Republican State Ticket.

Congress-at-Large, Hon, GALUSHA A. GROW, of Susquehanna County.

Mr. Sibley Resigns.

Congressman Joseph C. Sibley, of the Crawford-Erie district has done exactly what the Democrats of that district did not want him to do. He has resigned, and an election will have to be held for a successor.

He could have done nothing that would have embarrassed them so much, but when they complained because he had made a speech against the Wilson bill, and passed resolutions to the effect that he was not properly representing his constituents, he appears to have concluded that his right course was to resign and let these complaining cuckoos see what sort of a stagger they could make toward electing some one who would vote and talk exactly as they would have him do. He can now enjoy the fun they will have in naming his successor.

As a matter of fact in his opposition to the Wilson bill Mr. Sibley was reflecting the declared sentiment of the people of his district. He was elected in 1892, presumably on the Chicago platform and the Democratic position on the tariff. The indorsement of that platform and that position was withdrawn at the last November election, however, when the district went Republican by considerably more than 4000. That was a decisive and unmistakable condemnation of the Democratic tariff policy, and Mr. Sibley was wisely beeding it when he declared his opposition to the Wilson bill.
