From Oil City comes the news of another terrible nitro glycerine explo-Co, on Two Mile Run, about four miles from the city. The opfortunate victim this time was Eugene Rew, who had followed the hazardous business of well shooting for fifteen years, and was one of the most careful and trustworthy men in the company's employ Of urse the cause can only be sur mis . The Blizzard gives these facts:

r nearly a thousand feet suriding the point of the explosion remains of Rew were scattered on the snow and in the branches of the shrubbery and trees The fact that he was the man who had driven to the magazine and that some of the fragments of clothing, including pieces of a rubber coat, were all that could be found to identify him. His body was literally blown to pieces. The largest part discovered was a piece of one foot, which was found by Mr. Dibble fully 300 feet from where the wagon stood. And yet, notwithstanding the fact that the body was blown into thousands of pieces, so peculiar was the power of the explosive in its fearful execution, that scarcely a drop of blood was any where to be seen.

The magazine is in a hollow a few rods from the road and into this hollow Rew had evidently driven his team and backed the wagon up to the magazine for the cans. Though the manner in which the accident occurred will never be known, the supposition is that in loading the cans, or after he had them loaded, through some slip of his own or of the wagon or horses, two of the caus must have struck each other, and that as glycerine is partic gating the truth of this assertion, we ularly sensitive on a morning as cold the result. Each player takes a dinges. The winks are divided equally, likewise the dufficities. Take a wink, put diedy on the wink, make it jump into the wink-pot-if you can. If you succeed you are entitled to a dufficity, and for every wink you jump into the ding-pot from the duwink you count a fictiddledy, and continue so to operate the tonk-winkle upon the pollywog until the points so carried shall equal the sum total of the bogwin multiplied by the puterinktum and added to the contents of the aforesaid wink-pot, or words to that effect, you may be said to have won the game.

Nine-tenths of the unhappy marriages are the result of green human calves being allowed to run at large in society pastures without a muzzle on. They have children before they do mustaches. They are married and the father of twins before they are possessors of two pairs of pants, and the little girls they marry are old women before they are 20. Occasionally one of these gosling's marriages turns out all right, but it is a clear case of luck. If there was a law against young galoots sparking and marrying before they have cut all their teeth, we suppose the little cusses would evade it in some way. But there ought to be a sentiment against it. It is time enough for these bantams to think of finding a pullet when they have raised enough money to buy a bundle of lath to build a hen coop. But they see a girl who looks cunning, and they are afraid there will not be enough to go round, and then they spark real spry, and before they are aware of the sanctity of the marriage relation they are hitched for life, and before they own a cook stove or a bedstead they have got to get up in the night and go for the doctor, so frightened that they run themselves out of breath and abuse the doctor because he does not run too. And when the doctor gets there, there is not linen enough in the house to wrap up the baby .- Peoria Call.
