—The Oles-Field concert at the Opera House, Pleasantville, Pa., Wednesday evening, was a grand success socially as well as financially. Prof. Oles stands without a rival to-day among the eminent violinists, and Mrs. Field's elocutionary powers are certainly wonderful.—Derriek. At Landers' Hall, this evening.

—A Tylersburg correspondent of the Clarion Rep-Gazette says, "that James Haskell & Co. have purchased an addition of one thousand acres of hemlock timber land to their tract at Marienville, and intend commencing operations this summer. They bought several old houses from C. Leeper & Co., and commenced moving them."

—The good citizens of Sheffield Junction, this county, propose to show their patriotism of the Fourth, by a grand celebration, in which races, fireworks, balloon ascensions, and dancing will figure among the many attractions on the program. When the boys up there set themselves for a good time they generally have it, and this will likely be no exception to the rule.

—The temperance resolutions passed by the International Sunday School Convention of 1887, declared that every Sunday School should be in fact and in effect a temperance training school, and that the Sunday School which does not stand as a rock against the abominations of the liquor traffic, and train up a generation pledged to total abstinence, is missing one of its greatest opportunities for usefulness.

—Among those who were observed this morning seeking the fastnesses of the interlock of D. E. Byles, Major McClintock, F. M. McKeever and Fred M. Morgan. —Our townsman, Harry R. Wilson, Esq., received a handsome vote at the Republican primaries of Forest county last week, and was declared the nominee for that county for the State Senate. This gives him two counties, with good prospects of securing the nomination in the district. No better candidate could be put in the field, as he is a young man of marked ability, and if nominated and elected will represent the interest of the district in a manner that we know would be highly satisfactory to his constituents.—Clarion Republican.

—Joe Faller, a deputy constable, came in from Marienville on Friday evening last, having in charge Charles Harger, whom he lodged in jail on a charge of breaking into a shanty in the vicinity of Marienville, and stealing a number of articles. Some little excitement was caused by the prisoner attempting to get away by jumping from the buggy a few rods below the Rural House, in which he might have been successful but for the prompt arrival of assistance. He waived a hearing and was committed for the next term of court.

—A bark-extract works is being erected in Forest county, about two miles above Gilfoyle, by the Acme Extract Company, of Titusville. It is expected that the works will have a capacity of using up from ten to fifteen thousand cords of bark per year, and will employ about fifty men. The bark is ground, after which it is put through a process by which all the liquor is extracted therefrom. This is barreled, and sold for tanning purposes. The works will be situated on Millstone creek. The company also expect to put down a gas well in the vicinity, contracts to this end now being about consummated.—Clarion Rep-Gazette.

—A serious accident is reported from Marienville. On Thursday of last week, Pierce Leach, head sawyer on J. H. Morrison's mill, was struck by a log that was being rolled on the carriage, and to save himself from falling threw out his hand and inadvertently caught the saw lever, which started the carriage and threw him in such a manner as to bring his right leg in contact with the running saw. His foot was caught, and from the instant back to the heel, was entirely severed, the part dropping into the sawdust below. The flesh all along his thigh was terribly lacerated, and at last accounts his physicians, Drs. Towler and Stonecipher, were not sanguine about saving the unfortunate man's life. He is a single man.

—In the excellence and variety of its illustrations and reading matter the July number of "Peterson" is a fair specimen of its general scope and character. The beautiful steel engraving "Celebrating the Day," will especially delight the children, and the illustration, "On a Summer Day," is a charming and reasonable picture. The fashion and work table departments are filled with reasonable hints, that cannot fail to interest every lady. Terms, two dollars a year; one dollar for six months. Address, Peterson's Magazine, Philadelphia.

Excursion to the Thousand Islands.

Excursion Agent, S. B. Newton, of the W. N. Y. & P., sends us this week a poster announcing a grand low-rate excursion to the ever famous summer resort, the Thousand Islands, which will be run on July 10. The Thousand Islands lie in the head of the historic St. Lawrence river, or in other words, in the extreme northern end of Lake Ontario and are partially owned by the United States and partially by Canada. The excursions which have in the past been run to these islands are a fit guarantee that anyone wishing a short vacation cannot afford to miss this opportunity. The excursion party will proceed by rail on the W. N. Y. & P. to Rochester, N. Y., thence by the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg road to Clayton, thence by the beautiful steamer, St. Lawrence, to the Islands. Sleeping cars and day coaches will be provided from Rochester. The tickets will be good for ten days. Special hotel rates have been secured for this party. Return trains leave every day. Train will leave Titusville at 7:10 a. m., July 10, Oil City 8:00, Tionesta 8:40, Hickory 8:54, arriving at Rochester at 6:30 p. m. and at the Islands at 7:00 a. m. Fare for round trip ticket from Oil City, Tionesta and Hickory, $5.50. Mr. Newton will accompany the party and look after their every interest. Go? Well, you bet!

Warren Wrinkles.

Everybody with his girl turned out to the fire last night about 9 o'clock, at the Holmes & Adams refinery. It was quite a destructive fire, burning the barrel house, wax house and press house, with much valuable machinery. The fire originated in the barrel house, cause unknown. The loss is estimated at twenty-five thousand dollars. The fire made a very fine sight with the river hills for a background and if the amateur photographer wasn't there he missed a good subject. A big laugh was raised among some of the boys returning from the fire when they found the Cornplaster Refinery men were plying a big stream of water on their buildings something less than half a mile away and the wind in the opposite direction. It would require a lively imagination to see a possibility of danger there.

The census enumerator has found one crank so far, and I know who it is but won't give it away. He is liable to discover more of them.

Funeral of Parcus Copeland.

The funeral of our late Comrade, Parcus Copeland, was one of the most largely attended that has occurred in this section. There were 47 rigs and 205 persons at the place of burial, and a goodly number that did not follow to the grave, and which are not included in the above. The sacred tie of comradeship that had its origin upon the tented field, along the weary march, as well as amid the conflict of battle, and being firmer cemented in later years by the principles of the G. A. R., signifies more than pen can describe. Comrades, rally to the standard of our noble order, the G. A. R. Let us, if possible, strengthen those ties of comradeship in Fraternity, Charity, and Loyalty. Stand shoulder to shoulder as in the trying days of cruel war, ever bearing in mind this sad fact that

One by one our Comrades fall; One by one they pass away; And beneath the sable pall One by one are laid away. Comrades, who the next will be, That the summons will receive, None may know; but certainly Never yet hath one reprieve. Soon the last one will be gone, Of the men that fought for right, Then no longer one by one Will be buried out of sight. Then, O land of ours beware, Let them want for nothing now; Give to all thy love and care, Place the laurel on each brow. In F. C. and L., East Hickory, June 23.

In Memoriam.

The following resolutions on the death of Parcus Copeland, were adopted by Capt. Geo. Stow Post, No. 274, G. A. R., at their last meeting: Again our Post is assembled to express our sorrow, and to tender our sympathy and condolence to the family and friends of one of our members, Parcus Copeland,—a good and true member of our noble order. He was born, raised, lived and died within the limits of our county. As a member of the Grand Army he was active and interested,—as a citizen he was a useful one, and filled several offices of trust in his township, which was a model farmer, and filled every situation in life to which he was called. He was an earnest man in whatever he undertook. Being a useful member to the community in which he lived, and possessed of many virtues of head and heart, and many will recall his acts of genuine kindness. In his intercourse with his fellowmen he was kind and truthful, and beloved not only by the Comrades, but by all who were acquainted with him.

Resolved: That in token of the high esteem in which he was held by us that our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, and published in the county papers. D. S. KNOX, S. FITZGERALD, Com. S. D. IRWIN.

It is noticed by the Atchison Globe that the paper which says something mean about you is never lost in the mail, and the paper that prints something pleasant about you don't often receive even a simple "thank you."

A census enumerator at Richmond, Va., found a colored woman named Martha Gray who has had 37 children since 1809. She has given birth to triplets six times, to twins six times and to seven others singly. She is now living with her third husband, and of the 37 children but one survives.

The ultra fashionable young man, says the Detroit Free Press, now wears for his evening dress a high collar with turned ends, a black necktie, a plain shirt front, two small pearls for studs, a pure white vest with four buttons, link button cuffs, and, of course, the conventional patent leathers. Pay particular attention to the black necktie, however, and you will be "all right."

The Indiana Messenger says: "A good many 80 cent counterfeit bills are now located in the northern part of our country. Some days ago a couple of slick fellows made a pretty thorough canvass of that section, purchasing real calves. They usually offered a dollar and two more for the calves than they were worth and proposed to pay one dollar down to secure the bargain until they should call for the animals in a day or two. They invariably handed the farmer a ten dollar bill and got nine dollars change. They never called for the calves and the farmer sooner or later found the bill he received from the sharpers was counterfeit and he was out nine good dollars." As the same game may be tried on some of our readers, it would be well for them to keep their eyes open when dealing with strangers.
