When he left Mr. Kuhns he was a well behaved inoffensive young man, and his guardian is naturally sorry to see him in his present serious trouble. He believes the deed was not intentionally done.—Clarion Jacksonian.

Of course Al. had a good head of steam when he pulled into the station, but he was after the record and was bound to have it if it took the price of a "Ramblor" to make it.

—The East Brady Review thus speaks of Rev. Rumberger's memorial sermon, delivered at that place on the 28th ult: Rev. Rumberger held the attention of the audience for 45 minutes while in glowing words he depicted the causes of the rebellion, its horrors of combat, prison camps weary marches and terrible picket duty. Then trying suspense of loved ones at home for a husband, parent or son, and the thanksgiving when the end came and strife was over and our prosperous country freed from slavery and oppression. It was a glowing tribute to the nation's defenders and G. A. R., and thoroughly appreciated.

FARMERS, HERE'S YOUR CHANCE. To get a cheap Hay Rake, as I have a few on hand and am going out of the agency business, I will sell at reduced prices. —For men's and boys' clothing go to Barnett's. A finer line cannot be found hereabouts, and the styles are correct, the goods substantial, and the price to suit the times. Call early. 2t.

—Mr. Jas. T. Brennan, who represents a number of the very best and most substantial fire insurance companies in the United States, is in a position now to write tornado insurance; that is, insurance against loss by wind storms, cyclones, tornadoes, etc. During the past few weeks there has been considerable damage done to barns and other property by storms, which had they been insured against such their owners would now be in a position to make the proper repairs with but trifling loss. The premium on this kind of insurance is very low, so that farmers and others who have property exposed to the elements can scarcely afford to be without it. Consult Mr. Brennan. It will pay you.

—Have an eye out for this kind and meet them with a bull dog. The Derrick says: "A short time ago a lightning rod agent claiming to be from Pittsburg, called at the home of William Stiglett of the Ninth ward, and painted the dangers of lightning so vividly that Mr. and Mrs. Stiglett gave him an order to put up rods at 18 cents a foot with the verbal agreement that the job would not cost more than $26. They have been in the country but a short time, their knowledge of English is limited, and they signed a paper the agent gave them, without question. A few days later they received word from the bank that their note for $74.90 was due. After examining the notes and contracts their lawyer advised them that they could do nothing but pay the note." It is only fair to state that there are many reputable people in the lightning rod business, but it is well to ask them for home references, thus avoiding deception.

—The new act providing for legal holidays and half holidays passed by the legislature at its recent session is now in force, having been approved by Governor Pattison. The law designates New Year's day, Washington's birthday, Good Friday, Memorial day (May 30), the Fourth of July, Labor day (the first Saturday in September), Election day (the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November), Christmas, Thanksgiving day as designated by the President, and every Saturday after 12 o'clock, as holidays and half holidays. Each of these holidays and half holidays under the act are to be treated and considered as the first day of the week, known as Sunday, for all purposes regarding the presentation for payment or acceptance and for the protest and giving of notice of dishonor of bills of exchange, checks, drafts and promissory notes made after the passage of the act. For all other purposes these days and half days designated as legal holidays are regarded as secular or business days.

—The prospects are good for the expenditure of some Government funds in the improvement of navigation on the Allegheny in this immediate vicinity. Officials have been here during the week looking over the situation, and we understand have located a ying dam at the foot of Flemming island, to connect the island with the high bar below, thus shutting off the heavy draft of water between the two. As it is now, it makes raft running at that point very difficult and dangerous, the bar throws up almost directly in the channel at that place being a hard place to get around on account of the water having such a strong pull to the right. Some of the best pilots on the Allegheny were stranded there this season. It is also in contemplation to do some work down between the islands, below the mouth of the creek. Quite often, when the river is in fair rafting stage it is impossible to get out from behind the islands, and a small amount of money judiciously expended would remedy this matter effectually.

—Horse thieves seem to be having an easy time of it in the edge of Clarion, Jefferson and Forest counties, another successful raid having been made there on Monday night of last week. A valuable horse belonging to Robert McCloskey, of Farmington twp., Clarion county, was stolen from his barn on that night, some distance beyond they took a new buggy from Mrs. Jacob Maze, in Barnett twp., this county, a new harness from James Moore, and then turning in another direction they stole a lap robe and whip from Eli Kuhns, of Barnett twp. They then drove in the direction of Tionesta, passing through here at day break Tuesday morning. They were seen, two in a buggy, about that time, the horse being white with sweat, but nothing very strange was thought of the matter until their pursuers arrived, several hours afterward. It is thought they crossed the river here and were making about the same route that was pursued by thieves who stole a valuable horse in Barnett township this county several months ago. There is little likelihood that the property will be recovered.

—A novel swindle is being worked in the interior counties of this and adjoining states. A very clerical-looking man appears at the house of a prosperous farmer and announces he is a minister who is going to preach at a neighboring church. Soon after a young couple ride up and ask the farmer to direct them to a minister, where to be married. The preacher offers his services, the ceremony is performed and the minister asks the farmer and his wife to sign the marriage certificate. They readily do so, and soon receive notice of a note in bank. What next?

A terrible accident happened to the Clearfield branch of the Pennsylvania railroad Tuesday night of last week. Rounding a sharp curve twelve of the cars jumped the track and were smashed to pieces down a fifteen foot embankment. Five people were killed outright, and twelve frightfully injured. Forty-nine valuable horses and two sacred cows were killed. A lioness, tiger, panther and numerous snakes and other animals escaped. Three sleeping cars containing 150 people were saved by the lunch car getting across the track. The loss will reach nearly $300,000.

Two years ago the House Appropriations Committee had referred to it 234 bills involving an expenditure of $24,480,523.25. Of these, 66 were negative, and the committee granted a total sum of $20,341,641.29 reducing the demands $6,138,881.97. This session Chairman Marshall's committee received 282 bills and 84 were negative. The original total was $36,921,742.15, but the committee scaled this down to $22,146,733.36, a cut of $14,774,998.79. As it stands now, with the additional appropriation to the schools, the estimate of the committee has not been exceeded more than $10,000. It is the Governor's intention to dispose of the bills as rapidly as possible.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The case of Bidwell vs. Ridgway, which was tried at Meadville, ended on Monday last week in a verdict against defendant of $1 and costs. The action grew out of the fire at the Ridgway Sanitarium at Hydestown on May 3, 1892, in which a daughter of Oscar Bidwell, of Little Cooley, lost her life. Bidwell at first wanted $5,000, but afterwards offered to settle for $1,000. Mr. Ridgway, who from the first considered the case one of blackmail, pure and simple, refused all offers of a settlement, preferring to let the court decide the case. Bidwell then sued for $5,000 damages, with the results above mentioned. On hearing the verdict the patients at the sanitarium immediately took up a collection of 100 pennies on behalf of "Uncle Sam" Ridgway and sent them to Bidwell in payment of the fine.—Franklin News.

NEWSY NOTES.

There died in Redbank township, Armstrong county, recently, John Schrecongost, who had reached the advanced age of 104 years. His simple habits and good natured disposition are said to have added many years to his life.

"Bridge Gons" is the startling legend that now moves the astonished gaze of the traveler at the approaches to the Tobey bridge on either side of the Clarion river. Travelers will do well to look out for these signs.—Clarion Democrat.

Euallia, the spanish visitor, says the way to pronounce her name is "Ay-oo-lah-lee-ah." That may go in Spain, but in this country where life is so short to spend half an hour on four syllables she must expect people to take an American short cut and call her "Yoalaly."—Bradford Era.

The High Explosive Company, with branch offices in nearly every town in the oil region and headquarters in Bradford, has made an assignment. The liabilities and assets are not stated. The company is capitalized at $150,000. It is understood that Eastern companies are the company's heaviest creditors.

Several weeks ago Thomas Alexander, of the South Side, found a pleasant's nest containing eleven eggs, in the pine tract, and brought them home. He put them under a bantam hen, and last Saturday was pleased to see nine bright little pleasant's peep out from under their adopted mother. Mr. Alexander is very proud of this addition to his poultry yard, but we sorely expect a pair of them for our thanksgiving dinner.—Butler Herald.

The Kittanning Standard says: Emmenton people made a move on Monday of this week, which could be copied to the advantage and welfare of every town in the state. The Town Council appointed the day and at 8 a. m. at the top of the fire alarm every citizen was expected to go to work removing all accumulations of rubbish etc. on his premises. Teams were busy during the day removing this refuse which was placed in piles on the streets. Emmenton deserves to get along without any contagious diseases this summer.

"I learned a new thing" said a lady recently, "while visiting an English friend who is living in the country. We had a small dance one evening of my stay, and my hostess served the most delicious lemonade I ever drank. I spoke of it the next day, and she told me she made it of freshly boiled water—the secret she said of thoroughly good lemonade. 'I have a regular recipe,' she further informed me, which insures success if I am making a quart or gallon. For a quart I take the juice of three lemons, using a rind of one of them. I am careful to peel the rind very thin, getting just the yellow outside; this I cut into pieces, and put with the juice and powdered sugar, of which I use two ounces to the quart, in a jug or jar with a cover. When the water is at the tea point, I pour it over the lemon and sugar, cover at once and let it get cold. Try this once and you will never make it any other way."

—Are you insured? If not, now is the time to provide yourself and family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as an insurance against any serious results from an attack of bowel complaint during the summer months. It is almost certain to be needed and should be procured at once. No other remedy can take its place or do its work. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Siggins & Nason.

Mr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years.
