Pleasant Installation Ceremonies.

A pleasanter event it would be took place at the A. O. U. W. ball last Wednesday evening. The occasion was the annual installation of officers of the Woman's Relief Corps, and of Capt. Stow Post. The ladies of the Corps had invited their husbands, and the G. A. The attendance for the past month was not what it should have been; by glancing at the above report you will see, that while there were one hundred and fifty-eight pupils enrolled, the average daily attendance was only one hundred and thirty; that is, twenty-eight pupils were out of school every day during the month. True, some were out of school because of sickness, but too many allowed a very poor excuse to detain them at home. No pupil should stay out of school a single day except on account of sickness. Each pupil should go to school as regularly as the merchant opes to his place of business or the professional man to his office. That merchant or professional man who cares so little about his business or his profession that he only goes to his place of business or to his office three or four days in the week, and then is never there to attend to the details of the opening of the business or to meet the first visitor of the morning is certain to find difficulties in his financial progress. While school lasts each person who is enrolled should make going to school a business.

What is true of any other business is true of the school. Regularity and promptness are the first essentials to success. Some years ago the board made a rule, which rule is still in force, that every pupil must be in his place at the beginning of each session or bring with him a written excuse from parent or guardian. A study of the above list should be of interest to every patron of the school. We hope that parents will cooperate with the teacher in securing more regularity and promptness on the part of the pupils.

Once a month each pupil in school is expected to take part in the rhetorical exercises. We consider this to be one of the very important departments in the school course, and with but few exceptions each pupil has performed his part willingly. We hope that parents will assist their children in the preparation of this work and encourage them by coming to our Friday afternoon exercises,

We also urge that parents and all interested in the success of the schools will visit the schools and see the work that is being done. T. E. ARMSTRONG, Principal.
