THE BAKER ELECTION LAW.

In supplement form we present this week the Baker ballot law, under which elections will hereafter be held in Pennsylvania. The act requires close study to comprehend it and every voter should familiarize himself with its provisions.

With the law we also show a specimen ballot about such as will be used next fall. The Tidouite News, which sent out a similar supplement recently, gave this good synopsis or explanation of the new-fangled way of doing it:

These ballots are to be bound in book form and each voter will receive a ticket torn out of said book at the point where the dotted line shows at the bottom of the ballot, the filing and numbered stub being left in the book. This specimen ballot is incomplete only in that it does not show, as the law requires, the filing on its back giving the election district in which the ticket is to be voted together with the date of such election and a fac simile of the County Commissioners signatures. Also on the upper corner of the ballot, across said corner is to be a printed diagonal line as a guide to folding down the corner. The said corner is also to be gummed on its edge so that when the Judge of Election numbers the ballot, as required by the Constitution, the corner may be folded down and stuck fast thus hiding the number so placed by the Judge.

After the voter receives his ballot he retires to one of the voting booths and prepares his ballot, after this fashion: If he desires to vote a straight Republican ticket, it is only necessary to make a cross mark in the blank space to the left of the word "Republican" at the head of that ticket, which indicates his vote for all named under that heading. If, on the contrary, he desires to split his ticket, then in that instance he must check opposite the name on the Republican ticket until he reaches the one he wishes to cut, and then jump over into the Democratic column, and check that nominee. Still further, if he isn't satisfied with any of the nominations he is privileged to write out a ticket in full in the blank space to the right. (It would be a mistake, however, to write out a ticket next fall in the three minutes allowed in a booth.)

But after having prepared your ballot you must fold it up in the same manner as you received it from the Judge, return it to the officer delegated to receive it, and then immediately pass out from behind the guard rail.

In addition to the white ballots bound in book form and designed to be voted, there must also be provided additional ballots on tinted paper, which are intended to be given each voter on request, not for use in voting but simply to allow the voter to study and decide for whom he will vote when he gets his white ballot and retires to the little pen to fix up his ticket.

There are numbers of other provisions regarding spoiled ballots, party watchers, how help can be rendered those unable to prepare their ballots, etc., and the mode of running township elections, the duties of township auditors and a number of solid penal ties for infraction of the law that every man should read and understand himself. In this article we have only tried to outline the general acts required of voters.

OUR STATE CANDIDATES.

HON. JOHN DEAN, President Judge of the Twenty-fourth judicial district, was born in Williamsport, Blair county, Pa., Feb. 15, 1835. His ancestors settled in that county prior to the Revolutionary war. In 1855, he was admitted to the bar. In Oct., 1867, he was appointed District Attorney of Blair county, and the following year was elected to that office for a full term. In 1871 he received the Republican nomination for President Judge of the Twenty-fourth judicial district. In 1881 the bar of the three counties, irrespective of party, united in a request that Judge Dean should be a candidate for re-election. He received both Democratic and Republican nominations in all three counties and was elected without opposition. In 1891 the bar of Blair county united in unanimously requesting him to be a candidate, and he was elected Judge for the third time. Judge Dean is prompt and efficient in the discharge of business, quick to decide and firm when his decision is once made, but he is so courteous and fair in his dealings, both with suitors and attorneys, that he conducts his court with scarcely a jar. He lives in Hollidaysburg and is a public-spirited citizen in every respect, enjoying the esteem and confidence of his friends and neighbors. He is in the prime of life, full of energy and vigor, and is in every way qualified to fill the position of Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, for which he is a candidate.

MAJ. ALEX. M'DOWELL.

Was born in Franklin, Venango county, in 1845, and received a common school education. He learned the printing trade on the first Republican paper in the county. When the rebellion broke out he became one of his country's defenders, enlisting in the One Hundred and Twenty-first Pennsylvania regiment in July, 1862. He carries honorable scars, having been wounded at Gettysburg and severely wounded in the battle of the Wilderness. At the close of the war he bought the paper he had learned his trade on, and published it until 1869. The following year he moved to Sharon and has been in the banking business there ever since. Three times Mercer county unanimously endorsed him for Congress. He has been a member of the Sharon school board for twenty years and is now its President.

GEN. WM. LILLY.

Of Carbon county, is a veteran Republican and well known throughout the State as one of its ablest business men and financiers. He was a member of the legislature in 1850 and was a prominent candidate for Governor at the Republican Convention in 1868. He was a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1873 and distinguished himself by his good judgment and devotion to duty. By his own industry, business ability and foresight he has accumulated a large fortune, and is a generous, big hearted, open handed man, whose gifts to educational and charitable institutions and to the poor and helpless have endeared him to the people of all parties at his home.
