regard to all this financial legislation that has produced this deplorable condition, is a single monument against the greenback or any other circulating medium from any of the active business or industries of the country—not a single petition from either class asking for contraction or deploring inflation or demand a return to specie basis, went up to Congress. It was the bankers and brokers—the money power—that demanded it, in order that money might command higher rates of interest from the over-worked muscle of the country. Every year the cry is raised from the East, "Every dollar of its money by the West to move the surplus productions. In order to meet
