The Republican State Convention will meet in Harrisburg to day, and from present appearances will be largely attended.

It should not be forgotten that David B. Hill is the "young hickory of the Democracy." How he "laid it on" to the New York Republicans they will not be likely to forget very soon.—Florida Times-Union. Yes, but the hickory David has developed into a mouldy and discarded chestnut.—Blissard.

A FACETIOUS Western Republican, in rather a hilarious note to the World on the Rhode Island election, says: "I have heard of an old Indiana Democrat who, when asked after a Republican victory in that State how he accounted for it, answered: 'Oh, d—n 'em, they bought us!' Doubtless about the same explanation will be made by our Rhode Island friends."

The Democratic State met at Harrisburg last Wednesday, and nominated the following ticket: Supreme Judge, Christopher Heydrick, of Franklin; Congress at Large, George A. Allen, of Erie, and Thomas B. Merrill, of Reading. The delegates to the Chicago convention from this district are W. A. Wallace and Thomas Collins. W. A. Hindman is the elector.

The conferees of the Twenty-eighth Congressional district, composed of Clarion, Forest, Elk, Clearfield and Centre, met at Du Bois, on Friday last. A. W. Cook, of this county, and D. C. Oyster, of Elk county, were chosen delegates to the Republican National Convention, and Jesse E. Dale, of Clearfield, was chosen elector. Mr. Cook's conferees were Hons. C. A. Randall, J. B. Agnew, and P. M. Clark, Esq.

The new Congressional Apportionment bill in New York has been signed by the Governor. It is one of the most infamous gerrymanders ever conceived, and was made for the express purpose of throwing certain favorites of Hill into safe Democratic districts, regardless of how these districts were formed or the population therein. The Republicans of New York will have something to say at the polls this year that will result in a repeal of this gerrymandering next year.

The nominees of the Republicans made in Warren last Monday are generally accepted and acquiesced in by the rank and file of the party, barring those who are hunting around for something to kick about or who see chances for boodle disappearing.—Tidoute News. The Warren county kicker who comes whining round trying to upset things this year should be so fearfully and thoroughly set down on by the decent Republicans as to make him an object of political scorn and contempt for the next quarter century.

The Democratic party is the party of gerrymanders. As an apology for the monstrosities in the congressional districts in Wisconsin, Missouri, Michigan, Indiana, Maryland, and the benighted regions of the Black Belt, they point to the redistricting law recently passed by the Ohio legislature. This provides for sixteen Republicans and five Democrats in Congress on a normal vote. If the State were to go Democratic by ten thousand plurality the probability is that it would return eleven Democratic Congressmen to ten Republicans. In the vote which returned fourteen Democrats and seven Republicans to the present Congress from Ohio, and which the present law repeats, the Republican plurality on the total vote for congressmen in the State was 40,000. The device was planned to return one more Democratic and one less Republican, but it slipped a cog. Major McKinley, put in a district with a normal Democratic plurality of over 2,900, was defeated by less than 900 plurality and was next year made governor of the State.

In his inaugural address he called attention to the injustice and unfairness of political gerrymanders, and the Republican legislature, taking him at his word, have sought to make a just and fair redistricting.

How Tin is Made.

A great deal has been said about tin plate factories. Without knowing what one is talking about one's judgment is likely to be run away with by one's imagination. For an example see most any Free Trade paper of the present day. Now here is a description of a tin plate factory which we submit for the benefit of our readers: The tinning process as carried on in Wales is very simple. It has undergone no change or improvement in a hundred years. A tin plate factory consists of a set of six huge open pots. One contains water, another sulphuric acid, another palm oil, and the other three contain molten metal consisting of tin and lead in various proportions. A plate of soft steel is passed into the water and then into the sulphuric acid to clean it. It is passed into the water again to wash off the acid; then it is passed into the palm oil which serves as a flux, and then a pair of tongs carries it into the molten metal, and it is tinned. The entire process occupies not more than 15 minutes. It is all done by 3 men, 3 boys, and a pair of big iron tongs. But it is a process of labor. There is no machinery about it except the pair of tongs, and a set of rollers through which the plates are passed after they have been tinned for the purpose of scraping off the surplus tin, and of leaving the surface clean and bright. Every stage from the vat of water to the rolling process, requires manual labor, and the manual labor in Wales is supplied for the most part by girls and women, and costs from 50 to 75 per cent. less than it costs here. In passing the McKinley bill the question before Congress was whether it was worth our while to place such a duty on foreign tin plate as would enable American labor to engage in the tinning industry in competition with the cheap labor of Wales.

The unequivocal declaration of the Pennsylvania Democratic State Convention in favor of free trade in raw materials and free trade in everything manufactured by American wage-workers under the sneak-thief provision "with due regard to the interests of American labor," is part of an agreement between the Pennsylvania Democracy and the Democratic allies of the Cobden Club and British importers, to sacrifice the industrial interests of Pennsylvania to the free trade movement by making it appear that Pennsylvania, the great protection State, is in favor of a reversal of the policy which built up her industries in connection with those of the whole country.

We use Alcohol

pure alcohol to make Wolff's Acme Blacking. Alcohol is good for leather. It is good for the skin. Alcohol is the chief ingredient of Cologne, Florida Water, and Bay Rum, the well known face washes. We think there is nothing too costly to use in a good leather preservative. Acme Blacking retails at 20c. and at that price sells readily. Many people are so accustomed to buying a dressing or blacking at 5c. and 10c. a bottle that they cannot understand that a blacking can be cheap at 20c. We want to meet them with cheapness if we can, and to accomplish this we offer a reward of

for a recipe which will enable us to make Wolff's Acme Blacking at such a price that a retailer can profitably sell it at 10c. a bottle. We hold this offer open until Jan. 1st, 1893.
