LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 73 1/2.

C. M. Shawkey was down from Warren over last Sabbath to pay a visit to his parents.

Thanksgiving has been named by President Harrison as the 27th of this month. Turkeys will take notice.

Deputy Collector Galbraith, of Franklin, stopped in town last night on his monthly rounds of the district under his charge.

Mr. John Thomson of Stewart's Run, is paying a visit to his old friend and former neighbor, Hon. Wm. McKinley, at Elizabeth, N. J.

Mr. J. C. Scowden has moved into the newly refitted Robinson house, above the carriage factory and now enjoys very comfortable quarters.

Billy Walters struck for the Pittsburgh oil regions Monday, which field already has a number of our Forest county boys among its operatives.

Squire Tyrrel, of the township, has now a good pulling team, purchased of Livoryman Canfield, and will take a timber job this winter.

The Sires photograph gallery of this place is again open for business, and a cordial invitation is extended to all who wish first class work in the line of photography.

Hon. Jas. T. Maffett was over from Clarion at the recent term of argument court, and was admitted to practice at our courts, it being his first visit to Tionesta during a session of court.

Col. J. Henry Sellman, Collector of Internal Revenue, Baltimore, Md., believes in it for rheumatism. He writes: "I have tried Salvation Oil and believe it to be a good remedy for rheumatism."

Miss Flora Walters, while on a visit to relatives in Pittsburgh, was taken sick last week, and her parents were telegraphed for. Her mother is now with her, and advises state that she is suffering with a severe attack of typhoid fever.

On the 3d inst., at the Ludlow House, Warren, Pa., Mr. Jacob Sigfus, of Tionesta, and Miss Edith Morris, of Warren, were united in marriage. Jake's friends hereabouts will wish him and his a long and prosperous future, in which the REPUBLICAN heartily joins.

Don't!—If a dealer offers you a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup without wrapper or labels, or in a mutilated condition, don't touch it—don't buy it at any price, there is something wrong—it may be a dangerous worthless counterfeit. Insist upon getting a perfect, unbroken, genuine package.

P. M. Clark, Congressional, and R. B. Crawford, Senatorial, District Return Judges, were in Clearfield and Ridgway respectively, yesterday, to deliver the returns from this county on those two questions. The official results in the districts are not yet to hand.

The many friends of Rev. J. M. Weaver, who had occupied the Evan gelical pulpit at West Hickory since last Spring, were by sorry to learn that he has been obliged to give up preaching for a time, owing to the effects of a sunstroke received last Summer. He is now at his former home near Du Bois.

A private correspondence from Polk, Venango county, says: The epidemic of diphtheria has not abated. On Sunday the second daughter of Wm. McKuley was laid to rest, making fourteen in all in Polk from this disease, and the end is not yet. There are several more serious cases, and God alone knows where it will end. Rev. C. R. Thompson, formerly of Hickory, has officiated at eight funerals in one month.

Mrs. James Stroup of Nebraska, who has been in rather a precarious condition for some months past, was taken to Pittsburgh on Monday last, by her husband, for medical treatment under Dr. Sutton, the eminent surgeon. Very comfortable quarters were arranged for her on one of Lawrence & Smearbough's flat boats, and the trip was made by water, that being the only way she could endure the fatigue of the journey. Her friends hope and expect for her a speedy recovery.

OFFICIAL VOTE OF FOREST COUNTY, NOVEMBER 4, 1890.

Table with columns for Governor, Lt. Gov., S. in Aff., P. Judge, A. Judge, Congress, S. Senate, Assembly, Proth'y, Sheriff, County Com'r, Co. Auditor, J. Com'r, and various districts. Includes names of candidates and vote counts.

Sudden Death of T. B. Cobb.

Telegraphic despatches Monday, Nov. 10th, announcing the sudden death, on the 8th inst., of T. B. Cobb, at Clay City, Ky., was to our community a sorrowful message.

For more than twenty years his home has been among us, and we cannot as yet realize the fact that his familiar face will never again be seen, nor his courteous greeting be heard, upon our streets.

Hon. Charles W. Stone, Secretary of the Commonwealth and Congressman elect from the Warren district, arrived in Harrisburg on Thursday and is again at his desk. He was warmly congratulated upon the large vote he received. He will resign as Secretary of the Commonwealth at the close of the month, which ends his fiscal year, and will then begin his duties at Washington.

Rev. Rumberger announced last Sabbath evening that the first quarterly meeting of this conference year would be held at the M. E. Church next Saturday evening, immediately after the sermon by Presiding Elder Smith. On Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock, Love Feast and at 11 o'clock the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed, and a sermon by the Presiding Elder. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

On last Friday a dwelling house occupied by two brothers named Gordon, was completely destroyed by fire, along with its contents, at Langworthy's mill, near Gilfoyle. The origin of the fire was an overflow of gas, the occupants of the building having gone away leaving open the throttle of the gas pipe leading into their stoves. The loss is estimated at probably $500, and as both men are poor, and their entire possessions were destroyed, the loss falls heavily on them.

John Gadley, an employee at Maple Creek mill, near Gilfoyle, on last Thursday had his left arm nearly severed between the elbow and wrist, by an edger saw. At the time of the accident the mill had been shut down to gum the large saw, and Mr. Gadley sat on the edge of the edger table until this was done, when he thoughtlessly threw his arm back on a rapidly revolving saw that was connected with the table, and was horribly mangled. Drs. Ed. Beck and Phillips were called in, and it required the greatest efforts to keep the patient from bleeding to death, as all the ligaments and muscles of the front part of his arm were severed. At this writing he is doing well, and hopes are entertained that his arm will be saved.

There was a peculiar case in ejectment heard by Judge Brown as referee, on Oct. 30, last, in which L. K. Lippencott was plaintiff and F. J. Maffett defendant, for 275 acres in Forest county, sold at Sheriff's sale as property of L. K. Lippencott, on judgment of Sorita M. Brady's executor's. Thea Lippencott brought ejectment, claiming: 1st, That executor in the District of Columbia had no jurisdiction in Pennsylvania without raising an auxiliary administration in this State. 2nd, That as Sorita M. Brady, the payee in note on which judgment was entered, having made a will while a femme sole, the same was revoked absolutely by her subsequent marriage, and therefore the appointment even of her executors thereby became a nullity. The case was argued by Hon. E. L. Davis, attorney for the plaintiff, and by Hon. J. T. Maffett and F. J. Maffett, attorneys on his own behalf and vendees. This case presents some novel features, and Judge Brown, after hearing the arguments of the counsel, reserved his decision.

A strictly first class operator is again in charge of the Sires photograph gallery, Tionesta, and those wishing anything in that line should call early. No difference about the weather.

Forest County Official.

In this issue will be found the official figures of the election in this county last week. The showing in the main is surely very gratifying to the Republicans, in that it demonstrates the fact that Forest county stands by her Republicanism in the face of tumult and chaos in the party lines all over the State.

Following are the complete figures on the President Judgeship in this district. The return judges, Mr. B. F. Gates representing Warren, and J. W. Tyrrel representing Forest, met here yesterday and computed the figures of the two counties:

WARREN COUNTY.

Charles H. Noyes 4110, George H. Higgins 3162, Samuel D. Irwin 21.

FOREST COUNTY.

Noyes 761, Higgins 787, Irwin 104.

Noyes' plurality 628.

Warren Wrinkles.

Our nerves are considerably shaken just now on account of burglars, several houses in Glade having been entered one night recently and others attempted. If Mr. Cousins, our jolly telephone manager, had only been prepared with one of those "didn't know it was loaded" weapons he might have saved his "Waterbury" Mr. Trushel also lost a watch which was highly prized, being a keepsake, and also of considerable value.

The Cornplanter people are erecting a loading rack at North Warren, on the D. A. V. & P. road, where they will load cars for their refinery in Titusville.

Our community met with a great loss recently in the death of Mrs. Hinkle, who was widely known and highly respected. She was an old lady of 64 years, and her enfeebled constitution could not withstand the attack of pneumonia. The funeral services were held at their home on Carver St. and in spite of the inclement weather, was largely attended. She leaves a husband and a family of adult children to mourn her loss.

East Hickory.

Derriek correspondence.] Mrs. Clark has moved her millinery shop up town.

F. A. Wheeler, the genial agent of the West Side, has taken charge of the Titusville freight offices.

Nathan Burdick has moved his family to Tidouette.

Wheeler & Dusenbury are pushing work on the grade for their railroad up Beaver to Ross Run and to Tionesta Creek. This road will penetrate a forest of the finest pine, and open up communication to a large trade on Tionesta Creek. It will be of standard gauge, and will connect with another branch run from Sheffield.

Bear are quite plenty about here this year, quite a number being seen about the headwaters of Bobs Creek. T. J. Spencer caught one in a trap, but it got away again.

Election passed off quietly here, although quite a feeling existed over the election of president judge.

Matt McCray is confined to his bed by inflammatory rheumatism.

Norton Weber, of Dempscytown, spent a few days with his brother, Dr. Weber, last week and left for Titusville, where he will work in the freight office at that place.

Wheeler & Dusenbury are building a road up to Braceville, preparatory to hauling out some pine prostrated by the Summer storms.

WANTED.—A man out of work to take charge of an installment business in Tionesta, Pa. Address, with references, The Champion Shelf Mfg. Co., Springfield, Ohio.

NEWSY NOTES.

A cold storage company's circular says that if celery is packed in small boxes, placed in total darkness, and submitted to a certain low temperature for thirty to fifty days, it will not only be beautifully white and crisp, but will lose its natural bitterness and have the delicate flavor and fine appearance of the choicest fresh celery.

A large number of our exchanges are copying without comment or challenge the statement of some curious observer and statistician, "that 96 per cent. of the men put the leg into their trousers first. About seven per cent. start with their right and the remaining three per cent. sit on a chair or the edge of the bed and ram one leg in at once. As a humble representative of the pants wearing sex, we venture the contradiction that the reverse is true; that the larger per cent. drive the right extremity into the trouser leg first. Most people naturally place their weight on the left leg, and hence the right is used for kicking or for any hoisting or dextrous motion. Be the truth what it may, we're safe in saying that not one man in 10,000 follows the example of the opposite sex in sitting on the floor to put his shoes on.—Franklin News.

Microbic Treatment.

Mrs. Maey Dale writes to me from Fort Worth, Texas, that "All temperance work is proceeding from wrong premises. They propose to treat it as a moral disease while it is purely and solely a physical malady, made chronic by the evolution of the mind, so that, last of all, the morals are affected, as an effect rather than a cause of intemperance in anything. What I would say is this: That all habit diseases die at the mercy of the 'Anti-Microbic Treatment.' We have cured tobacco and whiskey habits here in our work and that, too, without forbidding their use as the treatment went on. One case of tobacco was made a test by the patient resolving if possible to beat the treatment by smoking and chewing while the treatments were in course. The result was that he first sickened at chewing, then smoking, and finally he became so bad off that it was die or give up the tobacco. The latter was done, and from that moment favorable reaction began. Further, it destroys appetite, so that there is no suffering from abstinence enforced. What a glorious boon! If it could accomplish nothing else."

Another friend writes to me, who has tested these treatments:

My Dear Nora—Our friend, Mrs. Dale, has just read her letter to me which you have written you. I am so glad you have taken up this work as it will open to yourself a field of usefulness in which you have never gleaned before, the golden harvest of good words and good works. The need for a change in the present practice has long been felt and has at last been found in this school of medical practice, which our friend, Mrs. Dale and husband have opened up, and which (discovery) was given to her as a saving means when in despair of her own life. The wonderful work she has done already seems almost a miracle, but it is nevertheless a demonstrated fact, &c. Write me when you can.—Yours, AUST MAY.
