Conrt Minutes.

Court called Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. After the usual routine of hearing Constables' returns, charging of the grand jury, etc., the trial list was gone over.

The first case in which both parties were ready for trial was that of Benjamin Fogle vs. O. F. Landers. It was a case of trespass in which the plaintiff claimed damage for cutting of trees. The jury returned a verdict for plaintiff, awarding him $8075 single damage.

The Kaster vs. Welsh case was called yesterday afternoon and will doubtless occupy all of to-day in its trial.

CRIMINAL.

Commonwealth vs. Wm. Eck charged with the larceny of a watch, the jury found defendant guilty as charged. Peter Kuhl, prosecutor. Com. vs. Wm. Cunningham Jr., charged with assault with intent to kill, the jury found defendant not guilty, and placed the costs on the prosecutor, Wm. Cunningham Sr.

Com. vs. Robert and Dell Green, Walter Cubbins and John Murphy, misdemeanor, grand jury returned a true bill. Isaac Jones, prosecutor.

Teachers' Institute.

The following instructors and lecturers have been engaged for the Teachers' Institute, to be held in the Court House at Tionesta, commencing Monday, December 29, 1890, at 2 o'clock P. M. and closing Friday, Jan-

Supt. C. J. Swift, of Elk county, and Prof. L. L. Himes of the Clarion State Normal School, will be our principal instructors, and will be with us the entire week.

Miss Mattie Readdy of Oil City will have charge of the music at both the day and evening sessions.

Mrs. Mary B Hunt, Superintendent of the National W. C. T. U., is engaged to lecture Monday evening. Having a national reputation, her insure a full house.

Hon, Will Cumback will lecture Tuesday evening on "The Invisible ome People."

"Among the grand things of the uly meetings, which later visitors may well regret having failed to hear, was the effort of Hon. Will Cumback, of Indiana. The Mason and Dixon Line runs along the parallel of latitude 30° and 43', 26° and S', separating Pennsylvania from Maryland. It was drawn by two distinguished English surveyors, Charles Mason and Jeromiah Dixon, who began their work in 1763 and finished it in 1767. The line is marked by stones set at intervals of five miles ; each having the arms of Lord Baltimore engraved on one side and those of the Penn family upon the other. Besides these large stones set to mark each fifth mile, smaller stones were set at the end of each mile, these having a letter P engraved apon one side and a letter M on the other; these intended as initial letters of Pennavivania and Maryland. All of these stones were engraved in England. The

By far the most valuable business calendar for 1891, and entirely unique in design, is the Columbia Cycle Calendar and Stand, issued by the Pope Mfg. Co., of Boston, Mass. The Calendar is in the form of a pad containing 366 leaves, each 54x2? inches; one for each day of the year, to be torn off daily, and one for the entire year. At the lower end of each leaf is a blank or memoranda, and as the leaves are only fastened at the upper end, any leaf can be exposed. No stub is left when the leaves are torn off. The pad rests upon a stand, containing pen rack and pencil holder, and when placed upon the desk the entire surface of the date leaf is brought directly and kept constantly before the eye, making it impossible to overlook date or memoranda. The stand is made of stained wood, mounted with raised letters in brass, thus forming an ornamental paper weight. The day of the week and the day of the year, together with the number of days to come, are given, and each slip bears a short paragraph pertaining to cycling and kindred subjects.
