Death of George Setley.

George Setley died at the home of his son S. J. Setley, in Tionesta Borough, at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning, January 19, 1892, aged 88 years and 3 months.

The deceased was born in Oakland Township, Venango County, Pa., October, 1803. He was a son of Jacob and Christine Setley. His father was a farmer and on the farm be was reared until he attained his majority. He received as good an education as the common schools of his boyhood days afforded. In 1854 he came to Tionesta Townskip (then in Venango County) and settled on what has since been known as the Setley Farm, on Hunter Run, There he resided until 1866, when he removed to West Middlesex, in Mercer County. He lived there until 1883, since which time he has made his home in Forest County with his sons, S. J., and W. S. Setley. Four children survive him. S. J., and W. S. Setley of Tionesta Borough, Mrs. R. A. McIntyre of Franklin, Pa., and Mrs. John Godfrey of Middlesex, Pa. The deceased, until not many months before his death, had good sparkle in the sunlight and moonlight use of all his bodily faculties. He was well preserved for a man of his years. He had been ill about a week previous to his death. He was converted in the M. E. Church when 18 years of age, and from oblivious to the chilly splendor 'round that time until his death, was a firm believer in the doctrines of that body. til he went from Forest County to Middlesex he was a member of the M. Kellettville and Suburbs.

Kellettville is quite a place. To prove it just ask the people up there. And to any person who has not been in the town for a year or so until now the improvement and growth is quite decided. On the side of the creek opposite to Kellettville proper-in fact on the side you come to first as you come to Kellettville approaching it from the direction of civilization, that is, from Tionesta, or Whig Hill, Newtown, or Buck Mills, there is quite a little settlement all by itself, and it calls itself Brooklyn. Still there is nothing stuck up about the place, and it is on quite friendly terms with the old town across the creek. Brooklyn Colorado. has a hotel called the Brooklyn House, kept by Mr. and Mrs. Carter. There is a hotel in the old town also, kept by Mr. Chamberlain. You can get a square meal at either and for a moderate price. On the Brooklyn side there is Tom Corab's new store, and Weller's drug store, and Watson's meat market, and Johnson's combined barber shop and billiard room, and -By this writing, no doubt, many Arnold's blacksmith shop, and the whole lot of houses with people in them. Kellettville has a daily stage to and from West Hickory. It leaves Kellettville about 9 a. m., and then leaves Hickory to return at 4:40 p. m.

Kellettville needs one thing badly to do her justice and that is a daily mail. There is probably one half as much mail matter sent over by stage to be mailed at Hickory as there is mailed at Kellettville. The Kellettville postoffice is thus deprived of so much of its legitimate patronage. And it isn't right that it should be. The ignorance of some folks on

> As intelligent readers know, what is called the potato disease is the action of a minute fungus. It has only recently been discovered that the spores of this fungus do not penetrate the interior of the plant. They mature on the leaves where the attack is first made, and then are carried down the stems by rains to the tubers, where they germinate, and in that way cause the potatoes to rot. Among the most valuable of recent discoveries is the fact that these spores seldom penetrate over four inches in the ground, so that tubers which are that distance from the surface rarely become affected by the disease. This valuable discovery is turned to practical account by earthing up the potatoes as early as possible in the season before the little fungus has had a chance to perfect its spores. The potato tubers are then too deep to be seriously affected. Mechan's Monthly.
