ANNOUNCEMENT.
 The Republican Conference having adjourned sine die, without making a nomination for the office of President Judge of the 37th Judicial District, and having resolved the nomination of the Republican party at the primary election in this County, and believing that Forest County is entitled to that office as of right, I will remain in the field as a candidate, and hope to receive the hearty support of the Republicans of Forest County.
 SAMUEL D. IRWIN.

Pay Your Taxes.
 The time for legal registration having passed, the most important thing now to do in order to insure your vote this fall, is the payment of your State or County tax. If you neglect this vital duty you lose your vote. Republican Committees are particularly urged to see that each friend of the party in their respective districts have paid their taxes. October 4th is the last day. But don't put it off till the last day.

The Prohibition candidate for Governor, Hon. Charles Miller, of Franklin, has written a letter declining the nomination, basing his declination on "a combination of unforeseen circumstances." The State Committee has been called to meet in Harrisburg to-day for the purpose of nominating another candidate.

COL. McCURE, who was cited by the Pittsburgh Times as the man to whom Quay said he wanted to own a Governor, writes to the Times as follows: "The assertion that Senator Quay made the declaration to me quoted by you does gross injustice to both him and myself." That ought to spike that gun as effectively as did Senator Delamater's denial of the Emery charges.

INTELLIGENCE from Philadelphia is to the effect that Candidate Pattison will soon make an electioneering tour of the state. How will this suit those Democratic journals which have been making so much ado about Candidate Delamater's personal canvass? To be consistent, they should oppose it. That they will not, goes without saying. It makes all the difference, you know, whose ox is gored.—Harrisburg Call.

The foundation for the widely quoted statement with reference to Quay's ownership of Delamater is found to be this: The Pittsburgh Times says that T. W. Phillips says that Senator Rutan says that George Welsh says that Alex. McClure says that Quay told him the story. McClure denies the soft impeachment in these words: "That statement is entirely unwarranted. It is an exaggeration of a conversation had, no doubt, with Mr. Rutan or Mr. Welsh or perhaps both, and is probably my own deduction from Quay's attitude and actions instead of Quay's expression."

The Boston Herald is a Mugwump of the straightest sect. It has opposed every position taken by Speaker Reed. But it has no sympathy with its Democratic allies in their effort to explain away the great Maine victory. It says:
 "There has not been such a political surprise in this State [Maine] since 1860. The Democrats are even more bothered about it than the Republicans. They don't know what to say. Probably they will allege the use of money, but it will be very hard for them to show the public any evidence thereof."
 Pennsylvania Democrats will please take notice, and thus be prepared for November. It is the only thing that will save them from a surprise quite as great as that which overcame their friends in the Pine Tree State.

GEORGE H. HIGGINS, ESQ.
 We clip the following article from the Spartansburg, Crawford county, Sentinel, of Sept. 19, 1890, which will give to our readers and the voters of Forest county an idea of the true character of Geo. H. Higgins, who is now before the people as a candidate for President Judge. Mr. Higgins should be proud of the article, as it comes directly from the home of his boyhood, and can in no way be misconstrued, but in a fair and impartial manner speaks of one who is well known to the citizens of Spartansburg:
 "We notice with pride the candidacy of Geo. H. Higgins, Esq., of Warren, Pa., for President Judge in the 37th Judicial Dist. of Pennsylvania. We are promoted to this feeling perhaps from the fact that Mr. Higgins was born and raised in our own county; and again because we know of the life of toil and hardship which he has undergone to fit himself for the high position which we now believe the people of that district will, on November next call him to fill.
 "Leaving this county some fifteen years ago, he set out with nothing but his hands and earnest manhood with which to struggle in the great battle of maintenance and success, and to this end he has honestly and earnestly labored and toiled. Born without riches, he was unable to obtain a classical education, of which the rich only can, or at that time could boast, but we believe he possesses what is more valuable for a true American, brains accompanied by pluck and energy. Entering upon his course at law with no means of support whatever, he was obliged to earn the necessities of life for himself and family by laboring during the day and reading at night his course, which he finished after five years of careful study and was admitted to practice in Warren county after passing a most excellent examination. After his admission to the Warren county bar he set out alone and without means to find a place in McKean county where by the practice of his profession he might support his family, and locating in the village of Aiken where he succeeded in gaining a start, and here he remained until he returned to Warren and became a law partner in the firm of Allen & Higgins. During his lifetime he has gained a reputation for fairness and ability which has always been recognized by his friends and they hail with joy his coming success, feeling and knowing that no poor man will ever receive at his hands anything but the fairest and kindest of treatment. At the present date, when the tendency is towards monopoly and the neglect of the poorer and weaker classes, such men are needed and we trust that the people of the 37th district are fully awakened to this fact. We understand that the only objection which is raised against Mr. Higgins is that he was too poor in early life to obtain a classical education, but the history of our country has long since proven the fact that true manhood has and forever will overcome that difficulty and to day some of the men to whom we point with greatest pride started as did Mr. Higgins, and such men are both an honor to themselves and their country.
 "We hope that no true and loyal citizen of that district will falter or be discouraged in this fight, which if gained by Mr. Higgins will place upon the bench a most worthy man and will assure to the people equal justice to all."

CHRISTOPHER MAGEE, who for many moons has held the "State of Allegheeny" in the hollow of his hand, is just at present appearing to very poor advantage in the character of a disappointed politician. That he and Quay were contestants for supremacy in the Republican politics of the State was no secret. That Quay distanced him is also known. That the Pittsburgh papers which are assailing Delamater are doing so at the instigation of Magee is not doubted. The animus is so apparent as to deprive the attacks of those papers of their effectiveness. Pennsylvanians are great admirers of fair play. Because Magee failed in his endeavors they can see no good reason why they should turn in and help him disrupt the party for the sole purpose of thrashing Quay.—Oil City Blizzard.

Ex GOVERNOR PATTERSON said at Reading that in the thirty years of power in Pennsylvania of the Republican party the "bosses" had done nothing to relieve the farmer from taxation. The Philadelphia Times, the young ex-Governor's special spokesman said that there was nothing new in the speech. But certainly this is new, or rather must have been new to the farmers who heard the speech. They knew that so early as 1865 the State tax on real estate was repealed, and that since then the tax on horses, cattle and household furniture had been repealed, and that every school district in the State receives its share of the two millions of dollars appropriated to the common schools, thus indirectly relieving the farmer of that much taxation. In this statement the youthful ex-Governor was not frank, and not fair to the "bosses" whom he professes so much to fear, seeing no doubt that they are not Democratic bosses.—Harrisburg Telegraph.
