LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Oil market closed yesterday 58 1/2. Men's Jean pants a 75 cents, at Miles & Co's. Mrs. P. M. Clark is visiting friends in Clarion county.

George Robinson is home from Kenyon (O.) college on vacation. Mrs. J. L. Walters is recovering from a serious attack of heart trouble. Supt. Kerr is finishing up his annual examinations of teachers this week.

For sale cheap, two large, handsome mirrors, at Russell's barber shop. Mrs. J. H. Butler and daughter, Maud, visited friends in New Castle last week.

Miss Anna George, of Franklin, visited Misses Effa and Flora Walters last week. Misses Mae Grove and Clara Dunkle spent Sunday with friends in Titusville.

Rev. and Mrs. F. F. Shoup and children, of Mercer county, are paying a visit to friends here. Will Allan, who is engaged in Buffalo real estate business, gave Tionesta friends a visit last week.

Rev. Rumberger and daughter, Miss Mary, were guests of Mrs. Dr. Hunter and family a few days of last week. O. W. Proper returned Monday evening from the World's Fair, but says it's too big a concern to take in one summer.

Representative Haight stopped in town a few hours Monday, and gave the REPUBLICAN a pleasant call during his stay. Hon. J. B. Agnew is up from Washington, D. C., for a couple of weeks stay with friends. He reports his family all in good health.

S. R. Cogan came up from Barton, Md., to spend the Fourth with his family, and to shake hands with many old friends in this section. A valuable team of horses belonging to Mr. Lynch, of Foxburg, Howe township, was killed by a falling tree during last Saturday's storm.

Kory Heath left for his old home in Ohio to-day, to look after his interests in general, and presumably to see his best girl in particular. Col. Thomas J. Steward, Secretary of Internal Affairs, will please accept our thanks for his annual report of railroads, canals, telegraphs and telephones of the State for 1891-92.

The trouting season ends on the 15th, and that's next Saturday. The yield has not been up to the average this year, although the lie crop has probably turned out about as fine as usual. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hart, of Oil City are here visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hart, of Oil City are here visiting friends. It is over seven weeks since Mr. H. was so seriously burned by a gas explosion, and he is still considerably affected by his injuries. The regular berry season will soon be upon us, raspberries coming first.

Quarterly meeting will be held at Whig Hill, Saturday and Sunday, July 22 and 23. The services on Saturday will be held in the Town Line church. On Sabbath, in the old camp meeting grove.

The river is again down to about as low stage as it has been this season, making coal-boat navigation rather perilous, or at least very tedious. But from all accounts the market for the different kinds of lumber-ware below is about as sluggish as navigation, so it don't matter much in the long run.

Drilling is still going on at No. 59, on tract 5266, Balltown, although the well is now down over 3200 feet. This is 2000 feet below the Balltown sand, but Mr. Richards, the superintendent, informs us that they expect to go 4500 if they can get there. Surely this will be a thorough test of the lower depths, and one which will be watched with considerable interest.

Jas. K. Green, who resides in Harmony township, not far from West Hickory station, will offer for sale all his live stock, and farming machinery, on Saturday, July 22. He has a number of horses, cows, and a large flock of sheep, besides about everything necessary for conducting a well regulated farm, which will go to the highest bidder, and on sums over $5 a reasonable amount of time will be allowed, on good security. Remember the date.

Dr. Rumberger and two of his East Brady friends, Messrs. Wm. Cunningham and Jas. Murphy, gave the trout fishing in Forest county a parting blast last week, smashing the record for long distance pedestrianism, and subsisting on fish and buttermilk the while. They started in at Byromtown and walked, fished, canoed and overland-staged it to Tionesta, making the distance in little more than a day, barring one night's battle with punkeys, and came in looking robust and rugged.

The Warren Mail says: "The pupils of Warren schools now have in Warren Savings Bank and drawing four per cent interest over $5,000. A very good result of scarcely two years saving. This plan has proven very successful wherever tried. We see that in Pottstown, Pa., the children during the past year saved $7,100.22. The schools savings fund went into operation there January 1, 1890, and the total deposits to date is $29,527.88. This is a most excellent thing for the children. It not only teaches them economy, but that other good thing of laying something up for a rainy day."

Br'er Wank of the Tionesta Republican came up the afternoon of the 4th to chaperone the contestants from his town in the races.—Tidoute News. Slightly off, Br'er White. We did go up with the boys to see a race between gentlemen, and so far as the sprinting contest was concerned it was clean, fair and decent, with the Tionesta man a close second. But for contemptible meanness commend us to the bicycle fiasco, in which a Tionesta gentleman took part under the delusion that he would receive white treatment, and we were rather disappointed that Br'er White, in his usual spirit of fairness, did not find something to say in condemnation tion of the ungentlemanly trick served upon Tionesta's representative by the Tidoute party, even though it was a reproach to his town. Harry Walters, son of Dick Walters, Jamieson station, was quite severely injured, and had a very narrow escape from death on the 2d inst. While diving in a buggy, accompanied by his sister, on the road above Dawson station, at a point where the railroad runs close to the wagon road, he was overtaken by a freight train. The horse frightened somewhat and in attempting to quiet him one of the lines broke, thus pulling the animal over the embankment. As the buggy went over young Walters threw his sister out, saving her from injury. He was struck by some object, he can't tell what, and thrown several feet, cutting a great gash in his right thigh, and otherwise bruising him, but he is getting along quite well now. The horse was cut about the shoulder and head, but not seriously. The buggy was completely demolished.

Crushed to Death. A sad fatality occurred on the little railroad of Collins & Co., at Nebraska on the afternoon of the 29th ult. A car of logs had jumped the track at a point about half a mile from the landing. Three or four of the crew were at work unloading the car in order to get it back on the track. While so engaged one of the logs started suddenly while one of the men, John E. Mohney, was in its wake, striking the unfortunate man and knocking him down, and before it could be caught by any of his companions had rolled upon his back. Instantly the men seized the huge stick and by almost superhuman strength lifted it off the man, who still had strength enough to crawl from under it. He was conveyed to his home, only a few rods away, and Dr. Nason summoned, but the injury was too great, and he died a few minutes after the Dr's arrival, suffering greatly.

Mr. Mohney, whose former home was at Reedsburg, Clarion county, was aged about 30 years, and leaves a young wife and one child aged about two years. He had worked at Nebraska about a year, and was well thought of by his neighbors and associates as an industrious and honest man.

The Fourth in Tionesta. The morning salute was postponed, and just as well, for there were a number of very sick people in town who could scarcely have borne the cannonading. At the appointed time the Hoodlums made the rounds of the town. The procession was not large, but provoked a great deal of laughter, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Whiteman's cigar factory had a well dressed wagon in line, and made a good showing. Assembling at the court house grounds the crowd listened attentively to Mr. Randall's "rendition" of the Declaration of Independence, as also to the oration of Judge Irwin, which was short but patriotic enough to suit the most enthusiastic. During all the exercises the occasion was greatly enlivened by the sweet strains of the cornet band, and the soulstirring music of the Beaver Valley drum corps. Promptly after dinner the races took place, and proved quite a feature of the day's performances. There were no disputes, and the prizes were promptly awarded to the winners, as follows:

Boys' race, Fenstermaker first, Frank Hood second. Free for all race, C. S. Kirchartz first, John Huddleson second. Hurdle race, Kirchartz first, "Doc" Vanderbert second. Potato race, Leonard Blum first, Adolph Blum second. Half mile bicycle race, M. H. McGuire first, Dr. Siggins second. Two mile bicycle race, Dr. Siggins first, McGuire second. Tub race, Al. Ault first, Garfield Grove second.

This virtually wound up the day's sports, and there seemed to be enough to keep the large crowd in attendance pretty busy watching, and reasonably well satisfied with the results. The dance in the afternoon and evening was well patronized. Once or twice during the day there were some demonstrations as though there might be a little "scrapping," but the prompt attention of the officers had a very salutary effect on the belligerents, and so the day passed with very little trouble all things considered.

Closing-out Sale of Summer Suits, regardless of cost, at Miles & Co's. It. This is naturally one of the dull months in business, but that don't effect things about Hopkins & Lanson's, where goods are sold with the same old fashioned vim. You never fail to strike a bargain at their counters, in dull times or lively. 2t.

The diet necessary to contain animal heat during winter, is no longer necessary during the warm months of spring and summer, and a change is not only beneficial but necessary. To avoid any unpleasant results, and to keep up vitality, the system should be stimulated by the use of pure whiskey. Physicians throughout the country unite in prescribing and recommending the whiskey bottled by Max Klein, on account of their purity and general excellence, and the known reliability of his Silver Age, Duquesne and Bear Creek brands. Send for a free catalogue of all kinds of liquors, malted, for MAX KLEIN, 82 Federal St., Allegheny, Pa.

I think much of it, as it did for what it is recommended to do. John Hertzler, Bethel, Berks Co., Pa. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Siggins & Nason.

Preserving Peaches. We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Siggins and Nason Druggists.
