In the fourteenth and fifteenth congressional districts of New York, located right in the heart of the great city, special elections were held on Tuesday of last week.

The former district, which a year ago last gave over 9,000 Democratic majority, elected a Republican this year by 984 majority. In the fifteenth the Democratic candidate was successful, but his majority was whittled down from 11,869 to 4,687. And yet the Democrats would have us believe that the country is dying for free trade.

Mr. Sibley has again changed his mind. He's going to stay his term out in Congress, and accordingly has withdrawn his withdrawal. Bully for Sibley! Glad to know he's going to worry the Democrats yet awhile. It don't bother the Republicans any, and when the next election comes around there will be no question about who will represent the 26th district in Congress.

First fruits of the Wilson bill.

The New York Sun says: A Democratic plurality of 8,825 in the Fourteenth has been changed to a Republican plurality of 984; and a Democratic plurality of 11,869 in the Fifteenth district has been reduced to 4,687. This is the judgment of Democratic New York upon the cowardly and insensate policy of the leaders without leadership at Washington. These are the first fruits of the Wilson bill.
