LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 68 1/2. Men's silk scarfs and newest ties at O. F. Miles & Co.'s 1y.

Mrs. Chas. Kirchartz is paying a visit to her parents at Brookville.

The borough schools will close in about three weeks, and the little tots are counting the days.

The disease known as pink-eye is prevailing to a considerable extent in the interior counties of the State, it is said.

Mr. W. M. Coon, of Barnett township, is this week announced as a candidate for County Commissioner, subject to Republican usages.

We invite you to inspect our stock of Dress Goods, Underwear, Shoes, &c. A look will cost you nothing. Lawrence & Smearbaugh.

Mr. A. W. Stroup, of Tionesta township, candidate for Sheriff, has withdrawn from the contest, and authorizes us to discontinue his announcement.

Rev. Rankin and Mr. Ritchey will act as judges at a Demorest silver medal contest which is to take place at West Hickory to-morrow, Thursday, evening.

James Manross, who has resided on the old Holeman farm, at Hunter Station, Erie county, and is this week moving there.

Several car loads of pipe for the Water Company's line has arrived, and as soon as the weather becomes settled the work of putting in the line will be resumed.

Clinton Smith of Tylersburg had his left leg badly fractured above the ankle last Thursday evening. He was engaged in twisting out stumps when the chain broke and one end struck him on the leg with the result above mentioned.

The Cox well on Bear Creek was finished last week, and may be termed a dry one, though the showing could not have been more satisfactory without striking a good well. The depth of the hole is 1640 feet. We believe the company will begin another test in the near future.

We thought we'd slip out last Saturday and lift a few of the speckled beauties just to open the season, but on awaking about five a. m. and seeing the ground well covered with snow and more coming, we concluded that was enough of the beautiful, and kept holed up the rest of the day.

We have our new stock of Clothing, Dry Goods, Shoes, Gents' Furnishing Goods, &c., unpacked, ready for the rush, and lay claim to as fine a display as the best of them. Prices marked ridiculously low to suit the stringency of the times. Don't fail to call and look over our stock. R. Barnett.

'Twas thoughtful in the Governor to appoint two Arbor Days, for the fellow who would attempt to plant a tree last Saturday must possess a heap of nerve. A week from next Saturday, 29th inst., will be another day, when it is hoped the weather clerk will give a little more attention to business.

Wm. F. Blum has disposed of his blacksmith shop lot, on the corner of Elm and Walnut streets, to Daniel Walters and Forest Proper, who expect to tear down the old part of the shop and cover the lot with a substantial new building. The corner is a very desirable one for almost any kind of business.

Florence, a bright and winsome little miss, and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Neely, of Harmony township, died on Sunday morning last, of diphtheria. The parents had moved from Philadelphia about two weeks ago, and were stopping at Mr. John McIntyre's, father of Mrs. Neely, until they could set their own house in order. It is supposed the child was exposed to the disease before leaving Philadelphia, or en route.

A suggestion to all societies: When you adopt resolutions of sympathy for friends bereaved, etc., after the "Resolved that these resolutions be published in the local paper," add: "And the Treasurer is ordered to pay the publisher one dollar to cover necessary expenses." Then everything will be lovely.

The weather crop bulletin of the U. S. department of agriculture gives this report for the last week, for Pennsylvania: High, cold winds, snow, and hail retarded growth in northern counties; wheat frozen out in places; rye fair; little farming done in southern counties; wheat good; potatoes being planted; plowing for corn progressing.

We knew a certain little item in our last issue would turn some of our half-starved brethren of the craft green with envy. Hear how the Franklin News takes on about it: "A thoughtful subscriber has supplied Bre' Wank, of the Tionesta Republican, with a 15-pound jar of parsnips, sufficient to tide him over until the season of poke greens. After all, there does seem to be such a thing as special providence."

James Wyman, aged 48 years, one of Cockran's popular citizens, died of blood poisoning at Buffalo, on the 12th inst., whether he had gone a few days previous to receive medical treatment. Mr. Wyman is well and favorably known to most of our townspeople, having with his brother, Charles Wyman and George Paddock conducted a lumbering camp on Tubbs Run about nine years ago. He leaves a wife and one child.

The famous old Liberty Bell will be taken to Chicago, passing over the P. & E. road from Philadelphia, leaving the latter place April 25, and going to Erie passing en route through Sunbury, Williamsport, Lock Haven, Emporium and Warren. Leaving Erie at noon on Wednesday, 26th, the next stop will be at Corry, at 1:30 p. m., leaving 15 minutes later, passing Titusville at 2:30 p. m.; Oil City 3 p. m.; Franklin 3:26, arriving at Pittsburgh at 8:30 p. m., where a stop will be made over night, leaving at 7:30 on Thursday morning.

George Henderson, who is well remembered by our people as a former resident and barber of this place, was married to Mrs. Ellen Davis, of Oil City on Wednesday of last week. The Franklin News gives the following additional particulars: In one respect we may say that the future of this happy couple is to a considerable extent behind them. George is the father of 17 children, 11 of whom are living, and Mrs. Davis has 7 children. Counting the parents and young shavers, the Meadville barber begins the present matrimonial engagement with a family of 20 as a starter.

The Tionesta Lumber Co., whose operations are conducted at Kelleitville, sold their interests to a Warren company, completing the transfer last week. The new company will take charge of affairs on May 1st, and will operate the plant from that date, under what name we are not informed. The deal is quite an important one, involving a consideration, we understand, of $32,000. The members of the Tionesta company were Messrs. G. W. Robinson, A. B. Kelly, R. M. Herman and A. J. Puffenberger. We are unable to give the names of the gentlemen who will compose the new firm.

Pilot Ed. Witherill, Wilber Hunter and Richard Keifer came down from Hickory Monday evening on a timber raft 215 feet long. A minute before they left Siggins eddy they had no idea of coming to Oil City, or they would have shipped a larger crew. They were tying up at that point with only the three men aboard, when the lower rope broke and the raft started for here. The pilot knew the river thoroughly and made the run safely, but the men had some hard work in making the landing in the eddy and two of them were thrown into the river while taking the line ashore. It was just six hours from the time that they left Siggins eddy until they tied up here at midnight.—Oil City Derrick.

Argument court was held here yesterday. The most important case to come up was the appeal of Wheeler & Dusenbury from the assessment placed upon their property in Hickory township. The case was put over to May term. At the February term the matter of the West Hickory tannery's appeal from the assessment was decided. The Assessor had placed the value at $30,000. From this the company appealed to the Commissioners, who reduced the valuation to $20,000. The case was then carried to court, by the tannery company. The court placed the value at $7,000.

S. H. Haslet was appointed councilman to fill the vacancy in the board caused by the tie for that office at the late spring election.

Most of the lumbermen have returned from their second trip to Pittsburg. They report a great overstock of hemlock square timber in the lower markets, and say that about every eddy between the mouth of the Clarion river and Pittsburg is bang full of that class of material. The past winter was so favorable for getting out timber that we fear our lumbermen have overdone the thing, and the lower river merchants will get the benefit of a badly glutted market. The operators in this section should get together before another season, and devise means by which to regulate the supply according to the demand, thus getting better prices for the timber which is too rapidly disappearing.

Whether it has reference to our Democratic friend John Peterson or not, but we noticed a few days ago a note in a western paper giving the particulars of the robbery of a merchant at Palmer, Washington State, on the evening of April 1st. The account went on to state that three masked men overpowered Mr. Peterson as he was locking his store preparatory to leaving for his home, and after some struggle were surprised by other citizens and fled. They were pursued by a posse of the inhabitants, overtaken, and one of the robbers killed and the other two captured. Col. Peterson is located in the above town, and no doubt his many old Forest county friends would be pleased to hear from him on the subject.

Some Big Lumber Figures. A circular issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, division of forestry, offers some valuable suggestions to the lumbermen of the United States in behalf of more rational forest management. Incorporated in this circular are the following gigantic figures: That it is now time to consider the question of supplies may be inferred from the following rough estimate, the only kind possible with our present statistical knowledge. We use in the United States, according to estimates based upon census and other figures, over 22,000,000,000 cubic feet of wood annually. Of this enormous amount (about 350 cubic feet per capita), over 4,000,000,000 cubic feet of the best timber are made into lumber (between 30,000,000,000 and 40,000,000,000 feet, board measure); railroad construction requires about 500,000,000 cubic feet; and fencing takes an equal amount; but by far the largest consumption is for firewood. An uncertain amount is burned up every year in forest fires, which rage over the western mountain country especially, and which swell the total consumption, probably, to beyond 25,000,000,000 cubic feet of wood annually. During the last three decades an increase of about 30 per cent in consumption for each decade is indicated. The area covered with wood growth is less than 500,000,000 acres. If all the land area not known to be treeless or in farms were under forest, the acreage would not exceed 850,000,000 acres, but the lower figure is probably more nearly correct.

Rattlesnake Pete's Move. Oil City is about lose one of its most distinguished citizens according to the Derrick: Rattlesnake Pete, whose collection of snakes, animals, electrical apparatus, coins, curiosities, relics and mechanical automatic wonders has made him famous throughout this section and known by reputation at least in every state in Union, is to leave the city and his curiosity shop will go with him—not to the World's Fair, but to some location not yet definitely determined upon. Although Pete is comparatively a young man, he has been in the saloon business for the past 17 years with his father in his present location. It was here that he started the nucleus of his present museum when a lad of 15, drawing beer for his father's customers. It was a spirited drawing of an Indian scout on horseback, but its outlines were not made with ink or pencil, but of the bodies of the flies that gathered about the beer faucets. Since that time he has added steadily to his collection. Pete thinks of locating in Buffalo or some other city in New York State.

W. C. T. U. Executive Committee. The executive committee of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Forest County, will hold their annual meeting in their Reading Room, in Tionesta, on Thursday, April 20th, 1893, at 2 o'clock p. m. Your presence is earnestly requested as business of importance will be transacted. MARY T. IRWIN, Cor. Secretary.

Stewart's Run.

Mrs. Hugh Marshall has been quite sick with neuralgia.

Mrs. Will Brown is also quite ill at present.

The farmers have been plowing between showers for spring crops.

Our old friend John Thomson has given his apple orchard a neat trimming.

The excellent care he takes of his orchard accounts for the fine fruit he almost invariably has.

The mysterious burning of the house on the old Coleman place recently has not yet been accounted for.

Bert Thomson will move into one of J. I. Range's houses, adjoining his father's farm.

Mr. Woodington is ahead of all others here in the garden line this spring.

James Thomson was home for a few days the past week. Come again.

Miss Traybert visited friends here over Sunday.

We had quite a snow storm last Saturday.

Mrs. James Carson of Hunter Run has been very poorly for some time past.

NEWS NOTES.

Fifty-six patriots have thus far been found in the "Messer Divorce" who are willing to serve their country in the ten offices to be filled this fall.

Col. John M. Siegfried captured the Warren postoffice plum last week, and while the agony is over, white-winged peace don't hover over the burg to any alarming extent, nor will it till the soreness wears off.

We learn that Congressman Charles W. Stone was painfully burned recently while engaged in extinguishing a fire in his Washington residence. Mr. Stone was laid up for several days, but is now, we are pleased to learn, able to be out again and not much the worse for his experience.—Bradford Star.

A little girl stuck a hat pin in the back of John Vessel, of Pretoria, the point touching the spine. Vessel has been suffering from spasms ever since and has lost his mind. A resident of Butler is now suffering from paralysis, the result of a practical joke of the same nature played on him.—Kittanning Times.

The little girls should be careful that in rope-skipping, which is their chief pastime at this season of the year, they do not over-exert themselves. At Weathersville, this State, Nellie Brighton, eleven years of age jumped a rope 330 times without intermission. The result was a rupture which caused her death after a week of terrible suffering.

Robert A. Henderson died at his home, New Castle, Pa., last Sunday, week, with symptoms of poisoning. He worked at Homestead last July, and returned sick to New Castle, and has suffered with stomach trouble ever since. He is supposed to have been one of the victims of the alleged wholesale poisoning at Homestead during the strike.—Venango Spectator.

The emancipation of married women in this state is complete. Judge Arnold decides that a married woman who gave a note in payment of her husband's debts is responsible therefor. Married women were at one time under an actual, as well as legal, disability to make contracts. The Legislature has been gradually extending their privileges as well as their legal responsibility, until now they are almost on the same plane as a married man.

An exchange remarks that it is a hard-hearted man or woman, possibly only a crusty bachelor, or a sour elderly maiden, who objects to a baby carriage on the sidewalk at night. On a principle of equity the pusher of a baby carriage has as much right to the sidewalk as gallant young man with a lady holding to each of his arms, neither of whom will detach herself to make room for other pedestrians. Let the baby carriage roll on all sidewalks as a thing of beauty with its contents of loveliness, because both are emblems and representatives of American progress, of which the nation is so proud.

Ex-Judge L. D. Wetmore's lumber mill near Sheffield burned on the 12th inst. The loss of property is estimated at $15,000 to $20,000. This mill was considered one of the finest and most complete in the State, was fitted up in the most convenient manner, and contained machinery for doing other work besides the sawing of timber. While the loss on the mill is quite heavy the owner is considered very fortunate from the fact that there is a fine shingle mill but a few feet distant from the scene of the property destroyed, and there were several millions of pine lumber in close proximity to the burning mill, which escaped.

There were fifteen cases of diphtheria reported at Irvinton last Tuesday morning, and even the residents gave it from ten to twelve. This is an alarming state affair, brought about, as near as we can learn, by a disregard of the most ordinary precautions, public funerals, indiscriminate visiting, etc. It is bad enough for Irvinton, but fully as bad for the surrounding country, owing to railroad transfer and connections. It is a great pity that somebody with authority, assumed or legitimate, had not taken hold of the town and enforced the State sanitary regulations. As it is now the State authorities will probably interfere, as their attention has been called to the matter.—Tidiotide News.

The will of Elliot F. Shepard was executed July 15, 1891, and disposes of an estate estimated at $850,000 in realty and $500,000 in personal property. He gives to the trustees of the presbytery of New York $100,000 for the general religious and evangelistic work of this city. He also gives the same trustees $50,000 to be used by them for the benefit of the Seventh Presbyterian Church of Jesus Christ, of F. Y. city. He gives to St. Paul's church, of Tarsus, Asia Minor, $100,000. He devises all his real estate to his widow and makes a special bequest of $50,000 to Augustus D. Shepard. He provides that the residuary estate, which is to his children, shall consist of his interests in the Mail and Express, the New York Express company and Fifth Avenue Transportation company, provided the stages are not operated on Sunday. In that case the interests would have to be disposed of.

Have you seen them? What? New goods, at O. F. Miles & Co.'s.

When Doctors All Agree

It is a fact well established, that February and March are the most trying months to aged or enfeebled persons. Pneumonia, influenza and kindred chest affections, are most liable to get in their deadly work. There is but one thing to do, build up and fortify the system with a pure stimulant. Medicinal men all over the country agree that Klein's "Silver Age" at $1.50 per quart, and "Duguesne" at $1.25 per quart, stand without a peer. If you want fine six year old Guckenheimer, Finck, Gibson, Overholt, or Breck, you can have them at $1.00 per quart or six quarts for $5.00. Notice is therefore given to the Coroners, Justices of the Peace and Constables of each county, to compare on the 15th day of May, 1893, and there in their proper persons at ten o'clock A. M. of said day with their records, inquisitions, examination, and other proceedings, to do those things which to their office appertain to be done, and to those who are bound in recognition to prosecute against the prisoners that are or shall be in the jail of Forest County, that they may be taken and there to prosecute against them as shall be just. Given under my hand and seal this 17th day of April, A. D. 1893.

Confirmation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following accounts have been filed in my office and will be presented at the next term of court, commencing on the Third Monday of May, next, for confirmation: First and final account of Elizabeth Wynkoop, late of Millstone township, in the county of Forest, deceased, by her Executor, L. C. Wynkoop.

First and final account of J. A. Ahlstrand, Administrator of the estate of Swan Ahlstrand, late of Howe township, Forest county Pa., deceased.

First and final account of S. S. Towler, Guardian of Mary B. H. Rohrer, minor child of Samuel F. Rohrer, deceased.

Attest, CALVIN M. ARNER, Register, and Clerk of Orphans Court, Tionesta, Pa., April 17, 1893.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the final account of S. S. Towler, Assignee for the benefit of creditors of William E. Brown, has been filed with me and will be presented to the Court of Common Pleas of Forest County, Penn'a., at Tionesta, Pa., for confirmation or allowance on the Third Monday of May, A. D. 1893, unless cause be shown to the contrary.
