LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 5 1/2. —You can get it Hopkins & Co.'s store—just what you want. 2t

Mr. H. E. Smith has moved from the Kelly farm to the Canfield house opposite the handle factory.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kerr are now costily ensconced in their Vine street residence, and "at home" to their many friends. A hearty welcome to them.

Mrs. Kliestiver, of Nebraska, Forest county, is visiting her daughter Emma, who is attending the Normal, and other friends in town.—Clarion Democrat.

Mrs. Nancy Wirts, 1201 Caroline St., Baltimore Md., thus gives her experience. "We have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and have never found it equal for our children."

Dr. Sullon, of Tidioute, still holds the championship in the fishing line, and last week one day landed two eight-pound salmon at the rocks below the mouth of the creek.

David Mintz calls attention to his new and booming stock of fall and winter goods in a new ad. this week. Take a glance at it and when in need give our wide-awake friend David a call.

The water company has over a mile of digging done in the woods already. With another month of favorable weather the pipe from the supply dam to the reservoir ought to be buried.

J. W. Wilson, General Deputy of the People's Five Year Benefit Order, will give a free lecture in this place Thursday evening of this week, and organize a Commandary. Everybody is invited.

Mr. U. S. Zahniser, who has resided at Marienville for some time past, has moved onto the Kelly farm at Oldtown, which he will cultivate for a term of years. We welcome him as a near neighbor.

Adjutant General Greenland says that the cost of calling out the troops for Homestead will not be $600,000, as reported, and that when the accounts are made up the sum will be about $400,000.

A Ridgway man wants to know if the Keely gold cure will kill a man's ardent longing to indulge in the great American game of draw poker. Who can tell him?—Advocate. Yes, they say it will. Send him down.

Nicholas Weant, of Nebraska, who gave his leg left below the knee a vicious slash by a miscp of an axe while at work in the barge yard two weeks ago, is able to hobble about again, but is still quite lame.

John S. May and Ed. Osborne returned on Saturday from a hunting jaunt in the woods of Forest county. They brought home 38 squirrels, one pheasant and the live dog they took out with them.—Franklin News.

In this issue, on the second page are proper directions for marking your ballot. Study them carefully and we think there will be no trouble about your being able to vote a good straight Republican ticket as you ought to this year.

A quick and permanent cure, Mr. J. M. Kesler, 1410 W. Lombard St., Balto., Md., says: "I take great pleasure in saying that in a case of neuralgia in my family, I found Salvation Oil effectual and speedy in the cure of the patient."

J. E. Hillard, of Tionesta, is in town to day. He contemplates moving to Franklin with his family in the near future.—News. We shall be sorry to lose this very worthy family from our population.

At the recent meeting of conference at Titusville, Revs. A. T. Sager, F. F. Shoup, A. D. Zohniser and F. E. Glass were regularly ordained as ministers of the Free Methodist Church, and are thus qualified to perform all the ceremonial rites of that church.

List of letters remaining unclaimed for in Tionesta, Pa., postoffice, Oct. 14, 1892: G. M. Vanderlin, rapp, Gottlieb Schabbe, Mr. Jacob Rapp, F. Zeigler, Mr. Herman Smoxentz, Peter Kerchbramer. When calling for above please say "advertised."

David Barnett will pay the highest cash price for hides and pelts. If Pleasantville Record: Mrs. Martha Ball of Tionesta, is a guest at the home of J. Y. Siggins.—Mrs. A. Holeman is able to be on the street by the use of crutches. She has had a long, tedious confinement since the breaking of her limb.

Among the marriage licenses granted by the Recorder of Jefferson county, last week, were the following: Warren M. Dinkle and Emma Lehman, both of Clarion, Forest Co.; Victor Wingert, of Clarion, Forest county, and Kate E. Pierce, of Clarion county.

Old things are passing away and all things are becoming new. New water line, new gas company, new goods at Hopkins & Co.'s store. The price of goes down on store goods as well as gas.

Chas. F. Black, who was the senior partner of the firm of Black & Co., when they established their store in Tionesta, died at the home of his sister, in Ravenna, Ohio, on Saturday last, Oct. 15, after an illness of several months. He was aged about 26 years, and was one of Oil City's most promising and popular young business men.

Mr. H. J. Hopkins was over from Pleasantville one day last week. He showed us some views of an orange grove which he recently became possessed in Florida, which was certainly a magnificent piece of property, and calculated to make ones month water as he contemplates the enchanting scene. Mr. Hopkins expects to spend his winters there.

The lightning rod racket is being worked on the gullible denizens of Brady's Bend township, Armstrong county. The usual signature game is resorted to and the paper afterward turns up in the form of a note in double or treble the amount agreed upon. Old but never-to-be-forgotten warning: Sign no papers in ignorance of what they actually are.

The Oil City Derrick has taken the contract for printing the election ballots for Venango, Warren and Forest counties. The printing of the ballots for one county would keep an ordinary job printing office very busy in the limited time allowed for doing the work, but the Derrick claims to be equal to the task and we hope it will prove itself so, for we don't want to be without tickets on the 8th of November. Get out the vote.

Graudmother Bostaph, of Yowinkel, died on Sunday after a lingering illness. Mrs. Bostaph's age was about eighty-five years, having lived in that section and on the one place for about fifty years. Hers was a life well spent, and she leaves a number of descendants, all of whom mourn her memory, and have the sympathy of the entire community. She was buried on Tuesday, at Crown, at 10 a. m.—Marienville Express.

The boys at Lawrence & Smearbaugh's boat scaffold turned their 45th flat boat yesterday afternoon and suspended business for the season. The work there has progressed very smoothly this summer under Mr. Morgan's directions, and things have had an air of briskness which was pleasant to see, and we trust that he, as well as the crew under him, has laid by enough to insure that the gas is kept comfortably turned on this winter.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of this district held in Oil City last week, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. J. H. Evans; Vice President, Mrs. R. W. Porterfield; Treasurer, Mrs. F. P. Britt; Corresponding Secretary, Miss M. J. Stewart; Recording Secretary and Treasurer of the contingent fund, Mrs. J. V. Bell. The next annual meeting of the society will be held in Brookville, next October.

The newspapers of the State are calling upon all employers to give their men a half holiday on November 8, in order that they may have ample time to vote properly. It should be done, as the rush that will take place at the large polls after 6 p. m. will cause numbers to lose their votes. Let us have a full vote and a fair one. Give everybody a chance to fix up his ticket according to his own sweet will, and then none of the candidates can say "what might have been."

The Kelly well of Oldtown is a duster of the first water. It was completed yesterday at a depth of 1600 feet, which is supposed to carry the hole to a depth far enough below all known sand rocks in the Pennsylvania fields. The Speechly sand was reached at 1325 feet, in which there was not even gas. A little oil was found in the Clarion sand at 320 feet but so little as to be scarcely worth mentioning. It is not a pleasant thing to record, but the truth must be told no matter how discouraging it may be to our hopes and expectations. We believe Mr. Kelly will make no further test of that territory.

David Barnett will pay the highest cash price for hides and pelts. If credit. But if a misspelled word gets in, or the wrong kind of a local, the other fellow must patiently submit. Our consolation lies in the thought that a faithful apprenticeship in our present office and predicament has in it the promise and assurance of our being a good and worthy editor some bright day. Subscribers should always pay up promptly, however, for when they don't the editor makes it a pretext when the devil's to pay.

Prof. Armstrong, Principal of the borough schools, has this to say concerning the first month, which has been completed some days ago: With an enrollment of 151, only 51 were present every day and 35 were not tardy. We all agree that promptness is a virtue, without which the chances for success in life are few, and yet here are 116 children who are perhaps in need of an incentive to promptness, who are allowed to stay at home from one to fifteen days a month, or to loiter enroute to school and drop into their seats two, three, or even fifteen minutes after roll call, with excuses like the following on their lips: "Dinner was late;" "I stopped at the P. O.;" "I waited for John," etc. A habit of tardiness is hard to overcome but with children it is not a hopeless task, and we would respectfully urge all parents to see that their children are in school every day in time for roll call.

The following item is of somewhat local interest, the Mr. Walcott mentioned being a brother of our fellow citizen, S. J. Walcott: The Williamsport Sun says another of the cases growing out of the flood of June, 1889, was put on trial before Judge Metzger on Monday morning, in which W. L. Walcott, of Clinton township, on whose farm a number of logs floated after the flood, claimed damages from the Lumbermen's Exchange. Five thousand four hundred and twenty-nine logs and two or three hundred thousand feet of sawed lumber lodged on Mr. Walcott's land. His suit was brought to recover damages which he claimed had been sustained to his land by reason of the alleged reckless manner in which the employees of the Lumbermen's Exchange removed the logs and lumber. The amount in damages claimed by Mr. Walcott, who was represented by Mr. Geddes, was $3,000. Hon. Henry C. McCormick and Candler & Mounser represent the Lumbermen's Exchange.

Hopkins & Co.'s store is full to the top, of the very choicest things the market affords in the way of Dress Goods, Shawls, Blankets Winter Wraps, Clothing, Overcoats, Boots, Shoes, and Rubber Goods. Give them a call. 2t

W. A. Kribbs has his new store building filled full of new goods, and is better prepared to supply the wants of his many patrons than ever.

Columbus day will be celebrated with due ceremony by all the school children. The teachers are leaving nothing undone to make the exercises a thing long to be remembered. Every day the children are drilled, and by Friday, with good weather, will be prepared. Every school pupil in this township should be in time and march to the beating of the drum.

Adolph Bauer has bought two very fine house-tops on Kribb's row. Several of the going people attended the hop on the Kribbs farm Friday. The party was well attended and a fine time was had.

Fleming & Kribbs have taken the contract of cutting and delivering to market 500,000 feet of logs suitable for bill stuf for the Tionesta Lumber Co.

Proper & Myers have their cottage about fitted up. It will be occupied by Mr. Myers.

Dr. Barber's residence is being fitted up in tip-top shape, and is quite an attraction to first street.

Since our last letter H. Z. Towner, of Oklahoma, has been visiting friends in this proximity. Mr. T. thinks some of returning to old Forest county in the early spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Arnold have gone to horse-keeping in the Heeson & Day building.

Wm. Tolley has several men at work on his job.

Mrs. M. Andrews and clerk are busy attending to the wants of her customers. Mrs. A. reports trade picking up somewhat, and business looks rather brisk.

Considerable talk in political circles here now. Some few are anxious to raise both Republican and Democratic poles. Better wait, boys; time is short now. Put in your spare time on Nov. 8.

Notices are posted up in the P. O. for the letting of a daily mail between Kellerville and Cherry Grove, Warren county. The distance is 15 miles one way, and the time for mail to be beneficial is 5 a. m. If the mail can be got to Cherry Grove in time to catch the 7:35 a. m. train.

Ralph K. Grove and wife are at home to their many friends, having rented a very attractive cottage on Kribbs street.

Dr. E. W. Smith of Whig Hill has dissolved partnership with his son Charles in the kalsomining and masonry business, and gone to Grand Valley, Warren county, where he has hung out his shingle for the winter.

Halsey Graham has fully recovered from his late sickness, namely, typhoid fever. Jack Frost, assisted by the nice warm days, has changed the color of the foliage from bright green to all shades of old gold and "yellow."

Coal can be had at the Everhart Bank, near Lickingville, at five cents per bushel. 3t.

On last Friday evening the Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church gave a musical and literary social. The house was filled with an appreciative audience, which was well pleased with the program given. The music was of a high order and was finely executed. The recitations were well chosen and nicely rendered. The society is in good working order and is very much in earnest; all its work aims to aid the cause of Christ and the church. Visitors are always welcome at the regular Monday evening meetings.

As this is "Columbus week" all over the country, it is earnestly hoped that the citizens of Tionesta and vicinity will lay aside business for an hour or two Friday, the big day, and join in making the 400th anniversary a memorable one. The schools of the Borough are making special preparations for the celebration and request that all join them at 9:30 a. m. at the school building, and with the G. A. R. Post and Post band as escort, participate in a short parade, followed by the exercises, as per programme in our last issue, in school hall.

The Blizzard man has been out of a night and tells of it: This is the season when the old-fashioned husking bee is held in the rural districts. The farmer has housed his crops, and the corn shocks are in the barn. The merry lads and lassies gather at the barn, at night, and the yellow ears—and occasionally a red one—are stripped of their husks. The husking generally winds up with a supper and dance, and there is more solid fun than can be extracted from any other kind of a gathering. "The huskers," one of the poems of the late John Greenleaf Whittier, faithfully describes a husking bee.

One day last week O. W. Proper's horse became tangled in his hitching strap while standing in his stall, and was in danger of choking to death. In attempting to cut the strap Oliver's knife made a misad and struck his left fore-arm inflicting a very ugly wound. He was alone in the barn and tried to check the flow of blood, but before he was aware of it, began to faint. He was able to make himself heard faintly by his mother, who went out and found him nearly unconscious. Prompt medical aid saved him, but it was a narrow escape, for had he not called for help when he did it is more than likely death would have ensued from loss of blood before being discovered.

Negotiations are now pretty well under way whereby the new gas company recently organized will buy Mr. Hawkins' interest in the Tionesta Gas Co., which is three fourths, and abandon the project of laying a new line. The citizens will thus control the gas business of the town, and rates will be the same as originally agreed upon by the new company, which will be about one-third less than we are paying now. Under all circumstances this seemed to be the very wisest move, and is so looked upon by nine tenths of our citizens. The money thus paid for fuel will remain in Tionesta and go back to its citizens in such equally divided proportions as to make the payment of gas bills a benefit to the place instead of a hardship as has been the case heretofore.

The official ballot of Forest county will require four X's to vote a straight Republican or Democratic ticket. The first group comprises the Presidential electors, two Congressmen-at-Large and Judge of Supreme Court. The 2d group is for Congress; the 3d for Assembly and the 4th takes in County Treasurer and Surveyor. Now an X on the ticket at the proper head of each one of these groups votes a straight Republican or Democratic ticket—as the voter so marks. But, says the Tidioute News, when it comes to voting a Prohibition, Labor or Socialistic ticket, we confess we will have to see an official ballot first. These tickets come under the heading "By Nomination Papers," and the arrangement of the candidates, it looks to us, will be such that a voter who undertake to vote on one of them will be worse tangled than State Printer Grier.

The copy the devil got up and used while the editor was out hunting news: The difference between the editor and the devil is considerable—much more than some people think—especially when you don't specify what devil, and it isn't to the devil's disadvantage or discredit either. The editor is popularly supposed to sit up nights and whistle up lead pencils by the handful, so anxious is he to fill his news column with spicy articles of the latest date. He is represented as thin and pale, worn to a shadow in his anxiety to be able to tell the truth, and a great deal of it. But these things never happen, that is, he's as truthful as he dares be and edit a paper, but the other things are mere sarcasm. Why we have the same lead pencil we had when we began here 5 years ago. If a good thing happens to get into the paper the editor gets the credit. But if a misspelled word gets in, or the wrong kind of a local, the other fellow must patiently submit. Our consolation lies in the thought that a faithful apprenticeship in our present office and predicament has in it the promise and assurance of our being a good and worthy editor some bright day. NEWSY NOTES.

"What is the outlook?" said the editor of a country newspaper to a dying subscriber who was several years in arrears for subscription. "All is bright ahead," gasped the dying man. "Just as I expected," said the editor. "In about ten minutes you'll see the blaze."

In a conversation the other day a prominent citizen of Rose township said: I have just discovered what the "second resurrection" is for. It is to accommodate my neighbor, who is so unendingly slow that he will be utterly impossible for him to get ready for the first rising.—Brookville Jeffersonian.

From birth a boy can own property; at seven, he is, if intelligent, answerable for crime; at fourteen he, if necessary, could choose his guardian and could contract marriage; at fourteen he is punishable for a misdemeanor; at eighteen he is qualified for military service; at twenty-one he may declare himself independent of his father, and is then old enough to vote; at twenty-five he is eligible to congress; at thirty to the United States senate; at forty to the presidency; at forty-five he is exempt from military duty.

A Wilcox man came home from a drive to Ridgway last Thursday evening. He was quite hungry as well as tired. He arranged his own supper and noticing the contents of a tumbler on the table with a piece of bread over it kept dipping into the tumbler and eating the contents with the rest of his victuals. The next morning he asked his wife where she got her blackberries. "Blackberries?" she exclaimed, "I should say as much. You ate up nearly half a tumbler of dead flies which had fallen into my tumbler fly trap." There was no further allusion to blackberries on his part.—Ridgway Democrat.

A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetia, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera but a violent dysentery which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetia, says Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. It is certainly one of the best things ever made." For sale by Siggins & Nason.

MARRIED.

ROLSTON-BRADY—In Tionesta, October 17, 1892, by Rev. A. T. Sager, Mr. Hopewell P. Rolston, of Tionesta, and Miss L
