

THE FOREST REPUBLICAN.

J. E. WENK, EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 16, 1893.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

COUNTY. Prothonotary, Ac. CALVIN M. ARNER, Tionesta Boro. Sheriff, HARRY MAZE, Jenks Twp. County Commissioners, W. M. COON, Barnett Twp. W. A. CONNELLY, Hickory Twp. Additors, M. E. ABBOTT, Hickory Twp. W. L. STROUP, Howe Twp. Jury Commissioner, J. B. CARPENTER, Kingsley Twp.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE MEETING.

The members of the Republican County Committee of Forest County are requested to meet at the Court House, in Tionesta, on Monday evening, August 28, 1893, court week, at 7:30 o'clock, for the transaction of important business to the party. It is hoped there will be a full turnout. JAMES I. WOODS, Chairman.

How can it be possible to hold that the position of silver in the financial system of the country is responsible for the distress when it is remembered that to-day a silver dollar will buy just as much as a gold dollar?

Just when the country was congratulating itself upon having escaped a visitation of cholera, news comes from New York that a steamer has arrived at that port with a passenger suffering from cholera symptoms. It is hoped, however, that the progress of the scourge will be stayed at the quarantine station.

CLEVELAND could have started the hum in a thousand mills and work shops, made time easier inside of forty-eight hours, if, instead of a two-column message he had employed only a dozen words and said, "there will be no tariff tinkering while I am President," and told Congress to go home and mind its business.

DOES President Cleveland imagine, with every industry in the country kept in a state of fear until his party decides what the revenue tariff shall be, that the passage of any silver bill—to retrench or to expand coinage—will restore confidence to the country? We do not so read the signs of the times, and shall be very agreeably disappointed if such proves to be the case.

STATE TREASURER MORRISON has given his friends to understand that he will enter the list for Auditor General when the proper time comes, and the press of the State has given him a boon a cordial send-off. Captain Morrison has proved a most faithful and competent official. Giles D. Price of Erie, and ex-Senator Mylin, of Lancaster, will also be candidates.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

TIMES like these demand mutual accommodation. Many a firm which for more than a generation has met every obligation finds itself forced to pay its men in checks, in promises, or in some time accommodation. Fortunately the banks make every effort to meet demands which do not involve the payment of money, and storekeepers generally, if they are wise, will take checks for money in the present situation.—Phila. Press.

CHARLES CHAUNCEY BINNEY is one of the boldest and most Democratic reformers in Philadelphia who prepared a letter to Cleveland after the election last fall commending the President for the summary manner in which he was turning down office seekers in his determination "to give uninterrupted consideration of momentous questions of vital importance to the welfare of our country." Mr. Binney has just been appointed an Assistant United States Attorney General, and the other fellows who signed the letter are wondering why they were such chumps.

THE promiscuous lopping off of pensions by the present administration will not have a tendency to relieve the financial depression. There can be no very serious mistake made in granting pensions to the soldiers of the late war. Nearly all of them are nearing the Western rim of life's horizon. Another decade will see but a remnant of that gallant host of vigorous young men who fought for their country and conscious, not for conquest or the spoils of war. Their last days deserve not to be made gloomy by the clouds of doubt and disrespect. It was Napoleon who said that governments ought to be extravagant when times are hard, and economical when times are good.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

The President's Message.

President Cleveland's message is in hearty accord with the predominant sentiment of the East on the silver question. Its argument is simple, and ought to be understood by everybody. He makes it quite clear that he is against silver money, while he frankly confesses that the Republican party is not responsible for the Sherman act. So far, so good. But when he ascribes the business troubles of this summer to the silver purchasing act he makes a great mistake. It was not the loss of the government in its silver purchases; it was not the encroachment upon the $100,000,000 gold reserve, but the fear of adverse tariff legislation that produced distrust of the future.

The silver law has been in operation for three years, and the last of those three years were among the most prosperous this country has known. Every mill and shop and factory in the country was busy. In our own city of Harrisburg not an idle man was to be found, who was willing to work. It is impossible, therefore, that silver is wholly to blame for our present condition. It may have aggravated it, but it was not the prime reason. So, therefore, when President Cleveland blames the financial depression solely upon the purchase of silver he shuts his eyes to a condition known to exist by every business man in the country.

His message contains a threat to the country of future Anti-American tariff legislation that will largely counterbalance the good his position on silver may secure. It hints, too, at a great advance from his letter of acceptance. If he conceives tariff reform of such importance as to justify the calling of an extra session he must mean to accept the ultra Democratic doctrine that a tariff can be imposed for revenue only, and that a protective tariff, incidental or otherwise, is unconstitutional. With the issue so made up the prospect of an early adjustment of the financial situation, and a revival of manufacturing and industrial enterprises is not promising. The country is therefore in very little better condition to-day than before the message appeared.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

What The Farmer Has Lost.

The figures of the New York Produce Exchange shows that the farmers lose ($232,000,000) Two hundred and Thirty-two Millions of Money at this year's prices on their wheat and corn. This must be comforting to the farmers who wanted a change and voted for Cleveland and $1.25 wheat. Last year's prices were not high enough to satisfy them. They voted for something better, and they have gotten it with a vengeance. Compare the figures: Export barley in June, 1892, averaged 55.13 cents a bushel; in June this year it averaged 47.45 cents. Corn which averaged last June 55.66 cents a bushel, in June this year brought 47.95 cents. Rye shrunk in a year from 86.47 cents per bushel to 60.91 cents. Wheat fell in the past year from 91.57 cents to 79.93 cents. Everything that the farmer has to sell, except oats and oatmeal has fallen from 13 to 25 per cent.

Is there any doubt that the farmers have lost this amount. Compare the prices under Cleveland with the prices under Harrison, and the farmer is too dumb to be saved who cannot see where the loss of two hundred and thirty-two millions of dollars occurred.

The platform of the Ohio Democracy, while avowedly and intensely partisan, is broad enough for all patriotic citizens to stand on; and its expressions of confidence in a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress will find an echo wherever good government is prized.—Philadelphia Record.

It is just this sort of balderdash that makes the average reader doubt the sanity of the editor. Just imagine a partisan Democratic platform having just at this time any attractions for the patriotic citizen; and it is the lack of confidence in a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress that is tambling the business of the country into a heap of ruins. McKinley will scotch the Ohio snake this fall in a style that will settle the question of "confidence" for years to come.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The poor veteran soldier is catching it all around. Hoke Smith wants affidavits about the character of the pensioner's witnesses, and the national banks refuse to cash their checks. Wonder if there would be any National banks if these brave pensioners hadn't "fought, bled and died" for their country's cause!—Warren Mail. The farmers of Ohio, who are getting sixteen cents for their wool, will be ready to vote for McKinley long before the snow flies. They have had a plenty of cheap wool.

"He who dallies is a dastard, He who doubts is damned," says Henry Watterson, in urging immediate action of the Democratic party to impose free trade upon the country. Well, the probabilities are that if the elements in the Democratic party, of which Mr. Watterson is the representative, have their way, there is little doubt about the damnation that will come upon their party.
