The New Married Woman's Law.

The new married woman's law passed by the late Legislature is deserving the attention of all having business with that class of persons. It was passed to meet decisions of the courts, which, pursuing their usual custom of very strict con struction on this subject, had largely neutralized the apparent intent of pre vious legislation, as well as to meet the rifte a 32-calber single-shot Ballard, demand for larger freedom over their es-

NEWSY NOTES.

Lemon juice will, it is said, dissolve pearl buttons. The product is an ointment said to be a perfect cure for corns. Dr. Geo. P. Mains, of Brooklyn, N. Y. recently elected president of Allegheny College at Meadville, declines to serve and another meeting of the Trustees is called for July 26, Ralph Crossmire, convicted of murder in the first degree, for the killing of his mother at Farmer Valley, near Bradford, has been denied a new trial by the Su preme court. He will be sentenced September 5, unless the Governor interferes which is not likely.

The Boston Traveler gives the following receipt for driving files away. It says; "Pick a bunch of sweet clover and hang it up to dry in your living room, It will drive away more flies than any one square yard of paper." Persons who have tried this remedy certify to its efficacy. Try it.

The end of the quarrel in the Evangelical Church in this State appears to be in sight. A Harrisburg dispatch says it has been agreed between the two factions that the cases in Reading, Easton, Norristown and Williamtown, growing out of controversies over church property, shall be argued together before the Supreme Court next spring and that the decision shall be accepted as final in all other pending cases in Pennsylvania.

The Big Medicine Man of the Bradford Era says: "Taking summer medicines, or a surfeit of summer advice is folly. Nature makes one season as well as ano ther, and no period of the year is calculated to do harm to the animate creation. The weather is all right. Of course it's warm, and if we persist in doing rediculous things in the vain hope of keeping as cool as in mid-winter we are going t invite cholera morbus and such little things that come to tell us to let up. The right way is to take things as easy as pos sible, drink water enough to satisfy the needs, eat decent vituals without any foldi-rol trimings to keep off heat, and let medicines and preventives alone, and everything will work all right. The weather is all right," The humbug of the newspaper coupor contest for "free trips" to the World's Fair is easily shown by analyzing a case or two. An Erie paper has had one of these contests, agreeing to send the five persons to the Fair who turned in the most voting coupons cut from the paper, The paper received $1,686.23 from the sale of papers at 3 cts. each. As the cost to a private individual going alone would not probably be over $75 at most, the five free trips would amout to $375. This gives the newspaper a margin of about $1,311, a large part of which is profit, to say nothing of incidental advertising, The contest of the teachers for the Pittsburg Times free trips to the Fair was of the same nature. One Meadville teacher and her friends paid out $195,30 in the contest and lost by 2,400 votes. A teacher in Pittsburg who had 20,000 votes did a shrewd thing by selling them for $160, with which she can do the Fair on her own hook. The contest business is a delusion and a humbug,-Franklin Pennsylvanians think Pennsylvania is a big State, but visitors to the World's Fair will think it still bigger when they see the newly completed State map, now on exhibition at Chicago in the Pennsylvania school exhibit. The map has just been removed to the Exposition from the Capitol, and cannot fall to attract a great deal of notice on account of the size, being the largest drawing of the State ever made. It is drawn on the scale of two miles to the inch, being fourteen feet long by eight feet wide, and containing one hundred and twelve feet of canvass. The mammoth drawing was made under the direction of Col. John A. Woodward, assistant executive commissioner, by Captain John H. Campbell and J. Suttor Wall, the experienced draughtsmen of the Department of Internal Affairs. The primary object in the preparing of this map is to show visitors at the World's Fair the geographical distribution and le cation of the colleges, seminaries, acade mies and public schools of the State as they actually exist at the present time. All the locations of the schools through out are plainly marked and any single one can be readily found. The colleges and schools of Philadelphia are shown in tabular form on the margin of the map. It also shows the county bound views, principal towns, water courses and publie roads. To a person ignorant of the real educational progress of our State in all the various lines of mental culture it is a revelation.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

It is conceded that no rye whiskies made in the world can equal those made in Pennsylvania, more especially Silver Age, Duquesne or Bear Creek. These three brands head the list of pure Ryes, and are so well known that every reputable dealer sells them. North, East, South and West they lead all others, because they are pure; because they are reliable, and because they are stimulants that strengthen and invigorate. They are sold at prices within the each of all, and are sold upon their merreach of all, and are sold upon their mer-its for purity and strength. Sliver Age, $1.50; Duquesne, $1.25; Bear Creek, $1.60, full standard quarts. Ask your dealer for them; Insist on having them, and if you cannot be supplied, send to Max Klein, Allegheny, Pa. -Last fall I was taken with a kind of summer complaint, accompanied with a wonderful diarrhoea. Soon after my wife's sister, who lives with us, was taken in the same way. We used altaken in the same way. We used almost everything without benefit. Then I said, let us try Chamberlain's Colle, Cholera and Duarrhou Remedy, which we did, and that cured us right away. I think much of it, as it did for me what it was recommended to do. John Hertzler, Bethel, Berks Co., Pa. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Siggins & Nason.
