Lawrence, the three-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Colegrove, of Corry, died yesterday morning, of spinal meningitis. Mr. and Mrs. Brownell, grandparents of the child, went up this morning to attend the funeral, which takes place today. Their many Tionesta friends will deeply sympathize with the stricken parents in their bereavement.

For the first time in her life Tidoute won a game from Tionesta on the former's grounds on the Fourth. It was a nice game, 9 to 7, and resulted just right to round out Tidoute's excellent celebration of our natal day. The return game, played here next day, was too funny, not to say ridiculous, for special comment. Tionesta couldn't be expected to play 10 men and win, especially when the tenth man was the hardest of all to wallop. Br'er White's strictures on the result are badly out of joint, and we'll bet dollars to buttons he wouldn't have made them had he been here and "seen with his own eyes."

W. A. Grove has completed a sample of his newly invented machine known as a "bit elevator," and it is pronounced a success by all who have seen it and know anything about machinery. It is intended more particularly for the lower oil field, where the bits used weigh from 400 to 800 pounds, and require two and three men to handle one. With Mr. Grove's machine an ordinary man can handle the largest bits with ease and alacrity, and if Albert hasn't got a nice little fortune right in his fingers it will not be the fault of his ingenuity in the construction of a muscle-saver that beats anything placed on the market for many years. It is fully secured by letters patent.

One of the recent notable events occurring in the town of Leechburg, Pa., was the marriage, on June 29th, of Miss Maud Van Giesen, formerly of this place, and Charles F. Armstrong, of Allegheny. The affair was a brilliant one, many guests being present from a distance, among whom were Mrs. S. C. Sloan, and Dr. and Mrs. F. T. Nason, of Tionesta, Mrs. W. R. Dunn and daughter, Louise, of Washington, D. C., the latter acting as one of the bridesmaids. A special train bore the young couple to Pittsburg, from whence an extended western tour was begun. The groom is connected with the Pennsylvania railroad company and well known and popular in railroad circles.

People somehow cannot or will not understand that cards of thanks, published in newspapers, expressing their gratitude to friends for kindness proffered during their bereavement are in exceedingly bad taste. Nobody wants to be thanked publicly for doing a simple little act of humanity and decency. We must all die sooner or later and will all need the loving ministrations of friends to help to smooth the pillow of death, and nobody deserves thanks for doing a duty which all owe to their fellows. Editors do not like to refuse a favor of this kind to bereaved friends, but they would be doing them a kindness by so doing, for it is utterly and absolutely out of place.—Puzz Spirit.

Death of Alexander Bonner.

Alexander Bonner, of Stoneboro, Mercer county, died on Friday, July 9, 1892, after an illness of but a few days' duration. The funeral took place on Monday of this week, and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends.

Mr. Bonner was a son of the late Jeremiah Bonner, and was born at Mahoning, Armstrong county, in September, 1851. In 1872 he moved to Stoneboro, and engaged with his father in the mercantile business, which he continued with success until his untimely death. He was always in all public affairs, a good citizen and neighbor, charitable to the poor and a kind husband and father.

A widow and five children, two sons and three daughters, are left to mourn his death. He was a brother of Charles Bonner, of Chicago, formerly of Tionesta, and of Mrs. G. W. Robinson and Miss Mary Bonner.

The party goes via Olean, where the Narrow gauge trains are taken for a ride of 23 miles to Bradford, passing through the most picturesque scenery in Western New York and Pennsylvania. A half hour's rest is made at Rock City, where refreshments can be had, and the great rock formation seen, from which the place received its name. This excursion becomes more popular under the popular and personal management it receives each year.

A brilliant wedding takes place to-morrow, Thursday, in Pittsburg, at Smithfield St. M. E. Church, the contracting parties being Mr. Edward A. Young and Miss Sadie Shoup, the accomplished daughter of Mr. John Shoup, of Allegheny. Miss Shoup has many friends among the young folks of our community who will hear this item of news with much pleasure and interest.

Sires' branch photograph gallery, located in the upper story of the borough building, next door to the post office, is now open and ready for business, with Mr. S. A. Munn, a strictly first class operator, in charge. The public is invited to call, and those holding tickets are asked to come and get their work done. Mr. Sires needs no recommendation to our citizens. His reputation is fully established here.

Mr. J. H. Hardison has gone to Geneva, Indiana, in which vicinity he will shortly begin the drilling of several wells. A number of young men from this place and vicinity will follow him in a few days to work on the wells, it being the intention to keep three or four strings of tools to work. In the course of a month or six weeks Mr. H.'s family will join him and make their home in that section. Success to all.

The Tionesta Bi-Chloride of Gold Club held a meeting on Tuesday evening, at which the following officers were elected: President, Lanman Chase, Esq.; Secretary, Frank D. Smiley. A committee was appointed to meet the trustees of the Universalist church with a view of securing the abandoned church property for a club house and a library, etc., and where entertainments can be given for the pleasure of the club and citizens of the town.

While attempting to remedy a defect in the "blow off" at the Robinson & Weant mill, last Thursday morning, George Weant, one of the proprietors, was seriously scalded about the chest, arms and legs, and has since been laid up for repairs. The injury to his arms is quite severe and will be some time in healing, and his chest being as badly scalded, it is more than likely the result would have proved fatal. George can be well satisfied it was no worse.

Monday the Keeley Institute people hung a large and very handsome sign on the outer wall, the work of one of their patients, who is certainly a dandy with the brush. A bath room, for the free use of the patients, is also being arranged in the building, and other conveniences added which will make things more homelike than ever about the premises. The Institute now numbers a larger list of patients than at any time since its opening, scarcely a day passing without some additions. Every one looks happy, and seems delighted to know that each succeeding day finds him freer from the clutches of the old "habit."

A good many of our readers will be surprised and pained to learn of the death of Dr. A. Fisher, which occurred suddenly at his home in Warren, on June 30th, 1892. He had suffered a severe attack of la grippe in January last, and had not fully recovered, and the ultimate cause of death is supposed to have been heart failure. For many years Dr. Fisher had been a familiar figure throughout this county, where he practiced his profession of dentistry for so long. Ever genial and courteous and kindly he was a welcome guest wherever he went, and will be missed by a large circle of friends in this section. He was aged 65 years and 11 months, and leaves a wife and two sons, four daughters having died in early childhood.

George Thomas, son of Squire W. W. Thomas, met with a very serious accident on the Fourth, by which he came very near losing the sight of both eyes. In company with Jake Hood he was "shooting the cañon," and after a few shots had been fired, he was in the act of pouring another charge of powder into the gun from a paper sack, in which it is thought nearly three pounds still remained. Hardly had he begun pouring when the whole package went off in his hands, resulting in a very bad accident, as a matter of course. His hands and arms were badly burned, while his entire face, and almost his whole head for that matter, was burned to a crisp. His injuries were dressed soon after the accident, but several days elapsed before it was known whether he would ever again have the use of his eyes. Fortunately, however, the indications now are that they are not permanently injured, and that he will be all right in this particular when again recovered. He is getting along nicely at present. His companion was considerably burned about the wrists, but not seriously. 'Twas George's first, and we feel safe in saying it will be his last, experience in "shooting the cañon."

A GOOD MAN PASSES AWAY.

Peter C. Blocher Breathes His Last After a Brief Illness.

After a very brief illness, lasting scarcely more than a week, Peter C. Blocher, of Tionesta Township, passed peacefully away on Monday evening of this week. On Saturday night, July 2d, he was taken sick, and so rapidly did his illness progress that in a short time his condition became alarming. Medical aid was summoned, but almost from the start his physicians had little hope of his recovery, his disease seeming to attack the brain, and while at times he seemed to rally some and show slight symptoms of improvement, his vitality gradually diminished until the messenger of Death summoned his spirit to eternal rest.

Mr. Blocher, according to Beers' History of Forest County, was born in Clarence, Erie Co., N. Y., February 1, 1834, and was therefore aged 58 years, 5 months and 10 days at the time of his death. He was a son of Christian and Catherine Blocher. His paternal grandfather was John Blocher, whose parents came from Switzerland, and were pioneers of Lancaster county, Penn. Peter C. Blocher was reared in his native county and educated in the common schools. He began life as a farmer, which occupation he followed in Erie county, N. Y., until 1858. He then spent a year in Ohio, returning to New York State in 1859. In October, 1861, he enlisted in Company E, Seventy-eighth New York Volunteer Infantry, and participated in the battles of South Mountain, Antietam, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Resaca (Ga.), Kenesaw Mountain, Peach Tree Creek, and in the siege of Atlanta (Ga.), being honorably discharged at the last named place after three years' service. In 1865 he located at Oil Creek, Venango county, and in 1866 at West Hickory and Dennis run, where he engaged in the oil business as a producer, and followed the oil fields until 1870. From 1870 to 1885 he resided at Fagundes, then settled on the farm he now occupies in Tionesta township, where he has since resided. Mr. Blocher married, in 1869, Mary, daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth (Fair) Helm, of Washington township, Armstrong Co., Penn., and they have seven children: William E., Ella B., Howard O., Bertha O., Ralph A., Jesse A. and Phebe E.

Mr. Blocher was one of the prominent and leading spirits of his community in all matters pertaining to the material welfare and progress of its citizens; a man of more than ordinary business talent, his wise council was much sought by his neighbors, who came to regard him as the very soul of honor in all his transactions with his fellowmen. He won the highest esteem of all with whom he became acquainted and held that esteem to the last. In township and municipal affairs generally he was entrusted with many important duties which he always faithfully and cheerfully performed. As a member of the Grand Army he was beloved by his comrades, and in the Grange of which he was a leading and earnest member his duties were never neglected. In his family relations no husband or father was ever happier. He could ill be spared from the community which he adorned, and which will greatly miss him. His wife and seven children survive him.

The funeral, which will be in charge of Stow Post, G. A. R., will take place from the house this, Wednesday, evening at five o'clock, and his remains will be laid to rest in the Lutheran Church cemetery, near Newmanville, of which church the deceased was a consistent member.

NEWSY NOTES.

One of the sad and shocking features of the 4th of July was the drowning in French Creek, near Carlton station, of three people. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hazeltine and Mrs. Nellie Naramore, of Cochranton, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Hood, of Utica, started in a boat from Cochranton at 1 o'clock that afternoon, intending to float to Utica. In going under the bridge at Carlton the boat struck one of the piers and immediately capsized. Mr. and Mrs. Hazeltine and Mrs. Naramore were swept down stream and drowned. Mr. and Mrs. Hood clung to the boat and floated to an island, where they were rescued. All the bodies have been recovered.

According to the Herald some of the Titusville sufferers are rather aesthetic and difficult to please. For instance, there is the man who will not wear lisle thread socks, because they were darned and hurt his feet. Several women have applications before the Relief Committee for new sets of fast teeth, none of these articles, unfortunately being in the category of contributions. Another has tearfully put in a petition for an enlarged crayon portrait of her one-year-old child which perished in the flood. Another of the absurd requests is that of an old lady who is not long for this life, and who insists that the committee shall furnish her with a green silk dress to replace her antiquated wedding robe of that hue.

The Republican and the Philadelphia Weekly Press, the largest and best weekly in the State, for only $1.75. Call and take advantage of this offer.

G. A. R. Notes.

There was a large and interesting meeting of Stow Post at East Hickory, at the new Hall, on Wednesday evening, July 9th. This new hall is in the upper story of the new building recently erected by Mrs. Payette Clark in the center of the town, and is well adapted for headquarters. At the meeting, arrangements were made with reference to transportation, and going to Washington, in September next, and committees appointed to correspond as to rates of fare, transportation, &c. The Post Marshal Band was present early in the evening and discoursed some of the old war tunes so familiar to the soldier and veteran, under the leadership of Comrades Witherell and Albaugh.

In order to ascertain the names of comrades who wish to attend the grand reunion at Washington, Sept. 21, 22 and 23, a resolution was passed, that comrades who expect to attend on that memorable occasion, will please send postal cards to that effect to the Quartermaster, Capt. Knox, so that some estimate may be made.

General orders of the department were read, to the effect that those who wished to participate in the grand parade at Washington must be fully uniformed on that occasion.

Comrades Blocher and McCray were reported sick. At the close an interesting camp fire was held, and remarks made by Comrades Torrey, Pettigrew, Mervin, Knox, Irwin, Albaugh, Stoughton and others.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, our beloved comrade, Daniel B. Eminger, has been removed from the scenes of life, we deem it fitting that we should pay a tribute to his memory.

He left a good record as a soldier and was a good citizen. As a member of the Grand Army he was earnest and enthusiastic in the cause, and one of the early members of Stow Post.

We sympathize with the widow and children of the deceased, who mourn the loss of a good husband and parent.

Resolved, that our charter be draped in mourning for 30 days in memory of the deceased and that these resolutions be published in the county papers.

S. D. IRWIN, D. W. CLARK, S. J. SETLEY.

It Saves the Children.

Mr. C. H. Shawen, Wellsville, Kan., says: "It is with pleasure that I speak of the good Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has done my family during the last fourteen years. I can truthfully say that in my judgment, based on years of experience, there is not a medicine in the market that is its equal. For sale by Siggins & Fones, druggists."

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and happy woman." Trial bottles free at Proper & Douth's Drugstore, regular size, 50c. and $1.00.
