RIOT AND BLOODSHED AT HOME-STEAD.

More Than a Score Killed, and Treble as Many Wounded.

Nothing since the great riots of 1877 has created such consternation throughout the country as the conflict which took place last Wednesday be tween Pinkerton detectives and the locked out Carnegie mill workers. The force embraced all the men employed in the extensive plants of the Carnegie Iron and Steel company at Homestead, some eight miles east of Pittsburg, on the Monongabela river, and a battle which for blood thirstiness and boldness of execution has not been excelled in actual warfare waged from 4 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and only ceased when the force of Pinkertons brought to the place to suppress the strike unconditionally surrendered, leaving their arms in the barges in which they had been transported to the works.

The riot was the culmination of the troubles which have been brewing at Homestead for the past month. The Carnegie company submitted a scale to govern their workmen in the steel President, with James G. Field, an plants and announced that it was their ex-confederate, as his running mate. ultimatum.
