No subscriptions received for a aborter period than three months. Ourcespondence solicited from all parts of the country. No netice will be taken of anonymous wommunications.

SCIENTIFIC AND INDUSTRIAL

There is an electric rock breaker.

A steam bicycle is a German inven-

The breaking strain of an inch rope

People cat much more bread in win-

Butterflies regularly migrate north

The cost of running a locomotive a Human blood is composed of 77.8 parts of water, 6.2 of albumen, 14.1

of coloring matter, and 1.9 of saline.

combustion of coal is rendered possible, has been adopted by the North German Lloyd and the Hamburg

A strange fact has arisen in connection with long-distance telephony;

women have great difficulty in making themselves understood. It is said the high notes of women's voices, while all right on short lines, do not carry well

American Packet companies,

A new system, by which smokeless year is estimated to be about $3000,

An electric cloth cutter is new.

9000 pounds.

ter than in summer.

and south like birds.

One Square, one inch, one insertion... 1
One Square, one inch, one month... 2
One Square, one inch, three months... 5
One Square, one inch, one year... 26
Two Squares, one year... 36
Quarter Column, one year... 30
Half Column, one year... 30
One Column, one year... 30
One Column, one year... 30
Legal advertisements ten cents per ils each insertion.
Marriages and death notices grass... All bills for yearly advertisements cellses quarterly. Temporary advertisements ass be paid in advance.
Job work—cash on delivery.

RATES OF ADVERTISING

Job work-cash on delivery.

There are fewer blind persons in the United States than any other coun-

Hir Edwin Arnold says that there are about 20,000 "poetesses" in Great

A Los Angeles (Cal.) preacher thought he was delivering the funeral sermon of a woman, whereas the man of the house was dead, and the woman had to listen to a culogy upon her-

The managers of American street railways may be interested in the information that London's underground railway has carried over 1,688,000,000 passengers in the thirty years of its existence, and hasn't killed a single

By the new plan of railway tickets adopted in Hungary, the traveler makes out his own ticket. The Government sells stamps and supplies blank cards. The passenger, when he desires to take a journey, writes on a card the name of his starting point and destination, and affixes as many stamps as the published list of fares calls for.

Some years ago it was decided in an English court that an engagement ring is not recoverable in any circumstances. Vermont has just given a different decision. A young man sued to recover a ring that he had given a young woman who, after accepting it, repudiated the engagement. The Judge decided that it must be returned, or else that the recipient must fulfill the conditions on which it was presented.

In Paris the owners of a dog which bit a man, who subsequently died of hydrophobia, are now being prosecuted by the authorities on a charge of manslaughter through carelessness. This is the first case of the kind, and its result is being anxiously awaited by the thousands of proprietors of dogs throughout France, who, in case of a conviction of the defendants, will be called upon to bear a new and heavy burden of responsibility.

A novel and interesting plea has been entered before the United States Commissioner at Buffalo on behalf of an Indian charged with murder on the Cattaraugus reservation. His attorney denied that the United States had any lawful jurisdiction over the case. The Indian, he said, belonged to the Five Nations, a government that was in existence long before the United States was heard of, and whose existence was recognized by the United States. This point will probably have to go to the Supreme Court before the case can be

Says the Boston Transcript: "The first lady who ever gave money to Harvard College could not have fancied in her most imaginative moment that more than 250 years later her girlhood's name would be given to a college for women at Harvard, Ann Radeliffe, who was afterward Dame Monlson, sent her hundred pounds over seas from England to aid the cause of education. She cast her bread uponthe waters, and it is returned to her memory in honor after all these many days. Mrs. Agassiz, the President of the Harvard Annex, is congratulated on this most charming and suggestive choice of a name."

New York grows 5,000,000 tons of liny and raises 30,000,000 bushels of potatoes. The interna trade of New York exceeds $2,000,000,000 a year; $1,650,000,000 of freight passes over railroads, $150,000,000 over the canals and $250,000,000 over the Sound and lakes. New York sustains over 1000 newspapers and periodicals, has $600,-000,000 in the savings banks, $300,-000,000 in insurance companies and $700,000,000 in capital and loans of the bunks. There 6000 miles railroads, which cost over $600,000,000. There are 23,000,000 acres of farm lands, valued at $1,056,000,000, and annually producing $178,000,000.

Baron Edmondde Rothschild, whose presence at Constantinople has been of material advantage to his colonists in Palestine, has bought a large tract of pasture land, the personal property of the Sultan, near the Jordan. He intends to found there a large Jewish colony. Tafe and property in that region have been much more secure within the last fifteen years than formerly owing to the important military station established there by the Government, which has also constructed a bridge over the Jordan to facilitate communication between Jerusalem and alleys on the other side of that whence the Holy City obtains most of its cereals. An iron bridge is now being built near Sarona, on the road has been improved.

A SONG OF THE WORLD, World ain't what it useter be," you'll hear a feller say As he crosses of his legs an' heaves a sigh ; But it happens, she's the best world that she's ever been to-day,

An' she's whirlin' like 2:40 'round the sky. The stores give bigger measure; The mines, a sight o' treasure : There's more o' love an' pleasure

The skies is mostly sunny ; You jingle more o' money. An' the brown bees bring their honey To your hand!

'World ain't what it useter be." Of course, it ain't, because It's cuttin' out a nower kind o' way, It ain't got time to worry 'bout the kind o'

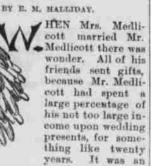

world it was, For it keeps a gittin' happy on the way!

Brighter blossoms twinin'; Beighter suns a-ahinin'; What's the use in pinin' An' whinin' through the land? Skies is mostly sunny;

You jingle more o' money, An' the brown bees bring their honey To your hand

-Atlanta Constitution.

MRS. MEDLICOTT.

evening wedding in to help an old comrade through a rather tight place.

speak her thoughts as the bride went fashion it would be different, Good natured Mrs. Richards, who had come with her, looked kind.

"Now I think she is pretty," letting delicate pink ear of the young bride. "Look at that back," Mrs. Lupin said sternly.

"Well now, that is—probably the fault of her—modiste." "Modiste! She made that gown

Mr. Hart, one of Mr. Medlicott's oldest friends, his associate on the house committee of the Philistine Club, leaned over the back of the pew where the two ladies sat. Mr Medlily clad in the elegance of stiff black tiny was all directed toward Mr. Men- wife. licott. "How strange it is," Miss Alice Grant, the President of the local girl will make such a choice. A clab pretty in a pink dinner gown which "I do hope"-Mrs. Graves, whose plump and pretty daughters sat flushed and excited, beside her—"tlai hope they will never even meet any men of that sort.

"Well, I rather fancy Margaret will but not very hilarious.
set him straight." Miss Grant re- Mr. Medlicott made u marked with a short laugh. "She will it wouldn't do to stop with that dinner. to give up her work with us. eyes to the meaning of Woman. Miss it down. Grant always spoke the word with a Mr. Medlicott had arrived at the age of forty, and in marrying he certainly did not think that he was taking a woman like those he knew in his own set. If he had, he would have gone there to look for a wife. Mr. Medlicott had begun life with a small inherited fortune, which years had not Mr. Medicott reflected rather sadly increased. Mr. Medicott, being unable that the two would come high—even to enlarge his income to fit his tastes, though they were made up at home. had wisely cut his tastes to fit his income, and had lived like a gentleman on little money. In his youth he had fallen in love with a beautiful, frivolous girl whom he could not afford to marry. He had seen her carried off it was sweet to go home, and his 'wife by another man who could give her an appropriate setting, and been best man Mr. Medlicott thought sometimes when the wedding. Love had never stirred again until now. at the house of his lawyer (not a very once been opened to him, had taken expensive one) whose niece she was, on a new and formal character. He fell she was sitting under a lamp, embroidering. Some way it seemed to Mr. Medicott that she breathed the spirit of home, and he had grow tired of being homeless. The courtship had at home after dinner, reading. Mrs. been short. Mr. Mediicott had soft | Medlicott, in her little house dress-

They did not stop to ask much how to economize. She was a pretty again. young woman, twenty-five years old, and Mr. Medlicott, in looking past his have sent us somebody else's bill. his young wife in his ways. He felt cott said calmly. that he was in her eyes a superior be-He was glad she was so much younger and had lived such a simple life. He thought of how her opinions,

Mr. Medlicott was very happy. After the honeymoon was over and

'Now, my dear," said Mr. Medlicott, "we will go out and look for a agent sent me

Mrs. Medlicott came and looked over his shoulder, sitting on the arm | you find an apartment. of his chair, while he put his arms caressingly around her waist.

so far down town. "Down town? Do you call Fifty Ninth street down down? There are on Irving Place "They're all below the Park." "Well, where do want to live?"

pper New York.

Mr. Medlicott laughed.

Mr. Medlicott did not see. necessary to come up," she went on. not because of his brains, but on ac 'They live there.'

Mr. Medlicott's Medlicott entired her into a furnished crowbars, huge logs and strong men friends seemed to have gathered to apartment which was a little gem in were then the order of things. Safes gether upon one side. The ladies wore its way. The price was a little more were literally dragged apart. rather splendid gowns and diamonds, and carried an ostentatious look of he had a young wife to introduce to other extreme. Men intending to rob wonder in their eyes as they gazed his old friends, and this apartment a safe would take hardly any tools, around. The men wore expressions of was in a most desirable neighborhood, but would break into a convenient conscious good nature in having come | very near the club, and the diring | blacksmith shop, get a crowbar and room was large and pleasant for a flat. a sledge, and then go to the place to be Mr. Medlicott anticipated giving din- robbed. Mrs. Lupin, who had sent a superb ners. Dinner giving was very expenstructed, a few blows with the sledge set of painted plates, put up her lorg-nette and let the corners of her mouth who had been brought up in a domeste door, and then a pry with the bar

Mr. Medlicott a week later invited her eyes roam to the pure profile and invitation to his wife, and made one or two suggestions as to the menu. from the hinges. When the evening of the dinner arrived, he had a little fire in the drawing room, and when the bell rang, stood before the grate feeling like a lord, at home in his own house! But there was not the entry of two quiet, well bred gentlemen; instead of this the shrill voices of women.

Presently Mrs. Medlicott ushered in ripped apart. But this method, de Miss Grant and a friend of hers, a shy looking girl.

gossip: "My dear Mrs. Lupin, you went out into the dining room to look the drag is used. If I had a safe, no give a new explanation for Mat's in- at the table, and on into the kitchen. fatuation for the village maiden. If They had a very satisfactory cook, but bles in it, I would not trust a burglar she can make her own gowns, doubt-less she can cook," and he chuckled what he had been about to ask Hart and Elliot to sit down to. He had abreast of the makers of safes, and no On the other side of the church, always known how to order a dinner, where the elderly ladies were uniform and he ordered one now-from the restaurant around the corner. silks, and the young girls in that sim-plicity which is "so sweet," the scru-than you do, my dear," he said to his "I took the liberty of changing some of your arrangements."

charity society, said, "that a serious and well bred, and looked delightfully useless. She had gowns.

Miss Granttallted a great deal, but Margaret will reclaim him. There is the one or two little tales Hart tried three ladies. They discussed the reprovidence that Margaret's mother is and her published opinion upon marriage. The men looked respectful,

Mr. Medlicott made up his mind that know how to manage. She isn't going It must be lost in a series. He couldn't

> "I wouldn't-er-ask anybody else if I were you.' "I must entertain my friends," Mrs. Medlicott said.

> "Oh, certainly. Let us have anybody you like on Tuesday. We might make out the menu for that dinner

> It was quite as good as the first one But Margaret must be gradually weaned away from her friends,

The winter went on in this way. hadn't been the great success that Mr. Medlicott had anticipated. To be sure, was domestic, almost too domestic, he saw that she was rather bored by Mrs. Lupin, and that his intercourse When Mr. Medlicott met Miss Davis with all the women whose houses had into a way of asking men to lunch at the club, and he thought ruefully that he was spending a great deal of money.

And then, one night, he was sitting and elegant ways, and a considerate she never dressed for dinner when speech, which were unknown charms they were alone, nor did he any more road from Jaffa to Shechem, and the in the men of Miss Davis's acquaint- -was sewing. The evening mail was brought in.

"By Jove !" Mr. Medlicott exclaimed IN OLD MONTANA DAYS about each other's inner life. The in- good naturedly, "here is a bill from come which seemed so small to Mr. the restaurant around the corner. Medlicott and his friends seemed large to Miss Davis, and that pleased him. She was evidently domestic, and knew some mistage here." -He looked "Why, this is nonsense. hundred and fffty-eight dollars! They

"Oh, no, I think not. That corre wedding day, saw nimself, with all his stock of worldly knowledge, training sponds with my account," Mrs. Medli-Mr. Medlicott looked from the bill to her, and from her to the bill. "Yes," she said, going on evenly with her stitches. "You know you her ideas, would be molded upon his. did not like my dinners, so I always sent to the restaurant when our friends came in. I had no time to waste in they came back to New York they went the kitchen all day when we were to a hotel.

A week or two later Mr. Medlicott little home. I have a list here that an said: ', My dear, I believe you were right-as you always are-about our living in upper New York. Suppose

'I thought you would know how to manage him,', Miss Grant said, when "But," she pursed up her pretty she heard the story.—Munsey's Mag-red mouth, "all these places are ever azine.

Burglars Laugh at Locksmiths

Detective William Henderson of only one or two down town. This Philadelphia discussed the evolution one on Gramercy Park, and another of burglars' tools in a recent inter-"The modern burglar is like love in one particular," said he, "inasmuch as he laughs at locksmiths. "Why, up by my old friends; up in His seemingly simple tools indicate oper New York."

His seemingly simple tools indicate that the attempts made to bar his progress are not difficult to overcome, "My dear child, nobody would ever and yet not many years ago they were "Wouldn't they?" There was a more specified in old Man Hope's prime brute force impression of his wife's lips which r. Medlicott did not see. "I have forcing a safe. In those days one some friends who would not find it crook was selected to go with the gang, count of his muscle, and his duty When they went out to walk, Mr. was to carry the heavy tools, Big

As safes were then condoor, and then a pry with the bar would wrench the door away. But safe manufacturers soon caught on, Mr. Hart and the best man at his wed- and when the handle of the safe was ding to dinner. He announced the turned by the owner, bolts shot both ways, removing the responsibility

"Then came the era of powder. A safe would have the crack running around the doors plugged with oakum, two little spaces only being left. From one all the air would be drawn by a pump, and through the other powder would be allowed to sift in. When they touched it off the safe would be spite all precautions, was noisy, and then came the modern tools. In the cott was just now taking the hand of Mr. Medlicott was surprised. "I case of an ordinary safe, the knob is Mrs. Medlicott to be, and Mr. Hart thought," his wife said, "that we had heaved a deep sigh. "Poor old Mat!" better have some ladies." heaved a deep sigh. "Poor old Mat!" better have some ladies."

and then alond in his usual tone of Mr. Medlicott said nothing. He back the tumblers. In better safes, no the drag is used. If I had a safe, no matter how good, with many valuaalone with it for over ten minutes at the outside. So far the burglars are improvement is made by the latter that the former in a short time do not learn to circumvent."

The Secretary Bird's Good Stomach

The authorities at Cape Colony protect the secretary bird on account of Mrs. Medlicott was perfectly calm the thorough way in which it protects gardens and poultry from poisonous her husband had insisted upon order- erful logs or a pick from its sharp bill ing for her, although she said it was is sufficient to break the back of any serpent, and if the reptile succeeds in getting in a blow with its fangs it is adroitly received on the long outer no influence like a good wife's, but I to tell seemed to fall flat. The con- feathers of the interposed wing of the should fear, were it one of my girls, I versation finally settled between the bird. Then the snake is swallowed whole, a parting blow of the head on It seems almost a cent death of a noted woman reformer, the ground being given it just as that part is disappearing from view. But anakes by no means constitute the entire bill of fare of this hungry creature. The contents of the stomsch of one of them have thus been described: "I found inside one three snakes as She is have it going about the clubs that he long as my arm, eleven lizards seven going to continue to edit part of the kept such a menage as this. So in a inches long, twenty-one tortoises about Woman's Friend. I suppose that man few days he asked a half dozen friends two inches in diameter, besides a thinks he is marrying a girl like those in, and he and Mrs. Medlicott made large quantity of grasshoppers and thinks he is marrying a girl like those in, and he and together, or rather he other insects; or, in other words, he knows in his own set. He'll flud out the menu together, or rather he other insects; or, in other words, and the like the seven and a half feet of snake, six and a half of lizard, three and a half of tortoise and, say, a yard of miscel-laucous trifles." As this dignified and always reliable bird can be trained to protect the poultry yard from all kinds of birds of prey, small animals and other enemies, and as it can be acclimated in this country, it would seem that it would be well to introduce it here as a regular barnyard inhabitant

Mysterious Tides of Fundy,

Statistics regarding the tides in the Bay of Fundy are so startling as to seem almost incredible. At Grand Manan the fall is from twelve to fifteen feet, at Lubec and Eastport twenty feet, at St. John from twentyfour to thirty feet, at Moneton on the bond of the Potiteodiac, seventy feet, while the distance between high and low water mark on the Cobequid River is twelve miles, the river actually being twelve miles longer at high than so far on the flood in this river and in the Avon that the ebb will leave them high and dry for sixteen hours, so that they can be repaired between tides. -

A few years ago horses in Australia multiplied to such an extent that they became a pest, so that in one district the Government had 100,000 shot,

THE FLAW IN THE GLASS EYE WAS VERY SERIOUS.

The Old Indian Wanted One That He Could See With-An Experonce of Importance With Indians. THE old pioneers had settled down for their smoke in the brain room of the Montana

Club, when Hugh McQuaid emarked : "I see that some smart newspaper nan down East has started a rumor that the Crow Indians will get out of their blankets in the spring and clean up the settlers and the United States Army. I would bet that a lot of cigar Indians would fight just as Why, a Crow hasn't got the ourage of a jack rabbit to fight. The only trait of a white man-that is, ome white men outside of this room that a Crow has got is humor.

"Of course you mean yourself when rou say outside this room," said Dr.

party from the Smithsonian Instituion who were a glass eye that was a dandy. Said that it cost him $700 in Paris, and could roll around in his head same as the other one. Well, we got to the old chief's camp and found him dressed like a fashion plate to receive us. Long headdress of eagle feath-all of that, but having only one eye.

Learned later that the medicine man made him tear out the other in a war dance, We passed the time of day, and he said "How," and made the squaws and young bucks get down in the alkali dust and salute us. We made a few signs in which the chief asked for firewater by trying to stand on his head, but we couldn't let him have any because it was against the law. Finally the Smithsonian fellow thought he would have a little fun, so he takes the glass eye out of the socket and rolls it around in his hand. Well, you ought to see the old chief's face and the young bucks and squaws. They couldn't have been more surprised if that ghost that they looked for last year had dropped down in the party. The chief, however, recovered quicker than the rest and seemed to catch an idea, for he reached out for the glass eye and, after awhile, put it where his missing eye had been. Then the squaws and bucks give another yell, and off the whole crowd started for the medicine man's tent with us there the chief let out a whoop, and out came the medicine man. He gave one look at the glass eye and then fell on the ground, and began to tremble and groan. You see, he understood that he had lost his pull. The chief gave him a kick in the ribs, and when he got up talked a little Crow, and pointed over toward the Yellowstone

River, the same as to say that he was giving him ten minutes to get out of the camp. The interpreter told us of-terward that the chief said that any man who had to learn to make medicine from white people was a poor kind of a medicine man, and was not needed in those parts. Any how the Doctor sneaked out of the tepee with a couple of blankets and a pipe, and was soon

while the Indians were dancing, not knowing of course where the eye came from. The chief put the horse on us, though, when he got ready to leave by handing back the eye to the Smithsonian fellow and saying in Crow to come back next year, and the new medicine man would have an eye made that he could see with."-New York

Instruction of Children.

Teach children to do little things about the house. It trains them to be useful, not awkward, in later and more important affairs, it gives them occupation while they are small, and it really is an assistance to the mother in the end, although she always feels,

during the training period, that it is much easier to do the thing herself than to show another how. This last excuse has done much to make selfish, idle, unhandy members of an older society, and should be remembered, in its effects, by the mother while her little ones are beginning to learn all things, good and bad, at her knee.

Occupation makes happiness and occupation cannot be acquired too young.

Trotting Oxen.

Trotting oxen are being developed straight hock of the oxen may possi-to strike a stranger in India is the hur-

-St. Louis Republic

New York World.

Well, we had a good time laughing out of sight in the foothills.

ling in the rear.

When we got

bead-fringed moccasins, and

"Well. I mean all mining experts, for long distances. any how, but I remember back in '72 A German has taken out a patent for when a party was sent out here by the producing varnish from linseed oil by Interior Department to look up the means of an electric current. The oil, condition of the Indians, and they after being purified in a proper manasked me, as a newspaper man, to ner, is thoroughly mixed and agitated join them on a trip to the Crow with sulphuric acid and water and subagency. We had a fine time; no end jected to the action of an electric curof good shooting before we got to rent for two or three hours, so that the the agency. Then for the first day or oxygen produced in the nascent state two there were lots of figuring with by the passage of the current converts the agents, distributing tracts and rethe oil into varnish. The varnish so ligious food to the squaws, etc., and produced is said to be almost colorless finally a trip of twenty miles to the and perfectly free from all mineral or topee of a chief named Horn-in-themetallic admixtures or impurities. Foot, who lived near by the big medicine man. There was a fellow in our

The electric locomotive which the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company has secured for the purpose of hauling passenger cars through the Baltimore Tunnel, is capable of haul-ing the heaviest trains, weighing 1200 tons up the grade, and through the tunnel under the city, a distance of three miles. The weight of the locomotive is 180,000 pounds; its length a trifle over fifty feet; the height is fourteen feet three inches, and the ex-treme width nine feet, 6; inches. It is claimed that a possible speed of fifty miles an hour can be attained by this locomotive. With the ophthalmoscope and ophthalmometer there are very few problems with regard to the functions and diseases of the human eye that cannot be determined by an expert in a very few moments of time. It may safely be asserted that there is no department of knowledge of the functions and diseases of the human body that is so ad vanced as that of outthalmology, and this has been the work of the civilization of the nineteenth century. With the ophthalmoscope the circular opening the iris, which we call the pupil, is made a window looking in upon a scarlet picture, in the center of which is a beautiful white moon-like disk, over which radiate vessels pulsating with the blood constantly pumped in by the heart. The darker returning current in the veins is also seen, while the varying and almost numberless changes made by diseases are noted by the practised eye, and tell a tale of warning and often of wee.

Effects of Opium Smoking.

I made a point of watching the effeet of the successive pipes on myself carefully, says a writer in the Pall Mall Budget. As before, the first pipe had no effect at all; after the second pipe I was beginning to perspire genty, and the skin was soft and relaxed. I smoked five pipes one after the other and fancied that the action of the heart was slightly depressed; but beyond this I felt nothing whatever. After had left the place about a quarter of an hour I began to find that the opinto was taking effect. My limbs felt as i they did not belong to me; I could control them, but they seemed to be a part of someone else. My brain seemed quite clear and very active, but I be came aware that it was doing the thinking on its own account; I could not govern or direct the chain of my thoughts, which proceeded in the most grotesque order, the most irrelevant ideas following one another, and get-ting mixed up with the ideas called up by external surroundings. My eight, too, was affected; I fancied there was a very faint haze over everything, and it seemed as if the power of adjustment was lost, and size and distance were difficult to determine. I had slight hallneinations, also. For instance, I was, for a moment, certain that a cen tipede, about four or five inches long. with a chain round it, was walking up my leg; at the same time I know it was only a vision, and that it arose from my having seen during the day s man in the street selling one of the reptile toys which run along and are held by a string. Soon after I found the greatest difficulty in keeping my eyes open, though my brain was still abnormally active; this passed off and I felt no ill effects of any kind, and I may mention that next morning I had neither headache nor the least feeling of discomfort of any kind. Romance of a Treasure Trove,

A tin can filled with a melted mass of silver weighing about eight pounds in India. The sloping quarter and was found the other week, by quarrymen near Ronds, Texas, buried about bly account for something of their two feet below the surface in the horse-like gait. One of the first things banks of a creek some twelve mile from the Red River. While Texas rying ox. All through the Mahratta was yet a Spanish province a read known as the Santa Fe trail ran along country the ox is the common draught animal, differing in speed and size acbeside the Red River, and it is surcording to the work for which he is mised that the silver was buried by required. Cattle of the Nagore breed, ome traveler who was hard pressed by used by rich men to draw their state Indians, and who either was killed or carriages, used to be kept near Delhi who could not afterward locate in for carrying dispatches. The Nagore cattle have some of the awkward swingburied treasure. The trunk of an olsaddle, found near the same place : ing motion of the legs of our cow. short time ago, was probably part of They bring their hind legs under them the same wayfarer's equipment - Chi in an straight a line as the horse.cago Herald.

WHEN I GET TIME,

I know what I shall do: I'll cut the leaves of all my books, And read them through and through,

When I get time-I'll write some letters then That I have owed for weeks and weeks

To many, many men. When I get time-I'll pay those bills I owe,

And with those bills, those countless bills, I will not be so slow. When I get time-I'll regulate my life In such a way that I may got Acquainted with my wife. Oh, giorious dream of bliss ,

A month, a year, ten years from now-But I can't finish this--Tom Masson, in vogue, HUMOR OF THE DAY.

The season is here when the bravest of us are glad to get under cover .-Buffalo Conrier.

Filing a will sometimes rasps the feelings of disappointed legatees.— Lowell Courier.

Maud-"Our engagement is a secret." Lena-"So everybody tell me." -Brooklyn Life.

It will not help your own crop any to throw stones at your neighbor's truck patch. - Ram's Horn. Watts-"You look rather shaky this morning," Potts—"Naturally. I feel rocky,"—Indianapolis Journal. The girl of the period says she objects to flattery, but she likes to have her sleeves puffed. - New York World. She-"Do you think he is a real nobleman?" He-"He must be; he isn't an ideal one."-Detroit Free A Philadelphia doctor tried to "raise the dead," but was immediately fired on by the cemetery watchman.-Plain

Young America, with his parents to help him, is rapidly educating the timid teachers of this country.-Galveston News.

No matter if a man is peaceful at all other times, when he meets a cyclone he is sure to strike a blow. Rochester Democrat. Naturalist-"And now, how shall we prove that man is the superior creature?" Pupil-"By asking him."-Cleveland Plain Dealer. Barber-"How would you like your hair cut, sir?" Uncle Hayseed-"Fust rate, young man; fact is, that's what I cam in fer."-Brooklyn Life. It doesn't make much difference to barbers how hard times are. Even in the best of times they have to scrape for a living.-Philadelphia Record.

Ob, weedman, spare that tree, I pray you let it stand, A refuge it may be When the buildog is at hand, Atlanta Journal.

She-"What a foolish reason! So she wouldn't marry you on account of your family?" He—"No; and I only had a wife and one child"—Pick Me

Mrs. Flatte-"Maria says she can cook." Mr. Flatte—"Oh, that girl would say that she could read a Chinese laundry-ticket."—Kate Field's Washington Student-"I tell you frankly that I shall not be able to pay for the suit till next year. When will you have it ready?" "Tailor-"Next year."—Fliegende Blaetter. "Yer kin talk," said a philosopher of the East Side, "'bout it's bein' vulgar t' wear di'mon's, but I notice that them that has 'em wears 'em, '-Buffaio Express. Young Men (at restaurant) -- "Hear, you, we wanted these oysters cooked. Waiter-"Den vot for you keep cry rah! rah! all der dime? How vos dot?"

-Cleveland Plain Dealer. Griggs-"Why, don't you ever have any trouble whatever in meeting your bills?" Spriggs-"Trouble? Not a bit of it. I meet 'em ev rywhere I -Somerville Journal.

New Yorker-"You don't see any grass in our streets, anyway." She (from Philadelphia)--"No-o. Must be the climate. The soil is certainly rich enough."—Brooklyn Life.

"I was careless this morning at church and put a dollar in the box when I intended to give only a dime." "A case of contributory negligence, so to speak." Detroit Tribune.

Good Samaritan-"Don't you know better than to drive that poor horse up hill so fast?" O'Connor ... "Up hill, is it? Oh, begorra! the nag's blind and he can't see it!"—Life's Calendar.

He dropped a carridge in the slot
And then he sough the lair
Of forest game, and soon he got
A fat and july bear.
Detroit Pree Press,

"I think a love of football must be inherent in the Pigskin family." 'What makes you think so?" whenever little Jemmie wants to play the game, his mother kicks."-New York Press.

During the siege of Paris & French lady, driven by hunger to cat her put dog, exclaimed when she had finished her mest: "Poor Fiffine! how pleased she would have been to guaw her own bones!"-Le Papillop.

Mamma-'Robbie, your face doesn't look any cleaner than when I sent you to wash it. Did you use the soap? Robbie- "Yes, and it made the dandtest soap bubbles you ever saw blowed. -- Inter Occan.

The Right Rev. Mr. Cassock --- 1 greatly fear, my dear madam, that your husband is destined to reap a harvest of tures." Mrs. Swiftly Gay-"Indeed, I fear so, Bishop; he has here on one for the last three days," -Harlem Life.