WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1893.

THE Republican State convention will be held on January 3rd in Har risburg to nominate a candidate for Congressman-at-Large.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has affixed bis signiture to the resolution to pro- American production must cease vide for additional deputy internal revenue collectors to carry out the workingmen must be coutent with provisions of the Chinese exclusion

ROBERT ADAMS, Ex-Minister to Brazil was nominated for Congress in success in boring one well leads inthe Second District Republican Convention on the 8th, inst., receiving all but one vote out of one hundred in the oil business, and the all-suffiand twenty-four.

THE city officials of Pittsburg have been holding conferences recently to devise means to aid the unemployed and deserving poor. It has consumer would not be benefitted, finally been decided to raise $1,000. 000 by popular subscription and usthe money for city and park |mprovements. A number of the leading capitalists have volunteered to make large donations and it is thought there will not be much trouble in raising the amount required - Derrick | fit to the subjects of the czar .-

THE Democratic representative from the Wilkes-Barre district, Wil liam H. Itines, has declared that he does not entirely approve of the Ways and Means Committee's tariff ate's request for information pertainbill, and that he is not in favor of log to all the instructions given to putting any product of this State on the free list unless it be iron ore. Well, Mr. Hines will have a chance to show his opposition to this sectional tariff bill, when it comes up for action, and he knows very well that he cannot support the position taken by the free traders of Arknosas and Texas and hope to be re-elected from his district. It went Republican at the last election on the mere threat of Democratic tariff smashing.

THE receipts of the State treasury for the fiscal year ending November 30, were the largest in the history of the State. The total amount received was $13,252,727 89. The total amount disbursed was $13,423,064.77 Included in the receipts are the collections made through the attorney general, approximating $1,310,000. and collections by the auditor gener al from delinquent corporations, which, while they swell the grand total, cannot be properly used as a basis for estimating the revenues for the year 1894. State Treasurer Morrison is now engaged on his annual report whether or not our government, and has not yet made an estimate for the current year ending November 30, 1893, but he says that on account telt in the State they will be greatly President in his recent message to reduced.

PUTTING oil on the free list has caused a general outburst of disapproval by the Pennsylvania oil producers. Russia is our competitor in this line. People are not generally aware of the enormous quantity of oil there is produced in that country already, not to speak of the vast oil territory not yet touched. During the eleven months of this year 5,633,-998 barrels have been produced. The development of that oil field has been increasing. America no longer enjoys a monopoly of oil and will have to look to her interests now that so formidable a rival has sprung up for the World's trade. While Russian oil is inferior in quality it is pro- will take Congress into his confidence duced at a much less expense, an that it could become a competitor with American oil on the latters own ground. It is said that the Standard an American Minister is to overturn oil company could not face the com a foreign government diplomatically petition unless it could import and and in a spirit of brotherhood. refine Russian crude.

Or course all the British free trade newspapers commend Cleveland's message as a wise and forcible document. That is their business. That has been the feeling toward Cleveland every time be makes a public utterance commending free trade For years the British press has assaulted the protective features of this country, and it is quite natural that when the President of the United States assists in such an assault that they should commend him and prase him. It is quite natural, too, that they should praise him for his course in trying to restore the Hawaiian monarchy. They know very well that if the Queen is restored it will only be for a little while, and the decent element of the country will not again look to the United States for aid, but will stretch out its hands to England, and England will be only too glad, to assume the protectorate and get out of it all there is for the gain of England. Yes, the British papers have much to commend in Cleveland's message It is throughly English, made so to please Englishmen -Er.
