LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Oil market closed yesterday 60t.
—Miss Lillian Miles of Fagundas, will teach the Whig Hill school this winter.

—Rev. J. V. McAninch is attending a meeting of Presbytery at Brookville, this week.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hart of Oil City, were with Tionesta friends during the past week.

—Hallowe'n occurs next Saturday night, but it is scarcely worth while to remind the boys of it.

—Ed. Haslet of Franklin, was the guest of his cousins, R. L. and James, during the past week.

—Mrs. E. A. Hotchkiss, of Neiltown, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hillard over Sunday last.

—J. H. Eden is putting the finishing touches on Mr. Shawkey's office building next to the hotel.

—Hopkins & Co. will open up another invoice of Jackets and Newmarkets this week.

—Kingsley Township has put a copy of Webster's New International Dictionary in each of her schools this fall a commendable step.

—Rev. Shoup has moved to Sharpville, Mercer county, where he will be stationed for the next year. He has several congregations to serve in that vicinity.

—A neat new fence has taken the place of the old one in front of the Bunner property, occupied by Dr. Siggins. Geo. Zucendel is the artist who did the job.

—Mrs. W. W. Grove is receiving almost daily new acquisitions to her millinery stock, and invites an inspection of the same by the ladies, as it is impossible to enumerate in a small space. Call early.

—George Raab expects to go to Oil City to day where he has taken a position in the barber shop of the late Harry Zesky. His shop here will be conducted by "Tricks" Anderson during his absence.

—The oldest son of Charles Leech of Marienville, died on the 17th inst., of diphtheria. He was 12 years of age. Mr. and Mrs. Leech have friends in this community who will learn with sorrow of their great affliction.

—Republicans, are you doing your part toward bringing out the vote next Tuesday. There must be no apathy in this matter. It is what the Democrats are counting on but we must disappoint them. Get out the vote.

—The Free Methodist society has purchased the house and lot of Corb. Agnew, located in the North ward, and is fitting it up for a parsonage. As soon as completed it will be occupied by Rev. Sager, the new minister of this charge.

—The big mastiff dog belonging to Geo. Raab is no more. He bit one of C. K. Bradbury's little girls last Sabbath, and Geo. ordered him shot. The child is recovering without much apparent trouble, the injury not having been as severe as at first supposed.

—Adam might have been the "goodliest man of men since born" but it doesn't appear that he ever did anything especially good for his large family. What a lasting blessing he might have left behind if he could have made Salvation Oil and kill pain.

—Lawrence & Smeathugh started ten boats for the lower markets on the little river in the river last week, but the water thinned out so by the time they reached Oil City that the pilots thought best to lay up till there was water enough to make the sailing a little easier. Collins & Co. started several barges which were keeping in the channel at last accounts. Six or eight inches more water would let all out nicely.

—A nine-year-old daughter of Aaron Feustemaker, whose farm is located on the Tylersburg road about four miles from this place, received quite a severe kick from a colt yesterday. The parents were considerably alarmed owing to the severe pain which the child was suffering, but when a physician arrived he could not discover any serious injury, and it is hoped she will recover without much trouble.

—Grove Bros., on the Frank Monday farm, near Hunter Station, are down in the vicinity of 1,400 feet with their well. They think, possibly, they have passed the third sand, but propose to be sure of it before they abandon the venture. We admire the pluck of the "boys."

—This seems to be a good year for big turkeys. Squire Hoover, whose farm is on Hunter Run, brought four to town Saturday, one of which he left with us, the aggregate weight of the four being 72 pounds. He also left with us a nicely formed sugar beet which weighed 9 pounds. If this sort of thing keeps up it won't be long till Forest county can put up as good a fair as most of 'em, so far as big vegetables are concerned, anyway.

—The proprietary medicines of A. D. Rice & Sons, Portville, N. Y., are becoming extensively known throughout the country as among the best on the market. One of the members of the firm is well known to many of our readers, Mr. B. H. Rice, formerly with Wheeler, Dusenbury & Co., Newtown Mills. He informs us their business is growing very rapidly, and all owing to the merits of the medicines, as they have scarcely begun to push them to the front. Their adv. will be found in the REPUBLICAN.

—Mr. S. J. Wolcott expects in a few days to move to his leases, up in the Cropp field. He has a house built on the Powell lease which he will occupy and thus be close to his place of business. They will drill no more this winter unless the price of oil should take a good spurt upward, in which case they might do some drilling before spring. Their production is now 60 to 75 barrels daily. Patterson will finish one more well before shutting down for the winter. We are sorry to lose Mr. Wolcott from our town, but glad to know he is not going far away.

—Game is not plenty this fall, compared with former years. Pheasants are scarce than we have ever known them to be, which is partially accounted for by the vast forest fires during the nesting season, thus destroying hundreds of young birds. Squirrels are not abundant, but now and then some hunter blunders onto a fair string. Venison seems to have become a thing of the past. Rabbits, which come in on the first of November, are fairly plenty, but there isn't much game about them anyway. And so on the whole one may beat around the usual game haunts for a good while and not be overloaded in the evening, excepting possibly with hunger, fatigue and shattered expectations.

THE NEW CURE FOR INEBRIETY.

There is no longer any doubt of the efficacy of the Keely cure for drunkenness. A remarkable percentage of the patients—in fact, nearly all the cases treated—are cured permanently of the drink habit by Dr. Keely's treatment at his institution, Dwight, Ill. Thousands testify to having been freed, not only from the thralldom of the appetite for alcoholic drink, but from the opium and morphine habit.

The principal feature in Dr. Keely's treatment is the administration of bi-chloride of gold by hypodermic injection. Mr. H. W. Lane, a prominent resident and business man of Russell, Warren county, Pa., who has been at Dwight and taken the treatment, writes an interesting letter to the Warren Ledger. The following, gathered from this letter, may be of use to some who are struggling in the coils of an awful appetite:

Mr. Lane, having read a letter from Col. Mines, a prominent newspaper man of New York, telling how he had been cured by the treatment, wrote in June last to F. H. Garfield, the Erie passenger agent at Jamestown, N. Y., inquiring as to railroad rates. Mr. Garfield sent this earnest reply: "I am making special rates to people going to Dwight; don't let anything stop your going, and you will always bless the day you went." Mr. Lane went to Dwight on the 8th of July. He writes—

The regular course of treatment lasts three weeks, except in extraordinary cases, when another week is added. I stayed four weeks, although dismissed as cured at the end of three. My advice would be to anyone who could possibly afford it to stay the fourth week, as it will give him entire confidence in himself and in the treatment, which he may lack at the end of the third.

The cure is bi-chloride of gold, but just how it is administered is a secret known only to Dr. Keely and the initiated. You take a medicine internally every two hours while awake, and receive four hypodermic injections daily at the office, but no patient knows whether the bi-chloride of gold is in one or the other.

While taking the treatment the patient is given liquor as long as he desires it, which is but usually more than four days, although I have known extraordinary cases where the desire remained for ten days, but such cases are the exception, not the rule. All that is required of the patient is to report at the office four times a day for the injection, and to behave at all times as a gentleman. The only punishment for disobedience is dismissal from the institute. This may seem to you a small thing, but I assure you it is what none would willingly undergo, after having been there three days—no matter how much against his will he came there. I am in receipt of a letter from a Warren gentleman now at the institute, who says: "I have been here three days, and there is not money enough in Warren to induce me to leave until I am told I can go."

The town of Dwight is on the Chicago & Alton road, 73 miles from Chicago. It has a population of 1,800. This includes the 600 to 800 patients at the Keely Institute. The people there are very social and have faith in drunkards. There is not a house in the town locked night or day. Society is purely democratic. A rich man and a poor man are on a common footing. A friend of Mr. Lane expressed it: "I know of only two places on earth where all men are equal; one is here and the other in the grave." "One meets there," says Mr. Lane, "all classes, trades and professions—lawyers, doctors, clergymen, farmers, mechanics and (you may dispute it) editors. I have been in the line between a man worth his millions and a man not worth a hundred; between a scoundrel and a judge, a doctor and a minister; all are treated exactly alike."

Dr. Keely is assisted by a corps of able physicians. Among his assistants is Dr. J. E. Blaine, formerly of Tionesta, Pa., and more recently from Chicago, where he gave up a $10,000 practice to accept a position on the staff of Dr. Leslie E. Keely.

Mr. Lane says the cures of the liquor, opium and tobacco habits at the institute are permanent. He writes: "Of 1,062 patients since April, only six have gone back—a very small percentage. I would say a man was doing a wonderful thing to take 1,000 drunkards and make even 500 of them good, sober citizens. What, then shall we say of the man who made 1,056? Every day I saw men who had gone through Dr. Keely's hands from one to six years ago, and who never had the least desire to go back to the old life."

As to cost. Fare to Dwight and return may be put at about $20. Board ranges at $6 to $18 per week. Three weeks' board at an average, say, $36. Three weeks' treatment, $75. Thus the curative course may be taken by patients from this latitude for about $130.

NEWSY NOTES.

The tomb of the late Hon. Wm. L. Scott, in the Erie cemetery, is guarded by two men, at night.

There are 2,338 school districts, 24,923 teachers, and 969,506 pupils in the schools of Pennsylvania.

Francis Henry, one of Warren's most prominent citizens, died on Wednesday of last week, and was buried on Friday.

According to latest reports, there are 1,623 lodges of Odd Fellows in this state, making the Pennsylvania Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., the largest grand body of any similar society in the world, and containing nearly 100,000 members of subordinate lodges.

Sanol, owned by Robert Bonner, is now the queen of the turf, she having on Saturday beaten the record of Maud S. a clean half second, going over a kite-shaped track in California in 2:08 2/5. It is now claimed, however, that she must beat the record, 2:08 2/5, on a regulation track before she is justly entitled to succeed Maud S.

Saturday, the 17th inst., was the centennial anniversary of the first sale of lots in the city of Washington, the capital of the United States. The first sale took place Oct. 17, 1791, and speculators came from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other places to attend the sale. About 1,200 lots were sold, at an average of about $200 for a lot 30 feet front by 150 or 140 deep.

Observation parties are becoming popular. They are conducted as follows: In a room separate from where the guests are a table is set, on which is a tray containing from twenty-five to fifty small articles—such as a thimble, scissors, bodkin, pen-knife, coffee spoon, spool of thread, etc. One by one the guests are taken into the room to inspect the tray. After all have seen it the room is shut up and the subject dropped. For two hours the time is taken up with games or in any way the hostess may fancy. After this each guest is given paper and pencil and called upon to write from memory a list of the articles on the tray. Comparing lists is then read with the actual contents of the tray, and a prize is given for the best list, and a booby prize for the worst one.

The St. Petersburg (Russia) correspondent of the Standard says that the approach of frost has caused a renewal of the crises of distress. The Novosti estimates that twenty millions of people are without food, and statistics prove conclusively that in many places speculators get extraordinary prices. A Sanari paper declares that Jews are angels compared with the Kookaks who are in the habit of reducing those in their power to the lowest stage of poverty. Incidents showing the terrible distress of the people continue to be recorded. A poor woman of Batielino, on returning home from a neighboring village, whether she had gone to try to purchase food, found all her children dead, and a post mortem examination being made their stomachs were found filled with rags and earth. Many villages are completely deserted. In the district of Perma, one-half of the population of Reazan has died of hunger and disease. An odious traffic is carried on in woman's hair. The best heads realize a crown a piece.

—Geo. M. Walter, Messenger of the Adams Express Company, Baltimore, Md., says: "Having used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for the past ten years in my family, I wish to say that I consider it the best Cough Syrup I ever used. It has cured my children of cough several times and saved me many a doctor's bill."

—By the wagon load! Hopkins & Co. have just received a wagon load of those "Olivett" Shoes. Price $2.50. They are the nobbiest, best shoe ever sold in this town. See them. It.
