It is announced from Philadelphia that a conference of Democratic leaders was held at the Lafayette Hotel a few days ago, when Samuel Gustine Thompson was agreed upon as Justice of the Supreme Court, but no name was selected for the nomination for State Treasurer. Chairman Harrity is said to be hunting a soldier candidate, but he might as well take the first material that comes to hand. The Republican candidates are going to be elected this year by a majority that will serve to emphasize

Only Waiting.

England is only waiting to swamp us with cheap goods. The Ways and Means Committee of the House is now engaged in hearing argument and receiving suggestions in the preparation of a new tariff bill, which it is expected will take the tariff from a number of articles that can only be manufactured in this country at a profit to the wave-worker and the manufactorer when protected. The movements of this committee are very carefully watched in England, especially by the papers, which are weeping over the decadence of English inthe fact that Democracy has no show dustries. Here, is an extract from the Loudon Economist, England's leading financial paper :

"It is lamentable to think that the the Grand Army Encampment at English iron and steel trade has made Indianapolis was the comparative no progress for several years past. smallness of the parade in proportion The general condition of affairs in to the attendance.
