REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE MEETING.

The members of the Republican Committee of Forest County are notified to meet at the Sheriff's office, Tionesta, Monday evening, May 16, 1892, for the purpose of fixing a date upon which to hold the Republican Primaries, and to transact such other business as may be brought before them.

John H. White, Clarion; Joseph Hall, Reddyffe; W. L. Thompson, Nebraska; H. A. Dotterer, Guitonville; J. G. Terrill, Vovinekel; W. C. Allan, West Hickory; Isaac Jones, Fagundus; J. G. Bromley, Stewarts Run; Harvey Lynch, East Hickory; J. J. Haight, Cooper Tract; Charles Griffin, Balltown; James Scherfield, Brookston; Henry Southworth, Etulalia; M. C. Carringer, Marienville; Scott Mooney, Gilfoyle; L. Hoyt, Byrontown; W. E. Brown, Duhring; Otto Rudolph, Newtown Mills; W. B. Heath, Starr; George Osgood, Whig Hill; Charles Clark, Tionesta; Henry Blum, Tionesta; Fred. Shultz, Tionesta.

It looks very much as if there is nothing the matter with that Grandfather's Hat. It is covering the man who will be nominated at Minneapolis.

TOM PLATT, of New York, is in Washington, and the newspaper correspondents have been thrown into convulsions. They have an idea that Platt really amounts to something in Republican politics.

A PAIR from the Meadville Gazette: Some of the newspapers are proposing Reed and Rusk as the Republican national ticket. Read and Write have been the most successful against the Democrats heretofore.

The schooner Grover Cleveland went down in a storm the other day. This is not the first Grover Cleveland schooner which went down.

ILLINOIS Republicans came to the front manfully in State Convention yesterday, and instructed their delegate to the National Convention to vote for President Harrison's renomination. That was the proper course to pursue. President Harrison's administration has been a clean American one, and there is a demand from all over the country that he be kept in office. It would have been greatly to the credit of every Republican State in the Union if they had instructed their delegates to vote for him and secure his nomination on the first ballot.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The Henry George book, which the Democrats in Congress tried to make a campaign document and have printed free on the Government presses at Washington, is something more than a free trade treatise. It argues indeed for absolute free trade, but Mr. George wants that result as a means, not an end. He would repeal all tariffs on imported goods in order to compel the Government to raise all the money for its support by taxes on land. His theory is to exempt all improvements, even the most costly city palaces and business blocks, and puts the whole tax on land and make it equal to the full rental value of the real estate. This would be a fat thing for rich men with fortunes invested in stocks and bonds, and also for those who own great business blocks which command high rents. In such properties the land represents only a small part of the investment. In the country, however, where farms spread over many acres and the improvements are comparatively inexpensive and constitute a smaller proportion of the total valuation, the land tax would be disastrously severe. Yet on a deliberate vote in Congress the Democratic party has declared its urgent desire to go to extreme lengths to propagate and cultivate the doctrine of absolute free trade and the destruction of private property in land.—Clarion Republican.

More About Tin Plate.

The following letter, which clearly explains itself, gives information about the tin plate industry heretofore unknown except to very few people. It is worth a careful perusal:

N. & G. TAYLOR CO., M'FG'RS OF TIN PLATE, PHILADELPHIA, MAY 2, '92.

Dear Sir:—We notice in your issue of the 20th an article headed "How Tin is Made," and would say while your description is very short it gives an idea of the manufacture by the old fashioned process, which of course, is the best and most reliable, and by which process we feel that the finest plate can only be made; but when we tell you that 75 per cent. of the output of tin plate is by the acid flux process, you will realize that there has been a great change in the making of this article and that the output by the acid flux process does not compare with the oil process.

The acid flux is used in many patent machines, some of which do not occupy a space of more than 4 feet square and are worked by two boys, one standing in front and the other at the side of a pot which contains metal. On one side there is a cast iron partition in which the acid flux floats on top of the metal. Boy number 1 takes the sheets from the water, passes them through the acid flux down into the metal where they are caught in a rack. Boy number 2, turning a handle, raises the rack which brings the edge of the sheet between the rolls. These carry it out and it is finished. The rolls revolve in palm oil which is floating on top of the metal on one side of the pot, but the quantity is so small that it really is of no benefit to the plate. As these boys pass about 13 sheets per minute you will realize how quickly the plates are made by this process.

As far as the value is concerned, you can judge when we tell you that the cheap coke plates, such as used in making cans, are said to contain 11 lbs. of coating per box, which covers a surface of 435 square feet.

As there have been a great many improvements in the machine used for making plates by the above process, we are well satisfied that before long you will find the American ingenuity far surpass previous results, and that tin plate can be made in this country to successfully compete with the foreign article even though the extra duty be removed.

It is the universal ignorance of what tin plate really is that causes the many ridiculous publications on the subject, but as the industry is growing, turning out plates as fine as made abroad, it will not take a great while for the American people to realize it.

Very truly yours, N. & G. TAYLOR CO.

—Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that State during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. 50 cent bottles for sale by Proper & Doutt, druggists. apr.
