HISTORY OF THE CHURCH.

Forty years ago, lacking a few days, frosts came they were so heavy as to the Presbyterian church of Tionesta was organized, with a membership of sixteen-of which nine were women -The commission appointed by and six men. Prior to this however. the Courts of Venango and Crawford and leading up to it was a Sabbath School, organized about 1848, by Mr. Hamilton Stowe, who was its Super-intendent, and Miss Anna May, aftercounties, to survey and define the boundary line between the two counties, met in this city to-day and filed wards Mrs. John Lamb, and Miss Eva Scott, now Mrs. William Hutheir maps and report. E. church(a frame structure, standing on ed and marked by the commission the present ground occupied by the M. E. church.) It remained here until the erection of the Presbyterian Warren county to a point several church, when the school was trans miles west of Titusville .- Franklin terred to it and continued until the erection of the present M. E. church, about 1868, when it was again transferred to the M. E. church. During all this time it remained a union school, but in 1873 the Presbyterians organized a school in their own church the several counties, as to whether an making it denominational.

Services of the Presbyterlan order had been conducted at infrequent in-tervals by Revs. Babcock and Hampson, of Titusville, and Dr. Craighead, of Meadville, till at last a time came when the few Presbyterians began to riages to be performed outside of the look about them for a permanent place to worship and a permanent organization for their own mutual good and the advancement of the Kingdom of Christ. They first set about the erection of a place for worship. A lot was purchased by Mrs. Margaret May, wife of Rev. Hezikiah May, and by her donated to the trustees of the print. The first communion service was held Jan. 15, 1854, conducted by Dr. Craighead. It would seem a fitting thing here to say a word concerning Hamilton Stow. A devout and ear-nest whole souled christian. He was always seeking opportunitys to do the work of his Master. After his removal to Tionesta, he gave largely of his time and means to this end. It was through his efforts the Sunday School was started; through his untiring devotion the prayer meeting was sustained, and through his generous liberality the erection of the first church was possible. He was not satisfied with having made a beginning but until the time of his removal in 1865, he manifested the same zeal and energy in the advancement of the Kingdom of Christ. During the next one and a half man was passing the place on his way years the church was supplied occa-sionally by Revs. Berrege and Elliott. Rev. G. W. Hammer was engaged as regular pastor Nov. 1855 and continued with the church about two and a half years, giving two-thirds of his time to this place and the remainder to Pleasantville. Quite a number of accessions were made during this pastorate. Among others was Mr. Jas. when he died. Before his death, A. Bowman, who perhaps deserves however, we understand he made a more than a mere mention of his name. Coming from Utica, Pa., when a young man he united with this church on profession of his faith. His upright character and zeal in the Master's service soon won for him the love and respect of the church, so that seven months later, in August 1856, he was elected and ordained to the office of ruling elder, and up to the time of his death discharged faithfully the duties of that office. He was an

-Late visitors to the World's PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH DEDICA- who have never seen his face, me mentoes and memorials of his thoughtfulness and devotion, in the noble symmetrical maple trees that now urround and beautify the church, planted by his hands.

The pastorate of Rev. Hammer, which closed in March 1858, was followed by three years during which there is no account of any preaching service. In 1861 Rev. R. C. Allison became pastor, and remained two years, after which with the exception of the services of Rev. Andrew Virtue giving but one third of his time, from 1869 to 1871, the church was supplied only irregularly by the Presbytery until January 1875. The condition of the church during these 12 years seems to have been at a very low ebb. The excitement created by the war and also by the discovery of oil was injurious to the church and the records show no evidence of work done; carcely the existence of the church while on the other hand apathy and neglect is quite apparent. Shortly after the close of the war the church suffered by the removal of many of its prominent members to other places which, in a large measure also accounts for its low condition. In 1875 Rev. Wm. Elliott, now of Canal Fulton, O., settled over the church for one-half time. The prospects began to brighten. There being no ruling elders, Mr. H. H. Stevenson, of Oil City, was invited to assist the pastor in the reception of new members, and on Jan. 16, 1875, twelve were received most of whom are still in connection with this church. Shortly after this In April, Mr. G. G. Butterfield was elected elder, a conscientious, sincere, devout christian, he performed faithfully his duties till his death in 1890. During this pastorate, which continued until 1880, the church was greatly strengthened both in point of numers and in efficient organization. Rev, James Hickling, now of Dres den,Ohio, having supplied the church during the summer of 1880, was called for one half time August 22, 1881., and remained with the congregation till May 1888. Of him it can be truly said—"He was a good man and full of the Holy Ghost." His earnestness and singleness of purpose was felt by all. Although the early days of the history of the church were not as bright and prosperous as one could wish for it, yet we realize that an estimation based upon numbers or appearances is often false. The foundation must be laid. But this work, though all important does not always the beholder with its true worth. The work of a life time for the coversion of a single soul is by no means a wasted life, for it may be the foundation upon which a noble superstructure is to be built, and the value of that single soul in the eyes of its crea-tor, who can compute? Before the harvest comes the seed time, and the seed sown in hope and faith shall surely by and by bring fotrh abundant fruit. But it is almost always the Divine Husbandman's good pleasure to have at least some of the reaping go along with the sowing, that the hearts of his workers may not grow faint and weary in the way, so it was The years covered by the above narrative from 1853 to 1888, were not without visible results, 123 persons in all were added to the church, many of whom continue with us till this Some have moved to other parts of the Master's vineyard to take their places among the ranks of christion workers, while many have lain down the cross to take up a crown and join with the throng of the redeemed "who have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. Up to April 1st 1893, 198 persons have been members of the church, and the present roll of members is 90. The elders at the present time, are Mr. Archibald B. Kelly, ordained and installed, August 5, 1877, and George W. Robinson July 6, 1890. These with the addition of C. A. Randall, consistute the trustees. In regard to benevolence the church has a good record, though nothing definite can be given earlier than June 1st, 1889, the beginning of the present pastorate. During the past four years the offer-ings to the different Boards of the church, aside from legacies, aggregate $1,225. The Sabbath School is in a good healthy condition showing the whole number enrolled to be about 180. One feature that is well worthy of notice is the large attendance of the oldest people of the congregation, who have not arrived at the point of "know it all" about the Bible, which becomes more precious, because of its revalation, with increasing years and careful study. The Ladies Home and Foreign Missionary Societies, were organized, the former in 1888, and the latter about ten years previous, and are carried on by a devoted band of earnest workers with splendid results, results not only in increased contributions to the cause but also in the developement of a broader christian sympathy and zeal in christian work. By the death of Mrs. Helen May-Thomas in July 1890, the Foreign Missionary society lest a valuable member to whose constant and unwearied efforts the society owes much of its success.

Last, but by no means least, among the special church organizations are Young People's Christian Endeavor Societies. As a means for binding together the hearts of young in the bonds of christian fellow-ship, developing christian life and activity, inciting to good works these societies have accomplished much. The senior society was organized in the church April 1891, though it had, its birth more than a year previous in a club of boys ranging from 12 to 16 years, they met each week for prayer and the study of God's word. Out of this has developed a society numbering 32 active and seven associate members. The christian character of these meetings has never been lost sight of nor is there any disposition to do so. Their regular meetings on Monday evenings are such good old fashioned meetings of prayer, praise and speaking, that would win the approval of those who fear the results multiplication of societies within the church and disarm all opposition. Already 14 young people have united with the church who had been associate members. In the summer of 1892 the Junior Endeavor was organized Misses Nannie Morrow and Anna Anderson. This society has a mem-bership of 38 and its Funday afternoon meetings are given to the study of the Bible and devotional service. This training of the children to take part in public service can not but make itself felt in coming days in better equiped men and wemen to do Christ's work in the church.

the future. Standing here in the presence of God in this building about to be dedicated by prayer to his worship, a building so substantial, so convenient, so suited to all the needs of the church, we praise Him, who has led us, for all his mercy, love and good-ness. And as our minds have recalled the past, as we have noted the difficulties through which our fathers have gone, the victories they have achieved through the blessing of Almighty God let us consecrate ourselve anew to his service. As we enter into this new house of worship may it be with new life and zeal, with union of heart, mind, and purpose, with love to God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, and may we so live, guided by the Holy Spirit, that the blessing of God may rest upon us, his Spirit working through us that this church may be a blessing to the world, and an honor to Him who hast redeemed it with his own precious blood.
