LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Memorial Day next Tuesday. Oil market closed yesterday 58 1/2. How about the Fourth? Shall we celebrate?

The bark peeling season is now fully on. The season generally lasts from six to eight weeks, and makes things lively "in the hemlocks" while it lasts.

Z. T. Shriver has gone to Butler county to do some drilling for his old employer, Mr. Duck. He will be located a few miles from Petrolia, and expects to be absent a month or six weeks.

The building of a new bridge across the Allegheny river at Oil City, will obstruct navigation at that point for a few weeks after May 28, as will be observed by a notice to that effect published in this issue of the REPUBLICAN.

James Eakin, a former highly respected citizen of Sewarts Run, died at his home in Pleasantville on the 4th inst., aged 77 years, of paralysis. Mr. Eakin had moved to Pleasantville with his son, Hill Eakin, about a month previous to his death.

On Memorial Day the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps of this place will serve a free lunch to the soldiers and their wives in their Hall, over Siggins and Nason's Drug store, from 12:30 to 1:30. Tickets can be had of Capt. D. S. Knox, Marshal of the day.

Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Rumberger, of East Brady, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Watson, of Golintz, this week. We suspect the Doctor will know whether or not the trout of that section wear the same pretty little red specks they did last year, before he returns.

According to the law just signed by Governor Pattison, requiring elections to be held in the election district in which the voter resides, Tionesta township will be obliged to erect or provide a suitable building within its own limits in which to hold general elections in the future.

John Moss, a resident of Irvineton, and aged about 87 years, dropped dead at his stopping place at Porkey, this county, on Sunday morning last, from heart disease. He had been employed on the lumbering job of Hiram Woods, on the headwaters of Bobs Creek, for the past few weeks. The remains of the deceased were taken to Irvineton, where the funeral and interment took place yesterday.

One of the land marks of the town was torn down Monday. It was Wm. Blum's corner blacksmith shop, which has been purchased by Daniel Walters and Forest Proper. The building was erected by W. W. Dimond more than 23 years ago, and Mr. Blum, as a journeyman workman blew up the first fire in the forge, and a few days ago blew up the last. The new proprietors will put a new building on the corner.

Forest fires in Michigan have been unprecedented during the past week, and millions of dollars worth of timber and lumber have been destroyed. The destruction of life has also been very great, while towns and cities has suffered immensely by the raging flames. The greatest havoc has been created in the lumbering camps in and near the town of Lake City, Saginaw, Cadillac, Mich., and Antigo, Wis.

A West Hickory correspondent writes: A very interesting program entitled "Columbia's Defence," is being arranged for Jubilee Day, May 29, by our Sunday school workers. One of our young ladies, Miss Laura Smith, is to represent Columbia, and on either side of her stand her six defences, viz: Just Laws, Worthy Rulers, Good Citizens, Christian Schools, Sacred Sabbath and Pure Religion. These are represented by three boys and three girls bearing shields, on which their motto is engraved.

At the Prohibition committee meeting held here last week, the following ticket was placed in the field: Prothonotary, T. S. Work, of Redfield; Sheriff, N. G. Cole, Nebraska; County Commissioners, Wm. Lowman, Marienville, and Geo. Hindman, Whig Hill; Chas. A. Hill, was elected Chairman for the ensuing year.

The Republicans of Warren county held their convention on Monday, nominating the following ticket: Register and recorder, Wm. McCray; commissioners, J. A. Akins and C. B. Sampson; auditor, J. A. Spetz; jury commissioner, S. C. Graham; delegates, Henry Fuellhart and Benj. Ellis. Speaker Thompson was warmly endorsed for State Treasurer, and the delegates elected are among his heartiest supporters.

The heaviest wind storm of the season passed over this section yesterday, accompanied by heavy rain. The manner in which the gale switched the trees about, whipping the tops off and scattering things generally was quite terrifying. Aside from the blowing down of a number of shade and fruit trees in the borough, no severe damage was done in this immediate vicinity. But out over German Hill many fences were blown down and one or two barns unroofed, so far as heard from. No fatalities, we believe.

Councilman J. A. Hart, chief engineer of the Oil City Electric plant, was severely burned about the hands Monday afternoon by an explosion of gas. It is his custom to wash out the boilers with a hose every month, and to light the interior of the boilers he hangs a miners lamp inside. By some manner the boilers became filled with gas, and when he put the lamp inside yesterday an explosion followed, and Mr. Hart was blown almost to the boilers opposite. He was taken to his home on the southside, where his injuries were examined and pronounced not serious.—Derrick.

The headlines of the Pittsburg Dispatch are sufficient to give a fair idea of the fearful hailstorm which struck that section last Saturday afternoon about four o'clock. They read as follows: "Twin Cities appalled by a hailstorm. The damage done in a few minutes estimated at a million dollars. Hailstones as big as good-sized eggs cause wreckage everywhere, and scores of runaways and other accidents. Scenes on the streets such as have been seldom witnessed by any community in a similar climate. An unprecedented outbreak follows an afternoon of apprehension. Lovely park and private conservatories beaten in and valuable plants torn and destroyed. A tremendous rainfall completes the ruin, washing out gardens and cellars. Street car lines blockaded. Panic on the streets and narrowly averted in the theatres. All Western Pennsylvania records broken in a brief ten minutes."

James D. Davis Esq., was here over last Sabbath, and yesterday bid Tionesta friends good-bye before departing for the Pacific coast. He will leave Erie to-day in company with Dr. and Mrs. M. B. Cook and join his father, who has already established himself in the flourishing city of Redlands, California, where all the members of the family will make their future home. Charlie located there over a month ago, and is doing a good business in the line of dentistry. Dr. Cook leaves a good practice in Buffalo to take a better one in his new field. Jim promises us a letter when he gets settled, and we know it will be read with interest by his many friends hereabouts. The REPUBLICAN joins the friends of all in wishing them a prosperous and happy future, and bespeaks for Jim a U. S. Senatorship from the Golden State, when he has piled up enough ducaats to justify him in retiring from active business.

A pleasant event for those so fortunate as to be present is booked to take place at Mt. Pleasant, German Hill to-day. At the hour of noon Mr. Amos F. Ledebur, the present efficient Chairman of the Republican Committee of Forest county, will lead to the hymeneal altar Miss Mary J. Vockroth, one of the popular and accomplished young ladies of this vicinity. The important event will take place at the home of the bride-elect, and will be witnessed by the immediate relatives and a number of the intimate friends of the happy pair, Rev. Mr. Keiman, of the Oil City Lutheran church, officiating. Both the contracting parties are well and very favorably known in this community, the circle of their friendship being limited only by the number of their acquaintances, and all will join the REPUBLICAN in extending them a fervent God-speed on the journey of life, and hearty good wishes for happiness and prosperity; and if they should encounter just enough of the bitter to make the sweet the sweeter, still there'll be no harm.

COURT MINUTES.

When our report of the proceedings closed last week the case against James Carson was on trial. The case was given to the jury shortly before six o'clock Wednesday evening, and at about 8:30 of the same evening the jury returned with a verdict of guilty. On the following day counsel for Mr. Carson made a motion for a new trial, and the court will hold the matter under advisement until argument term, the third Tuesday of July, pending which time Mr. Carson was released on bail in the sum of $1,000. Commonwealth vs. Michael and Arthur Dunkle, aggravated assault, Richard Winlack prosecutor. Causes tried, and jury rendered verdicts of not guilty, and divided the costs between defendants and prosecutor.

In the matter of the appeal of Wheeler & Dusenbury from the assessment of their timber lands, Judge Noyes took the papers in the case, and the court's decision will be given in our next issue.

BEATEN TO DEATH.

A special to the Derrick from Foxburg, on the Valley road, dated last Saturday says: J. W. Crawford, night agent of the A. V. R. R., at this place, died at 5:40 a. m., Sunday, of the beating he received at the hands of Mock and McKenna. The assault occurred Friday evening. About the time that the night express north on the A. V. Railway was due a party of half drunk men were making a disturbance about the ladies' waiting room at the depot. The night agent, J. W. Crawford, notified them to stop disturbing the waiting passengers and go away, whereupon they set upon him and beat him in a horrible manner. The parties who committed the assault were Samuel Mock, a brakeman on the P. & W. R. R., and James McKenna, a resident of Farmington township, Clarion county, and a rafterman on Clarion river. As there is no constable or police in the village, no arrests were made at the time. Justice of the Peace A. W. Smiley was notified of what had happened, and acted promptly by himself. He arrested Mock and held him in his office until County Detective Nellis, of Monterey, could be got here, and then sent Mock to jail at Clarion. McKenna had in the meantime fled. Judge Smiley issued a warrant and placed it in the hands of Constable Ritis, of St. Petersburg, who brought his man in about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The deceased was about 25 years old, and leaves a wife and two small children. The inquest will be held at Foxburg at 9 a. m. to-day.

The coroner's jury held an investigation on Sunday, and the following additional particulars were brought to light: A number of witnesses were examined, the substance of the evidence going to show that Mock and McKenna had been hanging about town all day, attracted here by the fact that a circus was to be here. They were at the depot when the 12:27 train up the Valley road arrived Friday night, and had made themselves particularly obnoxious by their insulting remarks and behavior. Crawford expostulated with them several times, and ordered them out of the depot. After the train departed they returned and Mock went into the depot, leaning over the half door that separates the operators room from the gentlemen's department of the depot. He called Crawford foul names, and told him to come out doors and they'd "do him up"; Crawford followed Mock outside where it appears he must have been suddenly knocked over by an unexpected blow. When Crawford's companion arrived on the scene he was lying in front of the depot, while Mock was over him pounding him with his fists. Lewis Hart, of this place pulled Mock off. He saw nothing of the man who apparently assisted in the attack on Crawford.

Crawford was carried into the depot by Hart, Mock and others. Mock expressed himself as very sorry for what he had done, and labored to bring the stricken man to consciousness. Crawford never spoke from that time until he died at 5:45 Sunday morning. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that John W. Crawford came to his death from injuries received at the hands of Samuel Mock and James McKenna, about 1 o'clock a. m., May 20.

Tionesta, May 20, 1893.

Department Commander Thomas G. Sample incorporates the following beautiful sentiments in his General Orders on Memorial Day:

Another year has passed and we are again reminded the time is approaching when we make our annual visitation to the habitations of the dead. More than twenty-eight years have passed since the Angel of Peace spread her wings over our beloved country. In all that time you have never faltered in your departed comrades, and now in the midst of this beautiful season of the year, when all nature is bright, and the sweet perfume of the flowers of spring is around and about us, it were well that we stop at the milestone of 1893, and with solemn thoughts and utterances renew our allegiance to the cause for which so many of our brave comrades went down to their death, or since the eventful days of the war have dropped to the wayside. Let us show by our zeal in the performance of this sacred duty, that we believe it is well for the country to thus honor the memory of her defenders, and in this manner teach an object lesson of patriotism which will never be forgotten. For our comrades who have answered the last call there are in our hearts words, if we could speak them, that are as Passion flowers, and sentences that are as wreaths of Amaranth. They sleep under the dew and the daisy. To their memory, on May 30th, we will drop the tribute of a tear; and on the lowly mounds scattered throughout our great Commonwealth let us plant the beautiful flowers of spring time, that will be watered with the tears of the people of a grateful county. As we bend o'er the graves of our comrades, we can recall, as if in sweet communion, their noble, unselfish sacrifices and heroic bearing in the hour of danger, for humanity and civilization. In this spirit of meditation we look about us and see the evidences of prosperity all over the broad land, and whilst we can recall nothing which can arouse a feeling of vindictiveness or sectional passion, we feel proud of the fact that our honored dead were comrades in the grand volunteer army the world ever knew. Let us therefore perform the duties of the day in a reverent spirit, and thus show to the world our appreciation of their efforts in the days of long ago, and for the few remaining days allotted to us let us so live that when we, too, shall have been called, "we may wrap the drapery of our couch about us and lie down like one to pleasant dreams."

In accordance with the established custom Posts will arrange for attending Divine service, Sunday, May 28. Special efforts should also be made to have ministers of the different denominations address their respective congregations on the duty of the citizen to the Nation.

Kellektiville. Miss Florence Zuendel has been on the sick list, but at this writing is fast improving. "Doc" Johnson and family are visiting W. S. and G. R. Johnson. "Doc" is interested in three or four different tanneries, and is considered one of the best tanners of the State.

Hagerty got ten creek rafts out of the creek on Friday, the last, probably, of the season. This makes a grand total of 106 creek pieces of boards rafted by him this spring, and all run safely to market. On Thursday week was received here about 22 creek rafts of the Tionesta Lumber Co.'s lumber at Pittsburg went adrift at 1 a. m. Wednesday. R. M. Herman, one of the firm, and N. G. Cole, started down the Ohio to look it up. About all of it was recovered.

Wm. Hartman is rafting some lumber for a new F. M. Church at Tidonts. The lumber will be drawn at Tionesta and shipped by rail up the river.

Myers has a new bicycle. That's right, Mort. You can use it when you are out collecting. For the past month there seems to be considerable law breaking, such as dynamiting fish—and Sundays seem to be the days selected for the work. First at Buck Mill pond a shot is put in, then at Fork Run. We are not informed as to the amount captured this way, but they certainly kill a great many fish. Let the officers be on the lookout and arrest all people who have become so addicted to lawlessness. A good heavy fine would be the proper thing.

On Thursday evening several young people from near Newmansville came up to visit at Adam Frederick's. The young folks all seemed anxious to have a little amusement, and music being procured, they all tripped gaily to the same. It was a pleasant gathering enjoyed by all. Notice is posted on the bridge spanning the creek at this place to the effect that the bridge is condemned, and persons crossing it do so at their own risk. This is just a temporary bridge, which was built by the citizens to replace the one taken out by the February breakup. The road commissioners have caused the bridge to become a township bridge by doing some work on the same, and it is the commissioners that have the above notices stuck up.

NEWSY NOTES.

An interesting decision has been rendered by the United States General Appraisers in the case of the Buffalo Natural Gas Company against the Collector of Customs at Buffalo, by which natural gas is pronounced to be a "crude mineral, exempt from duty" under the provisions of the statutes.

Young Mrs. Blaine the divorced wife of James G. Blaine, Jr., is to change her name. She is to be married to Dr. Wm. T. Bl, her attending physician during her illness. According to present arrangements the wedding is fixed for early in June. Mrs. Blaine obtained a divorce from young Blaine a year ago last February.

The seven year old son of William Gage and wife, was playing on the floor last Sunday with an old-fashioned pistol and a hammer. The pistol had a weak spring, and the cap had always refused to explode, but the child hit it with the hammer and the bullet entered Mrs. Gage's head a short distance behind the ear, coming out on the other side three inches above. The wound may prove fatal.—Warren Ledger.

J. W. Baer, of Boston, general secretary of the United Society of Christian Knower, was in Washington last week to interview Attorney General Olney on the subject of the Sunday opening of the World's Fair with a view to obtaining an injunction restraining the fair management from taking any action in the matter. He also called upon the President for an expression of opinion. If the fair is opened on Sundays the society, he says, cannot consistently keep its exhibit open. Other kindred societies are moving in the same direction, and hope to be successful in keeping the gates closed on the Sabbath.

The University Extension Summer Meeting to be held in Philadelphia in July 1893, is the first meeting of this kind in America. There are now over two hundred centres in as many cities, towns and villages in this country, regularly engaged in University Extension work and the number is increasing each month. It is estimated that at least fifty thousand students during the winter hear University lectures in these centres, in history, literature, science, economics, or other subjects. The Summer Meeting is designed primarily to gather as many of these students as possible for a month's residence at the seat of a great University. The University of Pennsylvania has placed its library, Museum, laboratories and other buildings at the disposal of the Summer Meeting, and the most eminent lecturers have been secured from the leading Universities of the country for the instruction. Harvard, Yale, Johns Hopkins, Cornell, Pennsylvania and ten other institutions are represented in the corps of instructors by prominent members of their faculties. The lectures are in courses of from six to twenty hours each, and are supplemented by classes and conferences for the earnest students.
