THERE are only 12,000 idle men in the Lake Superior mining regions. "Four, four, four years more!"

If Grover Cleveland is to be disabled by gout he may have his pension cut off, too. But perhaps he doesn't get a pension.

The old soldier getting a pension under the dependent act will learn with pleasure that his pension has been stopped for sixty days while the rebel brigadier inquires into his case.

CHOLERA in France, Russia, Hungary and Egypt, less than a week's travel from this country. Put up the bars at the ports—keep out the immigrants until the snow flies at least.

They say that Thomas B. Reed is heartier than ever, and that he will take his old voice and his hat full of brains into Congress when the extra session meets. With Reed on the floor there will be a general disposition to keep quiet on the part of the Democratic leaders. How they do hate Reed—and fear him.

In Judge of the current week is a cartoon representing Uncle Sam ruefully surveying the ruins of broken banks and closed industrial establishments with thousands of men out of work, while Judge asks: "You wanted a change—how do you like it as far as you have gone?" It is a cartoon that hits the nail on the head.

THE uncertainty concerning what Congress will do with the financial question has led New York importers to inform their customers that hereafter only gold will be taken in payment. It may put some of the buyers to a great deal of trouble to get gold, but this is one of the misfortunes of a Democratic administration.

Here is the Bounding Daddy of the Silver Dollar, Congressman Bland, calling on the silver men to fight for their rights, and declaring that the Democrats of the West and South have been banished by the Democrats of the East. It is going to be a fine old family fight, and the Republicans will enjoy the wake that follows.

Two of the scoundrels, Gallagher and Davidson, who confessed to poisoning workmen at Homestead, now confess that their former confession, by which Dempsey and Beatty were convicted, was a lie. One statement or the other is a lie, beyond question. The present confession is not more improbable than the other one, but neither seems entitled to implicit confidence.

FOR the first time in the history of the trade every plate glass factory in the United States is closed and that indefinitely. And ten thousand men are idle. It has been the custom to operate plate glass factories all the year around, notwithstanding the usual summer shut down of the other glass industries. The free trader may ascribe this to overproduction, but the people who look into these matters will ascribe it to the clumsy methods of a Democratic administration that simply made a toy of great financial questions. This is another object lesson. There will be more in the future.

FROM every direction comes the report of mills closing up. The Salem (N. J.) Oilcloth Works, the Phoenix Wooden Mill, of Chester; the Cohoes (N. Y.) Knitting Company's mill, the Charles Parker Company, of Meriden, Conn., employing 1000 hands, and numerous other manufacturing establishments have closed up, within the last few days. Lack of orders due to the uncertainty of prices is the cause. In other words, the shadow of free trade is paralyzing the business of the nation. A year ago the country was in the height of prosperity. What has brought about the change? The election of Grover Cleveland and the success of the Democratic party pledged to free trade.

SUNDAY was the last on which the World's Fair gates will be open, the management having discovered that it don't pay to run counter to the ideas of the American people when it comes to the desecration of the Christian Sabbath. The scheme was not only demoralizing in all respects, but was resulting in heavy financial loss on week days as well as Sundays. Hence the complete revocation of former resolutions.

GOVERNOR ALTGELD, of Illinois, has ordered the defeat of Judge Gary, who tried and sentenced the Anarchists released by Altgeld. As Judge Gary is a Republican, and will be renominated by his party this fall, Altgeld has more cheek than falls to the average man to presume to interfere. The Republicans of Chicago and thousands of Democrats will reelect Judge Gary and rebuke the friend of murderers and thugs. Altgeld is a disgrace to civilization.

"Don't say anything about the tariff," is the cry of certain free trade newspapers, adding, "let us put all the blame on silver." But the tariff will not down. We had the silver question a year ago, and have had it for three years, and yet the country until recently was prosperous to a high degree. Now we have got the tariff question, and there is all the difference in the world. Mills are closing up, 10,000 men have been thrown out of employment in the northwestern iron mines, lake vessels are tying up, and disaster is everywhere. Silver has something to do with it, but the spectre of free trade a hundred times more.

THAT Colorado silver convention simply wants to wade in gore. The Populist Governor Waite, who should of all men keep cool in a crisis, made a speech in which he threatened that blood would "flow to the horses' bridles rather than our national liberties be destroyed," classing as one of our "national liberties" the free coinage of silver. The incendiary utterances of such blatherskites will not do much to help the silver cause. Rather they will show the conservative people of the country what a dangerous element they have to deal with and prepare them for the conflict which the silver men seem intent upon forcing upon the country. What is wanted among the silver men is cool-headed men who can lead.

THE agent of a cotton mill in Lewiston, Maine, who has kept in touch with matters, says that before October next every mill in Lewiston will be compelled to close owing to the uncertainty regarding tariff matters, and that thousands of men will be thrown out of employment. Why, this was the very warning sounded by the Republican party during the last campaign, and it was sneered at by the Democrats who dubbed it the old cry of "Wolf!" The time will come, and it is not so very far ahead, when the American workman will find to his sorrow that the Democratic party is his worst enemy. Democracy to hold the West and South must live up to its free trade declarations, and that means death to American manufactures.

THEY hung a poor colored devil down in Kentucky last week on a charge of murdering two girls, and they strung him up without trial by jury, and without giving him any chance whatever for his life. On the platform erected for his execution he made a speech in which he said "I am an innocent man." It mattered little what he said. A crime had been committed, a man had been arrested, here was the man, the mob demanded a victim, and the mob wreaked its vengeance. The man was hanged, the mob of respectable, civilized white people subjected the corpse to all manner of barbarity, and then burned it, and outraged justice was vindicated. Now comes the sequel. It has been discovered that the victim of the mob, when he said he was innocent, spoke the truth. The evidence against him was two rings found in his pocket which it was alleged were taken from the victims. The father of the two girls says the rings never belonged to his daughters; he, himself, doubts the guilt of the poor victim who narrowly escaped being burned at the stake, but met death at the rope's end, and the mob is now said to have made a horrible mistake. Is it not enough to hang a man without trial by judge or jury, barring out the fact that he is innocent and protests his innocence to his latest breath? This last story from the South may have some effect on future mobs, but we doubt it.

SENATOR VOORHEES is of the opinion that Congress will be in session continuously for a whole year. May the Lord have mercy upon a long suffering public!—Dem. Exchange.

WHERE is that business confidence that was to be braced up by the election of Cleveland and the success of the Democratic party? If it is to come, it had better get here pretty quick. Manufacturing establishments and furnaces, steel and iron works and other lines of industry are closing down all over the country, and thousands of men find themselves on the cold world without work. A week ago 10,000 men were put out of work in Indianapolis by ten industrial establishments closing their doors. In the Lebanon Valley a number of furnaces have been blown out, and that they will remain idle for some time is evidenced by the fact that the entrances have been boarded up.

A day or two ago a dispatch from Troy, N. Y., announced that work had ceased at the works of the Troy steel and iron company, and five hundred men would have to look elsewhere for employment. For the first time in its history the Glendon iron company at Easton has been forced by the depression in the iron trade to completely shut down and one hundred and seventy men out of work.

These are a few samples of the bracing up of business confidence we were to have under the new Democratic dispensation. It is not a pleasant picture to look at; but facts are facts and this country will have to face them. Nobody pretends to guess when it will end, but for the good of the country we hope it will end soon.

The trouble began just as soon as a Democratic President and Congress were elected.

It isn't lack of money in this country. It is lack of confidence in an administration that started wrong.
