

Nobody pities the Wall Street gamblers who get their fingers burned. Their loss is somebody's gain, and it does not affect the people.

There is a pretty general opposition on the part of the Democratic papers of the State to calling out the National Guard to assist in the inauguration of Governor Pattison. It is not easy to see what started the discussion, since no one has proposed to have the guard out. The matter will rest entirely with Governor Pattison, and the Democratic organs will agree with him whichever way he decides it.

With all due regard for Professor Koch, we feel impelled to say to the public that it should go slow in the matter of the famous doctor's consumption cure. That is, they should not let their hopes go up like a rocket. We have yet in memory the lamentable failure of Dr. Brown-Sequard's "Elixir of Life," which created such a furore for a while and then dropped flat as a pancake. One does not hear of it any more.

SECRETARY STONE showed himself a strong and popular candidate in his race for Congress at the recent election. The four counties of his district gave Pattison a majority of 1650 over Delamater, but Mr. Stone had 3386 over his Democratic competitor. It is evident from this that Mr. Stone, who sought the nomination for Governor, would have made a pretty good candidate for that office. Phila. Press. Not a question about it. Mr. Stone would sweep things up through this country in a political race every time.

The farmers of Crawford county are moving for legislation to oblige the railroad companies to fence their tracks. It will be remembered that a bill of this character was passed by the last house of representatives, but on account of the lateness of the session it was not reached by the Senate. In another column will be found a copy of the bill that will be presented at the present session, which appears to cover the ground demanded by the farming community. The people demand this legislation, as well as equalization of taxation, and if the same is not obtained it will be on account of the incapacity of the men they have selected for the work. Meadville Tribune-Republican.

The people of Forest county will most heartily join in this move, and an emphatic demand from the masses is bound to bring it about. Let there be no "let up" till it is accomplished.

With the success of the Democratic party at the recent election Grover Cleveland immediately marched out of retirement and announced that he did it, and that he was again a candidate for the Presidency. The Democratic leaders in Congress, with two or three important exceptions, take a decidedly opposite view. Senators Gorman, McPherson, Blackburn, Vest, Coke, Vance, Hampton and Barbour have all announced that they are opposed to the Cleveland movement. So has ex-Congressman Thompson, Secretary of the Democratic Congressional Committee, and even Mr. Carlisle is hostile to it. With such men against him Mr. Cleveland will have a very rocky road to travel to the Democratic Presidential nomination. Com. Gazette.

We think it is the voice of our local sportsmen, and probably of those of the whole state, that a law should be passed prohibiting the killing of deer or quail for a period of at least five years. This game is practically extinct in this State, unless it be in the case of quail in the southern tier. The amusement, or benefit, of hunting either quail or deer amounts to nothing now, but there are enough of them left to restock the forests, and fields, and make hunting good in a few years. Such a law would take away nothing from anybody, while it would, in the end, be a source of much pleasure and profit to a great number of people. Meadville Gazette.

We second the Gazette's motion, and would suggest that trout be added to the list, and that the penalty for violation of the act be high enough to strike terror to the heart of those who might be tempted to break the law.

Mr. ROGER Q. MILLS, free trader, who expects to be Speaker of the next House, is out in a letter in which he says "the verdict of the recent election was in favor of free trade." The Democratic organs which insisted during the campaign that the tariff question was not a factor this year will have to revise their views. The result of the election has made the Southern free traders, led by Mills, arrogant and spiteful and they will bulldoze and whip into line the few Northern Congressmen who may have qualms of conscience against voting to repeal the McKinley bill. The very first opportunity to remove the tariff from raw material, pig iron and steel rails will be seized upon, and then the innocents who were hoodwinked will be kicking themselves. Harrisburg Telegraph.

SECRETARY WINDOM says that he cannot understand how intelligent people can make such wild statements about the condition of the National Treasury as have been recently appearing in papers of democratic proclivities. "I have," said the Secretary, "paid out more than $100,000,000 for bonds during the past year, and there is cash on hand now, available to meet any contingency that may arise, more than $32,000,000, and the receipts of the Government will constantly add to this surplus." The annual report of the Treasurer of the United States made public this week bears out the statement of Secretary Windom that our finances are in a healthy condition.

A WASHINGTON dispatch to the N. Y. Sun says: Among the arrivals at the capital to-day was the Hon. Thomas V. Cooper, of Pennsylvania, formerly chairman of the Republican State Committee and a warm adherent of Secretary Blaine. No concealment was made by Mr. Cooper that the object of his visit to Washington was to consult with Mr. Blaine as to the candidacy of the latter for the Presidential nomination in 1892. "There is no man in the Republican party," said Mr. Cooper, "who can unite the members of that organization like James G. Blaine, and particularly is this true in my own State. He can count safely upon a solid delegation from our State when the time for the National Convention rolls around. From the West come similar strains of encouragement, and if the Democrats want to put up Cleveland again we are perfectly willing." Subsequently Mr. Cooper called at the State Department, where he was closeted with the Secretary of State until late in the afternoon.

The election has been claimed as a Free Trade victory, and the leaders of the victorious party are proclaiming their purpose to undo all that the last session of Congress did, and we are not slow to discover how the new order will effect the new establishments that were contemplated, and the action of the foreign capitalists on the eve of bringing their plants to our shores. Capital has already taken alarm and withdrawn, and the following narrative explains how the foreigner has been affected:

"On Monday, November 3, Arthur Hine, representative of an English syndicate of plush manufacturers, visited Birmingham, Conn., and examined the manufacturing facilities, prospecting for a location for a mill. He stated to the officers of the Board of Trade, who showed him around, that this combination of plush manufacturers wanted to come to America and manufacture goods immediately, as the McKinley bill had practically shut them out. This was the day before the election, and Hine was anxious to find a factory that his concern could occupy at once. The next day the Democrats were victorious in many States. Arthur Hine was met in New York City to hear his decision about settling at Birmingham. Mr. Hine said: "Things are altogether different since the election." He did not think his syndicate would consider starting up over here any further, as the profits of a few years would not repay them for the investment."

Women's Church Rights. On the question whether women shall be eligible as lay delegates to the General Conference, the M. E. Church of this city discussed and voted last evening, and the ballot went against the sisters, being 44 in favor and 68 against. In this action the Franklin church is rather out of line with most of the churches herabouts. All but one of the Crawford county churches have voted for the proposed change, and the M. E. Church of Mercer has declared for it by a vote of 36 to 13. Franklin is a conservative community and is slow to take up with new fads. Whatever may be the outcome of new movement, women will still be permitted to pray, exhort, sew for missions, get up suppers for needed funds, skirmish for money for building purposes, run donations that many of them need more than the beneficiaries, look after and minister to the wants of the hungry and ill-clad, tidy up the parsonage, refurbish and beautify the sanctuary, and perform such other minor roustabout offices as benefit the weaker and subjected sex. But when it comes to considering and voting upon important questions, where Mind (with a big M) is roaring things, Sister Willard and other workers of her sex may consider themselves "not expected."

Really, something will have to be done to head off the rising sentiment in favor of allowing women in churches to do something besides work in public and pray in secret. The innovation is making its way into the rock ribbed citadel of the Presbyterian Church. Only last week the Elders Association of the Syracuse Presbytery passed a resolution that the ladies should be allowed to take part in the regular prayer meeting. It's about time for a leader in the church paper, "Whether are We Drifting?"—Franklin News.
