Church and Sabbath School.

Presbyterian Sabbath School at 9:45 a. m.; M. E. Sabbath School at 10:00 a. m. Preaching in M. E. Church every Sabbath evening by Rev. Rankin. Praying in the F. M. Church every Sabbath evening at the usual hour. Rev. A. T. Sager, Pastor.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 53¢. How about that new resolve? Have you got you can make the "3" yet? The skating was fair to middling most of last week. The borough schools resumed operations Monday. George Robinson and Ted Kelly spent their holiday vacation at home. The hunting season for all kinds of game went out with the old year. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thomson visited friends in Pleasantville during the holidays. Mr. Joseph Snowden of Meadville, spent Christmas with the family of his son, J. C. Friday morning last was the coldest of the season, mercury getting a trifle below zero. D. W. Clark is once from the wilds of West Virginia, where he is engaged in the manufacture of staves. Frank and Gib Thompson were home from Chicago to spend the holidays, returning to their business yesterday. Miss Hattie Cummings, of Franklin, was the guest of her friend, Mrs. Mae Groves a part of holiday week. Rev. Rumberger now of East Brady, was a welcome guest among his many Tionesta friends during the week. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. VanGiesen, of Duon, were up from Leech during the past week, the guests of Tionesta friends. Speaker C. C. Tompson has been appointed district deputy grand master of the Free Masons for Warren, Venango and Forest. Some changes in the schedule of trains on the W. N. Y. & P. will be noted in the time card in this issue. The changes are slight. The river has been frozen over for the past ten days, although right here in town, as it were, there is an open space in the centre. Rev. Rankin commenced a series of revival meetings at the M. E. church here on Sabbath evening last, which are well attended. Mrs. N. Showers of Oil City, has been at the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. A. T. Sager, during the past week, who has been suffering a severe attack of illness. Mrs. J. H. Dingman wishes to very sincerely thank the many friends who so kindly extended their services and tender sympathy in the great bereavement which she has been called upon to undergo. Auditors Thomas, Flynn and Dawson are overhauling the accounts of the county officials this week. This being the triennial settlement the work is considerable more than on ordinary occasions. The Warren Mail kicks because many of the country papers took a holiday lay off last week. We don't blame it. When it exchanges drop an issue it makes up bill work for the reliable old Mail to fill up. Rheumatism knocked higher than a kite. Mr. J. N. Rucher, Mineral Point, Ohio, deposes and says: "I have used Serravallo's Oil for rheumatism, and in one or two applications knocked it higher than a kite." Considers it "a household necessity." Mr. A. J. Whiting, Newton, Kansas, accentuates his opinion thus: "I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in my family for the last eight years and consider it a household necessity." The G. A. R. Post and Woman's Relief Corps, will hold a joint in-stallation of officers at W. R. C. head quarters, A. O. U. W. hall, this Wednesday evening. Mrs. Charlotte Cummings of Tidoute, and Mrs. Jennie Rumberger, ex President of the Corps, are expected to be present. Stow Post martial band has also signified its intention of being in atten-dance.

The Wesleyan Methodists will hold Quarterly meeting services in their church at Stewart's Run, commencing on Saturday, January 7, and continuing over Sabbath, Rev. G. W. Sibby will be present. Everyone cordially invited.

T. D. Collins, of Nebraska, Forest county, was in the city last night on his way to Tacoma, Wash., where he will visit his son. He will return by way of San Diego, Cal., and visit his brother, J. V. Collins, formerly of this city.—Oil City Herald, Dec. 29.

The "week of prayer," which began on Sabbath last, is being observed at the Presbyterian church, Rev. McAninch being assisted by Rev. Bell in his evening meetings. Communion services will be held there next Sabbath morning.

Mr. L. H. Johnson of Michigan, who has been spending the past three months with old friends in this section, returned to his western home a few days ago. He had a rather seri sick spell while here, but had fully recovered, and left feeling like a boy of 30.

The Christmas-tide of 1892 was one of the pleasantest in the history of our section, due largely, no doubt, to the really fine weather which prevailed during the greater portion of the time. Nothing is so conducive to an enjoyable Christmas as a crisp air and a ground covered with snow. Such conditions seen rare of late years, and when they are present they lead a much more cheerful aspect to the holiday season.

Our young friend James Corrovo was over from Barnett township during the holidays on a very important, as well as a very pleasant errand, as will be seen by reference to our "marriage corner" this week. James is one of Barnett's staidest and most popular young men, and the REPUBLICAN joins his many friends in wishing him and his fair bride a most prosperous and happy journey through life.

George Wraut, who has been keeping bachelor's quarters long enough to satisfy him that it isn't just the thing, turned over a good new leaf, and resolved to begin the New Year aright. Hence it is that he is now domiciled at his home, just outside the borough limits, with a charming wife to share in his joys and sympathize in his sorrows should he be thus overtaken. The bride was Miss Mattie Redfield, a former popular teacher of this county, and favorably known to many of our readers. Good luck to them, and "may they live long and prosper," is the wish of all their friends, ourselves included.

Mr. Dingman's health, until about three years ago, when he suffered a severe attack of sickness, had been good. He rallied from this illness and kept in active business until Tuesday preceding his death, when he was forced to keep to his room. No immediate danger was apprehended until Friday evening, when his physicians told him he could live but a short time. He calmly received the information, and was perfectly willing to go into the hands of his God. Shortly before death he talked with his family, gave his boys good advice how to live and meet him beyond, where parting is no more. Among his last words were, "Tell my friends all to meet me in Heaven."

The interment took place in Riverside cemetery, on the morning of Dec. 27th, after which the friends returned to the M. E. Church, where appropriate services were conducted by Rev. Rankin, assisted by Revs. Rumberger, Small and Hillard. The floral tributes, the last tokens of respect of the societies of which the deceased was a member, were varied, elaborate and most beautiful. The Epworth League placed upon the casket the emblems of its society—a Grecian cross, in pink roses and ferns, with the letters "E. L." gracefully wrought of immortelles lying in relief on the cross. This beautifully illustrated how patiently the departed had borne the cross of life, always keeping the cross of Christ above all others.

The tribute of the Sabbath School, was a column of white roses, carnations and ferns, with letters "M. E. S. S." in blue immortelles on its base. This silent voice spoke volumes. He was the great column or support of the Sabbath School. Also, the column is broken? who can fill his place in the School? The blue cross—everlasting—is a beautiful symbol of the immortal life beyond the blue veil in which he for 12 years pointed the school.

The I. O. O. F. sent a large wreath of roses, ferns, &c., with the three links and letters "I. O. O. F." made of immortelles. This is emblematical of the pure principles of brotherly love taught in the order. The token of the Royal Templars was a wreath of roses, hyacinths, carnations, etc., with the letters "R. T. of T." in immortelles. The W. C. T. U., of which he was an honorary member, gave a large bouquet of white roses tied with a magnificent white ribbon, the emblem of the society and a symbol of purity. One of the great pleasures of the deceased was work for the cause of temperance. He never failed to speak a good word or put his shoulder to the wheel when opportunity offered. These flowers speak more than the pen. They soon will wither and die, but their recollections will never fade. So with life—it is short and soon passes, but the that men do lives after them as an oasis to brighten the desert of life.

A Million Friends. A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. If you have never used this great Cough Medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed for it. Sold everywhere. Trial bottles free of charge. Sold by Nathan's Drug Store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

The County Commissioners met on Monday and made the annual appointments for the ensuing year, re-appointing Mr. Brennan as Clerk, and electing Samuel Cambell, Junior, vice Louis Nuneman, who has acted in that capacity for the past year. The only other change in officials at the Court House is in the Treasurer's office, Jas. B. Haggerty turning over the job to Quintain Jamieson, who filed his bond, a very excellent one, by the way, on Friday last. Mr. Haggerty has filled this important place with entire satisfaction to the public, his administration of the office being at once a credit to himself and the county, and he steps down and out leaving a good record behind. We feel confident Mr. Jamieson's conduct of the affairs of that office will give perfect satisfaction, and that the people will find in him an official with whom it will be a pleasure to transact business. To both the incoming and retiring the REPUBLICAN'S best New Year's wish are extended.

The Late J. H. Dingman. Jasper H. Dingman was born in Fifth Town, Prince Edward county, Canada, April 17, 1842, and died in Tionesta, Pa., Dec. 24, 1892. The people have had another lesson of the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death, and have been moved to feelings of deep sorrow and regret. One of our best and most respected citizens has gone to that "bourne from whence no traveler returns." Mr. Dingman moved to Tionesta, Pa., in 1865, where he engaged in the mercantile business till 1874, when he located in Forest county and engaged in the stove and lumber business with Mr. J. H. Derickson until 1888, when the firm was mutually dissolved. Since then he has been in partnership with Mr. A. H. Dale in the lumber business. He was always very attentive to his work, a man of fine business capacity, and hence successful.

He was an active member of the M. E. Church, leader of the choir, Superintendent of the Sabbath school, an energetic worker for the temperance cause, President of the Epworth League, a member of the R. T. of T., and I. O. O. F. All these societies will sadly mourn the loss they have sustained. He was conscientious in all his work, and labor for the Great Master was his chief end. As a worker in the Sabbath School he had few equals, and his school has sustained an irreparable loss. The last work of his life was for the Sabbath School, in preparing for the celebration of Christmas. On the eve of his death he began and partly completed a large transparent star, on which the word "Jesus" in large letters was written. This star, although unfinished, shows his faith, though words of Jesus, the star of his hope, and his last act was an effort to place that great light before his school and point the scholar to the Savior.

Mr. Dingman's health, until about three years ago, when he suffered a severe attack of sickness, had been good. He rallied from this illness and kept in active business until Tuesday preceding his death, when he was forced to keep to his room. No immediate danger was apprehended until Friday evening, when his physicians told him he could live but a short time. Kellettville. As the holiday-are now past everyone has settled back to his accustomed business, and while some have turned over a new leaf, others who didn't, might with profit.

Rev. Torrey of the M. E. Church opened a series of revival meetings here in the newly fitted up meeting house on Sunday, the beginning of the new year. This is the first in a long time that an opportunity has been offered to sinners to seek salvation, and we hope to see a grand change worked here during the revival.

The lumbermen are all busy putting in their wares of the snow. Geo. Berlin from Kerns, W. Va., is visiting his relatives here and at Whig Hill. He has been at Kerns for a year past and like it so well he will return this week. Two young boys from the Hill were in town the other night and proceeded to show our good people how to enjoy a little bear dance. During the evening one of the boys, who by-the-way, is considerable of a bruiser and hunger for pore, got into a dispute with a town sport and a lively time ensued for a minute, when the Hill man got the better of our man, which we note with much sorrow as it speaks poorly for our place in a pugilistic line.

Mrs. Daugh of Pleasantville was visiting her daughter, Mrs. L. A. Barber, during the holidays. The Tionesta Lumber Co.'s mill shut down during the holidays to give their employes a rest. W. A. Kribbs and wife returned home a few days since from a visit with his parents in Clarion county. B. J. Day and wife were also on a trip to Clarion county visiting friends. A few of our young people attended the party at Chas. Southworth's, at Newtown Mills, on Monday evening. Dancing and games were the attractions of the evening.

Will Berlin lost a horse recently. School opened on Monday after a two week's vacation, with a good attendance. John Shauer, the man who was reported in a critical condition caused by taking cold in an injured leg some time ago, is able to be around again. James Johnson has also returned to school at Erie, where he is taking a business course at Clark's college.

Mr. Adams, the one-armed saw-pouder, of Russellburg, Pa., was in town a few days of last week. Wheeler & Dunsberry are hauling bark from Fork Run and also from the branch to Ross Run, where it is loaded on the cars and shipped to West Hickory to be used in the tannery at that place. The men that roam about the street in quest of bread and fritters, have found a thing with more heat "In Indian Spring Bitters."

MARIENVILLE. This fine winter weather of the past ten days has been quite a boon to our lumbermen, and they have made good use of the snow. Christmas was fittingly observed by the different churches. There are five different churches organized in this place, and all in a prosperous condition. There was a masquerade ball given in the opera hall on the 24th ult., which was immensely enjoyed by a portion of the population. J. C. Conifer has been on the sick list. Joseph Falter's dwelling, with all its belongings, including his carpenter tools, was destroyed by fire on Christmas Eve. Mr. Falter and wife had gone on a visit, and left the house in care of a servant girl. She left the gas burning in the evening, and the heavy pressure during the night seems to have been the cause. Nothing was saved.

TO Local Superintendents of Literature Department of Forest County, W. C. T. U. Dear Sisters:—To all those who have not renewed subscriptions to "Union Signal" I would say renew at once. Try hard to have a much larger club than ever before. I hope each Union has at least one copy of the "daily Union Signal" to read of the great meeting in Denver, and that each Union subscribe for enough copies of convention number "Union Signal" to go round. Canvas your Union and locality thoroughly for subscribers to "Signal" and "Bulletin." The Bulletin, as you know, is our state organ, and only 25c. a year. If you secure ten subscribers for "Union Signal" at $1.00 you can get an extra copy for free distribution, or for jail, or for some one not able to pay for it. Ask your Y's to subscribe for "Oak and Ivy Leaf" and for "Bulletin" that may be posted, and help them work as National and State Superintendents have letters and plans in these papers. Send at once to your County Supt., or to Mrs. F. H. Rastall, Temple, Chicago, Ill., for catalogue for 1892, and select those leaflets best suited to your locality and lines of work. Do not forget the "Young Crusader" for children, "Youths Temperance Banner," and "Water Lily," and the autograph pledge cards to be used at the World's Fair. Have pledge cards at your meetings for men to sign. "Responsive Monthly Readings" and "Bible Readings" are very helpful to regular meetings and add greatly to the interests. Space will not permit me to speak of the leaflets and publications. I refer you to Malinda Allen's letter in "Signal," Oct. 29, for information. Keep an account of the number of leaflets and amount of money expended for literature during the year that we may have an accurate report at the end of the year. I will order literature from Chicago, for your Union desiring it, as I get a reduction as County Supt. Have all P. O. orders sent me made payable to Mrs. F. H. Rastall, Temple, Chicago, Ill., and thus save the expense of another P. O. Order. Orders less than $1.00 can be sent in postage stamps. I get no reduction in "Bulletin," therefore you had better send direct to Mrs. Jones, Phila. Would recommend every County and every Local Union to set apart a special fund for literature department. Try to have literature at all public meetings, concerts, etc. Hoping these hints will be useful, I am yours, NINA SALLADE, Marienville, Dec. 31, 1892.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE. Our report closed with the proceedings up to Tuesday noon of Institute week. The minutes of the balance of the week are furnished by the Secretaries, as follows: Tuesday afternoon Institute opened with singing led by Prof. Smith. Prof. Thomas then continued his talk on Arithmetic. He emphasized the importance of concrete work, and constant drill for beginning classes. Prof. Ritchey gave a talk on History. He recommended the reading of historical novels as a means of cultivating a taste for history; also the reading of some work on general history, in order to better understand United States history. Intermission. Called to order again at 3:00 p. m., when Supt. Kerr announced the following committee on resolutions: W. L. Stroup, Gertrude McElhoes, Lillian Black. Instructions in music by Prof. Smith, and singing of several selections. In the evening Dr. James Hedley delivered his lecture, "The Kingdom of God," to a very appreciative audience. Wednesday morning Institute opened with responsive readings and singing led by Supt. Kerr and Prof. Smith. After prayer by Rev. Torrey, Prof. Thomas took up the subject of Physiology, illustrating his remarks by some very interesting and instructive experiments. After roll-call, Prof. Smith continued his musical instructions. Intermission. On re-assembling the remainder of the time from eleven to twelve o'clock, was devoted to an informal meeting led by Prof. Armstrong. The usual number of puzzling questions was propounded and satisfactorily disposed of. The questions "Should you teach the child to say 'double's,' etc., or to repeat the letter?" received considerable attention. Reasons given for teaching the pupil to say "double's," (a) Sounds better in some words; (b) Saves time, e. g., unless the word is very distinctly spelled it necessitates the repetition of the word, i. e., the word beet. Reasons for teaching the pupil to repeat the letter: In our alphabet we find no double letters. Another knotty question—"if an artery is cut and the ends tied, what becomes of the blood?" was also very generally discussed. Prof. Thomas answered: An artery is connected, as it were, with itself, and when an accident happens to the main channel the blood finds accommodations through the "side channels," which, in course of time, become enlarged. The sentence—"he is the Homer of modern times" was given; required—"The disposal of 'Homer.'" Prof. Thomas explained it to be a common noun, as it is used in place of "poet," (Homer like), Adjournd. Institute was called to order at 1:30 p. m., and opened with singing. Prof. Most, of Edinboro, was introduced and gave a very interesting "Chalk Talk." Prof. Ritchey then finished his talk on Didactics, and Prof. Smith continued his musical instructions, carrying on the exercises in his usual enthusiastic manner. Intermission. Dr. Hedley gave an interesting talk, and Prof. Thomas continued his talk on Physiology, illustrating a great many points. Adjournd. Wednesday evening a large audience gathered to hear Dr. Hedley's lecture on "Heroes and Heroism." As usual the scholarly Doctor captivated his hearers and held their closest attention to the very last syllable. Thursday morning Institute was called to order and led in responsive exercises by Supt. Kerr. Prayer by Mr. Stroup, and singing by all. Prof. Thomas then took up the subject of Grammar. The election of a committee on permanent Certificates then took place, resulting as follows: Miss Aggie Kerr, Mr. H. L. Miller, Misses Gertrude McElhoes, Mary E. Whitehill and Lillian Miles. Prof. Smith continued his instructions in music. Intermission. At the usual hour the time was devoted to the informal meeting. Questions were propounded and the teachers responded promptly. One of the most important was that relating to the division of classes. Many and varied were the responses.

Thursday afternoon, after singing, Prof. Ritchey continued his instructions in Arithmetic. Prof. Most then gave another interesting and instructive Chalk Talk. Intermission. At the re-assembling a number of selections were sung. Recitation by Miss Leona Wynn. Prof. Thomas then illustrated his talk by some valuable experiments. He showed that apparatus cost but little; only ingenuity and time. Adjournd. Thursday evening the Desolate and musical entertainment proved a real treat to the packed audience, which was larger on this occasion than any previous evening. Friday morning session was opened by responsive exercises led by Supt. Kerr, after which the members of the Institute joined in repeating the Lord's Prayer, led by Prof. Ritchey. After singing, the committee on resolutions made its report, and Prof. Thomas gave a short talk on "how to teach composition. Prof. Smith made some closing remarks and bade the Institute "good-bye." Much credit is due Prof. Smith for the mastery way in which he has conducted the music, and the valuable instruction he has given. Supt. Kerr was called from the platform for a moment, and during his absence two valuable chairs were brought in and on Mr. Kerr's return, they were presented to him by Prof. Armstrong in behalf of the teachers of Forest county. Mr. Kerr responded, accepting the gift with thanks. Adjournd sine die.

RESOLUTIONS. We, the teachers of Forest county, in convention assembled, do pass the following resolutions: First, That we recognize the effort of our worthy Superintendent, Prof. Kerr, to elevate our schools to a higher standard, and his thoughtfulness in selecting instructors so well suited to our needs. Second, That the strains of music here heard and the essence of the instruction here given will linger in our minds and live again in our school-rooms, ever urging us to higher, nobler, holier work. Third, That we heartily thank the instructors, and all who have appeared before us, for the mastery and attractive way in which they have presented their subjects. Fourth, That we go back to our several stations fully determined to obey their instructions and, so far as in us lies, to raise the standard of education throughout our County. Fifth, That we will endeavor to gain from the parents and directors of our respective districts a more complete co-operation with the teacher in school-work; and to this end we urge them to visit our schools frequently, in order that they may become more interested in their children's progress, and school-work generally.

W. L. STROUP, LILLIAN BLACK, GERTRUDE McELHOES, Committee.
