G. W. KERR,

Death of Jacob Maze.

It is with much sincere regret that zen the circle of whose friends was limited alone by the number of his acquaintances,-Jacob Maze, of Clarington, this county. He died on Tuesday, May 19th, 1891, of typhoid fever, aged 46 years, 4 months and 1 day. Mr. Maze was one of the solid quest will be pretty generally complied men of the county, esteemed for his sterling worth in the community where he so long made his home, and from which he will be most keenly missed. The appropriation to common schools was reported from committee at $4,000,000 per ansum, just double the present appropriation. This was amended in the House to $5,000,000 per annum. This amendment was first proposed by your member, after consultation with State auand Family. thorities, but Chairman Fruit, of the appropriation committee, caught on and got recognized first and offered it. The Boyer Revenue bill as it passed the House provides the following revenue in comparison with the present as applied to local taxation : Counties now get $550,000; under this bill they get $1,700,000. Schools get now $2, 000,000; under the bill now passed $5,000,000. As to the effect the following will illustrate: The cost of common school tuition in the state last year was in round numbers $7,000,000, taking the State's appropriation of $5,-000,000, it will be easily seen what a relief to local taxation it affects. More than this, as stated by your member 1.
