come to an understanding.

EDWARD ATKINSON, the able and well known free trade writer, is comwell known free trade writer, is com-pelled by facts to make the following S. H. Haslet & Son's cheap furniture admissions in a recent article: "There store. has never been a period in the history of this or any other country when the general rate of wages was as high as it is now or the price of goods relatively to the wages as low as they are to day, nor a period when the work man, in the strictest sense of the word, has so fully secured to his own use and enjoyment such a steadily and progressively increasing proportion of a constantly increasing product."

Foreign Exultation.

In the event of Cleveland's election the foreign manufacturers expect to swamp the United States with goods made by cheap workmen, and consequently sold here at a cheap price, and they are loudly exulting that Cleveland's success means the repeal of the KcKinley bill. It might be thought that these European manufacturers would keep quiet during the campaign, but they cannot contain themselves. Witness the following extract from an article in Kuhlow's German Trade Review, printed in Berlin, July 20th .

"When the bill which bere the honored name of McKinley was introduced into the Representative House at Washington manufacturers of Saxony who exported their goods to the United States were seized with the greatest anxiety. Branches of the Saxony textile industries feared that their whole trade would be destroyed.

"We can affirm with certainty not only that the industry of Saxony will overcome the ill effects of the Mc-Kinley bill, but that the prospect is not so gloomy as was expected.

"It is thought that the votes of the electors will shortly destroy McKin-ley's work in the immense Transatlantic Union, will dispense with the password of 'America for Americans,' and, by giving a splendid victory to the Democratic party, will open a free path to our export trade.

"These are the hopes which have roused so much interest throughout Saxony in the result of the next election for President of the United Blates.

"Articles which are cheap in price, but very largely consumed, cannot be produced so cheaply in the United States as in Germany, owing to the high price of wages."

There is a good deal of honesty in the above extract. The Democracy are expected to destroy McKinley's work, and dispense with the password of "America for Americaus." That is just what the Republican orators and newspapers have been saying all along.

"A splendid victory to the Demo-cratic party will open a free path to our export trade." Very true, but that time will not come this year, nor "A sploudid victory to the Demothat time will not come this year, nor will it ever come if the American workingman consults his own interests. Cheap goods manufactured in Europe Cheap goods manufactured in Europe by men who live on starvation wages will never compete with the same goods manufactured in America by workingmen who make good wages, awn their awn homes and live comfortably.

THE apprehensions which the Democrats feel about Chairman Carter are shown by the ugly fight they are opening up on him. Chairman Carter, however, continues to saw wood.

Congress adjourned last Friday. It went out in a blaze-not of gloryanything you wish to call it. It was not a very creditable Congress. It bickered and fought and wrangled and made a spectacle of itself generally, much to the disgust of the people. But what else could be expected where the Democrats are in the majority? There will be no more howling from Democratic throats about a billion dollar Congress. They say that and went more than forty four million better. They "hollered" before they were ready and there won't be any
