

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

NATIONAL.
President, BENJAMIN HARRISON, of Indiana.
Vice President, WHITELEW REID, of New York.
STATE.
Judge of the Supreme Court, JUDGE JOHN DEAN, of Blair County.
Congress-at-Large, ALEXANDER McDOWELL, of Mercer County.
WILLIAM LILLY, of Carbon County.
COUNTY.
Congress, CHARLES E. ANDREWS, of Clarion County.
Assembly, J. J. HAIGHT, of Howe Township.
Treasurer, QUINTAIN JAMESON, of Tionesta Township.
Surveyor, J. F. PROPER, of Tionesta Borough.

Sketch of Our Next Congressman.

The Vindicator, of New Bethlehem, Clarion county, the home of the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, gives this sketch of him:

Charles E. Andrews was born in the city of Philadelphia, Oct. 9, 1828. His father was a merchant and died when the subject of our sketch was quite young.

When eight years old his family moved to Clarion county, settling on a farm, where until the age of eighteen he spent his summers assisting in the various duties incident to farming and his winters in the common schools gathering eagerly of the knowledge therein imparted. His next four years were spent in the store of Thos. McKelvy, then a merchant of this town, at a salary of forty dollars per year.

A Clear, Forceful Document.
President Harrison is a master of the art of clear and forceful statement, whether in speaking or writing, and he has rarely used this power to better advantage than in this letter, in which without concealment or equivocation at any point, and with the freedom of an American character, and to the noblest motives that can actuate American citizens. It would not be creditable to the people to suppose that such an appeal will fail to have a lasting and powerful effect.—New York Tribune.

Broad and Loyal Patriotism.
It is not the letter of a narrow partisan. Broad and lofty patriotism inspires it throughout. It appeals to whatever is best and most worthy of honor in American character, and to the noblest motives that can actuate American citizens. It would not be creditable to the people to suppose that such an appeal will fail to have a lasting and powerful effect.—New York Tribune.

Everybody Should Read It.
Read the president's letter, all of you, Democrats and Republicans, workmen and employers, farmers and merchants. It is more interesting than a novel to those who take an American's pride in the American republic and a citizen's interest in its welfare.—Brooklyn Times.

Worthy of the Highest Honor.
No man can read President Harrison's letter of acceptance in the light of the splendid record he has made in the White House without the conviction that he is supremely worthy of the highest honor in the nation's gift.—New York Press.

Will Impress the Country.
Its candor, generosity and breadth will again press hard upon the country the fact that in Mr. Harrison they have a great American and broad-gauge president.—Trenton Gazette.

A Skillful Presentation.
Upon the whole, the letter of acceptance is as skillful a presentation of the Republican case as the president could make for himself and his party.—Baltimore Sun (Dem.).

High Praise.
It is a masterly, statesmanlike presentation of the issues on which the country is now divided, and will command world wide attention.—New York Recorder.

Old Soldiers Against Cleveland.
General Daniel E. Sickles, the "hero of two wars," when in the Chicago convention he saw that the nomination of Cleveland was inevitable, stood upon a chair and told the idiots who were shrieking for the stuffed prophet that there were 28,000 Democratic soldiers who would not vote for him "spoke by the card." The old soldiers of the nation are inimical to Cleveland because was inimical to them.

They Want New York Now.
Before the Chicago convention, it will be remembered, the Cleveland boomers shrieked that they didn't New York, and that they could elect their man without it. Now they are more concerned about New York than any other state that is marked on the map of the United States. And still Dave Hill refuses to take a seat on the driver's seat of the hearse with the Fisherman of Buzzard's Bay.

Will be Sullivized.
Cleveland will be Sullivized in New York. The best authorities now place the plurality that Harrison will have in that state at 190,000. The Democratic national committee is in the position of the man who had "an elephant on his hands. Cleveland is "hell bent" upon licking himself.

Not Alarmed Over the Boodle Fund.
The panicky performance of a few eastern Democrats in attempting to raise a corruption fund to be used in the west isn't going to alarm any Republicans in this section. The western states will give their usual Republican majorities.—St. Louis Star Sayings.

The Democratic legislatures which enacted gerrymanders in Michigan, Wisconsin and New York were apparently believers in the celebrated sentiment expressed by the Hon. Timothy J. Campbell of New York: "The Constitution don't cut no figure."

The New York Sun claims to have found the retirement of the "Force" bill as an issue. This claim is sandwiched into a frantic adjuration not to allow the "Force" bill issued to be obscured. The Sun should pause long enough to inquire: "Where was I at?"

EVERYWHERE PRAISED.

Comment on Harrison's Letter of Acceptance.

Glowing Testimonials to the President's Able Leadership.

The Document Declared to be the Strongest Presentation of the Cause of the Republican Party in This Campaign.

With the clearest perception of the actual situation and with extraordinary ability the president discusses the policy of protection, and especially as it is embodied in the McKinley act. He perceives that the issue upon which the election is to be fought out to a conclusion and decided by the electorate is that of the tariff. It has been, and must continue to be, the bedrock of the industrial prosperity of the American people. President Harrison stands as the exponent of the protective principle, and in his letter of acceptance he not only most successfully defends his position in connection with it, but as effectively assails that of his friends, the enemy, who would destroy protection. Upon this question he dwells at considerable length and with marked ability.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A First Class Campaign Document.

General Harrison always was a good fighter, with his pen, his tongue, or his sword. He has given his party a first class campaign document, one that may be read and discussed in every intelligent American household; one that strongly appeals to every genuine American instinct; one which has the ring of true patriotism, and which will be echoed far and wide by the manifestation of an increased interest in the Republican cause by those who believe in the great principles of this great party.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

The "Force Bill" Humbug.

To the force bill humbug as a bogus issue the president alludes in no uncertain language. "A free ballot and a fair count" is all that is involved in the Republican policy, and the Democrats know as well as Republicans. It is for that very reason that they oppose it. Mr. Harrison scores many points by inculcating the history of the recent elections in Alabama to illustrate the need of an election law that cannot be set aside with impunity.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.
