The reception to Senator Delamater on his arrival at Meadville after the convention was one of the greatest demonstrations that section has ever witnessed. And it wasn't confined strictly to party lines either. Crawford will give 4000 majority for the ticket this fall.

One of the best wells that has yet been struck in that locality was finished Monday by Stewart & Co., near the old Asbury Chapel, Stewarts Run district. It is said to have started at 10 barrels an hour, but has now settled to 50 barrels a day, strong. It is first sand oil, and was struck at 500 feet.

The rescuing party, which has been unceasingly labored for the release of the doomed men since the day of their terrible incarceration at Hill Farm mine, Dunbar, Pa., is about discouraged, having at last accounts been driven back by smoke and foul gas. No one now has the slightest hope that any are yet alive.

The enumerators of this county have finished their work and about all have forwarded their schedules to Supervisor Mates at Butler. It will be some time before the actual results are known, the enumerators being strictly enjoined to secrecy. Guesses on the population of the borough have run all the way from 600 to 800, but we believe a conservative guess would not reach over 650. The increase in buildings and improvements being much more marked than the population.

Mr. C. A. Howe, for the past three years superintendent of the Kellottville tannery, and a resident of this borough, departed with his family for Olean last week, where he has accepted a similar position. Their removal from our town is much regretted by the many friends they made while among us.

Blaine's famous reply to Gladstone has just been issued in pamphlet form. This is one of the ablest presentations of the benefits of Protection yet published, and should be widely read. Send for a copy to the American Protective Tariff League, 23 West Twenty-third Street, New York, inclosing a two-cent stamp.

This item, from the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph, will probably not do any good, but we publish it just the same: "Tom Tucker, Boston's first baseman, just now is a terrible example to gum chewers. His face is fearfully swollen about the eyes and the optics are watery. All is due to chewing gum to an excess. The constant motion of the jaws has affected the tear glands and facial muscles."

The average of June wells is 19 1/2 barrels while the May showing was only an average of 15 1/2 barrels.

The Democrats hold their State Convention in Scranton to-day. There is quite a scramble to see who will have the empty honor of leading the forlorn hope this fall. The struggle is between Wallace and Pattison, with the chances slightly favoring the latter, although both are, or profess to be, very sanguine. The Republicans are giving very little thought to the outcome, as in either case it is only a matter of which makes the attempt to keep the majority below 80,000.

Once more the Everhart tragedy is called to mind by the receipt of a lengthy communication from a citizen of Washington township who signs himself "Taxpayer," and after reviewing the case from his own standpoint intimates that something new in the way of developments will be forthcoming. That's just what we have been waiting for. Let us have the developments by all means. In the meantime we will hold the communication under consideration.—Clarion Democrat.

Mr. J. C. Jones, a former Forest county resident, but for the past ten years in the lumbering business in Alabama, is North with his family, intending to spend the summer at Chautauqua Lake. Mr. J. who still has a host of friends living hereabouts, has been quite prosperous since his residence in the south, and was looking not a day older when he paid his respects to the REPUBLICAN office last Friday. He partially agreed to come back here to live when he made his fortune down there.

It will be some time before the actual results are known, the enumerators being strictly enjoined to secrecy. Guesses on the population of the borough have run all the way from 600 to 800, but we believe a conservative guess would not reach over 650. The Butler Eagle says: One of the largest oil deals ever consummated in the county was made on Monday. It was the sale of all of Mr. Thomas W. Phillips' producing interests in the Glade Run district, embracing 7,500 acres of leases, 120 producing wells and a daily production of 1,300 barrels. Mr. Phillips stated to a representative of the Eagle that he had not gone out of the producing business, but that he still retained some fifteen thousand acres of land under lease in the Great Bell, Coyleville and Murrinsville fields, on which there are thirty producing and a number of drilling wells. It is understood that the sale was made to the Standard Oil Company, but the consideration has not been made public. The purchasers went into immediate possession of the property.

Superintendent Porter makes a "guess" at the population of the United States. His guess, in round numbers, is 64,000,000. The official returns will all be made out within the next 30 days, and the figures will be known to a certainty. The instances in which a re-count has been allowed are few, though every village in the country which is disappointed in the outcome, wants another "go" at solving the population problem. Excursion to the Thousand Islands.

Excursion Agent, S. B. Newton, of the W. N. Y. & P., sends us this week a poster announcing a grand low-rate excursion to the ever famous summer resort, the Thousand Islands, which will be run on July 10. The Thousand Islands lie in the head of the historic St. Lawrence river, or in other words, in the extreme northern end of Lake Ontario and are partially owned by the United States and partially by Canada. The excursion party will proceed by rail on the W. N. Y. & P. to Rochester, N. NEWSY NOTES.

The Pennsylvania Editorial Association will make its summer excursion to Washington City this year, arriving at that place on July 15.

During the present spring and summer it is estimated that not less than fifty buildings have been struck by lightning in Erie county, though not many of them have been badly injured.

A wall for women comes out of the West. The young men of the new States complain that there is an alarming scarcity of the raw material from which good wives are made. They want to get married, but there are not girls enough to go around. If these young men really want good women, and are worthy of them let them come East, where the supply is unlimited, and find their affinities. Do they suppose that Eastern girls are going out there to run for husbands?—E.

A swindle has been played quite extensively among the farmers of different parts of the State lately, and they have been fleeced to the tune of $50,000. It was accomplished by two confederates, who pretended to buy from their walnut stumps, Confederate No. 1 came along and agreed to buy the stumps, and told the farmers his partner would be along soon to take them out and pay for them. Confederate No. 2 comes along, takes them out, and pays for them, but in making the alleged payment, they tender a large bill, receiving considerable change. The large bill turns out to be counterfeit, and the swindlers get away with good United States money.
