Thanksgiving day passed very quietly and pleasantly here, with business practically suspended a greater part of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Agnew and Mr. and Mrs. Boon Magee, of Warren, spent Thanksgiving very pleasantly with Tionesta friends.

L. J. Hopkins is in the East this week buying up all the good and nice things to be had. Look out for a fine display in a day or two.

Ross Loudon, a young Nebraska lad, saw a bear on the ridge between Big and Little Coon creeks, one day last week. He didn't stop to shake hands with it that he remembers of.

People call it backache and do nothing for it until the doctor is called and he pronounces it rheumatism. If they had used Salvation Oil in time the doctor's bill could have been saved.

"When the robins nest again," she said, "I suppose my cold will get well." So he felt very sad, but suddenly bethought him of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. The cough was cured and those two were happy.

A contemporary says that among the most dangerous specimens of counterfeit silver dollars which has ever appeared is one dated 1883 and possessed of as good and sharp a ring as the genuine coin. It is made of anti-mony and glass.

Mr. Jas. McGuffigan of Balltown, an old friend of the REPUBLICAN, made us a pleasant call yesterday morning. Mr. M. has been the Balltown Oil Co.'s main machinist for the past seven years, and always given the best of satisfaction to his employers.

Messrs. C. A. Snow & Co., Patent Solicitors, opp. U. S. Patent Office, Washington, D. C., have no side-issues to detract their attention; hence their success. If you wish to know anything about patents, trade marks or copyrights, write them. Read their advertisement in this paper.

The first snow of any account fell on Monday of this week. Not enough for sleighing, about three inches of it, and with smooth roads, it lacked but little of making better sleighing than wheeling. The "tracking" was quite good yesterday morning, and about every other man in the town was out looking for deer, and still the market is not glutted this morning.

Among the many names suggested for the Speakership of the incoming House of Representatives at Harrisburg, none strikes us so favorable as that of Hon. C. C. Thompson, of Warren, and we are pleased to note that the suggestion meets with very general favor all over the northwest. We believe him to be the most capable man for the important place that has yet been mentioned. The House would make no mistake in the selection of Mr. Thompson as its presiding officer.

The wood-house and part of the fence surrounding the church yard of the Lutheran Church on German Hill, was burned on Wednesday night of last week. It is supposed to have been the work of tramps who had camped there that night. An old stove which had been set out near the wood house had been drawn up to the door and fired up.

Burglars, says the Warren Ledger, are getting in their fine work at Sheffield. They began operations there last week by going through the residence of Mr. Radiker and carrying off with them all the valuables they could find, besides a quantity of clothing and provisions. The family slept through it all. Mr. Radiker's watch was found in the yard the next morning.

We notice by exchanges that some persons have made the valuable suggestion to the effect that if each farmer would put a small sign bearing his name on the fence or gate in front of their farms it would be a great convenience to parties driving along the roads. The idea is a good one and we would like to see it adopted in the townships adjoining. Who will make this start?

On Thanksgiving day Messrs. Collins & Kretler of Nebraska, presented each of their employees who are married, with a turkey, and to the single men they set up a royal dinner prepared by Mrs. Thompson at the Forest Hotel. We have a card from the employees aforesaid in which they ask us to publicly return their thanks to the firm for this excellent treat, so richly enjoyed by all.

Among the lecturers secured for the approaching teachers' institute of this county, are Col. Sanford, two nights, and ex-Governor Cumbach, of Indiana, one night. The former is well known and deservedly popular in this county, while the latter has few equals as an institute lecturer. Supt. Kerr is leaving nothing undone to make this session the most interesting one ever held in Forest county.

Friday evening next, 5th inst., Prof. Stevens, an eloquentist of considerable renown, will give a literary entertainment at the M. E. Church. The affair will be under the auspices of the Y. W. C. T. The following comment of the Cherry Creek News will apply almost anywhere: "When a person flares up at an article in which no names are mentioned, it looks as though they had been hit. If we throw out an old shoe, and some one comes along and puts it on, we can't help it. If certain persons have certain disagreeable and faulty characteristics which are recognized as soon as we hold a mirror before them, the fault is theirs and not ours."

JACOB Z. WARD, Manager. Word was received by friends here yesterday of the death of Mrs. Christine Hulings, widow of the late Major James Hulings, for many years residents of this place. She died at the home of a relative in Fredonia, N. Y., on the 30th ult., where the past few years she has made her home. About 20 years ago she went to live with her son Wm. W. Hulings, in Louisville, Ky. Grandmother Hulings had attained the ripe age of ninety-five years, and up to the time of her death had been quite active. She was ever a woman of kind and gentle disposition, and greatly beloved by all who knew her.

Mr. Ed. Connelly of Chautauque county, N. Y., paid friends in this locality a visit during the week, and took occasion, while in town with his brother, Constable Connelly of Hickory, yesterday, to make us a pleasant call. Ed. used to be one of the boys among us, and although that was many years ago, time, it seems, had not changed him much when once we got in conversation with him. He is now one of the prosperous farmers along the beautiful Lake Chautauque.

A new club, known as the "Neighboring Neighbors," is being formed in several of the cities of the land. Its watchword is, "Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you." Members of the club pledge themselves to surrender one penny to the treasury every time they speak disparagingly of any one. The money thus raised is used for the benefit of the poor. Tionesta has many societies, and the question is, does she need a club of "Neighboring Neighbors"? Who can answer?

Taylor Carson, at one time a resident of this place, died in Pittsburgh on Friday last. Many of our citizens have a pleasant remembrance of Mr. Carson, who was a brother of James G. Carson, now of Nebraska, and will be pained to learn of his death, which was very unexpected to his friends here. He was just recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever, and was able to go out some, and it is supposed he was taken with a sudden relapse. He leaves a wife but no children, and was aged about 44 years.

Our subscribers who have been lately reporting some prolific yields in the way of buckwheat, pumpkins, potatoes, etc., will notice in his letter, in another column, that Maj. B. J. Reid, writing from the new State of Washington, is contributing some timely observations in the same line. 105 bushels of wheat to the acre and turnips that measure three feet in circumference will be found among Maj. Reid's western exhibit, and we are afraid some of his Clarion county friends will have to take a back seat.

The resignation of Secretary of the Commonwealth Charles W. Stone was accepted on Saturday, and he assumed his place in Congress on Monday of this week. His report to the Governor of the doings of his office since his incumbency is an interesting one. During the past two years 13 death warrants and 29 respites have been issued; in the same period 7 death sentences were commuted to life imprisonment, and 49 pardons were granted. 1,871 chapters of different character were granted during that time. The Telegraph says that he retires from official life in Harrisburg with the good wishes of hundreds of warm friends ringing in his ears. Deputy Secretary J. H. Longenecker has been promoted to the vacancy.

Henry M. Stanley was asked by a Philadelphia reporter: "With all your experience, do you consider the efforts of foreign missionaries really have proven a success?" Stanley's reply was: "Yes, sir, most emphatically. I am as certain of it as that I am sitting here talking to you. I am perfectly convinced of the fact that the work of missionaries is successful. It has not always been carried on rightly or managed wisely; nevertheless, they can be shown to-day as something marvelous, considering the country where they have been at work and considering that the people were run drinking savages, accustomed to robbery, fraud and murder whenever it was possible. The Protestants have the strongest hold in Africa so far, but the missionary work ought to be systematically carried on—and it isn't now."

Remainder in Tionesta, Pa., post office, Dec. 2, 1890: Andrew Anderson, John Bigley, Henry Benam, George Fox, Mrs. Marie Rupp, S. G. Santion, John May, Chas. H. Myers, Jas. Myers, Henry Heastler, Jas. Phamer, Mr. Ginsepp.

Important Notice. Owing to the multitude of children in Tionesta and vicinity, it is going to be impossible for me to attend personally to all their wants in the way of Christmas presents, and in order that all the boys and girls may get just what they want and expect, I have made arrangements with H. J. Hopkins & Co. to look after this part of my territory. Considering my knowledge of the wants of the people in this community, and the willingness of this firm to assist me, I am confident that every one will be able to get just what they want and at a lower price than I can afford to distribute it myself.

NEWSY NOTES.

A "shoe social" is one of the latest amusements. All the girls go behind a screen and stick the toes of their shoes out underneath its lower edge. The young men select their partners by chalking their initials on the tempting shoes.

Last week Robert P. Porter, Superintendent of the Census, presented a statement to the Secretary of the Interior, giving the population of the several States and Territories of the United States as finally determined. The verified population of the United States in 1890 is fixed at 62,622,350.

The first reunion of the pioneers of Pithole of the days of '65 and '66 was held in Titusville recently. The surviving members of the old Swiftness Club of Pithole, a number of the survivors of the "Forty Thieves," and many other old knights of the early oil trade, were present and had a glorious time.

The Nicely brothers, Joseph and David, convicted in Somerset county, in May, 1880, of the murder of Herman Umberger, escaped from the jail of that county on Saturday night last, together with two other prisoners. The Nicelys are a tough pair, this being their second escape. They would have been hanged in a short time, as the board of pardons had refused them a rehearing. P. S.—Dave Nicely has been recaptured. He broke an arm and leg in his escape, and had dragged himself to a barn about a mile from the jail.

In Pennsylvania, we find from the annual report of the Commissioner of Pensions, there are 49,575 pensioners. In the United States on June 30th, 1890, there were 57,944 pensioners on the rolls. In this State Philadelphia has 9,797; Allegheny, 2,509; Bradford, 1,582; Lancaster, 1,872; Tioga, 1,243; Erie, 1,184; Luzerne, 1,032, and all the other counties under a thousand. Forest county has 26. Ohio has 57,087 pensioners; New York, 50,206; Pennsylvania, 49,575; Illinois, 39,943; Michigan, 25,853, and the other States less than 25,000 each. There are 25 surviving widows of Revolutionary soldiers on the pension roll.

"Uncle" John Gilson, as he is familiarly called, who lives at Gilson's Ridge, in Eastern Crawford, had a thrilling experience, last Thursday night. He is 91 years old and walked about a mile, on Thursday, to the house of his brother, where he took dinner. He started for home about 3 o'clock, and losing his way, wandered around the woods. At dark his friends became alarmed, and a search was instituted. The search was continued all of Thursday night, and Friday up till 2 p. m., when he was found in a sheep shed. He was alive, but fearfully chilled and exhausted. He will probably recover, but it is a miracle that he did not perish.—Mendellite Reporter.

Seventy-five days ago Jefferson county was a vast wilderness, with only a few settlers. The woods were filled with wild animals, among which were bears, wolves, elk, deer, panthers, wildcats, etc. Among these the panther was reckoned the king, and at the same time perhaps the most cowardly. From the branches of a tree he would attempt to spring upon his intended victim, but missing his aim he would act like a beast conquered in fight. It is told that as a Dutchman was driving his wagon through our woods in the early days of the county, along a primitive road, a panther sprang from an overhanging tree upon him, but missing its aim lit in his wagon bed. He seized it by the tail with one hand, while with the other he belabored it with his whip, the animal covering down till his brains were knocked out with an ax in the hands of the man's son. Once in the early history of the county a panther leaped in at a window to seize a babe. A young woman entered the room with a scream, and it let the babe drop, and fled. At another time one had got as far as the fence with a babe, when the beast dropped the baby and escaped to the woods.—Brookville Democrat.

The discovery of a cure for consumption by Professor Koch, of Berlin, has agitated the entire world, and no wonder, for it is certain to cure this most dreaded disease—hitherto regarded as incurable—it will be the greatest discovery of the age. But, as yet, this cure has not been tried in the United States, for the reason that the lymph used in the cure for injection purposes has not yet reached this country, nor will it be for months to come. Secretary Blaine himself, in the interest of eminent American physicians, cabled to Berlin in the hope of securing the lymph and received an answer from the American Charge d'Affaires that Professor Koch finds it impossible to supply the demand in his own practice and that of his personal professional friends, and therefore cannot send any to this country. Furthermore, he has not sent any lymph to America and any statement to the contrary is made with intent to deceive. The man who advertises that he has secured some of Koch's lymph simply lies, and should be dealt with as an impostor, and the poor dupes upon whom he imposes should lose no time in bringing him to justice. Such statements are fraudulent, and it is first-world race to make them, for they are made for the express purpose of duping those who are ready to take any and all chances to ward off the disease, and who are all the more easily duped. The use of bogus lymph, under pretense that it is made by Koch, may be attended with very serious consequences, and sufferers from consumption should be very guarded.—Harrisburg Telegraph.
