LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 80 1/2.

Will Hulings has removed with his family to near Pittsburgh, where he is engaged in the oil fields.

The beauty craze has revolutionized society and Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has revolutionized the treatment of coughs and colds.

Miss Mattie Waterman entertained about forty of her little friends at her grandpa's house last Friday evening, on the occasion of her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. A. B. Kelly has been chosen a delegate to represent Forest, Venango and Elk counties at the next annual National Convention of the W. C. T. U., which meets in Atlanta, Georgia.

L. B. Lockard, of Bradford, was a visitor in town to day. Mr. Lockard is a Delamater Democrat, and is an enthusiastic talker on the prospects of the Crawford county steelman.

The new M. E. Church at Balltown, this county, will be dedicated on Sunday, Oct. 26. Rev. Turrey, of East Hickory will preach the dedicatory sermon at 2:30 p. m. All are cordially invited.

When great preparations were being made in London for the celebration of the Great Queen's Jubilee, loyal citizens anxious to participate were rapidly curing all their aches and pains beforehand, by a generous use of Salvation Oil.

Mrs. and Mrs. Wm. Fish and Mr. and Mrs. Dall Fish, of Centreville, Crawford county, paid Tionesta friends a visit last Thursday, remaining over till Saturday morning. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Knox during their stay.

The golden rod, when kept in bunches in a room, is unhealthy. It is charged against it that as it becomes dry it gives off an imperceptible powder which is inhaled by the occupants, irritating the throat, producing sneezing, and making the limbs feel as though burdened by a heavy weight, says an exchange.

A conference of the Republicans of this Congressional district, composed of Clarion, Clearfield, Centre, Elk and Forest counties, was held in Du Bois yesterday, for the purpose of naming a candidate for Congress. Up to this morning we have not been able to learn what was done, but no doubt a good man has been named, who will stand a fair chance of carrying off the plum.

It is said John Grubbs has tapped the sand in the well on the Cogan lot at the upper end of town, which he has been drilling at for some days back. The show-up is also said to be good for a well, of what size, however, is yet among the things to be found out. If a good straight hole in the ground, drilled in the highest style of the art, is any good, we'll venture dollars to buttons that John will get the grease.

The efficacy of the REPUBLICAN as an advertising medium is again fully demonstrated. Last week we very modestly mentioned the fact that no jumbo pumpkins had glided our way as yet. Saturday, during our temporary absence, some good Samaritan tumbled a 50-pounder into the sanctum, which will assist in keeping the wolf from the door for some time to come, thanks to the unknown donor.

We are called upon to record an unusual number of sudden and unexpected deaths this week. During last week, Mrs. Angus Carson of this place had the pleasure of entertaining her sister, Mrs. Heard, of Bradford, who seemed in unusually good health. She departed for her home on Saturday afternoon, and Monday of this week the family here received the sad intelligence of her death, which had occurred on Saturday night, presumably of heart disease.

Some time ago Mr. James McIntyre, one of our candidates for County Commissioner, was thrown from a load of hay and sustained some rather severe bruises, but recovered sufficiently to go about his business again. A few days ago he experienced considerable pain in the region of his injuries, making it difficult to go about. For this reason he is unable to make a personal canvass of the county as he had intended doing, but hopes his Republican friends, and all voters who feel so disposed will interest themselves in his behalf. We hope the voters will bear this in mind when they come to cast their ballots.

At Warren, in the private parlor of the Ludlow House, on Wednesday, Oct. 15, 1890, at 3 o'clock p. m., a pleasant event took place which will interest many of our townsmen. On that occasion Rev. W. A. Rankin pronounced the words which united in marriage Mr. Boon Magee, and Mrs. Sallie M. Agnew, formerly of Tionesta. Only the immediate friends of the happy couple were present. On Tuesday of this week, a magnificent reception was held at the cheerful home of the newly wedded pair upon their return from a short tour east, which was attended by a goodly number of our townfolk, the intimate friends of the bride, which all no doubt enjoyed immensely. Mr. Magee, who has many acquaintances in this vicinity, is one of the solid men of Warren, where he stands high as a citizen, and prominent in the affairs of that stirring city. Mrs. Magee's circle of friends here is limited only by the number of her acquaintances. To both the REPUBLICAN extends happiest congratulations and best wishes for a long, joyous and prosperous life.

We just learned that Mrs. Mary L. Bleakley, of Franklin, has given to the Old Fellows here the lot adjoining the cemetery, on which the beautiful grove stands. It contains about an acre and one half and is beautifully situated. The present—for we call it such—is magnanimous on the part of Mrs. B. and her husband, the Hon. W. J. Bleakley. The land was formerly the property of Mrs. B.'s excellent mother, M. Anna Lamb, and is highly appreciated by the Order. The only requirements are, the keeping in order of the May lot, in the old cemetery, in which Mrs. Lamb lies buried, the keeping up of good fences, and protection of the river bank. We also note that the Order has purchased the lot of the late Mrs. Thomas, adjoining, from her executors, Meers, Lindsey and Irwin, at the appraisal price. This will make one of the most complete and beautiful cemeteries along the upper Allegheny. Why not now give the Order charge of the old cemetery and thus make the square complete?

James Brown, one of the pioneers of this section, died at the residence of Daniel Andrews, in Hickory township, on Saturday last. For some time past he had made his home with Mr. Andrews. Mr. Brown was for many years one of the familiar figures along the Allegheny river, between Oil City and Tidouhy, where he spent most of his long life, having his homestead at what was once called White Oak, opposite Trunkville station, and as "Fisherman Brown" he will be well remembered by our citizens for nearly three generations past. He followed the occupation of fishing, principally, in which pursuit he was thoroughly expert. Also in the knitting of seines and nets, but the laws of the past few years rather destroyed this industry in this section. He was a quiet, peaceable old gentleman, whom all liked to meet and converse with, his reminiscences of by gone days being quite entertaining. He was over 86 years of age at the time of his death, his wife having preceded him in death about ten months. The funeral took place on Sunday last.

R. R. Andrews, one of the prominent citizens of Kelleetville, this county, died very suddenly at his home on Friday night, October 17, 1890. After a days' work on Friday he went to bed at the usual hour in the evening in apparent good health, and at midnight was dead, having passed away without a struggle. His disease is supposed to have been heart trouble. Mr. Andrews was born in Newburg, N. Y., Oct. 25, 1845. After the war, in which he was a soldier toward the close, he engaged in the hemlock extract business, which he followed a number of years, coming to Kelleetville in 1882 and taking charge of the works there until '84, when he established himself in the mercantile business which he continued till his death. He leaves a wife and one son, Charles, together with a large circle of friends to mourn their loss. Mr. McKean county, his former home, for burial on Monday of this week. His wife will receive $2,000 from the A. O. U. W., the deceased being a member of Forest Lodge, No. 184, of this place.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

William Eichenburg, one of the old and well known farmers of German Hill, met a tragic death near his home on Friday afternoon last. He lives on or near the Balltown road, at the top of Ross Run hill, Kingsley township, about nine miles from Tionesta, where he occupies a well kept farm. On the afternoon mentioned he was brushing out a roof for the purpose of getting out some wood which he had cut. As people in this section will remember, the wind on that particular day was very high. About three o'clock his youngest son, about twelve years of age, remarked that he would go out where his father was. When he came to the spot, he was horrified at the sight which met his eyes. Running back to the house he gasped his mother about the neck, and almost breathless, told her there was a big tree on father. Hurriedly going to the spot the wife and those of the family at home found the boy's story only too true. A large white oak tree had been torn out of root and in its fall had caught the unfortunate man, killing him instantly no doubt. He was found lying on his back with his head on a large rock. There was an ugly bruise across his chest, a cut on the back of his head, and one of his hands was literally crushed. On a somewhat shattered limb over his head, were found some blood and hair, which had evidently struck him. His lifeless remains were conveyed to the house and friends notified. Mr. Eichenburg was one of the industrious farmers of his neighborhood, in which he bore the respect of all. He was aged nearly 63 years, and leaves a wife, three daughters, and four sons, the youngest 12 years, and many other relatives and friends to mourn his tragic death. The funeral took place on Sunday last, the remains being interred in the Zuendel church cemetery, German Hill, Rev. Rhodes officiating.

Hepler Corners.

George Sutter has taken possession of the store which he purchased from Mrs. C. C. Towilliger a short time ago. Mr. H. N. Harkless is at present lying at death's door with dyspepsia. Mr. J. E. Stitzinger, who for some time has been stopping in Ithaca, returned home last week. The Manning Bros. have moved their mill from Dingman & Dale's tract to a location near Reddy's. A series of protracted meetings is being held at Washington. Wm. Wallace of Karns City gave friends of this section a visit on Tuesday. Edward Hepler of this place is at present stopping near Marienville. Mr. Samuel Daum and wife gave folks of Salem a short visit not long since. Oct. 20, 1890.

NEWSY NOTES.

In an article favoring the construction of the proposed ship canal the American Manufacturer, of Pittsburgh, says. No official figures have yet been given out on the cost of the canal, but it is supposed that it will at least equal the cost of the Welland canal, which was $25,000,000. It is estimated, however, that the tonnage on a waterway connecting Lake Erie with the Ohio river would be many millions greater annually than that carried on the Welland canal.

From the Scientific American: "To give a brilliant white light, a lamp needs a thorough cleansing every little while. The oil should be poured out of the fount, leaving no drops on the bottom. The fount should then be washed in strong soapsuds, rinsed in warm water, and dried. It should then be filled with fresh oil. The burner should be boiled in soda and water until the network that crosses it is freed from dirt and dust. If the wick has become clogged with the sediment, replace it with a new one."

The Fourth Annual Convention of the County Commissioners of Pennsylvania will be held in Williamsport on Tuesday, November 11, 1890, at which the question of a revision of the laws of Pennsylvania looking to the equalization of local taxation will be fully discussed. At the session of the Legislature in 1889, an act was passed authorizing the revision of the State revenue laws, and the appointment of a commission composed of persons representing the different interests of the State, one of whom was to be selected by the Association of County Commissioners, and at this meeting at Williamsport the proposed enactment, drafted by Giles D. Price, the representative of County Commissioners, in reference to this revision will be fully discussed.

A Thanksgiving feast is offered in Peterson for November. It is especially rich in illustrations, beginning with two beautiful pictures, "A Reverie" and "Thanks-giving Morning." The opening article, "A Medieval City," is as interesting as a romance, and capably illustrated. The Fashion and Household departments teem with novelties and information. Next year, Peterson will reach its fiftieth anniversary of successful publication. It has stood at the head of ladies' periodicals during all those years, and for the coming year the publishers announce a large increase of pages, more abundant illustrations, finer paper, and other improvements that will add greatly to its attractiveness and strengthen its claim as a model magazine for the family. Terms, two dollars a year. Address Peterson's Magazine, 300 Chestnut St., Phila., Pa.

A check is frequently as good as the wheat, but nevertheless it is not cash. A Supreme Court decision was recently made which is of interest to business men in general. It declares that bank checks are not cash, and do not possess legal value as money until cashed. In other words, the giving of a check on a bank is not a payment, when passed between debtor and creditor, but only becomes so when the money is paid on it. The court holds that in accepting a check from a debtor there is no legal presumption that the creditor takes it in absolute payment, but only conditionally, or as a written acknowledgment of the debt. Where goods are sold for cash on delivery, and the purchaser tenders payment in a check or draft on his bank, the payment is only conditional, and not every of the goods, if made, is also conditional. If the check is dishonored on presentation the seller may renege the goods for the purchaser money, even from the possession of a third or innocent party, unless it can be shown that the seller has been guilty of such negligence as would stop him from recovering in equity. This decision is among the first rendered by higher courts that is so far reaching, and if supported by other high tribunals will settle a mooted question in commercial circles.—Bazaar.
