This isn't the most healthy weather for small game, and 'tis like "hunny" will not be so plenty next season unless there comes a soft spell soon.

Ed. Kiser was able to come to town yesterday for the first time since the new year, having been laid up by a hard tussle with grip during this fine run of sleighing.

Mrs. Albert Hayden desires to thank friends here for the kind acts and many expressions of sympathy bestowed upon her during her recent sad mission to Tionesta, the burial of her husband.

"An excellent remedy" is what Mr. W. H. Ames 712 S. 17th St., St. Louis, Mo., says of it, in these words: "I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and found it to be an excellent remedy for coughs and colds."

Services at both the M. E. and Presbyterian Churches are being continued nightly, with prayer meetings every afternoon at three o'clock. The meetings at both churches have been well attended and fruitful of good results.

While other towns about us have been "boiling for more gas" during the past extra cold spell, Tionesta has snugly enjoyed a good supply, and one has been obliged to step out of doors in order to find how really cold it was.

Don't overlook the fact that Barnett is cutting and slashing prices these days, and customers are bound to get the benefit of some rare bargains in all kinds of winter goods if they call early. The goods most go Prices no object. 2t.

Mrs. W. F. Rumberger, mother of Rev. C. C. Rumberger, died at her home in Craigsville, Armstrong county, on Thursday, the 12th inst. Her illness was not of long duration—she was 78 years of age, and the mother of ten children, six of whom survive her.

The Pennsylvania Commissioners of Fisheries are now prepared to receive applications for brook trout fry. Applications should be sent to the following commissioners: Henry C Ford, 283 Vine street, Philadelphia; W. L. Powell, Harrisburg; S. B. Stillwell, Scranton; H. C. Denuth, Lancaster; Louis Struber, Erie; G. W. Welshons, Pittsburg.

Mrs. Jas. Dack returned Saturday last from Kellettville, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Barber, who has lately recovered from a serious illness. One of the principal objects of Mrs. Barber's visit here was the purchase, from agents at Trusville, of a new piano, which will add materially to the pleasures of the Doctor's new home.—Pleasantville Record.

Barnum used to say that "when a merchant withdraws his advertisement from the newspaper it is a pretty certain sign that he does not want your trade. He is tired and needs rest; so keep away from him."

A bad case of rheumatism cured with 75 cents. Mr. Aug. Scherfle, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "Last week I had a very bad attack of rheumatism, used three bottles of Salvatin Oil which stopped the pain and cured me."

While walking on Main Street Tuesday afternoon, Philip Dean, of Marienville fell and broke his left leg above the ankle. He was carried to the C. Uter House and Drs. Rimer and Sloan put him in as easy shape as possible. Today he was taken home.—Clarion Jacksonian.

August Carlson, section foreman at Jamieson station, had the great toe of his right foot crushed by a railroad tie on Tuesday last week, and the injury has since given him considerable trouble. A few days after, Dr. Morrow found it necessary to amputate a goodly portion of the injured toe gangrene having set in.

Sunday night last was the coldest of the season thus far. Monday morning the borough thermometers showed all the way from 8 to 12 degrees below zero, depending on location. At Billy Clark's, on Hunter Run the mercury dropped to 16 below, which was two degrees lower than that of the previous night.

The Derrick urges the establishment of a wool buying house there as a good move for the business interests of that place, which prompts the middleman Franklin News to remark that "there isn't so good a clip of lamb's wool at the Oil Exchange as there used to be, but the farm grown wool ought to be sufficient to make something of a trade."

A two-inch pipe line is being laid by Kahle Bros. & Grey from Porcupine Run, in President township, to Rouseville, where it will connect with the line of the Valley Oil Works. It is a private line and is to be used in handling the production in President township of the gentlemen named, who have 27 wells drilled on a 400 acre lease.—Franklin News.

Township and borough caucuses should be held three weeks earlier this year than usual. The machinery of the new ballot law is much slower and more cumbersome than heretofore, and in order that there be no friction, nominations should be made at once, as time must be given to get the ballots printed and distributed, and it can't be done if all wait till the last moment.

Forest Lodge, A. O. U. W., will install the following officers next Friday evening: M. W., Chas. F. Thomson; Foreman, H. E. Smith; Overseer, G. W. Walters; Recorder, L. J. Hopkins; Financier, S. J. Setley; Receiver, J. B. Hagerty; Guide: L. Fulton; Inside Watch, J. R. Clark; Outside Watch, J. E. Week; L. J. Hopkins is the newly elected Representative to the Grand Lodge.

Judging from the amount of ties that have been hauled through this place to the station during this excellent run of sleighing one is led to wonder where all the timber is coming from, as it was thought that class of material had long ago been "ripped off" completely herabouts. But the hauling continues without abatement, and we apprehend if the sleighing were to last all summer there would still be ties to haul.

Wm. Taft, who drives one of E. L. De-woods's teams in the lumber woods at Fox creek, Green township, met with an accident on Thursday morning last which may yet result seriously. He had hitched to a large stack of timber, and when the horses were pulling about as much as they were able to, one of the tugs broke and the end next to the driver flew back with terrific force striking Taft in the pit of the stomach. He has since been suffering very severely from the injury, and there is danger from inflammation, in which event the case might terminate fatally. Mr. Taft is a young married man.

Considerable excitement was occasioned yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, by the sounding of the fire alarm whistle, which called out the town. The building recently vacated by Henry Shoemaker, and which stands on the Hollings lot near the handle factory was on fire and burned to the ground. A good many of Mr. Shoemaker's bed clothes were left in the building when he moved out, besides his kit of carpenter tools, nearly all of which were consumed. Two little children were in the house, and were playing with fire, which was the cause of the mischief, the flames getting beyond control before being discovered. The building was not of much consequence, and Mr. Shoemaker's heaviest loss is on his tools. No insurance.

The Kittanning Republican announces that through the instrumentality of its junior editor the Allegheny river has been thoroughly stocked with black bass. A number of these fish arrived at Kittanning and others were distributed along the line. Over 25,000 in all have been placed in the river between Pittsburg and Oil City. It will require a much larger number, however, to thoroughly stock so long a stream.

Who's been lying to the Pleasantville Record man? Hear him: It is either the oldest spot on earth down around Stewart's Run, or the community can figure on having the biggest liar in Forest Co., in its midst. One individual reports that his thermometer went so low during the past week that it broke off a ten penny nail on which it hung, and smashed in a thousand pieces on the door step. This is awful cold.

At a meeting of the voters of Tionesta township at the court house last Saturday afternoon, the following ticket was nominated for the February election: Judge of elections, Asa Lovjoy; Inspectors, A. W. Stroup, John Wiles; School Directors, George Swab, Henry Wolf; Road Commissioner, John Wolf; Overseer of the Poor, Ernest Sible; Auditors, J. B. Eden, Charles Ward; Assessor, J. H. Wentworth; Collector, Henry Rhodes; Constable, J. B. Eden; Treasurer, Wm. Lawrence; Clerk, J. W. M'ong.

This is the fifth week of good snug winter weather, during which period there has been but one day on which it might be said it thawed. The cold seems to be very general—spreading over more territory than any we have had in a number of years, and coal and fuel famines are reported from every section of country. Along the Ohio river, from its source to its mouth, the distress in this direction is very great, and should the severe weather continue much longer the suffering will be difficult to overcome.

Some people seem to regard the sanctuary as a place for visiting and transacting business. At one of the churches, Sunday morning, the pastor was compelled to stop, in the midst of the most eloquent and impressive part of his sermon, and request some young people who were whispering to desist.—Exchange.

This is one of the most ill bred, not to say sacrilegious, practices that can be imagined, and is often carried on by those whom one might suppose were better reared, and who seem to think no one is aware of their conduct. None of these actions escape the eye of the minister, whether he seems to notice them or not, while perhaps one half the congregation see and is disgusted.

Skating is the out door craze this winter. In the cities and towns about all the folks appear to be getting their skates on. The manufacturers and hardware dealers found themselves unprepared for the rush. The sale of skates in this city has been unusually large, and the Derrick reports that in Oil City over 1,000 pairs of skates have been sold since Christmas. One of the firms ordering from a New York house a few days ago received an answer that the latter house had disposed of 10,000 pairs within the previous ten days, and were sold out.—Franklin News.

The same condition of affairs holds good in these parts, where the skate market has been about the liveliest thing in business circles.

The Franklin News notes its purchase of a consecutive numbering machine and announces its ability to print ballots for the February elections. There is no warrant in the law for the numbering of the ballot stubs, and last fall a number of counties did not so number them. This number freak was one of the rulings of the Secretary of the Common wealth. Last May in a letter from the Secretary's office over the signature of the Chief Clerk, occurs the following language: "It is not the province of this Department, nor in deed was it so contemplated by the law to give any decisions in an official capacity on any part of the law. Its interpretation must be entirely with the County Commissioners or their Attorney and with the Courts."

If language means anything we should say that the County Commissioners of each county may decide this question of numbering to suit themselves. With no numbering one hubbub of many county offices would be removed.—Tidiotie News.

A big cut in prices of winter goods at Barnett's, who is determined not to carry over any of these goods if low prices will sell them. 25 to 50 per cent seems like a big cut, but we'll give it rather than carry the stock over. Come in and see. We can't enumerate the half. 2t.

Death From Blood Poison.

Mrs. Azra A. Copeland died at her home in Harmony township, on Friday morning last. About one week previous she was bitten on the thumb by a dog, causing an ugly wound which became very painful. Medical aid was summoned, but little relief could be afforded the sufferer. Blood poison set in and the entire arm became greatly swollen. Her condition grew rapidly worse and more painful until at the time indicated death came to her relief. Mrs. Copeland was a most exemplary Christian woman, and by her gentle disposition won the high esteem of everyone who knew her. She will be most sadly missed by the community in which she had proved herself a ministering angel to many a family in need of such an one. Her age was about 57 years, and besides a husband and several children—mostly grown—she leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her loss. The funeral was held on Sunday.

Rules for the Journey of Life.

Never ridicule sacred things or what others might esteem as such, however absurd they may appear to you. Never show levity in the house of God. Never resent a supposed injury till you know the views and motives of the author of it, and on no occasion relate it. Always take the part of an absent person who is censured in company, as far as truth and propriety will allow. Never think worse of another on account of his differing from you in political and religious subjects. Never dispute with a man who is more than seventy years of age, nor with a woman, nor with any sort of an enthusiast. Don't affect to be witty, or to jest so as to hurt the feelings of another. Say as little as possible of yourself and of those who are near to you. Aim at cheerfulness with all levity. Never court the favor of the rich by flattering the vanities of their riches. Speak with calmness and deliberation on all occasions, especially of circumstances which tend to irritate. Frequently review your conduct and note your failings.

Present every day: Anna and Emma Zuendel, Rosa Burben, Maud Weller, Alma Lehman, Maggie Behrens, Mary Bush, Willie Elders, Albert Behrens, Vernon Balston, Henry Bush, and Conrad Ledebur. Rosa D. Hunter, Teacher.

The following named pupils of Shriver School, Tionesta twp., have not been absent during the month ending Jan'y 6, 1893: Carrie Stitzinger, Nettie Mealy, Blanche Stitzinger, Pearl McMichael, Aletha Wallace, Jennie Mealy, Clyde McMichael, Willard Hepler, Arnold Passauer, Arthur Stitzinger, Harry Wolf, Leslie Passauer, Clyde Stitzinger, Charlie Passauer, Bruce Stitzinger, Claud McMichael and Sol. Mealy. Sadie Stitzinger, Sadie Bortzer, Alice Stitzinger, and Charlie Wolf missed one day. Number enrolled 29. D. D. WAGNER, Teacher.

Starr.

Harry Thompson was up from Nebraska Sunday visiting friends. A few of Rosa Burben's young friends gave her a pleasant surprise one evening last week.

J. N. Heath is again on the Hill. Carlos Heath and Ben Weller are working at Hickory.

Rev. A. T. Sager will preach in the church here next Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Robson have commenced housekeeping near Ross Run, where Mr. R. is working.

C. B. Zuendel and E. Burben are cutting logs for F. Lohmeyer. Mrs. Wm. Heath and sons, and a number of others from this section, attended the funeral of the late Albert Hayden, in Tionesta, last Thursday.

Mrs. H. E. Lovel is on the sick list. FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT. The thermometers on the Hill have stood one-fourth inch below zero for the last week.

Postmaster Heath is still slowly mending from his late serious illness. Webster Cooper, who has been visiting friends and relatives on the Hill, has returned home.

Rev. Dean preached a good sermon at the church here last Sabbath evening. G. W. Weller drives a fly horse these days, and if you want a fine sleigh ride just call on him.

Asa Heath is shoving the lines over Amos Ledebur's team these days.

Warren Wrinkles.

The pointer on the standard thermometer lingers playfully around the zero mark. The only really warm places these days are in the churches where revival meetings are in progress.

Rev. Hummason is repeating his success of last winter. And while we cannot give the official figures, there have been about one hundred conversions so far since the first of this month, and no signs of decreasing interest yet.

The lumbermen are hustling to get their timber to the river bank, and some very nice pine is being put in at Glade.

A very serious accident occurred to Charley Bridenbaker on last Saturday as he was helping bind a load of timber. The hook flew out and the binder, which was a very stiff one, struck him across the face, inflicting a very serious wound. It was with great difficulty that the blood was staunch. He is doing well and hopes to be out in a few days.

The family of Mr. Carl, an employe of the Veneering works, met with a great loss last week by the death of husband and father. By some means he walked into the vat of boiling water and was terribly scalded so that death ensued the next day. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and of several fraternal orders, and leaves a family of three children besides the wife to mourn his loss.

Mrs. John Smith of Bradford, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. C. G. Ferry, was called home on Sunday last by the illness of her husband.

NEWSY NOTES.

The Pennsylvania railroad company will in the near future adopt two cent rate on all its branches. This will do away with excursion and round trip tickets. There will be but one style of ticket sold and that will be unlimited as to time and at a two cent rate.

Private fairs, of longstanding notoriety, was arrested and run into the lockup at Parkersburg, W. Va., recently, for assaulting a woman in a house of last resort. This ought to settle the case in the minds of those who have been stopping over with sympathy for fairs.

Recently two young men, Harry Klingensmith, and Jacob Nelson, were making a race track of Main street, Greensville, when the former ran over Mrs. Elliott Sealey, who lived over the line in Crawford county, and she has since died. Both men are bound over to court.—Mercer Dispatch.

The visitors to the Chicago exposition will be able to see the elephant in very large proportions. A syndicate has begun work on a $250,000 steel building near the Fair grounds, that will be shaped like the "elephant" building at Coney Island, but much larger. It will be 125 feet high, and will swing its trunk, flap its ears and wag its tail. The swinging, flapping, etc., will be done by machinery. There will be two floors within this least—one for a grand promenade and dancing hall, with gallery, and the "stomach floor," where will be located a great restaurant.

Most fads, like the souvenir spoon fad, have their day and then die out, but the postage stamp collector seems to be always in it. This fad has already lasted for more than a quarter of a century, and bids fair to hold its own for as much longer. Some of the collections recently rise to an historic value. Herr Friedl, of Vienna, has a collection of some 100,000, all of his specimens being rare, and containing among other curious examples a number of stamps used in Paris during the siege of 1870-1871, when the postal service was carried on by means of balloons, carrier pigeons and the awkers of the city.

An interesting decision has been made in the Erie county courts in regard to land tenure. The Pennsylvania road has been proceeding against some "squatters" on land claimed by the railroad. One of the defendants claimed that she was the owner of the land by virtue of more than twenty-one years' possession. The railroad claimed that she should retain her holding from the death of her husband, and that he had not held the property for twenty-one years while she not being an heir, could not continue the holding in an unbroken line. The court held that as partner of her deceased husband, the wife could continue in the line of holding, and the more than twenty-one years' undisturbed possession of the two lives gave her a title to the property. The case will probably be carried to the supreme court.

A mysterious affliction seems to have broken out at Curwensville, Clearfield county, as the following from the Review will show:

"There seems to be an epidemic among the people in this section, of the eyes, and in most cases the result has been loss of sight. Several months ago C. R. Norris while at work suddenly lost the sight of his left eye; then by an accident David Way lost the sight of his left eye; then C. A. Rorbaugh lost the sight of his left eye; and last week S. H. Heiler was suddenly deprived of the sight of his left eye; Miss Flora Brown is also losing the sight of both eyes, and Mrs. Wm. Dale is blind in one eye. These are recent cases and are causing considerable alarm as no one knows at what time they may be similarly affected. Another case is the 9-year old son of the Rev.ies man, whose left eye is almost totally blind. While in Philadelphia last week a noted specialist examined his eyes and announced that there was no hope for a restoration of the sight, but that the right eye was perfectly good and could be saved."
