LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

No Paper Next Week.

There'll be no paper issued from this office next week, cause—Fourth of July. All kinds of business in our line will be transacted, however, besides the taking in of money, should any feel like "squaring up," and we could celebrate with much greater éclat if such a notion were to strike a number of our patrons.

Oil market closed yesterday 52 1/2.

No paper from this office next week.

Miss Maud Brennan is home from Hamilton, Ontario, on vacation.

Mr. J. H. Foreman of Washington, Pa., is visiting his mother here.

Gas fires were quite comfortable yesterday morning, for the first time in six weeks.

George Robinson and Forest Boyd are home from school for the summer vacation.

The D. M. Osborne Mowing Machines at $40. Three of them left at Scowden & Clark's.

Wild strawberries are at their best now, and wild strawberries beat tame ones out of sight.

The river is about as low as it has been this season, and yet high enough for running boats and barges.

Excursion to the Thousand Islands, Saturday, July 9th. See particulars elsewhere in this issue.

George F. Watson moved his family to Galinas mills last Thursday, where they will spend the summer.

Judge Proper's family is entertaining relatives from Allegheny City, Mrs. Wm. Keown and Miss Cornelius Hill.

René slipped up to Tidoute last Saturday and showed the boys up there how to play ball, and taking the game by a score of 9 to 5.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tate, mother of Miles W. Tate, Esq., a former citizen of Tionesta, died at the home of her son in Meadville, on the 14th inst.

Fruit trees of most every kind will have to be propped up this year to save them from breaking down under the loads they'll have to bear.

There were more Democrats in town yesterday than we've seen together in a year. Enough almost to scare a Republican not accustomed to such events.

The band boys would have you remember them on the Fourth. Recreation will be provided for all who patronize them at their picnic grounds at the upper end of town.

One week from next Sunday communion services will be held in the Presbyterian church. Rev. Dr. Elder of Clarion, will be present and assist Rev. McAninch in the services.

Never was the prospect for a great berry crop in this section more promising than at this time. Should the weather be favorable from this on the blackberry yield will be something marvelous.

Messrs. Scowden & Clark have three D. M. Osborne Mowers yet on hand, which they will sell for $40 each. This is certainly within the reach of any farmer, and at that price no farmer can afford to borrow or hire.

Ex-Surveyor of Forest county, H. C. Whittekin has been lying quite ill at his home in Conneaut, Ohio, from a sunstroke received a week or ten days ago, but is now in a fair way to recovery, his friends will be glad to learn.

The Junior Base Ball Club will give an ice cream festival on the Fourth of July, for the benefit of the club. Open house will be kept during the entire day and evening, and the boys respectfully solicit the patronage of the public.

The "kite track" at Meadville, is rapidly gaining national fame as the fastest trotting course in the United States. On July 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, the grand races will take place on these grounds, and on the 4th, Sunol, the fastest trotting war the world has ever known, will appear. The event promises to be the greatest in horse racing this section has ever seen.

—Mr. K. C. Heath has purchased the meat market in the Borough building, recently owned by C. A. Folwell, where he will keep all kinds of meats, poultry, vegetables, &c. He respectfully solicits a portion of the public patronage.

—J. H. Hardison will shortly depart for the State of Indiana, where he has contracted to drill a number of wells, and may move his family there. James Canfield will go with him to work on the wells. Tionesta would be sorry to lose these genial people as citizens.

—Tidoute will have a good celebration of the Fourth, having completed arrangements for an old-fashioned blowout. The ball game between our club and the Tidoute team, on the latter's grounds ought to be an interesting one, and doubtless will be.

—Only a few more days till the Fourth. The boys are laying up their small change, while the older ones are figuring the cost of a trip out, and taking a census of their pile of "shekels" to see how long and far they'll go—no doubt. May all have a good time, and a little left when the day is past.

—A report that a bicycle would be given for 3,000 old postage stamps has been started. Envelopes that have been laid away for many years are dragged from their resting place and the stamps torn off. Who made the offer or whether it is bonafide or not seems to be unknown, and the whole fable is more than likely a delusion and an snare.

—A heavy hailstorm passed over the region of country south or east of Tionesta creek commencing near Nebraska and extending several miles up the creek, on Monday afternoon. It is said hail as large as hen's eggs fell, accompanied by wind. At Warren many hundred windows were demolished and other property destroyed. Aside from a pretty heavy shower and some wind this section escaped, the main storm seeming to divide and pass on both sides of us.

—Charles M. Whiteman has purchased the Kirshartz cigar factory and will crowd the business during the coming season for all there is in it. He has rented of Mr. Agnew the room next the Lawrence House, which is finely adapted for the business, and will soon have a good force of first class workmen engaged in turning out the high brand of cigars for which this factory has become noted. Mr. Whiteman is a rusher, and will undoubtedly make a success of the cigar business in this section.

—The veteran soldier will be struck by a sense of the futility of the years as he recalls the fact that it is 30 years ago to day since the famous Seven Days' Battles began on the Virginia Peninsula, says the Franklin News, of last Saturday. They came in this order: Oak Grove on June 25, Mechanicsville on the 26th, Gaines' Mill on the 27th, Golding's Farm on the 28th, Savage Station on the 29th, Charles City Cross Roads on the 30th and Malvern Hill on July 1. Those were probably the most trying days the volunteers ever saw. Western Pennsylvania suffered a full share of losses. Among those who fell were the famous Col. Sam. Block, of Pittsburg, and Col. John W. McLane of the 83d P. V.

—It is exceedingly difficult to divert attention from the great calamity which recently befell this place. Try as they will to turn the conversation on other topics, in nine cases out of ten, when two or three of our citizens meet and talk with each other for a few minutes, the disaster comes up as the leading subject. The impression made on the minds of those who witnessed that awful instantaneous wave of fire cannot be effaced. It never will be. There are many in Oil City who have not enjoyed an undisturbed night's rest since the awful occurrence. A close observer will notice in many of them with whom he talks a clearly defined desire to drop the subject. They would fain drive the horrible nightmare from their minds. Still, there is something fascinating about the subject, and as the stories of hairbreadth escapes are told the wonder grows that so comparatively few lost their lives. In some quarters there has been something of an inclination manifested to doubt the accuracy of the statements regarding the horrible nature of the fire. These parties should be thankful that they were not eye-witnesses of it. While there have been more fatal calamities, we doubt if there even was one with more superlatively terrible characteristics. All who witnessed the igniting and exploding of that 17,000 barrels of naphtha spread out over the surface of the water which submerged a large portion of the city, saw something the like of which was never witnessed before and probably never will be again. Let us hope not, at least.—Blizzard.

Democrats Nominate.

The Democrats of this county met in convention at the Court House yesterday for the purpose of ascertaining the result of the primaries held last Saturday. T. F. Riteby, Esq., was elected Chairman of the assembly, and Messrs. Edward Keenan and J. C. Confer, Secretaries, whereupon the call of the election precincts was proceeded with, which revealed the fact that all voting places were represented except Berlin's Mills, in Kingsley township, Redelyffe, in Barnett, and Clough's Mills and Gilroye, in Jenks.

The only office for which there was a contest was that of Congress, Dr. J. B. Siggins of the Borough, and Dr. Howard Weber of East Hickory, being pitted against one another. The fight was won by the former by a majority of 26, the result by precincts being as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Votes. Includes Siggins, Weber, Barnett, Mazer, Green, Guitonville, Green, Bowman's Mill, Green, Nebraska, Green, German Hill, Harmony, West Hickory, Harmony, Neilltown, Hickory, East Hickory, Howe, Etalaha, Howe, Balfour, Howe, Cooper Tract, Kingsley, Kelleitville, Kingsley, Whig Hill, Jenks, Marienville, Jenks, Byromtown, Tionesta Borough, Tionesta Township.

J. J. Greenwalt of Barnett township, being the only candidate in the field for Assembly (his opponent, J. B. Watson, having withdrawn) received the unanimous nomination, his vote being 452 in the county.

For the office of County Treasurer there was no candidate announced, and the convention thereupon placed M. E. Graybill of Marienville, in nomination. The same state of affairs existed as to the County Surveyorship, and D. W. Clark of the Borough, was nominated.

For Chairman of the Committee for the ensuing year the convention unanimously chose H. H. McClelland of Marienville, and J. W. Cole of the same place, for Secretary. An assistant chairman was elected in the person of J. W. Landers of the Borough.

The name of J. B. Watson was suggested for Secretary of the committee, which brought Mr. W. to his feet with a speech in which he declined the honor, giving as his reason that he could not, Simon pure Democrat as he was, work well with the newly elected Chairman, whom he almost made out a Mugwump, to the seeming astonishment of those present, who had always looked upon Mr. McClelland as a Democrat from 'way back. Considerable fun was doubtless lost at this point by the absence of the latter gentleman, who might have had something to say had he been present.

The regular order of business having thus been completed, the services were concluded with the reading of the customary resolutions of condolence to the bereaved, and adjournment sine die. Fleece by Sharpers.

Thomas Montgomery, a well-known farmer of Manor township, who recently sold his farm to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. for $27,000, was fleeced out of $5,500 by a couple of sharpers on Wednesday by the old dodge of placing his money in a tin box and the same being left in his trust.

It appears that the sharpers represented themselves as being the heirs of a man named Wallace who owned the farm in Kittanning township on which John McClister lives, and had agreed to sell the same to Montgomery for $6,500. They had arranged a meeting for Wednesday and in the meantime were to prepare the deeds and transfer the same to Montgomery who came to town and drew $6,500 out of the First National Bank and went, as arranged, and met the parties, who had the deeds by this time properly prepared to transfer to Montgomery upon the payment of the $6,500. Mr. Montgomery proposed that they go before Squire McClarren, of Mansville, and have the deeds properly witnessed and execute according to legal codes, to which they readily consented, and putting the deeds in a tin box that was made for the purpose, suggested that Montgomery put his money in with the deeds and they would, after locking the same, give the box to him to take to the Squire's office while they went on out the road to attend to some other business transactions. To this Mr. Montgomery readily consented, and taking the box proceeded to Squire McClarren's office, where he waited until the appointed hour for his men to arrive, but upon their failing to turn up he grew suspicious and opened the box to find that it contained nothing. By this time the sharpers, who had manipulated matters in such a manner as to get the $6,500 were many miles away and Mr. Montgomery a poorer but wiser man.

The sharpers also hired a horse and buggy from George McLaughlin, of Ford City, with which they made good their escape, but they will no doubt desert the same as soon as they reach a convenient place to take the railroad. Mr. Montgomery is making every effort in his power to capture the parties, and although we wish him every success we doubt very much whether he will ever recover one cent of his money. While we sympathize with him, we were greatly surprised and could hardly believe that such an intelligent and shrewd business man could be made the dupe of a couple of sharpers in such an easy manner.—Kittanning Free Press.

NEWSY NOTES.

An exchange pertinently remarks, "If a man kicked himself every time he fell like I, there wouldn't be enough chairs in the house for him to sit on."

The long deferred declaration that the Delaware peach crop is a failure is at hand. It is now said that not more than one-eighth of the full crop will be marketed.

It is gratifying to know from Secretary Edge, of the State Board of Agriculture, that the yield of wheat in Pennsylvania this year will exceed that of last year. This means a further continuance of that prosperity that always accompanies good crops.

Here's a pointer for the cigarette smoker. Dr. Keeley says: "The cigarette habit brings confusion to the brain and heart, and a train of ills from which it is hard to recover, even though you stop the habit. I will never treat a man who persists in using the cigarette. It results in insanity and death."

Mrs. Brookins' residence at Bradford, says the Era, was struck by lightning on the 11th inst., shattering a window into fragments. The lightning ran along the wall in a fantastic fashion and in its track, concealed behind a looking glass, was a roll of greenbacks which amounted to $200. The currency was burned to ashes.

Doubtless the best paying church in Pennsylvania is the one belonging to the Presbyterians in McDonald. Until the oil boom came along the church was as poor as poverty. Oils wells were struck in various directions around the property. Finally the elders broke for oil in the church yard and struck a well which flowed 1,000 bbls. a day. No collections are now necessary in that church. The pastor gets a big salary, the members are in clover, and about everybody seems anxious to join.

Mrs. Langtry is an enthusiastic fan collector, writes Frances M. Smith in an admirable paper, "Prose and Poetry of the Fan," in Peterson's Magazine for July. Her specimens represent almost every era, the French fans being particularly beautiful and delicate. Oscar Wilde found a fitting work for his talent in designing a room particularly for them. The walls and ceilings are decorated with the fans of China and Japan, while cabinets and cases hold the carved ivory ones, many of which are so frail that they rest on satin cushions.

The Erie Times says: "The County Commissioners of Erie and Warren Counties, at their organization at Corry the 24th inst., elected Judge Gunnison President of the Association. Although the Judge was not present, he will accept promptly. The Commissioners of Crawford county did not attend the meeting, but it is understood that they are in favor of the workhouse scheme. The sentiment of the meeting was to build a workhouse for the punishment of all prisoners who get less than a year's sentence. At Corry there is a large amount of excellent material for the manufacture of tile, brick, tile for sewer purposes, etc. It is the intention to admit the prisoners from all the northwestern counties at a stated price. The workhouse, in all probability, will be built by Erie, Warren and Crawford counties.

The Titusville Sunday World says: "Now that the vexed question of determining who the presidential candidate would be has been settled, it is expected that the Governor and his advisors will be visited by a committee from this city, and the question of State aid in replacing Oil Creek in its former channel discussed. If the work is properly done it is evident that the city cannot, and ought not, stand the expense. The magnitude of the undertaking and its importance makes it clearly the duty of the Governor to exercise extraordinary measures in rendering prompt relief. The Legislature will then legalize the action as soon as it convenes. The committee appointed to visit the Governor is Hon. E. O. Emerson, Hon. W. H. Andrews, Colonel J. J. Carter, H. C. Bloss, Roger Sherman, John L. McKinney, ex-Senator John Ferris, Jesse Smith and A. B. Howland. Estimates of necessary expenditures and other data have been made by City Engineer Joseph Smith. As many of the committee as possible will leave for Harrisburg this week.

The Centreville News relates the following: "We have been told of many ludicrous scenes and incidents growing out of the great flood of June 4th, and ambitious reporters have busted clouds, and mill-dams, and almost ruined their imaginations in their frantic endeavors to gain notoriety and fame, in reportorial journalism, but the incident we are about to relate is true and told without hope of reward. On the Sunday following the flood after the waters had subsided and gone to join their kindred in the "Father of Waters," L. B. Preston, of Tryonville, discovered that he was minus two horses, and of course search was instituted for the lost. Near the village is a large wild grape vine of good proportions and with quite a large spreading top, the vine, as is frequently the case, forming a sort of net work among the branches, and there, over ten feet from the ground, in the protecting embraces of the tree top and vine was found one of the lost horses alive and safe. The animal was rescued from his lofty quarters, and is now notorious as a hero and flood relic. If any one can tell a bigger story and speak the truth, let him now take the floor, or else forever after hold his tongue."
